DESERET EVENING NEWS: FRIDAY, AUGUST 26, 1904.

CUTLER HEADS REPUBLICAN NOMINEES.

Was Nominated for Governor in a Very Close Race on The Second Ballot-Some Other Spirited Contests-Howell for Congress Again by Acclamation.

Գվոխվովովովովություններին անդանություններին անդանություններին անդանություններին անդանություններին է

THE REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

GOVERNOR-John C. Cutler of Salt Lake. SECRETARY OF STATE-C. S. Tingey of Nephi, JUSTICE OF SUPREME COURT-D, N. Straup of Salt Lake. TREASURER-James Christiansen of Richfield. AUDITOR-J. A. Edwards of Brigham City. ATTORNEY GENERAL-M. A. Breeden of Salt Lake, SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS-A. C. Nelson of Mantl. CONGRESSMAN-Joseph Howell of Wellsville. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS-H. P. Myton of Salt Lake, D. H. Cannon of St. George and E. W. Wade of Ogden.

cleared away. And out of it all comes the story of one of the most spirited enventions in the history of Utah politics. A summary is found in the names of the nominees which precede this ar-

The nomination of John C. Cutler for governor was more of a blow against Senator Kearns than it was against Gov. Wells himself; for the truth is, rightly or wrongly, the impression was widespread that the latter was in some way attachel to the senator's political forces. It was a club that his opponents wielded most effectually. Of course he also had the third term handicap to contend with, and in view of that fact and of the further fact of being pitted against a tremendously strong competitor in the person of Mr. Cutter, the wonder it that he made so splendid a showing. Altogether it was about as glorious as defeat can be. There is another sequel to the outcome of the convention struggle. And that is that in the test of strength between the senior and junior senators the latter won most decisively-that is, he won so far as he was interested. He had his favorite candidate for governor, and that candidate was victorious. The senior senator had his candidate The senior senator had his candidate for the same exaited office, and his can-didate was defeated. The same condi-tion will be found to apply more or less to the other nominees on the ticket. Of course, there are one or two exceptions, but that is all. There is no question that it was Senator no question Smoot's day. A notable occurrence in the conven-A notable occurrence in the conven-tion was the desertion at a critical juncture in the gubernatorial fight of some of the Weber county delegation from Wells to Cutler. Of course, the from wens to curier. Of course, the incident was the occasion of great ju-bilation in the one camp and of de-spar in the other. The Wells men say that it turned the tide and planted defeat where the standard of victory defeat where the standard of victory was being placed. Accordingly they waited their turn. It came in the evening when Moyes made his race for treasurer. The Wells supporters had hen biding their time and they went after the Ogden man good and hard with the charges of bad faith hurled at him right and left. When the ballots were counted, Mr. Moyes was down and out, and Christiansen of Sevier had heen nominated. From that period to the close of the convention the dele-zates who had remained loyal to the gates who had remained loyal to the governor through the whole bitter struggle remembered Weber county in manner that when the work of the night was over, Weber had no place whatever upon the general ticket; and then there were sore spots in other places than in the governor's camp. There were many features of interest in the convention, but they were nalnly associated with the fight for the gubernatorial nomination. There were but two men named by acclama-tion. They were Congressman Howell and State Superintendent of Instruc-tion Nelson. The effort to nominate tion Nelson. The effort to nominate Hammond for Congress against Howell was either strangled or permitted to die of its own accord in the knowledge that it could not be made to succeed. Had the forces of Governor Wells been in decisive control of the convention, there would have been some encouragement to have carried out their intentions, but the ginger was all taken out of them early in the contest in the defeat of the executive and they never thoroughly recovered their lost strength. The convention chronicle follows in detail.

