

FRAGMENTS.

A BANNER CAN FIND employment in Kaysville.

Mrs. CARL is expected to visit this city in a couple of weeks.

The base ball game on Saturday resulted in a score of 7 to 1 in favor of the Red Sox.

There is a prospect that the Territorial Insane Asylum at Provo will be opened shortly.

We understand that B. B. Young contemplates establishing a singing school at Park City in the near future.

Use day last week the driver of the stage between Park City and Salt Lake saw two huge grizzlies near the Summit.

There will be an excursion from this city to Ogden and return, on Decoration Day, over the D. & R. G. W., fare $2.

The fourth quorum of Elders will hold their regular meeting in the 6th Ward meeting house, this evening at 7:30.

JOHN E. MERRITT, a native of England, and Ludwig Hansen, of Sweden, were admitted to citizenship in the District Court Saturday afternoon.

ANOTHER CAR of Polled Angus cattle arrived here on Saturday. They were imported by H. J. Faust and Sons, and are on exhibition in the Thirteenth yards.

J. D. POWERS, the newly appointed Associate Justice of Utah, arrived in the city on Saturday, and was a visitor at the Third District Court this morning.

C. R. SAVAGE has on exhibition two splendid chronos, one being a representation of "The Battle of Waterloo," the other of the death of Lord Nelson at "The Battle of Trafalgar."

The grand jury assembled again this morning. Besides the witnesses bound over to appear before them to-day, several others were subpoenaed to be present, among them, Mrs. Agnes Child, Abraham Liddell, and Mrs. Jos. H. Felt.

Shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon, the horse of Col. Stevenson, of the Twentieth Ward, became frightened and ran away from the stable. He fell while crossing the street car track, and broke his leg, necessitating his being killed.

B. J. BEER, of the 10th Ward, inadvertently left his hymn book on one of the seats in the Tabernacle a week ago yesterday. Whoever found it will confer a favor upon the owner by leaving it with the keeper of the Temple Block safe for him. It has his name inside the cover.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mistake in the Name.—Certain recollections of respect to the memory of a young man who died recently in Wales, Sanpete Co., were published in the News of the 12th, in which the name of the deceased was erroneously given as Lees. It should have been Henry J. Rees.

Immigrants Coming.—A cablegram just received announces that the second company of European Saints of this season's emigration sailed from Liverpool on Saturday, the 16th inst. on board the S. S. Wacacina. They will probably reach this city about the 2d or 3d of June.

District Court Proceedings.—Franklin C. Banks, a British subject, was admitted to citizenship.

The hearing on motion to dissolve attachment in the case of J. C. Bowring, et al. vs. W. C. Bowring was continued until the 23d inst.

The case of E. J. Morris vs. the Mammoth Mining Company was resumed.

Fatal Result.—We regret to learn that the accident by which Maud Matthews had her skull broken, resulted fatally last evening, at 8:45 o'clock. She seemed to be rallying from the shock, and on the way to recovery, until Friday evening, when a sudden change for the worse occurred, and from that time she gradually sank. The deceased was a bright, intelligent girl, and her loss is a severe blow to her parents. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from Mr. Thomas Matthews' residence, 431 W. First North Street.

Disease Among Horses.—A disease of rather a peculiar nature has been prevailing to some extent among horses in this city and vicinity of late. The symptoms are drowsiness, loss of appetite, perspiration about the body, extreme stiffness of limbs and contraction of muscles as if badly frozen; soreness in region of kidneys and severe scouring. In some instances it is followed by a shrinking of the flesh about the hips or hip sweeny. We have not learned of any fatal cases, but have known of some fat animals being reduced to mere skeletons and rendered almost helpless within a few days by it. It does not appear to be contagious, and no cause can be assigned for it. The Veterinary surgeons pronounce it something new in their experience.

Sunday School Review.—The review of the advanced classes of the Seventeenth Ward Sunday School was held last evening, in the ward hall. There was a very large attendance, and the exercises throughout were of a most pleasing and instructive character. The programme consisted of questions and answers on the scriptures, doctrines and history of the Church of Christ, ancient and modern, and historical sketches of Abraham, Joseph, Moses, and other great men of God. The review of the Book of Mormon, by the theological class, was one of the best exercises we have listened to. A comprehensive outline of the history of the ancient inhabitants of this continent was given by the pupils, and the journeyings of Lehi and his company from Jerusalem to the promised land, and of their descendants thereon, were traced on the map. In the narration of the events connected with the bringing forth of the Book of Mormon, a painting by Brother Geo. M. Gittinger, representing the angel Moroni revealing to Joseph Smith the place where the plates were deposited, was used for illustration; an exposure was also made of the Spaulding story fraud, and the account of the finding of the "long lost manuscript," as appears in "The Preceptor," showing that there was not the slightest similarity between the "story" and the divine record of Mormon, was read.

