The spirit manifested in the caucus and volced by several leading senators in em-matic expressions after the caucus adby several learning senators in char phatic expressions after the caucus ad-journed, was that today's action meant that the Democrats of the senate would have united party action on matters determined by two-thirds of their numliving. ber to be questions affecting party policy. Those who do not ablde by the causus decision will not be regarded as Democrats, and the point will be raised against them should they appartin during calculates of the party. Mr. Patterson declined to make any explanation of his leaving the caucus. It is supposed that all of the Re-publicans will vote for the treaty, and four Democrats are necessary to secure its ratification. There are 89 senators, there being one vacancy from Dela-ware, and probably one vote. Burton, will not be cast or paired. Therefore 58 votes are necessary for ratification. A massive silver crucifix stands on a white covered table, while paims and ferns are arranged in the corners of the room to complete the picture of im-pressive simplicity. The entire absence of black from the "garden" room is noteworthy. The red walls, gilded windows frames and the multi-colored flowers, the king's favor-its, the "magna charta" rose, predomin-ates, completely removing the room of the usual death chamber. The whole grouping rather suggests the glorious crowning of an honored life. This note was also struck by the prayers and sermons in all the churches today, in which King Christian was eu-logized, not so much as a monarch, but as a splendid pattern for every Chris-tian.