The battle is over and the smoke has | Republican party as a general rule Republican party as a general rule settles in the manner and where it should, upon the floor of this conven-tion, all its own differences. And when delegates go forth from this conven-tion, it will be with the enthusiasm which always strikes terror to the hearts of the energy.

hearts of the enemy. "In 1899, this man was your choice and mine to lead the party at that special election in the congressional fight. His individuality, his personalfight. His individuality, his personal-ity, went a long way in turning into success that defeat which, although a defeat, was nevertheless successful in wiping out a theretofore existing Dem-ocratic majority. His efforts in that campaign went a long way toward bringing about the fit era charcter-izing the wiping out of that eame old Democratic majority which put the Republican party in full power in this state, and relegated to the rear the 'great unwashed.' 'great unwashed,

'Mr. Chairman and fellow delegates, in presenting to you my candidate, I feel that I can safely say to this con-vention, that he is a man who, by experience and by ability, whose very nature is such that, coupled with his experience in the various administra-tive offices which he has occupied, that he will bring to the control of the office of governor the highest intelligence and the highest ability which we can expect from any of our public spirited citizens. If this convention shall select my candidate, I pledge to you that there will be nothing after this convention, except one grand whoop-em-up from now till election day, when the people at the polls shall rat-when the people at the poils shall rat-ify the choice of this convention for the next four years, "Mr. Chairman, I have pleasure in presenting to this convention for the exalted office of governor of this state, the name of Honorable James T, Hammond."

CUTLER NAMED.

The next name placed before the convention was that of Hon. John C. Cui-ler, the winning candidate. His praises were sung by Hon. D. O. Rideout of Draper, who, in elequent tones, char-acterized Mr. Cutler as in every sense a man and one worthy the bigh office to which he aspired. Mr. Rideout said: "Ladies and Gentlemen of the Con-vention-Nine years have spent their course and passed into the great ocean of human history since the first Repub-lican convention was held in the State of Utah. Looking back through this time, the delegates of this convention might well congratulate the delegates of that convention for the wise decision they made, and say to the nominees of that convention, who later on became the state officers, Well done, good and faithful.' The nominations of that convention were ratified by the people faithful." of that

Do You Wish the Finest Bread and Cake

It is conceded that Royal Baking Powder is purest and strongest of all baking powders, absolutely free from alum, ammonia and every adulterant. "Royal" makes the best and most wholesome food.

Source Land & Powder DO. TO WALLAN ST. NEW YORK.

ominatinon, his name being presented by Judge Colborn. The judge was most happy in his expressions and said some very nice things about the candidate he had to name. His speech was as The purpose of my arising is to of-

"The purpose of my arising is to of-fer to you as a candidate for governor of the state of Utah, Heber M. Wolls, "I have heard said, and I believe it, that when a handful of men and wo-men, when Utah was virgin soil, brought into the wilderness, the imper-ishable foundations of an empire, that they were guided through the great trackless plains and through the dan-gers of the waterless wastrs, by one whom it is the duty of all of us to hon-or and to praise. I have heard it said that while they, and those who honor them, were year by year enlarging the circles of their dominion and carrying gave you Lincoln, the ever-nowing riv-er, whose life touched the floodgates in the hearts of humanity and opened them to the regeneration of a bond-bound race. Rotation in office gave you Andrew Johnson, who at the time of the nation's greatest need, lacked but one vote of being the one impeached president of the United States. Rota-tion in office gave you Grant, the soltion in office gave you Grant, the sol-dier president. Rotation in office gave you McKinley, and the glory through which he has gone on his journey to the stars.

gave you Lincoln, the ever-flowing riv-

the stars, "Rotation in office called from ob-scurity an honorable, an able governor of Colorado to take the place of "bloody bridled" Walte, whose infamous ad-ministration, brought about alike by rotation in office, caused that proud state to be cast from the pinnacle of prosperity down into the depths of ւներություն անականականականականական հայտնական հայտնականականականական հայտնականական հայտնական հայտնական հայտնական

If, therefore, the young men of Utah

"If, therefore, the young men of Utah or the rising generation want to say that men are to be kept in office (cries of 'Wellst' Wellst' and noise till the convention is with great difficulty brought again to order). "The history of the past should teach us a lesson. In the words of Patrick, Henry, 'We have no lamp by which our feet are guided but the lamp of experience.' And the path of experi-ence has taught us that throughout all the United States people are generally and truly opposed to a third term. It is true that rotation in office placed Lincoln and others in the chair, but it was not a third term rotation. (Cheers.) Furthermore (interruption by point of order raised, calls for additional ser-genats-at-arms, etc.). Gentlemen, noise is not going to stop me. Let us come Is not going to stop me. Let us come down to reason and common sense. If we take the history of other states we we take the history of other states we will find that the governor has run for a third term; that in states that pre-viously gave that governor 15,000 to 30,000 majority, on the third term vou-he hasn't got 10,000. And while, as I stated in the first place, the conlinea-tions of these men are not to be dis-puted, let us give others a show. I take pleasure in seconding the nomina-tion of Hon, John C. Cutler."

