

WESTERN NEWS ITEMS.

Probably fatal encounter between Two Idaho Men.

USHERED AMONG THE BOYS
NEWSBOYS.

Card for a youthful Prisoner—Kicked by a Virtuous Stern—From Jettison.

The Republican convention will take place at Brighamton, Oct. 12.

The Case of the man shot at by the jury last yesterday after hours.

Flour is being sold at Salina for 90 cents a bushel. So said the old French man.

The Prairie volunteer fire department had been organized by the county court, setting up the county pull tank of its own and he required. The master had been referred to the county attorney.

At the Provo Board of Education on Tuesday evening the president, representatives had requested for a loan of $1000, and asked to do so for the city, and had declined the amount with his signature.

White branding cattle at the stock yards had been seized by a state and his up was so badly cut that Dr. Holt had to take several stitches in it in order to get it to a certain place.—Local Wyoming Daily Democrat.

Louis Anderson had planned to file a suit against which he intended to use in starting a law case at Dwyer.
He had a row with a street car conductor and was arrested for disorderly conduct. The gun being found he had a narrow escape from paying heavy fine for carrying a concealed weapon.

The funds to be used by the people of the city of the November election, says the Idaho Daily Standard, will be about ten times as large as the oldtime ballot. There will be some white submises on the sheet—one for the Republican, one for the Union, one for the Democrats, one for the People's, one for the Independent, one for the one black column. County Auditor King is now preparing the main match ballot for the printer.

The newsboys of D. I. have future arrangements. No boy who is not a member of the association will be allowed to sell papers on the streets of the city.
One of the members said last night that any non-member "will" be punished if he sells papers. He was regarded by the other newsboys as a traitor. His claims were more or less rejected and his face and hands as dirty as the street garments usually
are. Five years ago he collected alludes. He knew that there were several of his companions in the street who would rather stand behind a newspaper for a small daily remuneration than混迹 around the streets and talk chances of getting such as their papers, as they express it.
He picked out two honest boys and entered into a contract with them.
They agreed to say that forty cents a day, or half a dollar, of all sales standards. The young men will sell the newspapers and stock the stands himself, and the boys will go to a strict accounting. From those two stands and what he earned himself on the streets he put $11.20
away clean at the end of the year.

That money was put into two other stands that he established in the up-town district. All of them increased and the number was gradually increased until a year ago he had thirteen boys at stands and seven around the forty entrances available for him. Today his staff is very strong indeed. He holds the firm stands under several scratches where brains are needed. The boy must be worth at least $2000 today if he is worth a cent. Last Christmas he bought a home in Jersey for his widowed mother, and I understand he owns some property in Valley that has greatly increased in value lately.

He is the pioneer of his business in New York and in fact a very bold one at that; that is all I understand of his boy business—New York admitted.

Medical songs and legends, which
are rich in all sorts of mystified and fantastical lore, form the entrance to St. Patrick's famous "paradise,"

on the island of Lough Derg, Ireland.
The opening itself was through a
cave, the entrance of which was revealed to the saint by Christ, which carried the good Patrick that any one with the usual courage to go down into the cavern could see all
the forms of the real "paradise"
after death. Patrick built a small shelter at the entrance of his earthly paradise and spent the remainder
of his life in prayer and meditation.
The legend of the saint's visit to Lough Derg, however, is not the only one celebrated spot watered during
the Middle Ages. Thomas' well-known
"paradise" every year, and the whole island had the appearance of a populous city.—St. Louis Republic

A series of improvements of the Star Brigade Co. have been filed in the county clerk's office at Provo. The plan of this company is to dam the waters of Current Creek at the head of the valley, and to divert and a reservoir of the old creek, which lies west of the Union Pacific railroad, from where it crosses the ridge south of Twin City. The stream will be conducted through the valley into the Jordan River, which with a limited valley floor, 6,000 acres of good first class farming land, at present unoccupied, but which can be brought under culture through the labor of the former workers of Current Creek, during the time not used by Union and the surrounding counties for irrigation and cultivating purposes, will give 750, 000 cubic feet of water for irrigation and domestic purposes, and will make a reservoir of 100,000,000 cubic feet, which will be available on the low water flow of the stream. The company is entirely composed of local men. The capital stock of the company is $300,000, of which $100,000 is paid in. The officers of the company are President Branch Young of Logan; Dan. H.
Cory, of this city, vice-president;
Anthony A. Clegg, secretary; Mr. W.
H. Smith, engineer, and has charge of the work.

Justin A. N. Johnson, of Fayette, was sent to Salt Lake City by his uncle Peter Pease on the White Cloud, to take the anti-slavery statement of a man named Alm, who on Friday afternoon was shot and fatally wounded by Frank Young. But Young had been shot in the back the past few minutes. The man who was employed upon the Pease ranch for over two years, and recently has engaged in many quarrels. On Friday morning he got into the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Pease, holding a gun and commenced to fight.

