

A PECULIAR DEATH SCENE.

A Young Lady before Dying is Permitted to see where she is going to, and the Spirits of Departed Relatives.

On the 4th of the present month Mrs. Emeline Preston, of Weston, Onelda Co., Idaho, a most estimable young lady who had only been married six weeks, was stricken with peritonitis which in spite of all that could be done to prevent proved fatal on the 11th inst. During the first few days of her sickness the young lady manifested great faith in her recovery through the administration of the Elders, whom she called for frequently to lay hands upon her, but after that informed her mother that she was soon going to die and that it was the Lord's will that she should do so. She objected to the attendance of a physician, saying if the Lord would not heal her no doctor could. However, to satisfy some of her friends and do all that possibly could be done to save her life, a physician was summoned, who expressed but slight hope for her recovery, but did all that skill could suggest to prolong her life. The ordinance for the sick was often attended to and she seemed better afterwards in every instance for a short time, but on the morning previous to her death she pleaded with her friends to leave the sick chamber and allow her to die, saying they were preventing her from doing so by their presence, and that she had been kept alive for days by the faith exercised in her behalf. However, she told them she could not possibly live longer than the following afternoon, and talked of her approaching death with all the calmness and serenity that one would of the everyday affairs of life, even asking who would wash and dress her body after death. She said she was not afraid to die, but contemplated "going home," as she termed it, with pleasure, saying that her conscience was clear before God; that she had seen where she was going to and that it was a delightful place; that she had also seen her two brothers, Albert and Herbert, who died many years since, whom she described as being dressed in white and being very happy, and asked her mother if she had any message to send to them. She gave explicit directions for the distribution among her sisters of her wearing apparel and the personal property which she had accumulated during the past five years by teaching school, taking care to allow the larger share to those who were most in need. She also asked her husband to sing a song to her, but he not being able to control his feelings sufficiently to do so, she sang a portion of "The Evergreen Psalm" with a perfectly steady voice until her strength gave way and she had to cease. She shook hands with each of her relatives in turn, bidding them a loving farewell and charging the younger ones to be good children, remaining perfectly calm while doing so although they were all in tears.

During all this time she had been quite rational, her mind appearing to be even unusually clear, although she was racked with bodily pain, but during the afternoon she lapsed into unconsciousness and within an hour afterwards her spirit took its flight. The funeral was held on the 13th inst. and was very largely attended, as she was a young lady who was extensively known and universally respected and beloved by her acquaintances. It was unlike most funerals in the absence of those signs of grief generally manifest upon such occasions, her immediate relatives all being reconciled to her death and feeling after the assurances received from her to that effect that it was for the best. A heavenly influence prevailed throughout the services and prompted the words of the speakers, her father making a few remarks himself, during which he narrated the circumstances of her sickness and death and expressed his resignation at parting with her and the hope of joining her in another sphere.

Sister Preston was the daughter of Bishop John H. and Elizabeth H. Clark, was born in Providence, Cache Co., and was only twenty-eight years of age at the time of her demise. She had led a model life, being always a dutiful daughter and for many years past an intelligent and active worker in the Sunday School and Y. L. M. I. A.; the members of which will doubtless miss her much now that she is no longer with them. G. C. L. Preston, June 18, 1888.

SNOWFLAKE STAKE CONFERENCE.

The Quarterly Conference of the Snowflake Stake of Zion was held in the Stake House at Snowflake on June 2 and 3, 1888.

There were present on the stand, President Jessie N. Smith and Counselors, with a number of the members of the High Council, Bishops and leading Elders of the Stake.

The weather was fair though a little windy; but owing to the busy season of the year, the attendance from the remote settlements was not very large.

The speakers during the two days' meetings were President J. N. Smith, L. H. Hatch, H. Richards, Bishops John Hunt and Hans Hansen and Brothers J. N. Perkins, J. Cope, Anderson, Sherry, A. V. Greer, F. Bradshaw, S. G. Ladd and John Reidhead, who spoke upon a variety of subjects which were of interest to the Latter-day Saints. The Saints were urged to greater faithfulness and diligence in all their duties, that they might be able to claim the blessings of the Lord upon their labors, and that this sterile region might become fruitful and productive.

