Wholesale Litigation.

BOSTON, June 2.—George Frederick Williams has brought thirty-two suits against the Boston & Providence Railroad Company as attorney for those injured in the recent disaster at Bussy Bridge. The damages claimed in these cases vary from $500 to $50,000 and aggregate over $400,000.

The C. & N. W.

CHICAGO, May 2.—The annual meeting of the C. & N. W. R. R. was held here to-day. The following officers were elected: Albert Keep, chairman of the board of directors; Marvin Hughitt, president; M. L. Sykes, vice-president, treasurer and secretary. Directors and officers for the various branch roads were also elected, Mr. Knights being chosen president of all the lines.

The report of the earnings, etc., for the fiscal year ending May 31, was submitted, as follows:

Gross earnings	$26,357,039
Operating and other expenses	20,273,138
Net	$ 6,003,101
Dividends for the year, including 1¼ per cent on preferred and 3 per cent on the common stock	3,445,504
Surplus	$ 2,638,397

The election of Mr. Haghitt to succeed retiring President Keep was not unexpected, and is not believed to herald any change in the policy of the road.

O'BRIEN.

His Reception and Speech in New York.

BOSTON, June 2.—William O'Brien, Dennis Kilbride and Charles Ryan, of the Dublin Freeman's Journal, left Boston this morning for New York.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Editor O'Brien arrived here this evening from Boston.

After dining in private, O'Brien was conducted to the Academy of Music where a most enthusiastic reception awaited him. The auditorium was packed to its utmost capacity. Mayor Hewitt, ex-Mayor Grace and other prominent citizens occupied seats on the stage, which was decorated with intertwined English and Irish flags. As soon as O'Brien appeared, a across and lasted for several minutes. On being introduced by the chairman, O'Brien spoke feelingly of the extraordinary extent of American sympathy which had been stirred by the events in Canada.

"Lansdowne," he said, "has been a more successful apostle for Ireland and the Irish cause than they could ever be. They could only tell the tale of his deeds in Ireland, but these deeds and Lansdowne's mobs had told the tale all the world over."

THE HORRIBLE MOMENTS

spent in Canada, the speaker said, would lie lightly in his memory, when he remembered those incidents have illustrated the true characteristics of Lansdownism. Lansdowne has said everything he can through the press, and O'Brien believed the most bitter partisans dare not stand up and say Lansdowne has denied the charge. Referring to John Bright's letter read in Birmingham, O'Brien said: "I regret that his life is ending in a bitter winter rather than in the glorious sunset, in which Mr. Gladstone is ascending. Bright disapproves of my mission in the

in which he calls Gladstone a traitor. (Cries of shame!) I am not sorry to be in such company." (Loud applause.) "Lansdowne," said the speaker, "not satisfied with being damned as a landlord, has added to his guilt that of an instigator of crime and outrage. He inspired those who carried out his outrages, they were the men who yoked themselves like jackasses to his carriage."

He knew the outrage was to be perpetrated by some "gentlemen" volunteers who behaved so gallantly at the battle of Ridgeway. (Laughter.) Four hundred of these with their side arms on, were of the mob who tried at Kingston to murder me. "I charge Lansdowne, here to-night, with that crime. He answered our demand for free speech with

REVOLVER SHOTS.

I venture to think we shall not hear for some time to come from London about 'Parnellism and crime.' And, by the way, I shall have something to say about Lansdowne and crime."

The representatives of the American press, he said were literally and truly the saviors of himself and party. The mob would have trampled them to death had it not been for this powerful sheet of protection.

Mr. O'Brien devoted some time to the exposition of the condition of affairs in Ireland, etc., and was followed by Kilbride and others.

LETTERS OF REGRET

were received and read from ex-Senator Conkling, ex-Governor Hoadley, Governor Hill, and Archbishop Corrigan.

Resolutions were adopted denouncing, in forcible terms, Lord Lansdowne and the Canadian outrages against O'Brien and party. They declare the sympathy of the entire people is with Ireland in her struggle for home rule.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The following named places having attained a population of 10,000, and their postoffices having returned a revenue of $10,000 or over, the free delivery system will be extended to them on July 1st:

California, Stockton; Oregon, Salem.

