Parallel That Is Most Deadly

Report of Contemplated Consolidation of Quincy, Daly-West And Anchor, as Published in Last Night's "News," Confirmed by Dispatches-McCornick is in San Francisco and Admits Existence of the Project.

In its issue of yesterday evening the "News" published the details of a project having for its object the consolidation of the Quincy, Daly-West and Anchor mines of Park City, to be operated by one company with a capital of $10,000,000. The Item stated that Messrs. Keith and Farrell of the Quincy, Mr. W. S. McCornick of the Daly-West, and W. V. Rice of the Anchor, were now in San Francisco arranging details preliminary to the floating of the enterprise. THIS MORNING'S TRIBUNE.

Now comes the Tribune of this morning with the following bit of spicen, under the caption, "Wild-Eyed Amalgamation;"

"The $10,000,000 consolidation of Park City bonanzas, exploited by a reckless promoter of the "News" yesterday afternoon, was characterized by representatives of each of the companies included in the wild-eyed amalgamation as so ridiculous and so devoid of all color of possibility at this time as to render a dispassionate reply to it impossible. It was denounced by President Farrell of the Quincy as one of the rankest of fakes, while at the offices of the Daly-West it was contemptuously dismissed as a phial of the dizziest rot. Judge Dickson of counsel for the Daly-West was equally emphatic in properly branding it, and the first page sensation when last heard of had flattened out like the proverbjal pancake."

TODAY'S PRESS REPORT.

In confirmation of the "News" article of last night the following dispatch came over the wires this morning through the Associated

"San Francisco, Cal., March 22,-The Call says: A proposition is on foot to effect a combination of the Quincy. Daty-West and Anchor mines, which are reported to be the three largest and richest silver and lead producers of Utah. Although the deal has not yet assumed a definite shape, it is expected that it will be consummated within the next week. W. S. McCornick, representing the Daly-West mine, is to treat with Keith and Farrell, the representatives of the Quincy mine.

"When seen, Mr. McCornick admitted that the corporations that control the mines in question were considering the advisability of such a step. He said that the object of the combination would be to settle certain disputes that had arisen between the Quincy and Daly-West companies. McCornick stated that if the mines were not consolidated or some other adjustment made, a legal controversy would likely ensue. The Quincy, Daly-West and Anchor mines are situated at Park

WAS "HARD HIT."

It seems, after all, that the "pancake" referred to by the morning paper was saturated with a baking powder of great risibility, and that the "dizziest rot" proves to be a well poised and sweet-scented bouquet as compared with the silly denial that appeared today.

The "News," of course, does not youch for Associated Press res or for rumors in mining circles, but in view of the statement from San Francisco that Mr. McCornick admits that the various corporations were "considering the advisability of such a step," surely no minging reporter except one entirely oblivious to what is going on around him, or who is so mixed up in the debris of a tumbling market as to be no longer able to tell what constitutes real news-would hesitate to re-

An officer of the Daly-West company to this city said this morning that the control of that company lay in Cincinnati and the east, that the proposed consolidation had never been considered by the board of directors, and that while it might be in the minds of some of the main stockholders a good thing, it was certain that the local stockholders, who are very numerous, had never been consulted about it.

SALOON CRUSADE IN OGDEN

(Special to the "News.") Ogden, March 22 .- Chief of Police Browning has inaugurated a crusade against those saloon keepers who allow minors to resort to their places of business. This morning he stated to the "News" that he would push the matter to the limit until the evil had been stamped out effectually. The ball was opened last evening when he arrested a saloonkeeper named Baumelster, Grant Steel, aged 12, and R. W. Stone, 19. The two last named are accused of being found in saloons

