LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Correspondents writing for publication are requested to write on one side of the paper only. No notice can be taken of anonymous communications. Correspondents are asked to send every instance of misquoting their communications, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of reliability.

Theatrical.—Last night "Lullaby" was presented, followed by "The Student of Prague." Both pieces being well played.

To-morrow night the greatest effort at spectacular excellence which has ever been attempted here will be presented in "Cinderella."

This piece has been in preparation for weeks, and will be produced at an expense and in a style of magnificence that will make it a spectacle of the season. It is a story of a poor girl who is sold as a slave, and second only to such pieces as the "Black Crook" and "White Fawn," without any of the indecencies which help to make them so attractive in some cities, yet which are the disgusting features in them. We trust to see the Management liberally supported in the enterprise and energy manifested to present such attractions to our public. Nothing has been neglected that could make this a success. Beautiful new scenery, by Mr. Methus, most intricate and wonderful mechanical effects, rich costumes, and a full chorus and ballet to add charm to the whole. Rosalind's exquisite music of the piece will also be presented.

Scholarship.—Miss Carless will lead the choruses, and Miss Alexander and Miss Clive will lead the dancing.

Tools Arrived.—Col. H. P. Kimball received a telegram last night from Mr. Moutz, informing him that the tools had arrived for the men working on the railroad. So that they will not so much work, and did so well, with whatever they could improvise as tools, now that they are well supplied the work may be expected to progress with proportionate rapidity.

In Sacramento.—Bartholomew and his circus are at Sacramento, and were to open there on the 29th ult.

Rumors.—On Monday a team started with a wagon from opposite the Revere House, 31 South st., and ran along the street tearing away several signs, turning the corner up East Temple st., and dashing along till it brought up a little above Kimball & Lawrence's, after knocking down the stone post opposite their store. Nobody was hurt.

Yesterday William Polk's team started from the north side of the Meat Market, there being only a child three years old in the wagon, and ran about six blocks west. After running four blocks the axle tree broke, and a block and a half further on the child was slid out of the wagon, getting bruised and his face cut in the fall, but not seriously injured.

Hitch your horses securely, road folks who own teams, or somebody may get killed by their running away.

Mortality.—The Sacramento Bee of the 29th states that the small pox which had been raging in San Francisco, and which had appeared in other parts of the State, was on the decrease; but in Sacramento and other places "a very wicked type of measles" and whooping cough were prevalent. And adds, "This has been the most fatal Summer among children that we have known in California."

We have received from Major Stratman of San Francisco another batch of the "Golden Rule" for July, Harper's Weekly, Frank Leslie's Illustrated, and other papers. The Major is an excellent hand to order from for his supply is always large and varied.

Poisoning Dogs.—Although it is right that the dog nuisance should be abated, and that offenders against the ordinance requiring registration should receive the specified punishment; it is decidedly wrong to destroy useful dogs that have been properly registered, and it is culpable in the extreme to leave around poisoned food in such a manner that human life itself is endangered. We have had several complaints made to us on this subject. Last Friday, if we mistake not, a child picked up a piece of very nice fresh mutton lying on the street, and in a position which led to the belief that it had been doctored with poison. Several valuable dogs that were registered have been recently killed in this way. And the feeling is growing that the method pursued of reducing the number of dogs is reprehensible. If this is done by those who are carrying out the provisions of the ordinance, much more care should be exercised; and if it is done by persons maliciously, close watch should be kept that they may be discovered and punished.

More of it.—Boise City, Idaho, was nearly following on the night of the 27th ult., the fate lately intended by some villainous incendiary for Cheyenne. On Saturday night week an incendiary fire was kindled in Boise, some substance saturated with coal oil or turpentine having been used to feed the flames. Fortunately it was discovered in time to obtain the mastery over it and extinguish it. The Boise Statesman says "Have we a city government?"

"If so why do they not provide some means by which the scourging of the world, which now is walking mass in our midst, can be taken care of, if it is done soon stage robbery, murder and theft, will complete the work of the day."

Boise seems to be in a nice condition.

From Fillmore.—Reuben A. McBride, Esq., just in from Fillmore, reports the prospects along the Millard-Crocker project, except at Corn Creek and Meadow Creek, where the grasshoppers have dealt gently by them, and their harvest will commence about the close of this month. A number of men are making calculations to come north and go to work on the railroad; spare teams will also be turned in the same direction. Crops between that city and this are looking well.

Inquiring Trees.—This morning we noticed a fine young tree torn by the sidewalk, opposite the new building, belonging to S. F. Teweles, Esq. in the 21st Ward, with the bark stripped off one side for several feet and up among the branches. We are sorry to see such things manifest a malicious disposition or a thoughtless destructiveness that is very reprehensible on the part of the ones who are guilty of them. But few trees are injured in the city in this manner, when the number of trees and size of the population are considered; and we would like to see still fewer. Boys who have knives, learn to use them like little men, for useful purposes, and not to destroy that which should be preserved. Don't peel the bark off the trees.

Good Candles.—A good article of candles is desideratum to all, but especially in mining countries, such as Farmington, etc. Our growing connection with Chicago leads us to name Messrs. B. Schneider & Co., formerly of St. Louis, Star candles and Soap manufacturers, who have been located there for two years. Their Star Candles give great satisfaction throughout the west, and have a first class reputation. Having recently completed a very extensive factory in order to meet the increasing requirements of their trade, they are now prepared to fill all orders promptly, and our merchants who have not a stock of their goods on hand, would do well to order from them at 20 La Salle St., Chicago, Ills.

Having a first class candle manufacturing in direct communication with us, we cannot see the necessity of going any further east for the same kind of goods, especially when time and money are saved by buying nearer home.