Information has been received at the Treasury Department that its recent circulars preventing the admission of work animals for temporary use on the frontier, the emigrants and farmers from the adjacent Canadian territory. It is represented that the practice has been for such farmers residing in this country to bond such of their teams and tackle as are necessary for breaking ground, erecting houses, planting, etc. The farmers then return to Canada in the fall to dispose of their crops and property in that country and subsequently come back to the United States with their families and effects as emigrants. The assistant secretary has recently instructed the collector of customs at Vincent, Minn., to discontinue the practice of bonding the teams and vehicles on their first arrival, and in lieu thereof to allow persons from Canada, who produce satisfactory proofs to show that they are bona fide emigrants, to bring with them on first arriving to take up farms, their teams, tackle, etc.,

SERIOUSLY AFFECT

FREE OF ENTRY,

and also on their return from Canada with their families to admit, free of duty, their teams, tackle, etc., and thus accord them the full privileges under the law, such cases being considered as one continuous act of immigration.

The financial statements prepared at the Treasury Department show that there was a net decrease of $44,718,000 in circulation during the month of May and a net increase of $10,000,789 in cash in the treasury during the same period. The coinage of the mints during May was $4,802,576, of which $2,900,000 were standard silver dollars.

It is now estimated at the pension office that the number of Mexican pension claims will not exceed 30,000.

A Butler Club.

BOSTON, June 2.—A Butler Club was formed here to-day. Gen. Butler was sent for, and in a brief speech thanked the members for their expression of good will, and said he was with them socially. He could not see any political field for them. He had no intention he said, of entering politics again, unless an emergency should demand.

THE PRESIDENT.

He Thinks of Coming West and May Drop In On Us.

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—A special to the Bulletin from Washington says:

There is every reason to believe that the promise which the President recently made to the St. Louis delegates that he would, if he could, visit their city next fall will be kept, and that the visit to that city will only be a comparatively small feature of a great and extensive trip which he has been planning, and arrangements for which will be consummated on his return to the White House. The President has seen but little of the United States. He has during his lifetime traveled but little outside the State of New York. He has never been in the west at all, but he has made up his mind of late that it will be to his personal and political advantage to make an

this year. His wife has persuaded him to do so as a matter of pleasure, and several democratic politicians, chief among whom is Postmaster-General Vilas, have urged him to do so as a matter of practical politics. They have told him that the democrats of the west and northwest are anxious to see him and that his presence in said states may have an encouraging effect on party organization. A cabinet officer remarked to him before his departure to the Adirondacks that in a year of peace and prosperity like this he could make such a tour, and the remark had a on the President's mind. It was in contemplation of such a trip as this that Cleveland made his promise to the St. Louis delegation. The fact is, that he intends to go a good deal farther in the direction of the setting sun than St. Louis. If the President makes his arrangements, he will leave this city the first week in August, and will probably remain away until the first of October. He will travel in a special car with certain members of his immediate household and two or three Cabinet officers. The intention is to go clear across the continent to the Pacific Coast. The

on the line of road will be visited in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Minnesota. Postmaster-General Vilas is particularly anxious that he should make a good impression in those states in time for the fall election. The President is curious to visit those cities along the Union Pacific road, and it is now in his plan to go as far as Portland, Oregon. Indeed, it is said he would very much like to steam up the Pacific Ocean as far as Alaska, although he has been told this would be construed as a violation of precedent which permits no President to go

OUTSIDE THE COUNTRY

during his term of office. It is probable that in going and coming the President and party will visit Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Chicago, St. Paul, possibly Portland and San Francisco, Omaha, St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati and other important cities, in order that he may come in contact with the working politicians.

Postmaster-General Vilas, who is perhaps the most strident and industrious advocate for a second term in the administration, will, when the proper time comes, leave nothing undone to work up the journey for all it is worth, and the political circles. The democratic politicians in various states through which the presidential party will pass, will be instructed to stir up the people with enthusiasm in order to bring about a good effect on the autumn elections. The President is determined that the journey shall be made entirely at his personal expense. He does not intend to accept any favors, but will pay for everything he gets in the way of transportation and personal service. The trip will cost him no less than $3,500 for the sixty days over which it will extend.

A LEADING MEMBER of the administration said the President is anxous to know more about his country than he does, and that he often finds his imperfect knowledge in this respect a source of embarrassment. He finds, however, that the south will be displeased at the fact of a democratic President going into the west instead of spending his time in the Southern States.

Builders Organizing.

CHICAGO, June 2.—At a meeting of the building trade council to-night a committee was appointed to issue a call to all the building trades unionsin the United States to send delegates to the conference to be held in Chicago June 20th, to take action towards forming a national organization to counteract the action of the national builders.

Stormy Knights.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 2.—Assembly 135, miners division, Knights of Labor, now in session here, did nothing in general session to-day. The entire time was occupied by the committee on the work assigned them yesterday. The indications are that the session will be long and stormy and that an explosion is not improbable on the occasion of the election of officers.

The "Dougherty" Case.

HALIFAX, June 2.—In the Admiralty court to-day the case of the American schooner Ella M. Dougherty, which was seized by the dominion authorities some time ago for violating the fisheries laws, was called.

Captain Dougherty testified that he bought a few barrels of bait which were offered to him at St. Anne's Bay, but he had no intention of using them within the three-mile limit. He did remain in port voluntarily, but was unable to get away on account of ice. He had not been warned against buying bait.

The Army Bill.

PARIS, June 2.—Bishop Freppie moved that the debate on the army bill be postponed till next session.

Premier Rouvier declined. He said the government intended to maintain a measure necessary for the honor of the country.

The motion was rejected.

Casualties.

GENEVA, June 2.—A landslide occurred on Spitzen Mountain near Spiringen, covering an area of two square kilometers. Many houses were destroyed, killing one person and seriously wounding many more. Many herds of cattle were destroyed. The debris dammed the Shacken torrent forming an extensive lake. If the dam gives way a serious catastrophe is inevitable.

LONDON, June 2.—The German steamer Oder was wrecked on Socatra Island in the Indian Ocean on March 30th. The passengers and most of the crew WERE SAVED.

PARIS, June 2.—The loss by the burning of the mill of the Masure Company at Roubaix yesterday is 2,500,000 francs. Two thousand employes were thrown out of employment.

HAMBURG, June 2.—The steamer Annie from New Orleans, reported burned during the recent conflagration, was not burned, but her cargo stored in the pier shed was destroyed.

YELLOW FEVER.

New Orleans: A special to the Picayune from Key West, Florida says: The effect of heavy rains during the past forty-eight hours has already become manifest in the increase of sickness here. Six new cases of yellow fever are now being treated by the health authorities.

VIENNA, June 2.—The breaking of the dyke of Theiss River has resulted in submerging nearly fifty miles of the Alfold plain, Szegedin. It is estimated that will reach £1,000,000. Thousands of animals are crowded into a small space and people are leaving their houses in boats. The breaking of the dykes was due to their defective construction. It is feared that the market towns of Mako, Szeutes and Vasarhely will be flooded, and the inhabitants are prepared to flee at a moment's notice. There are 4,000 men engaged in strengthening the dykes. The water is still rising in the Bega and Nera rivers. Bezzana in the south of Hungary has overflowed its banks to an enormous extent. In Banat there are 300,000 acres inundated.

International S. S. Convention.

CHICAGO, June 2.—The day's business of the International Sunday School convention opened by a resolution to substitute "The Sabbath" to indicate "Sunday," which was referred to the executive committee. After some routine business had been disposed of, the subject of "better organization" was taken up and discussed in ten minute speeches by several delegates from various sections of the country, the substance of whose remarks may be summed up as an appeal for more money and more workers. Although the work is in a flourishing condition, it should be pushed more vigorously than it has been.

R. G. Wheeler, of Oregon, spoke for the Pacific slope. There were there. Oregon is larger than New England and four or five other states. It needed aid from the eastern states.

In the afternoon the convention split up amicably, the primary workers holding a session in Farwell Hall. Routine business occupied the other branch. An enthusiastic meeting was held to-night, the various speakers receiving much applause, allusions to temperance and the new south being especially well received. During the proceedings it was announced that the executive committee would send a cablegram, congratulating Queen Victoria on her jubilee, in recognition of her earnest interest in and advocacy of the Christian religion. "God Save the Queen," was then sung by the audience.

Prohibitory Bill.

BOSTON, June 2.—The senate Wednesday afternoon passed to engrossment the bill providing for the constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquor as a beverage.