After a fierce battle, Young drew a revolver and Alm started to run. Young pulled the pistol and fired a bullet into Alm's hand. The wound was fatal, and Young continued firing, two of the balls from the weapon striking Alm in the legs. Just before the shooting Franklin, who was with Alm, ran up and stopped the wagon, in which were seated his wife and child, to go to Alm's assistance. The pistol had frightened the horses, they ran away and the couple were left to their fate.

One of Mrs. Pease's arms was seriously fractured, but the child was not hurt.—Idaho Daily Statesman. Oct.
13th.

WELL-SERVED HOME.

No man has any friends to be back in New York." The speaker was well dressed, blue-eyed youth of eighteen.

"You can earn the undying gratitude of thousands in this city alone if you will tell them how to escape the miseries, but of simple poverty, but of downright want" said a Minstrel.

"What is your purpose?" inquired another listener.

"You will all grant me," said the young man, "that with the poorest of us, or the most undesirable guidline that the slaves can get a "steak" for twenty-five cents, with our meat brown. All right. On that foundation my fee of six or a man not have been enough to keep him well and comfortably.
Now let him know that even in minimum or evening newspaper and his turning over his pockets for his bread every day."

"Even the largest of Park Row newspapers seldom earn more than fifty cents a day on a weekly average in payment to the one I have used for the sake of argument. I know what I am telling about, because five years ago I was hunting around to try to find the same as the rest of them are now, and I could make no more impression and have a little to spare at the end of every week than you a man, smaller right in this city who is a lawyer and I will show you an individual who is too busy to do even the lightest kind of work."

After these sentiments remarkable, the youth turned and walked up the stairs to be with a big formal dinner, and a breakfast. "There is a young man who will be worth a big fortune in time, and a bacterium." "There was regard for the other newsboys as a bacterium. His claims were more or less rejected and his face and hands
as dirty as the street garments usually
are. Five years ago he collected al-
ludes. He knew that there were
several of his companions in the street
who would rather stand behind a
newspaper for a small daily remuner-
ation than混迹 around the streets
and talk chances of getting such
as their papers, as they express it.

He picked out two honest boys and
entered into a contract with them.

They agreed to say that forty cents a
day, or half a dollar, of all sales
standards. The young men will sell
the newspapers and stock the
stands himself, and the boys will
go to a strict accounting. From
those two stands and what he earned
himself on the streets he put $11.20
away clean at the end of the year.

That money was put into two
other stands that he established in
the up-town district. All of them
increased and the number was grad-
ually increased until a year ago he
had thirteen boys at stands and
seven around the forty entrances
available for him. Today his staff is
very strong indeed. He holds the
firm stands under several scratches
where brains are needed. The boy
must be worth at least $2000 today
if he is worth a cent. Last Christmas he bought a home in Jersey for
his widowed mother, and I under-
stand he owns some property in
Valley that has greatly increased
in value lately.

He is the pioneer of his business
in New York and in fact a very
bold one at that; that is all I understand
of his boy business—New York admitted.

Medical songs and legends, which
are rich in all sorts of mystified and
fantastical lore, form the entrance
to St. Patrick's famous "paradise,"

on the island of Lough Derg, Ireland.
The opening itself was through a
cave, the entrance of which was re-
vealed to the saint by Christ, which
carried the good Patrick that any
one with the usual courage to go
down into the cavern could see all
the forms of the real "paradise"
after death. Patrick built a small
shelter at the entrance of his earthly
paradise and spent the remainder
of his life in prayer and meditation.

The legend of the saint's visit to
Lough Derg, however, is not the only
one celebrated spot watered during
the Middle Ages. Thomas' well-known
"paradise" every year, and the
whole island had the appearance of
a populous city.—St. Louis Republic

Medical songs and legends, which
are rich in all sorts of mystified and
fantastical lore, form the entrance
to St. Patrick's famous "paradise,"

on the island of Lough Derg, Ireland.
The opening itself was through a
cave, the entrance of which was re-
vealed to the saint by Christ, which
carried the good Patrick that any
one with the usual courage to go
down into the cavern could see all
the forms of the real "paradise"
after death. Patrick built a small
shelter at the entrance of his earthly
paradise and spent the remainder
of his life in prayer and meditation.

The legend of the saint's visit to
Lough Derg, however, is not the only
one celebrated spot watered during
the Middle Ages. Thomas' well-known
"paradise" every year, and the
whole island had the appearance of
a populous city.—St. Louis Republic

Medical songs and legends, which
are rich in all sorts of mystified and
fantastical lore, form the entrance
to St. Patrick's famous "paradise,"

on the island of Lough Derg, Ireland.
The opening itself was through a
cave, the entrance of which was re-
vealed to the saint by Christ, which
carried the good Patrick that any
one with the usual courage to go
down into the cavern could see all
the forms of the real "paradise"
after death. Patrick built a small
shelter at the entrance of his earthly
paradise and spent the remainder
of his life in prayer and meditation.