CAMBRIDGE DEFEATS OXFORDS

Putney, Eng., March 22.—The Cam- | liveliest stroke of the light blues gave bridge crew today fulfilled the expectations of prophets and won the fiftyninth boat race with Oxford as they liked. The time was 19 minutes, 9 seconds. At no time throughout the race did Oxford in the slightest degree flatter the hopes of the supporters of the dark blue. Any possible chance which the Oxonians might have had was shattered by the result of the toss giving the light blues (Cambridge) all the advantage of station. Immense crowds, as usual, turned out to view the contest and the weather, though showery, was not so inclement as it had been most of the previous years. Cambridge was the first to take the water, Oxford following after a slight delay, and both crews paddled to the moored skiffs at the starting line. The start was delayed owing to the force of the tide making it impossible to keep the boats straight. Lieut. Col. Frank Willan, the umpire, finally got them away in a capital start. As was anticipated, the lead was increased at every stroke. By the time Craven steps were reached, Cambridge had a clear length to the good and it was patent to everyone that they had the race in hand, barring accidents. Huntley's somewhat sluggish stroke appeared to be too slow to suft some of the Oxford men behind him. Their weight would have told, at least in the earlier part of the race, had they been given more chance. At it was each landmark on the river banks found them further and further in the rear and at Harrod's stores their trou-bles were increased by the wash of their opponents. Off the saccharine works the dark blue stroke made his effort and the Oxford crew struggled gallantly, but only for a short distance. Nelson (Cambridge) did not quicken his stroke and the gap was reduced to about a length as the boats shot under Hammersmith bridge. The effort took all the steam out of the Oxonians, their stroke dropped from 37 to 32, and the race was practically over. Cambridge came right away, pulling comfortably at an average of 36 strokes to the min-ute and increased her lead without the slightest effort. Before reaching Barnes bridge the dark blues were in the greatest trouble, while the fight blues, amid hearty cheers, paddled past the ship, at Mortlake, the easiest winners of the tamest university boat race in many Special Correspondence.

Thompsons, Utah, March 21.-On Wedresday last Charles Bothe, alias Dutch Charley, while in a jealous rage slew Mrs. Charles Bothe, his wife, and Wiliam Tibbetts. The murderer is now in jail at Placerville, Colorado.

Bothe deserted his wife a few months ago and since that time has refused to support her. She was reduced to abject want and a week or so ago Tibbetts offered her a home in his cabin. On Wednesday Bothe went to Tibbetts' ranch and demanded of the latter the reason he had for stealing his wife. A quarrel followed and while Mrs Bothe and Tibbetts were attempting to escape they were both shot in the back. The wo. in died instantly, but the man ived several hours.

After doing his deadly work, Bothe mounted a horse belonging to Tibbetts and fled over the Colorado line. He was arrestetd at Placerville by Sheriff James Taylor of Montrose county and is now being held awaiting requisition

INFANT LAID AWAY.

The funeral of little Marian, the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Beesley was held yesterday afternoon from the home, 41 West Third North street. The house was crowded with sorrowing friends who did all they could to manifest their sympathy for the bemanifest their sympathy for the be-reaved parents. Flowers were there in profusion, among the most striking pieces being a basket from the Nine-teenth ward Sunday school; a harp from the firm with which Mr. Beesley is connected; a wreath from Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pratt of San Francisco; a wreath from the musicians of the city and a wealth of roses and carnations

The services were conducted by Bishop Barton of the Nineteenth ward and were opened by prayer offered by Elwere opened by prayer offered by Ef-der H. G. Collett. The music was a beautiful feature of the service, the most effective piece being an exquisite melody composed for the occasion by Prof. E. Beesley, grandfather of the de-parted baby, and sung with touching sweetness by Mrs. Carrie Carr. Miss Tillee Perkes and Mrs. Fannie Thomas Two other appropriate hymns sung by these three ladies, together with Sam Winter and Fred Beesley.

Words of consolation and love were spoken by Elders H. S. Tanner, Ephraim Jensen and Bishop Barton.

A large cortege of carriages followed the remains to the city cemetery, where the interment was made.

DECREASE IN DISEASE.

Noticeable Falling Off in Number of Cases This Week.

The births reported in Salt Lake City for the week ending March 22 number 24, 16 males and 8 females. Of the deaths reported, 13 were males and six females. It is a significant fact that but two children under two years of age died during the week, while there were three deaths between the ages of 20 and 25 and 14 over 25 years of age Three bodies were brought here for inerment and one shipped away. There is a decrease both in the num-ber of new cases and total number in quarantine of the principal contagious diseases. Compared with last week, scarlet fever decreased from 12 to eight new cases, while the total number now in quarantine is 33, nine less than the previous week. The new cases of diphtheria fell off from six last week to previous week. four this week, and as the number released equals the new cases reported, the total number in the city is the same as last week, nine cases. One case of smallpox was reported and two discharged, leaving four cases in quaran-tine at the close of this report. There were 38 cases of measles reported and

CLEVER PIECE OF WORK.

With but Slight Clues to Work Upon, Officers Land Their Man In Jail.