NOMINATIONS CLOSED.

Nominations were then declared closed, and the delegates proceeded to prepare their ballots. The first showed the following result:

FIRST BALLOT FOR GOVERNOR.

COUNTIES,	Wells.	Hammond	Cutler.
Beaver,	6	4.694	2
Boxelder	1 2	8	9
Cache	1111	- 6	27
Carbon	. 8	1.1.13	1112
Davis	3	5	- 0
Emery	- X	18.85	11.14
Garfield	6	12.13	11.1
Grand	1111	2	19.9.6
lion	- 3	1.635	- 3
Juab	7	1	5
Kane	2	1111	-1
Millard	- X	11.13	1 8
Morgan	- 2	- 1	1
Piute	- 2	890.5	13.22
RICH SERVICE FOR STREET		1	ing i
Salt Lake	43	17	65
San Juan.,	17.12	11.64	1
Sanpete	10	1.9, 3.4	19
Sevier	14	12.24	1100
Summit	12	- 3	10.02
Tooele	1	- 1	. .
Uintah	1	99033	19.5.5.
Utah in annue accounty	1	143.5	53
Wasatch	- 2	- 4	5
Washington	1.1	$\lambda, \Psi \in X$	1
Wayne	1	1132	- 18
Weber	33	1 2	10
Totals	1"4	52	214

The conveption was made up of 460 delegates, requiring 231 votes to elect, so that on the first ballot there was no choice. The announcement was greated with commingled cries of "Wells" and "Cutler," with here and there faint sup-port for Mr. Hammond,

HAMMOND WITHDRAWS.

When the Second ballot was ordered and had been nearly prepared, George L. Nye stepped to the front of the stage and withdrew the name of Mr. Ham-mend. "I am requested," said he, "to withdraw from your consideration the name of James T. Hammond, and to re-quest his friends to support Goy, Heber M. Wells." CUTLER WINS.

CUTLER WINS.

COUNTIES.

This changed the situation somewhat and the ballot partially prepared, had to give place to a new one. At this junc-ture considerable skirmishing was indulged in and it was plain to be seen that some of the Hammond strength was going to Cutler. This the second ballot clearly revealed, the vote being 239 for Cutler and 221 for Wells. The ballot stood:

SECOND BALLOT FOR CUTLER.

-21

55

14 19

28

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Naming of Cutler for Governor-Tingey for Secretary of State.

When the "News" report closed the convention was in the midst of one of the most interesting political contests ever waged in this state. The fight was on the nomination for governor and all eyes were on and ears too, the men who named them. The first name placed before the convention was that of Hon. James T. Hammond, whose cause was espoused by George L. Nye. In presenting his candidate Mr. Nye said:

"Mr. chairman and fellow delegates, hundreds of men in the state of Utah would probably do ho harm in the gubernatorial chair. But this conven-tion today seeks a man of action, a man of ability a man of ready wit, a man of diplomacy. What so fits a man for the exaited position of gov-emor as years of experience in the various lines of legislative, administra-tive and executive duties? The man I shall name to this convention has, upon several occasions, served this commonwealth in the legislative branch of its government. Mr. chairman and fellow delegates, branch of its government.

