

FRAGMENTS.

JOHN BOWEN is in from Tooele. JUDGE FENDEKAST, of Chicago, is in Salt Lake.

The Industrial Home inmates went to Lake Park today.

The Utah Commission will meet in St. Louis on Sep. 20.

WOODHOLMERS are bringing in plenty of wood from the forests.

GOVERNOR MOONLIGHT and Delegate Carey, of Wyoming, left for home this morning.

JUDGE CARLTON and Gen. McClelland, of the Utah Commission, will go east to-morrow.

W. H. DICKSON has been employed to defend A. H. Martin, the slayer of John H. Burton.

WARRIOR COUNTY is asking for bids for furnishing a steam heating apparatus and siting it in the County Court House.

The Scientific American Architect and Builders' edition for August is an exceptionally fine number. It is for sale at Postoffice.

A COIN has been picked up on the street which the loser may recover by calling at the News Office and describing when and where it was lost.

AT A preliminary examination before Commissioner Rogers, yesterday, at Ogden, Francis Greenwell was held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of unlawful cohabitation.

The Union Pacific has arranged for special rates to the Grand Army camp in St. Louis, in the latter part of September. The fare from Ogden to St. Louis and return will be $1.50.

On the 23d inst., the Twenty-first Ward intended going to Lake Park. An excursion from French's will be taken the same day to the Park. On the 24th the First Ward will go to the same place.

This morning we were shown by John B. Fairbanks a life size bust portrait executed by him in clay, of Miss Minnie Shoebright. It is an excellent picture, the artist having imparted striking animation to it, and the likeness is decidedly striking. At the I. O. O. F. entertainment at Lake Park the other day, Miss Shoebright won the prize awarded to the most beautiful lady on the grounds.

Will Meet in St. Louis.

Last evening the Utah Commission held a session and formally adjourned to meet in St. Louis, Mo., September 20th, to formulate a report and make recommendations to the government in regard to Utah affairs.

Quick Passage.

Brother Edward Brady, of the Tenth Ward, returned home last evening from a visit to his relatives in England. He left the old country on Wednesday, August 3d, thus making the return journey in talking time. The voyage across the ocean was made in the steamer City of Rome. He is feeling well after his journey.

A Particular Tramp.

On Monday one of the tramps went to a residence in the lower part of town and asked for something to eat. The lady of the house furnished him with food consisting of bread and butter, grapes, etc. He said he had not been used to such food and expressed his indignation by kicking the dog around the yard and abusing the dog. Officer Brown was sent for and he arrested the tramp. Yesterday the tramp, after a short stay in the city jail, was released and was fined $20.—Ogden Herald, Aug. 17.

Kicked to Death.

Gunnison, Col., August 12.—A sad accident occurred at exactly 9 o'clock to-night, which resulted in the instant death of A. Rockefeller. He had been employed for a number of years past by Orestes Brown, a well-to-do resident of their hay ranches. This evening he brought a number of the men under his charge to the city and left them while he attended to some business with his employers. A hour above stated he was ready to return to the ranch, and was to unlash his horse, when he became unbalanced and started to run away. He became tangled in the lines and probably fell to the ground as the horse kicked him on the top of the head. His skull was fractured, and death suddenly occurred within a few minutes after the accident. A. Rockefeller is an old time resident of Gunnison country and is a well known character in Western Colorado. He owned a fine place near Gunnison, which he sold a few days ago and has quite a herd of cattle. He is a single man, about 47 years of age, and nothing is known of his relatives.—Denver News.

Police Items.

There was but one case for the consideration of Alderman Patrick in the Police Court this morning. Wm. M. Townsend was the defendant, and he was accused of disturbing the peace of Timothy Olorenshaw and family. From the testimony it appeared that Mr. Olorenshaw had a garden tool which the defendant had used to break into the garden of a few years ago, so he made a claim to it. This was met by the assertion that the claim was untrue, whereat Townsend flew into a great passion, and proceeded to inflict a torrent of choice Billingsgate upon Mr. Olorenshaw. The latter was not greatly affected by this demonstration, so Townsend resorted to more effective means. He had a spade in his hand, with which he proposed to remove the contents of Mr. Olorenshaw's skull. He raised the implement to commence the work, when Mrs. Townsend interfered and stopped further hostilities. Townsend was fined $15.

