C. Ingebretsen's Funeral-Police Court -Jurors for October Court Term-Wedding Bells.

George Gray, the Southern Pacific engineer who will have to face the courts on the charges of assault with a deadly weapon and assault and threatening to commit murder, is now out on bonds for his appearance Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock and bonds to keep the peace. He was arraigned before Judge Howell on both charges, and his bond fixed at $500 on each charge. In company with his attorneys, Maginnis and Stout, he went out and secured the signatures of T. H. Carr and Jack Linshan to both bonds.

When he was released from custody all of his effects excepting the pistol all of his effects excepting the placot with which he made the assaults were returned to him, but when he saw the platol he said: "I don't want that; it has gotten me into enough trouble, and I never want to touch it again. It was drink and that pistol which brought me into; jail." A number of his friends were at the police station when he was

WEBER COUNTY AFFAIRS.

The board of county commissioners held its regular meeting yesterday. City held its regular meeting yesterday. City Attorney Bagley appeared in behalf of the canning factories of the county, asking that that part of the county license ordinance pertaining to canning factories be repealed. The attorney ar-gued at length the vast benefit of the factories to the county, and that if they are to be if icensed heavily it will have a are to be licensed heavily it will have a tendency to stop the coming of such en-terprises to our county. The board took

e matter under advisement. Commissioner Wilson reported that he is still having considerable trouble with sheep coming down the Ogden canyon, and stated that sheep owners will be compelled to pay for damage dene by their flocks to the road. An excellent report on the Irrigation congress prepared by Chairman Stanford was read and ordered spread upon the minutes. Some other minor mat-ters were taken up and hills allowed.

The funeral services over the remains of Christopher Ingebretsen, who died Sunday will be held at the Third Ward meetinghouse Wédnesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The remains may be viewed at the family residence on date of fu-neral from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. Inter-ment will take place in the city ceme-try. In Judge Howell's court E. M. Ed-mundson was arraigned on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon, pre-ferred against him by C. C. Pruitt, porprietor of the Green Light saloon. It is alleged that Edmundson entered the saloon and fired several shots, neither of which took effect. His hearing was set for Monday, Oct. 5, at 10 a. m., and his bond fixed at $500 which he was unable to furnish. Suit has been prepared by Judge Ma-perintendent of Schools J. L. Brown has accepted a position as instructor in the Brigham Young university. This has caused dissatisfaction in some quarters among citizens of the county who think he should devote his entire time to the county schools. The boa. of county commissioners has taken the matter in hand, and is also of that opinion. Yesterday Mr. Brown was summoned before the board and the demand was made of him that he give all his time to the duties of county super-intendent. In support of this demand on the part of the board, reference was made to the following resolution, adopt-ed at the convention which nominated ed at the convention which nominated Mr. Brown: "Believing that the school interests of our county are all important and that the duties of the county super-intendent have grown to be numerous and to the end of improving our present educational condition, we recommend that the county superintendent of our schools devote his time and talents to the work of the county and engage in no other work or profession that will no other work or profession that will take his time therefrom."

Mr. Brown, however, contended that was giving all the time to the pub lie schools which was demanded, and stated that his work was satisfactory to State Superintendent Nelson. He claimed that his contract with the university was such that the public schools received his first attention, and that in case of a conflict of interest he would give the public schools his first con-sideration. He further stated that he had appointed Principal G. N. Child of Lehi as assistant superintendent and that the public schools were given bet-ter services than if he devoted all his time to them without an assistant. time to them without an assistant. As the appointment of an assistant had not been submitted to and con-firmed by the board, the explanation was not quite satisfactory, and the board was rather insistent that Mr. Brown should comply with its demands. The matter went'over for one week

The matter went over for one week, in which Mr. Brown will have an op-portunity to prepar a statement or ret portunity to prepar a statement or per evidence that will convince the board that he is within his rights in the course he is pursuing. If he fails to do this, the action of the board is rather problematical, although they seem to be determined to have their demand complied with.

CITY COUNCIL SESSION.

At the meeting of the city council, held last evening, a new salary ordi-nance passed its first and second read-ings. The only changes made is an ad-vance in the salary of the city marshal from $50.50 to $75 per month, and in the salary of the supervisor of waterworks from $50 to $75 a month. LINSEED-MEAL FOR POULTRY.

Linseed meal is an excellent addition to the general variety of foods for poul-try, as it is highly nitrogeneus, and it is much superior to cotton seed meal, as the seeds from which it is made are fully matured, which is not the case with the ground cotton seed. Linseed meal may be fed at all seasons. Even when grain is allowed it will pay to feed linseed meal and when given linseed meal the hens will kay more eggs. It is richer in the essential elements of growth and produc-tion than many other concentrated foods, and greatly enriches the manure. About one gill of linseed meal may be added to every quart of ground grain used. The linseed meal is rich in mineral and nitro-genous materials, and serves to balance the grain, the mixture with half a pound of ground meat making one of the best egg-producing foods. It should not be used oftener than once a day.

we will take them from the shell and consider them from every practical point. They are very hardy and vigorous, a large per cent of eggs hatching large, healthy chicks. They grow rapidly and attain their full development ahead of nearly all the middle weight varieties. Being vigorous, strong and healthy, they are good foragers, getting their own liv-ing handily in season if allowed their lib-erty, being much better in this respect than the heavy weights and heavy leg and toe featherd varieties, and also the light weight birds, as they are more easily do-mesticated than the latter. For eggs, there is an abundance of proof that taking the year through here is no variety of fewls on earth that will outlay them. This has been proved be-yond a doubt. The writer is prepared to substantiate the above. Their eggs are good size, and a rich, brown color; and