For nine years he has served this the in the office of secretary of Mata state in the office of secretary of state. His guiding hand went far to-wards bringing order out of that chaos which we found when Utah was first admitted to the sisterhood of states; and what, I may say, so entitles a man to recognition by way of promo-tion as long and faithful service in there is to be no reward and no promotion for public service, for duty well performed, men in business, finan-cial and political affairs might as well sit down upon the stair upon which they alight-their race is already run. in the Republican party there has always been given a due mede of Praise and due reward for public ser-vice. In the Republican party, so long as there shall be more than one man aspire to the nomination for a given office, so long will there be ante-con-vention factions in our party. But the and due reward for public ser-

TEA

Tea is almost nothing; how much weight do you think there is in the taste of It?

Weight is no measure for teal again to perform the same and the nominations that we make to day will be ratified by the people o Utah in the November election. If this be a fact, then a great duty devolves upon this body of men and women to make wise selections If we know posi-tively that the nominations here made will be ratified by the people, then, I say, a grave duty devolves upon this in the succeeding election, and we have convention. "There are two questions comprehended in the requisites of any suc-cessful candidate that he can name First, is he strong in his pull upon the citizens, voters? Second, is he hones! and capable? A negative answer to the last question is the rock upon which any man's political aspirations should be wrecked.

"The Republican party and the prin-ciples for which it has contended are greater than the aspirations of any man, greater than the ambitions of any faction The gentleman whose name I have the honor of presenting to this conven-tion today is a man who, it is said, is not widely known in the State of Utah

Gentlemen, the gravest charge that have heard against my candidate is that he is not widely known, and that he is a candidate of somebody. It would be an unwise thing for any man to come into this convention and not be a candidate of someone. That he be a candidate of someone. That he is widely known, ask the business men: go to the merchants and to the pro-fessional men of this state. Go to the working classes, the manufacturing and industrial workers in our state, and they will tell you he is known far and wide among the great industrial class of the state. And while you and I have been playing at politics he has been building sugar factories and other industries to furnish work for the bone and sinew of the state.

and sinew of the state. "For this gentlemanly courtesy and kindly demeanor toward all he is well and favorably known among that class to whom we must look for success-the laboring element. And let me say right here, Mr. Chairman, that to the labor-ing element in the future the Repub-lican party must go for most of its sup-That element is becoming so port.

port. That element is becoming so strongly organized with its unions that any party that expects success must look to the labor element. In the past the Democratic party has arrogated unto itself praise for being the protect-or and the guardian of the labor ele-ment of the United States, but, if you will permit me to digress, Mr. Chair-man, I would say that if the labor ele-ment were called together in one asman, I would say that if the labor ele-ment were called together in one as-sembly to weave from the flowers that are placed in the garland upon the head of labor, with willing hearts they would weave their most precious laurel and carry it to the temb of that matchless leader, that keeper of the destiny of our Upion for each varies Marcus A our Union for eight years, Marcus A. Hanna. "My candidate is one whose friendship in this circle is wide. And I may say, in the words of the poet:

"No one knows him but to love him No one names him but to praise." "Brutua fell upon the plains of Phil-

ipi. Mare Antony stood above his pallid form, and Shaksspeare puts these beautiful words into his mouth: "His life is gentle, and the elements are so mixed in him that all the world can stand up and say, "This was a man,

"In speaking of my candidate I can eny here that his life is gentls, and the elements are so mixed in him that all the world might stand up and say. "This is a man.' "Gentlemen of the convention, I will before my up and data but before my the name my candidate, but before my lips have pronounced the word, the great sweeping part of this convention has named him again and again-chist lustrious son of Utah, John C. Outler."

CONGRESSMAN HOWELL, Renominated by Acclamation to Succeed Himself.