Japanese vs. Chinese.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—The quarantine has been raised on the ship W. H. Macy, and 1,200 Chinese who arrived on the steamer Gaelic, and were transferred to the Macy, among whom small-pox appeared, are being landed. The Japanese passengers on the Gaelic who were transferred to the Macy, have lodged a complaint with the Japanese consul of the treatment they received on board the vessel. They requested to be separated from the filthy Chinese, representing that as all Japanese are compelled by law to undergo vaccinnation, there was no danger of an outbreak among them. The letter stated that force was used by the customs officers to compel the Japanese to go between decks, and that Japanese women were subjected to insult. They claim to have had only canvas to sleep upon, and that the food was very bad.

Wheeler Dying.

ALBANY, June 2.—A special from New York, says: Ex-Vice President William A. Wheeler is dying. He is unconscious, and while he may live several days, his death at any moment would not be unexpected.

Locust Plague.

PARIS, June 2.—A terrible plague of locusts has visited the central portions of Spain. The insects are so thick that gangs of men have been sent to clear the railroad lines. The crops are fearfully ravaged. The Cortes is about to vote a credit for the relief of the sufferers.

STOCKING THE JORDAN.

Something about Fish.

SALT LAKE CITY,
June 1, 1887.

Editor Deseret News:

On Monday, the 30th inst., I went to Rock Springs, Wyo., to meet the shad car, en route for Utah with a special consignment of fry for this Territory. At 8 o'clock, Tuesday morning, the car, attached to the express train, reached Rock Springs. Mr. Geo. H. H. Moore, in charge, says she left Washington, D. C. at 6 o'clock p. m., last Friday, with 1,127,000 shad fry on board. Coming direct through and reaching here on the regular Utah Central train yesterday (Tuesday), they made the trip in about 100 hours. The estimated loss on the fry en route was between 10 and 15 per cent., so that the cargo netted us, say, one million fry, which, at 9 p.m. last evening, we deposited in the Jordan River at the Utah & Western bridge, in the presence of Geo. H. H. Moore, W. A. Dunnington, C. C. Lewis and E. R. Lucas,—the captain and crew of the fish car—and E. Jacobson, James Love, Fred. Lewis, Oliver Chowles, Leonard Lewis and A. M. Musser, of this city.

It was my intention to plant some of the fry in the different rivers leading into Salt Lake, but Col. Marshal McDonald expressed a desire that they be all put into one stream; and after consulting several parties interested in local pisciculture, we concluded to put them in the Jordan at the point indicated above. This morning I took Mr. Moore down to the river to look at it in daylight, and his conclusions are that we did just right in making the deposit where we did. He expressed the belief warmly that they are sure to do well and that their conditions are much more favorable than many other plants the department has made elsewhere. Let us hope they will do well, and in the mean time we will be grateful to the general government, to Prof. Spencer F. Baird and his gentlemanly aids for this generous and munificent contribution to the healthful food product of Utah.

The department has signified its intention to forward us further consignments of shad fry, from year to year, till all our waters leading into Salt Lake are stocked with this delicious fish.

I will add that it required constant watchfulness and indomitable labor, on the part of Mr. Moore and his helps, to get them through in good shape. They had to be watched and attended day and night, and great care was bestowed on them. They were brought in 60 ten gallon tin cans, each one containing about 19,000 fry, which were about half an inch long and but a few days old.

Thanks are due to the Utah Central and Utah & Nevada railroad officials for free transportation from Ogden to the place of deposit.

Respectfully,
A. M. MUSSER.

THE VITALITY OF HABIT.—"Habit" is hard to overcome. If you take off the first letter it does not change "a bit." If you take another you still have a "bit" left. If you take off another the whole of "it" remains. If you take off another it is not "i" totally used up. All of which goes to show that if you wish to be rid of a "habit" you must throw it off altogether.

Livery men will find St. Jacobs Oil indispensable in the stable. It cures lameness.

This grand offering of cattle consists of 16 bulls, 27 heifers and 8 calves. These cattle are selected with special reference to the western country. They are all recorded in the Scotch Herd Book and eligible for American, and embrace some of the very best Galloway blood in their veins. The noted families are represented, viz.: Semiramis, Lady Stanley, Forest Queen, Maid Marian, Tarbreoch Mary's, Tarbreoch Fanny's, Lucetta, Lochenkit, and Balig Tidy, etc.

We can say without any hesitation that this is the best lot ever imported, and never before have Western breeders had such an opportunity to purchase such cattle, both as regards breeding and individual merit.