The written reports from the various wards showed that they were in very fair condition. The people in some places were short of bread stuffs, but the prospects for a good harvest were quite favorable at present.

The statistical report showed that there were eight wards with 211 families and 1412 souls.

The general and local authorities were presented and unanimously sustained by the vote of the conference.

A Priesthood meeting was held on the evening of June 2, at which there was much counsel and instruction given. A good spirit prevailed and the Saints felt comforted and strengthened.

Conference was adjourned to meet at St. Joseph on the first Saturday and Sunday in September next.

Gallant Gamins.

"There's chivalry for you," remarked a handsome drummer at the Griswold House yesterday.

"What's that?" queried a slender young man.

"See those 'kids' over there helping that girl get her ugly brother along."

Everybody turned to look out of the windows and saw a girl of seventeen, with a fair, fresh face, whose plump form was cheaply clothed, endeavoring to coax or force along toward home a brother of about ten years. He was striking and kicking at her and declaring he would not go home. At this several newsboys and bootblacks, who had been attracted by the struggles of the boy, said to the girl:

"He'll go home, he'll go home; he's only fooling."

The boy was then seized by two newsboys, one on each side, three or four others assisted from the rear and the youngster was walked along at a lively pace, which was not relaxed until his home was reached. The girl thanked her young assistants, who all declared:

"That's all right, sis; when you want any help, jes' let us know and we'll move him for you."—Detroit Free Press.

August Mitchelson and Hans Tidge, two young Germans, ranchers, were boating on the Loup river, Nebraska, on Sunday, June 10, when Mitchelson, to frighten Tidge, who could not swim, tipped the boat, which finally upset. Mitchelson tried to save his companion, but the latter clung to him so that he was unable to swim, and both were drowned.

SUNBURY, Pa., June 20.—Pinkerton's detective force arrested express agent Huber for stealing $29,600 from Adams Express Company August 20, 1886. The money was shipped from Philadelphia to Shamokin to pay the employees of the Mineral Company.

A WOMAN'S DILEMMA.

"Another wonderful recovery has been made and that too in a lady in this county. Disease, which its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus wrote W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Get a free trial bottle at A. C. Smith & Co.'s Drug Store. (2)

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind. testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only half a dollar a bottle at A. C. Smith & Co.'s Drug Store. (2)

The 'Exposition Universelle de l'art Culinare' awarded the highest honors to Angostura Bitters as the most efficacious stimulant to excite the appetite and to keep the digestive organs in good order. Ask for the genuine article, manufactured by Dr. J. G. B. Slegert & Sons, and beware of imitations.

DOCTORS' BILLS.

Nearly all diseases originate from inaction of the liver, and this is especially the case with chills and fever, intermittent fevers and malarial diseases. To save doctors' bills and ward off disease take Simmons' Liver Regulator, a medicine that increases in popularity every year, and has become the most popular and best endorsed medicine in the market for the cure of liver or bowel diseases.—Telegraph, Dubuque, Iowa.

NOTICE!

AS MANY OF OUR CUSTOMERS WHO HAVE PURCHASED MACHINES from us, have reported to us that agents and salesmen of other machines have told them that they will not be able to get extras for their machines or will have difficulty in getting them, we have to take this public method of informing ALL INTERESTED that said statements are FALSE in every particular, as we have a good supply of extras on hand for the Deering Binders and Mowers, also for the G & D and Warrior Mowers, and also for the Standard Reapers and Mowers, and propose to see that none of our patrons suffer for lack of the same. It is indeed a high compliment they pay to the machines sold by us, when they can find no defects to talk about, but a very poor compliment to their own machines when they have to lie about others in order to sell their own. It would be well for intending purchasers to be careful how they trade with those who attempt to deceive them. We still have the celebrated Deering All Steel Binders and New Deering Mowers for sale, and will sell them as low or lower than other machines in the market. Buy the Deering and be happy, for it pays to buy the best. NAYLOR & PIKE, June 21st, 1888. (d & w) 137 S. First East St.
