

THIRTEEN UNION MEN ABDUCTED

Here is a Case Where Wholesale Murder Was Planned.

MAROONED ON AN ISLAND.

New York, Sept. 5.—A special to the press from Key West says: The thirteen abducted leaders of the striking cigar makers of Tampa, Fla., have been rescued from exile. The men who composed the central committee of the Cigar Makers' Union of Tampa, arrived here on a small fruit schooner, the Gertrude, of this port. Marooned on a barren, uninhabited island off the coast of Honduras, they had, by an unexpected turn of fortune, escaped death from exposure and starvation and made their way to civilization and safety. They believe it was the intention of their captors that they should never return from exile.

The authorities of Washington have instructed the United States district attorney at Jacksonville, Fla., to make an investigation of the matter. Sworn deputations of the men taken before federal officials have been mailed to Washington.

The party consisted of six Spaniards, two Cubans and one Englishman. The Cubans and the Englishman, however, were naturalized American citizens. The men, whose names are Francisco Rodriguez, Ramon Figueroa, Luis Garcia, Esteban Lanza, Eustacio Valdes, Badillo Parrondo, Jose Belen Valdes, Crescencio Gonzales and Charles Kelly, all bear evidence of the hardships encountered during their forced exile and present a pitiful appearance. The stories they tell are substantially the same, differing only in minor details as to the violence resorted to by their abductors.

Francisco Barcia, who was taken at midnight from the bedside of his wife, whose accouchment had taken place three days before, and whose death has since been reported as a result of the shock incident to her husband's disappearance, says he was forced into a closed carriage and taken to the railroad station, where he was put into an electric car, of which the lights were out. The current having been shut off, eight of his companions, who had been similarly captured, were put with him into the rear compartment of the car and taken to Ballast Point.

Several of the guards on the car, the men say, were prominent citizens of Tampa and well known to them. After a brief conference at Ballast Point the thirteen men were dragged aboard the tug and the start was made amid derisive farewells from the abductors on the dock. The tug headed for the schooner Marie Cooper, which was riding at anchor in the stream with all sails set. The men were transferred to the schooner under a heavy guard. This was on Tuesday night, August 6.

A stiff breeze soon carried them down the bay and out to sea. As day followed day in dull monotony, without any indication that a landing was contemplated, the kidnapped men, who had been kept in ignorance, not only of their fate, but of their probable destination, became uneasy and requested to know where they were being taken. They were told they were being landed on English soil far enough away to prevent a return to the United States for a long time.

On the seventh day land was sighted and the captives were informed that their destination had been reached. Some supplies revealed a long, low stretch of sand beach without sign of human habitation. The men were landed at night, each one receiving a box of soda crackers, two small cans of beef and about a gallon of water were placed on the beach. The boats then returned to the schooner, which immediately set sail and disappeared in the distance.

For days they wandered along the beach, subsisting on their meagre supplies, and without encountering a human being or sighting a sail. Their small stock of provisions finally gave out. The water supply was exhausted, their hands and faces were burned by the tropical sun and their feet blistered by long marches. They began to despair of ever reaching home, and had almost given up the fight, when they were discovered by an Indian. He brought aid, took them to the mainland, and guided them to the plantation of a Mr. Bruno, where they were well received. Their immediate wants were supplied and they procured a small boat to take them to Truxillo.

They were told by Mr. Bruno that from the description they gave of the band they had evidently been landed near the mouth of Plantation river. At Truxillo they had the good fortune to meet two Cubans, formerly residents of Florida, and now engaged in fruit culture there, who supplied funds and hired a schooner to take them to Panama, where they were equally fortunate to find the schooner Gertrude awaiting a cargo of fruit for this market. They chartered her and sailed for Key West.

