A pretty memento of a wedding journey of one of Salt Lake's June brides is a portfolio of Kodak pictures taken by the bridegroom at various stages of the wedding journey. The first picture shows the pretty young wife just stepping on the train at the depot. Others show her standing on the fallen stones of some of the ruins at Stanford, in a cactus grove, and in old monasteries, on the sea shore, and in many other places. The principal and most picturesque spots all through California were chosen as backgrounds for her photographs.

Instead of complaining of the scarcity of young men who don't the young ladies in certain localities have what in some places are called "hen hops." Part of the girls dress in masculine attire, part in the regulation feminine. Dancing, card games and music are some of the pastimes indulged in, the halls being decorated with the fancy of the party dictators. Girls who have been to these hops say they are great fun.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Smith announce the engagement of their daughter, Priscilla, to William F. Langton, the wedding to take place about Sept. 15.

Last Sunday evening Mrs. T. C. Bailey entertained at dinner for Miss Blanche Kimball and Karl Schied, whose marriage takes place soon. Covers were laid for eight.

One of the prettiest dinner parties of the season was that given by Mrs. Geo. Taylor Badger at the Alta club for Miss Hattie Whitney and Sidney Saville last Tuesday. Pink and white, the bridal colors, were used in the decorations, pink and white sweet peas being utilized for the centerpiece of the table and forming the initials "W" and "S." Pink hearts with hand painted cupid were used as place cards. Eight of the bridal party were present.

An interesting wedding of the week was that of Miss Dora Turton and Robert C. Van Dyke, which took place Monday night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Dyke, brother and sister, respectively, of the groom and bride. Reverend D. M. Helmick performed the ceremony, only the immediate family being present. A small reception followed, several messages of congratulation from St. Louis friends being received. The bride party stood under a floral bell of smilax and carnations with background of palms, the other rooms being prettily decorated and punch served in the library. Miss Irene Kelly furnished some exquisite music. The bride wore a pretty white batiste trimmed with "Irish" and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Van Dyke will reside in St. Louis.

Another wedding with a tinge of the romantic entwined, was that of "Baron" Karl von Reichen, who has been a resident of Salt Lake for some two years and Miss Hilja Agnes Weisner of 718 West Second North street, daughter of Robert Weisner, the ceremony being performed at the office of the county clerk. The bridegroom is a second son, and there are two heirs between him and the title to the large estate on the Danube. In the meantime, Mr. and Mrs. Weisner have settled down to the life of average good American citizens and are interesting themselves in a bakery.