The exercises lasted for about two hours, and at the close, Elders George Goddard and Wm. White made a few remarks. The Sunday school officers of the Seventeenth Ward must certainly feel highly gratified with this excellent exhibition of the results of their endeavors in the past for the intellectual, moral and spiritual advancement of the children, and also feel greatly encouraged in the continuance of these efforts.

SUICIDE.

MICHAEL AXELSON GROWS WEARY OF LIFE.

Yesterday morning, Michael Axelsson, a native of Sweden, who has been living at Stromberg's boarding house on Franklin Avenue, committed suicide by shooting. At about 9 o'clock Frank O. Swenson, who sleeps in the next room to that occupied by Axelsson, was startled by hearing a pistol shot in the latter's room, and hearing him exclaim in a low tone, "Oh!" Swenson dressed himself and tried the door, which was locked. He then, assisted by Chris. Johnson, burst into the room, this being about half an hour after the shooting. On the bed at full length on his back, lay Axelsson, unconscious but still alive. In his right hand was the pistol with which the shooting was done, and in his left hand he held a letter, which was found by the officers.

On the bed at full length on his back, lay Axelsson, unconscious but still alive. In his right hand was the pistol with which the shooting was done, and in his left hand he held a letter, which was found by the officers.

An inquisition held at Joseph E. Taylor's office, in the Fifth Precinct of Salt Lake City, on the 17th day of May, 1936, before Geo. E. Taylor, Judge of the County, upon the body of Michael Axelsson, there lying dead, and the following verdict rendered:

The said jurors on their oaths and belief, find the evidence presented, that he died at Stromberg's boarding house, on Franklin Avenue, in Salt Lake City, at 9:45 a. m., of May 17, 1936, from the effects of a pistol shot, fired by his own hand.

In testimony whereof the said jurors have hereunto set their hands (the day and year first above written):

J. W. BURROUGHS, J. D. OWENS, E. T. TAYLOR, Jurors.

Frank Otto Swenson, B. J. Beer, Jr., and W. E. Beer were examined as witnesses. The deceased was about fifty-four years of age, and a native of Sweden, where two of his brothers reside; he also has a sister in Wisconsin. The only effects and papers that were found belonging to him, were a Zion's Savings Bank account with a balance of $1,700 in his favor, a gold watch, said to have cost him $60, with "W. E. Beer, Salt Lake City, June, 1870," engraved on the back; a British bulldog, pearl handled pistol; a portmanteau containing $42.05; a joint deed to himself and one Peterson, for fifty feet in the Evanston mining lode, Big Cottonwood; and a bill for $280 worth of cloth.

For the past six months, he had been suffering from rheumatism and sore eyes. Last March he made an unsuccessful attempt on his life, and when speaking of it to Swenson, he said that an unseen hand held his wrist, and he heard a voice forbidding him to commit the deed. He also stated that he had provided himself with pistol, razors and morphine, to kill himself, and on Saturday was talking to Swenson of the quickest method of accomplishing this end, showing that the act was a premeditated one. It is also said that he had been connected with spiritual seances, which had affected his mind.

[Special per Deseret Telegraph.] BEAVER COURT ITEMS.

BEAVER, Utah, May 18, 1936. Editor Deseret News.

In the case of the United States against Wm. Fotheringham on Saturday afternoon, the counsel reviewed the evidence and made arguments to the jury. The evidence showed that the defendant had strictly kept the Edmunds law. The only point to convict upon was "holding out." The Court charged and gave instructions to the jury, who retired at 4:30 p. m., and after being out an hour came in for further instructions. The Court again read the charge and instructions, the last part being to the effect that if the defendant had held the women out for sexual intercourse with them, even if no sexual intercourse had occurred, the act was guilty, and they should find a verdict of guilty.