Englishmen Worried.
New York, Sept. 5.—Discussing the state of the health of the king of England, the London correspondent of the Times says: Disturbing rumors about the king's health have been in the air for many weeks. But it has not been possible to separate the wheat from the chaff. The most trustworthy account received from those in touch with the court leaves little ground for doubt that the king has been nervous about the condition of his throat, and suspects that his sister's fate might be in store for him. Specialists have examined his throat while he has been at Ham House, and they have confirmed the previous diagnosis that there is no evidence of cancer.

There is, however, some disease of the throat which requires constant watching and treatment. My informant states that the king has been warned

PROMINENT DELEGATES TO AND MEETING PLACE OF METHODIST ECUMENICAL CONFERENCE.

Once every ten years Methodists from all parts of the world get together and hold what is known as an ecumenical conference. Such a convention begins this week in London. Methodists representing all branches of the church are now gathered there. Among them are many prominent Americans. Bishop Galloway of the Methodist Church South delivers the opening address. Bishop Hurst and Bishop Vincent will both take a prominent part in the exercises. The meetings are to be held in London's old City Road chapel, which was the birthplace of Methodism, and will continue until Sept. 17.

against any mental excitement, and that his medical advisers objected strongly to his going to his sister's death-bed on the ground that emotion and the intensity of his grief would be dangerous.

There is a court theory that while the king's throat is not now in a dangerous state, it may become so under the influence of mental depression and excitement.

This foreboding doubtless reflects the pessimism prevailing in England in all matters. No alarmist at the court suggests that the coronation will be interrupted by a decline in the king's health.

Devery "Coming Back."

New York, Sept. 5.—Deputy Commissioner of Police Devery has preferred charges of insubordination against Police Officer Edward O'Neill for the latter's utterances and demeanor at his trial on charges of misconduct last Thursday, when he told the deputy commissioner that he would not stand for a "shake down" and refused to accept the fine imposed by Devery. O'Neill also said that he had been asked for money in return for a transfer to a more desirable post.

In this latter connection, Police Commissioner Murphy sent a letter to President Dresser, of the Merchants' association, in response to one calling attention to the alleged corruption in the police department. Commissioner Murphy said, in referring to this case, that the declaration of O'Neill that he had been asked for money for a transfer had gone broadcast, and in order to get evidence in the matter, the deputy commissioner had preferred charges against O'Neill for insubordination. The letter concludes:

"On this trial it is possible that I may be able to get facts which will justify my putting on trial officers of any grade."

Will Talk in Iowa.

Des Moines, Sept. 5.—Vice-President Roosevelt has written A. B. Cummins, Republican nominee for governor, that he will make two speeches in Iowa this campaign, one of them being in Des Moines about Oct. 7.

Northwest Court of Appeals.

San Francisco, Sept. 5.—Judge W. W. Morrow, of the United States circuit court, will leave this city for the northwest this evening. He will go to Portland and Seattle to sit with Judges Ross and Gilbert as a court of appeals. Court will sit in Seattle from September 9 to 16, and for the remainder of the month in Portland. All cases on appeal from the northwest will be heard by this court.

At Truxillo they had the good fortune to meet two Cubans, formerly residents of Florida, and now engaged in fruit culture there, who supplied funds and hired a schooner to take them to Panama, where they were equally fortunate to find the schooner Gertrude awaiting a cargo of fruit for this market. They chartered her and sailed for Key West.

GLUTTONY

Is more common than we may think, if we define gluttony as eating beyond the body's need of sustenance and beyond the stomach's capacity for digestion and assimilation of food. That is a fair definition, and it fastens the word upon many a person who would resent the term as an insult. The fact of this gluttony is marked by its consequences. The overloaded stomach becomes diseased. The popular term for the condition is "weak" stomach. The "weak" stomach fails in furnishing adequate nutrition for the body, and soon the "weakness" spreads from the stomach to other organs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect assimilation of food, by which alone the health and strength of the body is maintained.

"Your medicine helped me so much that I cannot praise it too highly," writes Mrs. C. L. Brooks of Poland, Andover, Me. "The first dose I took helped me. I cannot forget how I felt when I took it. I was suffering everything with indigestion, and my stomach was so bloated that it seemed as though it must burst. My husband said he was going for the doctor, but I said if he would get me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, I would try it. I had not taken it long when I felt relieved, and have not had a trace of indigestion or stomach trouble since. I had been sick for four years, and less than four bottles cured me. Some people that knew me before I began to take the Golden Medical Discovery, tell me that they never saw such a change in any one, and they also say they don't see how I can do such large washings as I do now, when I had not done a washing for a long time."

MESTHERSKY ON PEASANT RUSSIA.

Prince Says it is Where it Was a Thousand Years Ago.

CONTINUES TO BURN UP.

Poor People Build Wooden Thatched
Houses and Let the Fires
Devour Them.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—It is stated that a polar expedition, to be financed by a titled personage, is being prepared here. It will be absent four years.

Before the rains a few days ago St. Petersburg was enveloped in smoke from burning peat beds and the newspapers still report fires in all parts of Russia. Villages and towns, forests and peat beds, lumber yards and factories have been burning for six weeks. The peasants, who are the principal sufferers, are utterly incapable of resisting the flames; that is, intellectually and morally incapable. They continue building their villages in the same fashion, with their wooden, thatched huts close together, and it is usually only when a forest or peat fire begins to threaten a village that any effort is made to extinguish it. The fire ravages have been unusually large this year. They are occasioning considerable comment in the newspapers. Prince Mesthersky, in the Grazhdanin, says that in the matter of rural architecture and protection against fire Russia has made no progress since Turk. "Much is said as to the burden of taxation," continues the writer, "yet the direct and indirect taxes are nothing compared to the damage sustained yearly from fires. During the last century Russia burns on an average of 200,000 rubles a year. Poor Russia! The roads have not become one whit better since Rurik and the villages are as mean as a thousand years ago. Wealthy good country roads are few and far between. Russia would be half a billion richer every year."

The Russian press is displaying lively interest in the Venezuelan-Colombian squabble though it cannot be asserted that all the newspapers approach the subject intelligently. The Exchange Gazette, which probably has the largest circulation of any Russian newspaper, yesterday remarked that the United States were now preparing to "extend the Monroe doctrine to South America, and that England, on account of her South African engagement, is unable to resist this expansive tendency."

A writer in the Novoye Vremya considers the policy of the United States to be to acquire a protectorate over England. America is deeply interested in the development and the commerce of the British colonies and will therefore never consent to the dismemberment of the British empire. This writer does not attempt to say when the protectorate will be an actuality, but is sure it is coming.

They All Do This.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Thirty Chinamen, all of whom are said to have amassed small fortunes in this city, left last night for San Francisco, where they will take the steamer for China. They return to their native country to spend the remainder of their lives in luxury. Those who left Chicago will be met in San Francisco by others from Indianapolis, Boston and New York, who will also depart on the same steamer.

Most of the Chinamen who left last night had been in Chicago many years and all were engaged in some business. Each man is said to have had at least $1,000 to $5,000 in his possession.

Remembering Webster.

Hanover, N. H., Sept. 5.—Dartmouth College will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the graduation of Daniel Webster from that institution on September 25 and 26. Addresses will be delivered by Ex-Gov. Frank S. Black of New York; Senator Hoar, Chief Justice Fuller, Congressman McCall, Judge Alfred Russell of Detroit, and others.

One thousand of the alumni will parade, dressed in revolutionary costumes.

There will be singing by a chorus of 200 voices. Samuel Appleton, the only living grandson of Daniel Webster, will lay the corner stone of Webster Hall, the new administration and alumni memorial building.

Invitations Will be General.

New York, Sept. 5.—The civic committee having charge of the reception to the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, on the occasion of their visit to Montreal has decided, according to a special to the Times from that city, not to limit the invitations as was at first intended.