further and further into the desert the further and further into the desert the fruits of civilization, while they were toiling and suffering, and starving that we might enjoy the fruits of it; that their faces were fixed toward the skles, and they were assisted by a power more potent than all the forces of an unsubdued land. I say I have heard this. I believe it, too and that there was a Providence in the election of He-ber M. Wells to be the first governor of Utah. I also believe most fully and tah, I also believe most fully and That Providence has been illustrated in the courage and conservat-ism manifested throughout his adminism manifested throughout his admin-istration, and which has reflected credit upon the people of Utah and upon him. I appeal to history if it is is not true, that during all the years that Utah was sweating in the hands of the United States, that there was more doubt, more fear of her than of more doubt, more fear of her than of any other state that ever applied for admission into the Union. I appeal to the memory of all living, if it is not true, that, when the time elapsed for her to put on the splendid vestments of statehood, that there was wide-spread concern in this nation as to how, she would demean herself among the distributed of states. It was of New England make monkeys of your western senators on every kind of lag-islation where New England's interests how, she would demean hersen among the sisterhood of states. It was a uying time for the new sovereignty; but that Providence that never de-serted us raised up from among her people one who, without faitering or people one who, without faitering or fear, led her first steps of statehood fear, led her first steps of statehood so that all her steps were peace, all her acts were acts of decorum. Heber M. Wells, whom I offer to you for governor, whose great work in the gubernatorial chair I point to, not alone for personal regard and friend-ship, but for the interest I have in the prosperity and the good of the commonwealth, the welfare of this state. sentence that contains the crystalized philosophy of the ages, the sentence that embellishes the fly leaves of the spelling books of your fathers-

nrmly

If you have a friend that's good and state "Uneducated, except as he becam

"Uneducated, except hs he became educated in Utah; unused to state-craft, except as he had seen it in ter-ritorial days; unfamiliar with the methods of government as elsewhere practised, undeterred by fear, unaf-fected by the influences for power and pelf, unswerved by personal interest, he took his high office and did his duty and reflected credit upon the peo-ple who had honored him and whom he had honored. had honored.

The had honored. "His state papers have been able and conservative. His appointments have been well chosen. His public ut-terances on public occasions, have been wise and thoughtful; and at those times when the great men of the na-tion have sathered here, as they have, his speaches of welcome have been models of graceful expression, and have signalized him as one of the most after all, thank God, above politics. Clah, Heber M. Wells." The speeches were all well punctuated with applause and the nominations were freely seconded, among the speak-ers being George Austin of Utah for Cutler, Hart of Salt Lake for Ham-mond and Meteer of Sevier for Gov. Wells. Wells,

CLEGG MAKES A HIT. The hit of the afternoon, however, was made by Brigham Clegg of Wa-satch, who seconded the nomination of

"Now as to qualifications, I don't think anything can be said of either of the nominees, (Prolonged laughter and noise). They are all good men. But hero are other things to be considered nee will pull.

(Tumultuous noise.)

able executives in the nation. So that after all, thank God, above politics, above partianship, above the scram-ble for the leaves and fishes, there areas in every loyal clitzen's heart love of country and prize of state. "I grant that there is opposition to Gov, Wells, opposition voiced in plain-tive cards and speech, voiced in the same breath in which it is said, 'he has made a good governor,' Mr. Cutler. Mr. Clegg said: "I haven't prepared any speech, and didn't think I was going to make any nordiating speech here today. (Cries of 'Sit down!') "There are two points to consider in the nominating of a governor. The first, I believe, is qualification, and the second, the number of votes the nom-

"Gentlemen of the convention, 1 will imame my candidate, bui before my lips have pronounced the word, the great iweeping part of this convention has named him again and again-that II-tustrious son of Utah, John C. Cutler." GOV, WELLS NOMINATED, Governor Weils was next placed in Jache ...... ... ... ... Carbon ...... ... ..... Davis ... ...... ....... Grand .... ...... ...... Iron ..... .... Juab ..... financial ruin and industrial degredation. These, my fellow citizens, are an illustration of the good and bad of ro-tation in office. In the case of Johnson, Plute ...... ... ... ... Rich Salt Lake .... n the case of Grover Cleveland, whose palsied hand came through rotation in office and was placed on the effections San Juan ..... Sanpete .... ...... ...... of this nation; in the case of Walle, too, there is an illustration of what comes by the senseless sentiment, Give some one else a chance; count not tried efficiency; count not ability; Sevier ..... Fooele .. ..... ... ... ... lintah ... ... ... ........ tah not tried emciency; count not ability; count not familiarity with statecraft exhibited every day in the life of the governor, but follow the cry, "Give some one else a chance." "If you want to see, my fellow citi-zens, the effect of senseless rotation in the entrest the college and practice Utah Wasatch Washington Vayne ..... ... ... ... Weber ... ... ... .......... Totals ... ..... 221 | 239 office, contrast the policy and practise of New England in reference to her United States senators with the meth-ods of the west. Look at her George