The Court House was filled with people at this late hour, eager to learn the result. He will be sentenced on Thursday at ten a. m.

M. J. Shepherd, John Lane and Tom Scofield pleaded not guilty. Their trials will go over to the September term.

Larceny cases are now before the Court. MOONSHINE.

A TIP-UP.—About 11 o'clock yesterday morning, as Brother Edward Stevenson, accompanied by his wife and child, was on his way to East Mill Creek, where he had an appointment to preach, he met with quite a serious accident. He did not travel the usual route, but took a road which leads over the bench south-east of the city. While ascending a hill near Gilmers' place in the First Ward, the horse for some reason stopped near the top, and backed the heavy of the roadway, tipping it over and spilling the occupants.

Brother Stevenson was severely bruised on the left shoulder and side, while Sister Stevenson received a painful scalp wound and several scratches and bruises, besides having one of her fingers on the left hand dislocated. The child escaped uninjured.

The vehicle, which rolled thirty or forty feet down the hill, was so damaged that it was necessary to tow it to the top, and the heavy of the roadway, tipping it over and spilling the occupants.

Brother Stevenson was severely bruised on the left shoulder and side, while Sister Stevenson received a painful scalp wound and several scratches and bruises, besides having one of her fingers on the left hand dislocated. The child escaped uninjured.

The vehicle, which rolled thirty or forty feet down the hill, was so damaged that it was necessary to tow it to the top, and the heavy of the roadway, tipping it over and spilling the occupants.

Brother Stevenson was severely bruised on the left shoulder and side, while Sister Stevenson received a painful scalp wound and several scratches and bruises, besides having one of her fingers on the left hand dislocated. The child escaped uninjured.

The vehicle, which rolled thirty or forty feet down the hill, was so damaged that it was necessary to tow it to the top, and the heavy of the roadway, tipping it over and spilling the occupants.

Brother Stevenson was severely bruised on the left shoulder and side, while Sister Stevenson received a painful scalp wound and several scratches and bruises, besides having one of her fingers on the left hand dislocated. The child escaped uninjured.

The vehicle, which rolled thirty or forty feet down the hill, was so damaged that it was necessary to tow it to the top, and the heavy of the roadway, tipping it over and spilling the occupants.

Brother Stevenson was severely bruised on the left shoulder and side, while Sister Stevenson received a painful scalp wound and several scratches and bruises, besides having one of her fingers on the left hand dislocated. The child escaped uninjured.

The vehicle, which rolled thirty or forty feet down the hill, was so damaged that it was necessary to tow it to the top, and the heavy of the roadway, tipping it over and spilling the occupants.

Brother Stevenson was severely bruised on the left shoulder and side, while Sister Stevenson received a painful scalp wound and several scratches and bruises, besides having one of her fingers on the left hand dislocated. The child escaped uninjured.

The vehicle, which rolled thirty or forty feet down the hill, was so damaged that it was necessary to tow it to the top, and the heavy of the roadway, tipping it over and spilling the occupants.

Brother Stevenson was severely bruised on the left shoulder and side, while Sister Stevenson received a painful scalp wound and several scratches and bruises, besides having one of her fingers on the left hand dislocated. The child escaped uninjured.

The vehicle, which rolled thirty or forty feet down the hill, was so damaged that it was necessary to tow it to the top, and the heavy of the roadway, tipping it over and spilling the occupants.

Brother Stevenson was severely bruised on the left shoulder and side, while Sister Stevenson received a painful scalp wound and several scratches and bruises, besides having one of her fingers on the left hand dislocated. The child escaped uninjured.

The vehicle, which rolled thirty or forty feet down the hill, was so damaged that it was necessary to tow it to the top, and the heavy of the roadway, tipping it over and spilling the occupants.

Brother Stevenson was severely bruised on the left shoulder and side, while Sister Stevenson received a painful scalp wound and several scratches and bruises, besides having one of her fingers on the left hand dislocated. The child escaped uninjured.

The vehicle, which rolled thirty or forty feet down the hill, was so damaged that it was necessary to tow it to the top, and the heavy of the roadway, tipping it over and spilling the occupants.

Brother Stevenson was severely bruised on the left shoulder and side, while Sister Stevenson received a painful scalp wound and several scratches and bruises, besides having one of her fingers on the left hand dislocated. The child escaped uninjured.