The committee today decided that all respectable citizens who send in their names before hand and conform to the regulations regarding proper dress for the occasion shall be permitted to attend the reception. The rules as to dress will be strictly enforced. Social invitations will be issued to persons holding official positions.

$20,000 for Riverside.

Riverside, Cal., Sept. 5.—Andrew Carnegie has offered $20,000 to this city for a free public library.

Steamship Boilers Gave Out.

Montreal, Sept. 5.—The steamship Hartford, employed by the United States government in the recent war with Spain, which is now on her way from New York to Chicago, is tied up in Montreal. Her supply of fresh water gave out in the straits of Canoe and she resorted to the use of salt water, with the result that her boilers gave out at Quebec and she had to be towed here. She had a crew of 32 sailors and 25 passengers. The passengers proceeded to their destination by train, while the sailors were sent to New York by the vice consul here. Local shops are so busy that it will not be possible for new boilers to be procured for several weeks, and the towing of the vessel to Toledo will be expensive.

France is Approved.

London, Sept. 5.—A despatch to the Times from Vienna says the French government's course in the dispute with Turkey meets with the approval of a majority of the powers, and also of public opinion in Europe.

The despatch adds that the sultan's overweening infatuation dates from the Pan-Islamic agitation following the Armenian massacres five years ago. He then impressed upon his moslem subjects that the powers were afraid to interfere. Pan-Islamism was further encouraged by the visit of Emperor William to Constantinople. The idea of Moslem mission to China profoundly impressed Mohammedans. The sultan is said to be dominated by an absorbing idea of Pan-Islamism.

Powers having Mohammedan subjects are pleased with the vigorous course France has taken. They believe that the rupture of diplomatic relations between France and Turkey will serve as a warning.

Big Match Concern.

New York, Sept. 5.—The Mutual Match company, of Clifton, N. J., which has filed a certificate of incorporation to operate a match plant, is expected to compete with existing organizations. According to plans the plant will be the largest independent match factory in the United States. The plant will comprise buildings on 45,000 square feet of land adjoining the Erie railroad. The incorporators are: Cassel Cohen, Joseph Cohen, Harry Stoll, of New York, and Jacob Schwartz, of Passaic, N. J.

HEALTHY SCHOOLM'AM.
Found Out How to Feed Himself.

Many school teachers, at the end of their year's work, feel thoroughly exhausted and worn out, physically and mentally. The demand upon the nerves and brain of a teacher is unusual and unless they are well fed and fed upon properly selected food, it is natural that they should run down.

A little woman teacher at Gobleville, Mich., who has been teaching regularly for a number of years, has always found herself thoroughly exhausted at the end of the session, until within the last year she has made use of Grape-Nuts Food with the result that she closed the year as a robust, healthy, strong, vigorous woman, having gained in weight from 90 pounds to 125; her nerves strong, face bright and cherry, and really a wonder to all her friends, who constantly comment on her color and strength. She knows exactly to what the change is attributed, for in the years past, living on ordinary food, she has almost broken down before the school year closed, whereas since using Grape-Nuts, this change has been brought about; evidence prima facie of the value of Grape-Nuts Food for rebuilding the brain and nerve centers. The aim of the teacher can be given by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

FATAL RESULT OF A REPROOF.

Mrs. Albert E. Peters of New York
Startles a Dinner Party.

SHE DRANK CARBOLIC ACID.

Deliberately Raised the Glass in the Presence of a House Full of Guests.

New York, Sept. 5.—The climax to a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Peters, at their home in this city, came last night when Mrs. Peters deliberately walked to the sideboard, filled a liquor glass with carbolic acid and facing her guests drained the glass. Her action, it is said, was brought about by a reproof from her husband before the rest of the party. After she had drunk the poison and physicians were called, Mrs. Peters, who was only 26 years of age, begged the doctors to save her life. Everything possible was done but she died some hours afterward.

Newest in Dancing.

