

TELEGRAPHIC. A TARIFF BANQUET.

Sherman in a Letter Discusses the Financial Question.

GOVERNOR MCKINLEY'S SPEECH.

Alleged Information About the Narcotic.—The Cheever Food—U. P. Employes Happy.

CANTON, O., March 29.—At the Republican tariff banquet here tonight four hundred guests were present from various cities in Ohio. The banquet was spread in the Tabernacle, a mammoth structure dedicated to political purposes in 1884 with a speech by James G. Blaine.

Governor McKinley occupied the post of honor at the first table. At the conclusion of the feast the master read letters of regret from ex-President Harrison, Senator Sherman and others. Mr. Sherman took occasion to discuss the financial question. He said that what was needed was currency, and his experience had shown him that the money of national banks, secured by an equal or greater amount of United States bonds, form the best currency that has yet been devised.

"The notes of the United States," he says, "carefully limited in amount and backed by the credit of the whole country, supporting which are ample reserves in coin, and which by clear authority in case of a necessity are redeemable in gold, are the only money since the first day of January, 1875, to be a wise and safe currency for the people of the whole people."

"The chief fear," he declared, "is that these notes will not be safely secured by law, and their credit may be impaired and destroyed by the carrying out of wild and visionary notions regarding the currency of the country. The senator expresses the hope, however, that the silver currency question had passed away. In conclusion he says: "The real solution of the silver problem is to get into our silver dollar enough silver at market value to be equal to the gold dollar, and to maintain all forms of money whether coin or notes of equal and interchangeable value."

Governor McKinley responded to the toast, "Republican Presidents." In the course of his address he reviewed the life and services of Benjamin Harrison, President. Speaking of Harrison, he said: "His administration was pure, vigorous and patriotic, and his own contemporaries will give him his true place in the history of the country. The needs of the Republican party, its principles and purposes and policies under every American interest and are allied with true growth and advancement since 1860 until now the Democratic party has been without power to do anything with public measures without the consent of the Republican party. Now they have full possession. There is no longer any excuse for pretense; no longer any room for hypocrisy. If they believe in their own professions of the past thirty years they can now make them effective. There is no excuse for delay on our part. We have but to move on with our old-time vigor, yielding nothing of principle."

THE NARCOTIC.

Supposed Messages from the Last Semester.

NEWPORT, Va., March 29.—William Johnson Winsor, watchman at Ocean View, Va., near the mouth of the Chesapeake Bay, the morning picked up on the beach at that place a champagne bottle with several corks that when he took and with a label ending with the word "Narcotic." He was in possession of the bottle when the White Star steamship Narcotic. It reads:

200 a.m., February 19th, S. R. Narcotic.

Who Picks This Up? Report when you find this our agents, if not heard from before, that our ship is fast sinking toward the west and it is such a storm that we can never live in small boats. One boat has already gone, with a human cargo, below. God let all live through this. We were struck by an iceberg in a blinding snow storm and drifted two hours. Now it is 200 a.m. by my watch and the great water level is level with the beach. Report to the agents at Broadway, New York, M. Kersey & Co. Good-by all. JOHN CLARK, Captain.

LONG BEACH, N. J., March 29.—John Brown today shot a strange pigeon that was among his flock. Upon it he found a small card, which he is keeping the following: "N 13-301." It is thought the bird was from the steamer Narcotic.

THE CHOTEAU FEUD.

The Relations Between the Factions Still Strained.

PARIS, Tex., March 29.—The relations between the rival Choteau factions are still strained to the utmost. The night before last, a shooting party there last night had a hearing before the United States commissioners here today. As a result of the hearing, the United States commissioners here today and then talked up on a wagon and headed a northbound freight train 5.5 m. The train was on the southbound train which met the northbound train at Antlers, and the two trains were stopped and it was the militia stopped and many demonstrations were given them. All efforts to reach Antlers by wire since dark have failed, which is considered a bad omen. The people at Antlers fear the town will be burned tonight.

A SCANDALOUS STORY.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 29.—The following scandalous story is printed here:

"The investigation of the Gate City grand jury has been brought to a conclusion. The grand jury was ready today to take up the Gate City case. A number of bills against citizens of Atlanta charged with violating the law in connection with the failure of the Gate City bank were yesterday drawn up and returned were at hand. All were returned against the investigation. Scandalous developments were expected, but the investigation was summarily stopped. Attorney General Olney writing from Washington to suspend action until further notice.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29.—Attorney Olney could not be seen tonight, but it is said he had abundant reason for suspending the investigation.

THE CASE BROUGHT INTO COURT BY THE MANUFACTURERS.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The clothing manufacturers' association who lodged their petition last Saturday have determined upon an active policy. In view of the court's action in the Ann Arbor railroad strike they want before justice to secure an order requiring the officers of the garment workers of America and American federation of labor to appear today and show cause why they should not be restrained from boycotting the manufacturers, or from inducing others to do so. The case was argued today for one week on condition that the others shall not issue any boycotting circulars in the meantime.

WAR THOUGHT INEVITABLE.

A Conflict Expected Between Brazil and Paraguay.

What a French Actress Can Do.—The Making of Beauties.—Chloroform Reports.

VALPARAISO, March 29.—A conflict between Brazil and Paraguay is now inevitable. A dispatch from Asuncion says the Brazilian minister Alegria has arrived at that city and may begin combatant at any moment. General Telles who has command of 800 men sent from Rio Janeiro by the national government is reported to have invaded Uruguay to punish the citizens for aiding the revolutionaries. His troops are said to have committed many outrages upon the citizens of Uruguay.

BEHIND THE CULMINES.

Revenge of a French Actress upon Another.

PARIS, March 29.—During the play at the Theatre de la Gaite last evening, Miss Mealy, one of the actresses, invited Miss Jeanne Richard, another actress, to call upon her in her dressing room. Miss Richard accepted the invitation and after the last curtain had fallen, she went to the room. The moment she entered, Miss Mealy's maid sprung upon her and threw her to the floor. Miss Mealy then caught Miss Richard by the throat, drew a knife from her pocket and began tearing her face with it. Miss Richard screamed and screamed the crowd came to the rescue and they rescued her, but not until her face was raw and covered with blood. Miss Richard then fled, and Miss Mealy remained in the room, making the attack was to avenge herself for disparaging remarks made about her character by Miss Richard.