Before the vote had been announc Before the vote had been announce pandemonium reigned, the Cuiler me exulting excitedly over theil victor The Wells men had fought hard ar lost and their only regret lay in the fact that they were but 10 votes sho of a sufficient number to elect. It was a test of strength keen and exciting ar for several minutes tension was at it F. Hoar, her great Senator Edmunds. F. Hoar, her great Senator Edmunds, and her many other tried statesmen, who hold through succeeding genera-tions the senatorial office. What do we do here in the west? We listen every six years to the senseless ery, 'Cliv-somebody else a chance.' Well, the result is that the statesmen of New England make monkeys of your r several minutes tension was at highest pitch.

INVITED TO SPEAK.

On motion of Mr. Hollingsworth of Weber the nomination of Mr. Cuth was made unanimous, and the succes ful nominee was invited to appear be fore the convention at the evening se-tion Learn M Smith Lobert Cuth Station where New England's interests are to be affected. "I believe in rotation in office. I be-lieve in the rotation that rotates. I be-lieve in rotating out the bad and ro-tating in the good. And I believe, too —God strengthen my belief—in that old sentence that contains the greatalland fore the convention at the evening se-sion, Jesse M. Smith, John F. Chidest and John C. Graham being appoint a committee to wait upon Mr. Cutler, George L. Nye announced the ex-cursion of the Young Men's Republica club to Saltair, after which nomination for secretary of state were called for.

TINGEY FOR SECRETARY.

Change not the old friend for the new, Willard Done of Sait Lake presente the name of John De Grey Dixon, stalwart, honest young Republican while Daniel Harrington named Jam "Standing, as I do in this historic temple, dedicated to art, the thought comes to me, too, that the shades of the mighty, of Utah's mighty past, whose voices have been heard within Devine and J. R. Porter of Morgan S. Tingey. Each name was freely se S. Tingey. Each name was freely se onded and voting was then declared order. The first and second ballo showed no result, the former givin 178 3-7 for Tingey, 167 3-7 for Dixon at 178 1-7 for Dixon to be the these walls for the good of the people may yet linger here and listen; and it so be they do, I am not ashamed to pay, in their presence and yours, un-measured tribute to that good and hon-1181-7 for Devine, and the latt showing 3105-6 for Tingey, 1671-3 f Dixon and 845-6 for Devine: Before 11 third ballot was taken Mr. Harringte withdrew the name of James Devin orable man, the young governor of Utah, Heber M. Wells." left the struggle between Ting and Dixon and the former won by

25 dozen Ladies' white er Regular 25c value, Saturday 35 dozen Ladies' fine sun and shapes. Regular 35c, 40 20 dozen Ladies' fine emb	ies <sup>9</sup> Neckwear, mbroidered and hemstitched turnovers. 100 's special sale price is nmer neckwear in a large variety of styles. 190 to and 50c values, Saturday's special price. 190 proidered stocks and stoles in a pretty vari- to values, Saturday's special price
800 pieces of beautiful far half prices and less. A hand and Brocade effects: widths 50c, 60c and 75c, choice of er 40 pieces of handsome far	and Ribbon Salle. ncy ribbons, purchased from a manufacturer s desome variety of designs. Ombre, Glace, Dresde from 40 to 89; ribbons actually worth 300 ncy ribbon, in Brocada and Dresden effects; No. 1 st of hair ribbons. The actual value is 150
Clean-C LADIES They are made of fi tucked back and front, a trimmed with two rows of ery. Worth $1.75-You for	wide embroid- can bave them 95 Cits
	s of our Spring d suifs, all of , lawn and or ast they will be to $8.75 for .
AT	HARD TO BEAT
Boys' Shirts, 50 Men's Suits, $1 Men's Shirts, $	Here are a few values that are Hard to beat. Boys, suits, $3.50, $4.00, $5.00 and $.55.55, $2.95 Boys caps, 75c and 50c val- ues
the second se	The second day is a second day of the second day