New York, Sept. 5.—The new dance for the winter will be determined by the end of the week by the Society of Professors of Dancing who are in session in this city. Exemplifiers of the latest in dancing to the number of 63 are here from all parts of the country. The following officers have been chosen: A. E. Bourneque, of Chicago, president; R. V. Biazay, of Milwaukee, vice president; P. B. Carpenter, of Providence, secretary, and T. A. Holland, of Quincy, Mass., treasurer. Adolph Newberger, of New York, was selected as director. The sessions will continue until Saturday. The following exemplifications have already been given: A system and methods of round and square dancing used by teachers, by Oscar Duwenet, of Terre Haute, "The Unique," a novel and stately conceit, by Adolph Newberger, of this city, "The Twentieth Century Gavotte," by Thomas A. Holland, of Quincy, Mass.

Agitating for Amnesty.

New York, Sept. 5.—The Paris correspondent of the Times says that the Nationalists persist in agitating for amnesty for Deroulede and his fellow exiles, though, as parliament is not sitting, only a pardon could be granted, which would not cancel the exiles' civil disabilities, but merely allow them to return to France.

Paul De Cassagnac blames M. Deroulede for his willingness to accept half a loaf, lacking an entire one. The Nationalist journals insist that President Loubet favors granting the amnesties, and that the question will be discussed by the cabinet.

M. Waldeck-Rousseau is represented as the sole opponent of the measure. There is reason to believe, however, that M. Loubet has not suggested the pardons.

Amnesty may come eventually, but the visit of Emperor Nicholas is not regarded as a proper occasion for it.

Punishment Deferred.

London, Sept. 5.—"The sultan of Morocco," says the Tangiers correspondent of the Times, "has postponed his departure from Marekash (city of Morocco) and will probably winter there. The cancellation of the order for the concentration of the irregular cavalry which always accompanies the sultan on his journeys, may be accepted as an assurance to the tribes that they need fear no punishment till next summer."

A Long Swim.

New York, Sept. 5.—Peter S. McNally, who is making the attempt to swim from Boston to New York in thirty days, reached Crescent Beach, Nantasket, Mass., last evening. He expects to make Scituate tonight.

A CALLANT YOUNG CAPTAIN Restored From a Nervous Affection by Pe-ru-na.

HENRY H.
ROSER.

Captain Henry H. Roser, of the National Guard of Colorado, is well known in Colorado. He is Secretary National Executive Committee of the National Liberty Party, also General Secretary of the U. S. Monetary League, Secretary Direct Legislative League of Colorado, and is Grand Chief Templar, Independent Order of Good Templars for Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico.

In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O., Mr. Roser speaks of their remedy, Peruna, in the following words:

"As a public speaker I am a good judge of the merits of Peruna in cases of nervous prostration. It was recommended to me some two years ago when I was suffering from nervous disorders, and I found it very excellent. I do not travel without a bottle of it now, and I find that an occasional dose when I feel tired and worn out rejuvenates the system and removes that tired feeling." —Henry H. Roser, 825 East Eighteenth avenue, Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Thomas J. Sharp, 829 North Second street, Reading, Pa., writes:

"Your medicines have certainly done a great deal for me in saving me from nervous prostration and I sincerely wish that all persons, whether sick or well—since this medicine contains the qualities of an efficient and invigorating tonic—would give it a trial and be convinced of its merits."

"Thanking you for all your medicine has done for me, and hoping it may do the same for many other suffering people, I remain, yours respectfully,

Mrs. Thos. J. Sharp.
Congressman H. G. Worthington, from Nevada, ex-Minister to Argentine Republic, also at one time Collector of Port at Charleston, was an intimate friend of General Grant and is one of the two living full-bearers of President Lincoln. Congressman Worthington writes the following letter:

"Allow me to express my gratitude for the benefit derived from your remedies. I have taken one bottle of Peruna, and it has benefited immensely a case of catarrh of some months' standing, and I cordially commend its use to all similarly afflicted." —H. G. Worthington.

Peruna never fails to prevent nervous prostration if taken in time.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.