The legend of the saint's visit to
Lough Derg, however, is not the only
one celebrated spot watered during
the Middle Ages. Thomas' well-known
"paradise" every year, and the
whole island had the appearance of
a populous city.—St. Louis Republic

Medical songs and legends, which
are rich in all sorts of mystified and
fantastical lore, form the entrance
to St. Patrick's famous "paradise,"

on the island of Lough Derg, Ireland.
The opening itself was through a
cave, the entrance of which was re-
vealed to the saint by Christ, which
carried the good Patrick that any
one with the usual courage to go
down into the cavern could see all
the forms of the real "paradise"
after death. Patrick built a small
shelter at the entrance of his earthly
paradise and spent the remainder
of his life in prayer and meditation.

The legend of the saint's visit to
Lough Derg, however, is not the only
one celebrated spot watered during
the Middle Ages. Thomas' well-known
"paradise" every year, and the
whole island had the appearance of
a populous city.—St. Louis Republic

Medical songs and legends, which
are rich in all sorts of mystified and
fantastical lore, form the entrance
to St. Patrick's famous "paradise,"

on the island of Lough Derg, Ireland.
The opening itself was through a
cave, the entrance of which was re-
vealed to the saint by Christ, which
carried the good Patrick that any
one with the usual courage to go
down into the cavern could see all
the forms of the real "paradise"
after death. Patrick built a small
shelter at the entrance of his earthly
paradise and spent the remainder
of his life in prayer and meditation.

The legend of the saint's visit to
Lough Derg, however, is not the only
one celebrated spot watered during
the Middle Ages. Thomas' well-known
"paradise" every year, and the
whole island had the appearance of
a populous city.—St. Louis Republic

Medical songs and legends, which
are rich in all sorts of mystified and
fantastical lore, form the entrance
to St. Patrick's famous "paradise,"

on the island of Lough Derg, Ireland.
The opening itself was through a
cave, the entrance of which was re-
vealed to the saint by Christ, which
carried the good Patrick that any
one with the usual courage to go
down into the cavern could see all
the forms of the real "paradise"
after death. Patrick built a small
shelter at the entrance of his earthly
paradise and spent the remainder
of his life in prayer and meditation.

The legend of the saint's visit to
Lough Derg, however, is not the only
one celebrated spot watered during
the Middle Ages. Thomas' well-known
"paradise" every year, and the
whole island had the appearance of
a populous city.—St. Louis Republic

Medical songs and legends, which
are rich in all sorts of mystified and
fantastical lore, form the entrance
to St. Patrick's famous "paradise,"

on the island of Lough Derg, Ireland.
The opening itself was through a
cave, the entrance of which was re-
vealed to the saint by Christ, which
carried the good Patrick that any
one with the usual courage to go
down into the cavern could see all
the forms of the real "paradise"
after death. Patrick built a small
shelter at the entrance of his earthly
paradise and spent the remainder
of his life in prayer and meditation.

The legend of the saint's visit to
Lough Derg, however, is not the only
one celebrated spot watered during
the Middle Ages. Thomas' well-known
"paradise" every year, and the
whole island had the appearance of
a populous city.—St. Louis Republic

Medical songs and legends, which
are rich in all sorts of mystified and
fantastical lore, form the entrance
to St. Patrick's famous "paradise,"

on the island of Lough Derg, Ireland.
The opening itself was through a
cave, the entrance of which was re-
vealed to the saint by Christ, which
carried the good Patrick that any
one with the usual courage to go
down into the cavern could see all
the forms of the real "paradise"
after death. Patrick built a small
shelter at the entrance of his earthly
paradise and spent the remainder
of his life in prayer and meditation.

The legend of the saint's visit to
Lough Derg, however, is not the only
one celebrated spot watered during
the Middle Ages. Thomas' well-known
"paradise" every year, and the
whole island had the appearance of
a populous city.—St. Louis Republic

Medical songs and legends, which
are rich in all sorts of mystified and
fantastical lore, form the entrance
to St. Patrick's famous "paradise,"

on the island of Lough Derg, Ireland.
The opening itself was through a
cave, the entrance of which was re-
vealed to the saint by Christ, which
carried the good Patrick that any
one with the usual courage to go
down into the cavern could see all
the forms of the real "paradise"
after death. Patrick built a small
shelter at the entrance of his earthly
paradise and spent the remainder
of his life in prayer and meditation.

The legend of the saint's visit to
Lough Derg, however, is not the only
one celebrated spot watered during
the Middle Ages. Thomas' well-known
"paradise" every year, and the
whole island had the appearance of
a populous city.—St. Louis Republic

NOTICE.

With Annex Building and Mining Co., proprietors of the Hotel and Lake City, Utah.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT AT 10 o'clock A.M. on Saturday, October 18, 1865, we will sell at public auction all the real estate and personal property belonging to the above-named company, and also all the mines, minerals, and other natural resources belonging to the same, situated in the territory of the State of Utah,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Idaho,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Arizona,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the State of Oregon,
and in the State of Washington,
and in the State of Alaska,
and in the State of Hawaii,
and in the State of New Mexico,
and in the State of Colorado,
and in the State of Wyoming,
and in the State of Montana,
and in the State of Nevada,
and in the State of California,
and in the