The vehicle, which rolled thirty or forty feet down the hill, was so damaged that it was necessary to tow it to the top, and the heavy of the roadway, tipping it over and spilling the occupants.

MORE GAMBLERS ARRESTED.

A PRISONER, AN OFFICER AND AN EX-JURYMAN IN A REGULAR PLACE.

Between 11 and 12 o'clock on Saturday evening, the police raided a gambling den which has been flourishing over the Magnet saloon, on East Temple Street, and arrested the keeper and eight others who were indulging in the unlawful game. To-day, Owen Morgan, the proprietor, came before Justice Speers, and paid his fine, $50, and that of each of the players, $250, a total of $410. The names of the gamblers are given as: Owen Hogle, Thos. Jones, Alex. Watson, "John Doe," Henry Jones, J. Black, Peter Clays and Louis Reggel.

Peter Clays will be remembered as one of the "Mormon" jury, which was impeached to try "Mormons" for cohabitation with their wives, and who expressed himself as "in sympathy with the prosecution," in cohabitation cases.

Another of the number was Louis Reggel, who was in the custody of the U. S. marshal, awaiting the departure of the east-bound train yesterday morning, to convey him to Pennsylvania, there to be tried for obtaining goods under false pretenses. His noble custodian had permitted his prisoner a little time for amusement before bidding farewell to Utah, and was himself a witness of the law-breaking.

When the arrest was made, this model U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

THE SALT LAKE CITY. The U. S. officer, Deputy Marshal Henry E. Collins—formerly City Marshal Phillips—that Reggel was his prisoner, but the Chief of Police couldn't help that, and walked him off to the City Hall, the deputy accompanying, where bail was given of course, a gambling den is not just the proper place for a government officer to keep his prisoner, but it may be that the Marshal had "no other place of confinement," or what is more likely, it may be a case of "birds of a feather."

No other preparation so concentrates and combines blood-purifying, vitalizing, enriching and invigorating qualities as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Quality should be considered when making comparisons.

"I have been afflicted with an Affection of the throat, from childhood, caused by diphtheria, and have used various remedies, but have never found anything like Brown's Bronchial Trochies.—Rev. G. M. F. Hampton, Fitchburg, N.Y. Sold only in boxes.

Firemen's Band was out on Saturday night in their new uniforms which they have just obtained from John Davis, 241 S. Second, opposite the Walker Bros.

H. J. Hill, No. 28 S. West Temple St. Teacher of piano and organ.

EAGLE SOFT SOAP. Only at depot, Elias Morris' Workmen's Store, 32 S. Main Street, opposite Z. C. M. I., Salt Lake City.

DR. HENLEY'S Celery, Beef and Iron cures Nervous Headaches and Neuralgia.

I want to buy some of Geo. Goddard & Co's hats, where can I see a sample of all kinds they manufacture?

Answer.—For the time being, their sample room is on the third floor in the Hooper & Eldredge Block, where a full line of Goddard & Co's hats may be seen from 10 o'clock a. m. till 4 o'clock p. m. (their clerk will be in attendance country merchants and other buyers are respectfully invited to call, examine and buy.) GEO. GODDARD & CO.

DR. HENLEY'S Celery, Beef and Iron, is the best Nervine and Tonic and has cured in many cases where other remedies failed.—Bulletin, April 15.

Michael's Miracle. An instant relief for any pain that can be reached by external application. Thousands have borne testimony of permanent relief in less than three minutes by a single application. Sold by country merchants and other buyers are respectfully invited to call, examine and buy.

DR. HENLEY'S Celery, Beef and Iron, gives strength to mind and body.

STOP THAT COUGH. By using Dr. Frazier's Throat and Lung Balm, the only sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness and Sore Throat, and all diseases of the throat and lungs. Do not neglect a cough. It may prove fatal. Scores and hundreds of grateful people owe their lives to Dr. Frazier's Throat and Lung Balm. It is a great relief to the throat and lungs. It is a great relief to the throat and lungs. It is a great relief to the throat and lungs.

DR. HENLEY'S Celery, Beef and Iron, cures Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC. If you want anything in the Furniture Line or any repairing or jobbing done, call at my old place of business and oblige, yours truly, JOHN C. SANDBERG, 10 W. South Temple Street, opposite Valley House.

Do not be deceived; ask for and take only F. H. Douglass' Sore Throat Cough Drops for