The police now claim they have fully and completely established the identity of Harry Pool as the bold robber who help up and robbed W. A. McMaster at the home of Dr. C. W. Higgins Thursday night.

This morning Mr. McMaster called at the police station and identified Pool. Last night about 12 o'clock Chief Hil-on and Detective Chase located the clace where Pool has been rooming. The place is on Second West and First North. After a search about the prem-ises, the officers found in a closet a sees, the others round year to thing, hat, valise in which were the clothing, hat, shoes and mask worn by Pool; also the gun, a 44 caliber Colt's, which he is said to have used on the night of the robbery. There was also a heavy

NURSERY IS CIVEN SUM OF $9,678.92

The jury in the condemnation suit of the Rio Grande Western Railway company vs the Utah Nursery company this morning returned a yerdict assessing the damages of the defendant Nursery company at $9,678.92. The plaintiff company wanted a right of way over the defendant's land southeast of the city, for its Park City line, and made an offer of $4,000 for the same. This offer was refused by the Nursery com-pany as it considered the land and damages to its nursery stock, by reason of trains running through its ground worth about $15,000. The court decided that the railway company had a right under the statutes to use said strip of land for railroad purposes and a jury was summoned to assess the defend-ant's damages. The verdict as to the different items of damage follows: Value of land condemned, $1,518, and in terest on same from October, 190 $175.97; damage to nursery stock, $654.31, and interest, $76.94; damage to remaining tract of land, $5.500, interest, $753.70; making the total damages $9.678.92.

Irish Papers Are Back of Him

Dillion is Hero of the Hour in Emerald Isle-Dublin Telegraph Says He Anticipated Chamberlain's Damnation Though It is Already in Sight - Other Journals Make Much Fun of the Colonial Secretary.

London, March 22.-The sensational exit of John Dillon, the Irish Nationalist, from the house of commons Thursday last, as a result of his calling Mr. Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, a "damned liar," continues to be the topic of the hour. The Irish Nationalist papers back up Mr. Dillon's declaration regarding Mr. Chamberlain's lack of veracity with frankness, though the Dublin Evening Telegraph remarks that Mr. Dillon was guilty of a slight anticipation regarding Mr. Chamberlain's damnation which, it says, is only coming, though already in

"As to his being a liar, that goes without saying."

The object of all this abuse has created another sensation not usual, but biting invective, now by his clothes. The Tallor and Cutter, which paper was accustomed to belaud the colonial secretary as the very pink of fashion, now says:

"We are sorry to note that Mr. Chamberlain is developing quite a stoop, and fear he is losing some of his old-time smartness. It is true that his monocle is still in its old place, but we miss the familiar orchid and, as we have examined his garments, we could not but feel that conservatism was sadly apparent, for there was much in them that was

Mr. Chamberlain's coat lapels, says the Tailor and Cutter, are plain, heavy and disfigured by a long gaping breast pocket, like some ugly wound calling for assistance. The washing vest of Mr. Chamberlain, the paper also says, was quite out of harmony with his coat, while his trousers were wide and unshapely. The Westminster Gazette humorously comments on the fact that a weak spot has at last been found in Mr. Chamberiain's armor, adding: "Remembering the weird and wonderful clothing with wisch the doorkeepers of the house of lords were startled in 1893, when the home rule bill gathered the noble chambers together, we can only come to the conclusion that Mr. Chamberlain is beginning to qualify for a seat in the house of lords." In the meantime Mr. Dillon, exempt from the critical eye of the Tailor and Cutter editor is the hero of the hour in Dublin. One of the most amusing sequels of Mr. Dillon's forcible retorts occurred in the grand committee room of the house of commons, where a deputation of women graduates was presenting a petition asking to be given the power to vote at the election for members of parliament. Mrs. Harraden, the novelist, who was one of the delegates, warmly supported the petition, claiming that it was unfair that women should have to pay the income tax and yet not be allowed to vote at parliamentary elections. The members of parliament who were listening were called to take part in the division on Mr.

Dillon's suspension Wm. E. Lockey, the historian, and Unionist member of parliament for Dublin university, who was among the members who heard the statements of the supporters of the petition, returned and addressed the graduates, saying he wondered if they would like a sent in parliament, in view of the fact that they would run the risk at any moment of being called "damned llars?" Mr. Leckey concluded with saying he believed the emotional element in politics was quite unduly developed as it was, without women entering the field.