May Castille, Carrie Dowd and Frank Cochran, three disolute characters, are in jail, awaiting trial on the charge of vagrancy.

Two boys, residents of the Twentieth Ward, were brought in by the police this morning for petty larceny. They had been gathering bottles, and went to a house in the Eighteenth Ward on that errand. No one was at home, and the boys, noticing a dozen beer bottles in a box on the porch, took possession. They were observed by a third party, and placed in jail to await trial.

This afternoon Frank Cochran pleaded guilty to the charge of resorting to a house of ill-fame on Commercial Street, and was fined $25.

Carrie Dowd, a resident of Bountiful, and May Castille, Cochran's companions in crime, pleaded guilty to being inmates of the house. The first named was fined $15 and the other $30.

Andrew Carnahan has lived to some purpose. He has been fortunate in making money but he has not been miserly with it. He has already given away to public institutions $1,235.00. Carnahan is a practical man who dreams of benefits for other people and thus reduces his dream to a practical reality.

GUM GEE'S SUDDEN DEATH.

Details of the Investigation by the Coroner's Jury.

Coroner Taylor had rather a novel experience yesterday. Just as he was in the City Hall tower at 10 o'clock, he received a telephonic message announcing that a Chinaman had died suddenly, at the Chinese market gardens, situated on Second Street, between Third and Fourth Streets. Just as the police station developed nothing there, except that Dr. Nesbitt had been called upon in the case, but had not arrived until after death. Proceeding to the gardens, which cover several acres and are an excellent state of cultivation, the residence of the deceased was found located in the southwestern part of the field. It was a small one-story building, partly underground, consisting of two apartments and a small narrow hallway. Descending two or three wooden steps into the west room, the body of the deceased was discovered lying on the head to the west, clad in a profusion of Chinese garments covering the head and face, which were uncovered. The body was rather short, but thick-set, and lying flat on its back. At the feet, which were widely separated, was a plate bearing something that resembled pieces of fruit, preserved fruit, and a little below that a small vessel containing about a dozen diminutive, cylindrical sticks of lighted, aromatic paper, that resembled in appearance so many burning blades of wire grass, from which, without flame, a light odor of vapor constantly arose that seemed to fill the room and the effect of neutralizing the unpleasant effluvia that exhaled from the body of the deceased. There were several Chinese men about the premises, only one of whom could speak intelligible English. This was clearly Wang, who had been summoned by the coroner's jury as interpreter. After the jurors had been duly sworn and had examined the body to ascertain whether there were any marks of violence upon it, the object of the investigation was explained to those present, and the witness told that it was his duty to ascertain the cause of death.

Gum Gee (hard g), brother of the deceased, was the first witness interrogated. He stated in substance that deceased was his brother, that he came here last year; that they were mutual interested in the crop of the garden, but had not realized anything from this season's raising. He did not know the cause of his brother's death, but attributed it to the fact that three days ago he got a letter from his son in China, calling upon him to send means. The writer of the letter, who was a ship carpenter named Hong Kong, had been so badly crushed by the fall of a heavy piece of timber that he could do nothing for the family. Deceased, whose name was Gum Gee, had no means to send, and being unable to borrow, was so distressed in his mind that it had caused him to die. Wang, who knew whether he had taken poison or not. He was apparently all right yesterday, except that he would eat nothing. He did not come home last night until 11 p. m. Witness went away at 7 a. m. next morning and found at 9 o'clock, when he found his brother, deceased, breathing stertorously and in a dying condition. Gum Gee never after spoke to him and died at 10 a. m. yesterday. Deceased was 52 years of age and came to this country fifteen years ago, since which time he had been laboring mainly on railroad all over the country. Gum Gee had sent $20 to his family last season.

Goon Ah, saw Gum Gee just before he died, but he was speechless; deceased went to Chinatown the night before and returned at 11 p. m. Witness did not know the cause of death. Opinion of Chinatown was divided as to whether Gum Gee had taken poison or not. Dr. Nesbitt said it was a case of landauum poisoning.

Gum Gee came to this country under the direction of the Len Yuen Co. one of the three or four large companies in California that employ Chinese to this country and contract for their labor, etc. Witness stated that the body would remain buried for three or four years, until the flesh was sufficiently decayed, when the bones would be carefully scraped, boxed up and sent back to Hong Kong. After a brief consultation the jury, guided by the following, which is the first verdict on a dead Chinaman ever returned in this city:
