

SUDDEN DEATH OF O. J. SALISBURY

Chairman of State Republican
Committee of Utah Succumbs
To Heart Disease.

FIND COMES IN NEW YORK CITY

On His Way to Seek Rest and Recreation at a German Health Resort
When Taken to Hospital.

New York, June 18.—Orange J. Salisbury, chairman of the state Republican committee of Utah, died at St. Luke's hospital here of heart disease. Mr. Salisbury's home was in Salt Lake City. He came east 10 days ago, intending to sail soon for Europe for his health.

With him at his death were his wife, his daughter, Mrs. Lewis B. McCormick, and his son, Orange J. Salisbury, Jr. Another son, E. Walker Salisbury, is in Salt Lake City. The body will be taken to Salt Lake City. Mr. Salisbury was a mine owner, real estate dealer and banker had long been identified with leading interests of Utah, Idaho, Montana and South Dakota. He was a member of the firm of Gilmer, Salisbury & Smith, which before railroads penetrated the Rockies operated lines of stages through the mountain region. For years he was prominent in party politics. Since coming to New York he had resigned the post of secretary of the Utah state board of equalization.

Mr. Salisbury was born near Buffalo 63 years ago. He married Miss Margaret Blaine Walker, daughter of the late Maj. R. C. Walker, U. S. A., and a niece of the late James G. Blaine.

The news that Hon. O. J. Salisbury is dead has come as a great shock to his host of friends in Utah. While it was known by his intimate friends that his condition was somewhat serious when he hurriedly left Salt Lake a few weeks ago for a lower altitude, it was generally understood that the purpose of the trip was to prepare Mr. Salisbury for a visit to Germany by giving him a short period of complete rest, and that he had intended to leave for this trip on a steamer sailing last Thursday.

Mr. Salisbury has played an important part in the upbuilding of the west. He came here a young man, dug out his fortune from the resources of the great country which he found a wilderness, and in leaving his life's work he leaves a name honored among all men, a splendid family of boys to follow in his footsteps as western men of energy and determination.

STATE CHAIRMAN.

In public life Mr. Salisbury's most recent activity has been as Republican state chairman. In the troublesome political times of the past few years he was not one of those who leave the party to which he has given his allegiance from boyhood, and when ill health to which he has given his allegiance from boyhood, and when ill health compelled James T. Hammond to give up the Republican state chairmanship in the last state campaign, Mr. Salisbury accepted the position, and managed affairs in his party until the time of his death.

WORD RECEIVED HERE.

The first notice of Mr. Salisbury's death was received in a telegram from O. J. Salisbury, Jr., to P. H. Lamm, last night shortly after 8 o'clock. It read: "Father died this afternoon. We leave tomorrow for home." With Mr. Salisbury was his wife, his daughter, Mrs. Louis B. McCormick, and his son, O. J. Salisbury, Jr., who with another son, Walter Salisbury, survive him. Their son Blaine Salisbury died about a year ago, and this was so keen a blow to both Mr. and Mrs. Salisbury that it is believed to have helped to bring on the heart weakness that finally resulted in death.

Plans to leave for Europe last Thursday were frustrated Wednesday by Dr. Janeway of New York who declared that Mr. Salisbury was in no condition to undertake the journey. During the following week he gradually grew worse until finally he died late yesterday afternoon.

UNION PACIFIC CONTRACTOR.

In western life, Mr. Salisbury was first known as a Union Pacific contractor. In 1888, his brother Monroe Salisbury having purchased the Union Pacific freight line, Mr. Salisbury and John W. Kerr were partners in the business but O. J. Salisbury bought out the Kerr interests then the company took the name of the Gilmer-Salisbury firm.

The purchase of the Wells-Fargo Express followed and lines were extended until there were 6,000 miles of them, all carrying mail under contract, through Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, California, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico.

In the late seventies Mr. Salisbury was married to Margaret Blaine Walker, a niece of James G. Blaine, and a few years later the family moved to Salt Lake City, where their home has been ever since.

MINING VENTURES.

Thirty years ago, Mr. Salisbury made his first mining venture in the Highland Boy mine, and since then he has extended his mining interests until they cover many western states. Out of this business he has amassed a fortune of great size, his estate including in addition to his mines, many valuable real estate holdings among which are the Kenyon hotel corner, and the New York hotel site on Market street.

"LEADED" IN IDAHO.

In 1884 Mr. Salisbury received injuries which affected his heart, while mining in Idaho. He built the Bay Horse smelter in Custer county, and while operating it became "leaded," an affliction from which he never recovered and which finally resulted in heart disease. Recently he incorporated a company to take care of his investments, he himself

IN PUBLIC LIFE.

In recent years he has been active in public life, although he has never been elected to public office. He served for four years as Utah's representative on the Republican National committee, and was chairman of the state board of equalization until he resigned a few weeks ago in order to leave for Europe. During the last campaign he served as Republican state chairman, accepting the position after James T. Hammond had resigned on account of ill health.

His brother, Monroe Salisbury, died a few weeks ago in New York, where he had gone from his home in California, to undergo an operation for cancer. Arrangements for the funeral will be announced later.

WILL DECIDE MONDAY.

Equalization Board Have Bank Assessment Matter Under Advisement.

The arguments in regard to the assessment of the full capital stock of the banks of this county instead of only 75 per cent of the same as heretofore, were concluded before the county commissioners sitting as a board of equalization yesterday afternoon and the board will meet Monday and decide what it will do in the matter. Judge C. S. Zane appeared before the board in behalf of the banks and is protesting against the increase in the assessment and Waldemar Van Cott and Asst. County Atty. Job Lyon represented the board. Before Monday the attorneys for the board will go into the law very thoroughly and their opinion will be ready for the guidance of the board.

RELEASED ON BAIL.

Man and Woman From Garfield Held On Criminal Conduct Charge.

William P. Grover, a foreman at the Garfield smelter, and Mrs. Lulu C. Morrow, a handsome boarding-house keeper at the smelter town, were arrested yesterday upon the charge of criminal conduct and were brought to the county jail. They were afterwards released on bail in the sum of $100 each. The complaint against them was drawn up by Asst. County Atty. Haigh and was filed in Justice Corbitt's court at Garfield. A. J. Morrow, the husband of the woman is the complaining witness and swore to the complaint.

Mrs. Morrow and her husband came here from Spokane, Wash., and the woman is the divorced wife of Police Captain James Coverly of that place. It is said that in the divorce case the woman's marital record was shown up and caused a sensation in Spokane. She was preparing to sue her present husband for divorce when arrested yesterday and retained Atty. W. L. Dunn to file her complaint. The date of the arraignment of the couple has not yet been set.

CAN TALK WITH NEW YORK.

Gap Between Pueblo and Emporia Closed at Holly, Colo.

Salt Lake can now talk with New York, through the completion, at Holly, Colo., of the long distance telephone line between Pueblo, Colo., and Emporia, Kan. The line of communication from this city is via Cheyenne and Denver, and thence to Pueblo, and then east. The line is as straight as a string between Holly and the Missouri river.

FILE DEMURRER IN COTTONWOOD SUIT

Fifteen Defendants Named by Progress Co. Protest Against Complaint Enjoining City.

GROUND NO CAUSE OF ACTION.

Another Step in Famous Water Case
Wherein Contractors Claim Possession of Water Mains.

The complaint in the famous Big Cottonwood water suit brought by the Progress company against Salt Lake City and a large number of farmers of this county, has been demurred to by 15 of the defendants. The company sought to enjoin the city from turning the waters of Big Cottonwood creek into the new conduit under the claim that it owned the same and had been using it for power purposes and also for supplying the city of Murray with water for domestic purposes.

CLAIM NO CAUSE OF ACTION.

The demurrer filed by defendants is based on the grounds that the complaint does not state a cause of action and that it is uncertain in that it does not appear at what point the company claims the right to divert the water and it does not state the quantity of water claimed by plaintiff to be used for domestic and irrigation purposes.

JOIN IN DEMURRER.

The defendants who joined in the demurrer are Milo Adams, H. A. Bagley, Charles Bagley, William Boyce, Brigham Smith, Isaac Ferguson, Isaac Ferguson, Jr., John P. Hanson, George A. Boyce, Thomas Hobbs, Thomas H. Pierce, William W. Smith, D. D. Tappay, Alexander Dahl and M. C. Walker.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Yesterday at noon Miss Lucy Gaby and Mr. George Smith were married, the ceremony taking place at the First M. E. church, with Rev. E. E. Young officiating. The church was decorated entirely in white and green with palms and eucalyptus and the bride was attended by Edward P. Kimball, who played beautiful selections of his own composition. The bride was attended by Miss Clifton Mayne and Mr. M. E. Lipman was best man. Mr. Lawrence Hammett and Dr. J. W. Davis were ushers. The bride wore a traveling gown of pale gray with white hat, and the bridesmaid was in tan silk and carried American Beauty roses. Mr. and Mrs. Smith left immediately for an eastern trip and will later return here to reside.

Another wedding of yesterday in which Salt Lake was interested was that of Miss Louisa Lamm and Florence H. Smith, which took place at Plainfield, N. J., the bridal couple leaving afterward for Washington, where the groom has a position with Senator Sutherland.

Another outside wedding of interest to local people takes place today at Terre Haute, Ind., where Miss Esther Seely and Richard Oglesby will be married.

A number of weddings take place today, the largest being probably that of Miss Evelyn Daly and Edward J.

Roberts, the ceremony to be performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Daly, by Bishop Scanlon early in the evening and a large reception to follow. Mrs. Roy Brown will be matron of honor, Miss Eudora Daily maid of honor, Miss Mercy Edwards of Oakland and Miss Mildred McMillan bridesmaids, and Mr. A. T. Johnson of Nevada best man, while little Misses Brown will be flower girls.

Another wedding of today is that of Miss Luella Phillips and Charles E. Clark, the ceremony to be performed this evening at the home of the bride and celebrated in a large reception.

A quiet marriage of today was that of Miss Ella Smith and Hugh W. Dougall, the ceremony being performed in the temple and a family dinner following at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Dougall, on north State street. The decorations were in American Beauty roses and carnations and only members of the two families were present. The bride wore a dainty gown of white with valencienne lace trimmings. Mr. and Mrs. Dougall will be at home at 146 Fourth street.

The wedding of Miss Lida Hauxhurst and Raymond J. Winger will take place tonight at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hauxhurst, the ceremony to be performed by Rev. Herbert Hays and a large reception to follow.

Miss Valentine Murphy was guest of honor at a pleasant afternoon affair today given by Miss Mary Mayne and Miss Clara Ellerbeck.

Miss Hazel Ford is entertained today by Mrs. William Coulam.

Miss Bessie Williamson will be guest of honor at a matinee party at the Orpheum on Saturday, followed by a tea. Miss Fannie Buckbee being her hostess.

Miss Williamson was entertained yesterday by Mrs. V. P. Hickey and Mrs. W. W. Anderson, the function being a shower party for the bride-elect.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Diehl have moved from State street to their own home at 825 east Second south street.

Mrs. Ernest Greenwood entertained at bridge this afternoon.

Miss Verduce Burton and Edward R. Hutch will be married this afternoon at the bride's home, by her grandfather, Bishop R. T. Burton, and a large reception will follow.

Miss Beatrice Cheeseman and Miss Ruth Kingsbury were guests of honor at a luncheon at the Country club today given by Miss Aileen Maclean.

Mrs. Walter Tuttle was hostess at a luncheon yesterday at which about 40 guests were entertained. A card contest following in which prizes were won by Mrs. G. K. Lewis, Mrs. Elmer Darling and Mrs. Hugh Anderson. Roses and carnations were the decorations.

Mrs. A. H. Ebnish and Mrs. Maida Sears leave next week for a month's stay on the coast.

Mrs. B. Scamell left yesterday with her son Robin to spend the summer in Michigan.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church have their annual meeting tomorrow at Laegon and all are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. William Gibby on Tuesday was hostess at a Kensington tea, given at her home, 2609 south Main street, in honor of her sister, Mrs. A. Leas, and her daughter, Miss Fanny Leas, late of Philadelphia, and also her niece, Mrs. J. S. Field of Cucamonga, California.

AMUSEMENTS.
Theater—The second production of the Fisher Opera Company entitled "The Silver Slipper" went before a fair-sized audience last night. The presentation was the revival of a musical extravaganza which was popular in the days when Eddie Foy first began to loom up on the burlesque horizon, and when David Henderson's big musical extravaganza made their appearances in Salt Lake annually. While last night's presentation was hardly in the Henderson class, it was full of fun, variety and ginger, and several of the performers scored heavily with the audience, notably the comedian, Mr. Mack, and the dainty sourette, Miss Millington. The others ranked from fair to average and the chorus did the usual energetic work. The company's last presentations are "The Run-away Girl" this afternoon, and tonight the bill will be "The Wizard of the Nile" in which Frank Daniels left so notable an impression.

Ethel Barrymore, who opens tomorrow, will be supported by a strong New York company in which Hume McTear, W. G. Jepson, Effie Germon and George Baumgart are leading members.

Orpheum—"The Henrietta" by the Orpheum company is decidedly stronger evening, and it is drawing stronger favor nightly.

Grand—This afternoon will witness a public reception by Miss Laura Frankendorf and her company. The bill continues to be "In the Shadow of the Galloway."

Lytic—Herbert's performing dogs continue the main feature of a bill that is playing to good business.

MISS SANDS BENEFIT.

Popular Young Pianist Will Go Abroad To Complete Education.

Miss Jennie Sands, the popular young pianist, who has occupied so prominent a position before the public for several years, is to receive a complimentary concert at the hands of her friends. The moving spirits who are working up the event are Emma Ramsey Morris and Mrs. Edwin Kimball, and they are enlisting the services of some of the foremost instrumental and vocal talent in the city to make the concert successful. Miss Sands is a talented, hardworking and energetic artist, and she has decided to go to Germany to put the finishing touches on her musical education. The Salt Lake Theater has been given free of charge for the occasion, and a large committee expects to dispose of enough tickets to fill the house. The full program will be printed in the "News" later, but it is promised in advance that it will be one of the highest artistic merit.

"NEWS" EMPLOYEES AT WANDAMERE

Successful Outing Held at the Popular Summer Resort
Yesterday Afternoon.

SEVERAL HUNDRED THERE.

Sports, Dancing and a General Good
Old-Fashioned Social Time Marked
The Annual Event.

June is the natal month of the Desert News, the institution having been founded June 15, 1889, and once a year the employees celebrate the event.

Yesterday the occasion took the form of an outing, and Wandamere was the scene of the gathering. Nearly if not quite every member of the various departments was present, with relatives and friends, and the sum total of representatives ran well up into the hundreds. It was the most successful excursion yet undertaken by the "News," both from the viewpoint of attendance and from the interest and enthusiasm manifested.

The day was an ideal one, bright, not too cold, not too warm—just right. And the place was in keeping with the beautiful weather. Persons who have not visited Wandamere this season can scarcely realize the transformation that has taken place there. The big pavilion, the fine new buildings, the paved walks, the enlarged lake, the remodeled bridge, the plate of lawn and flower beds, make of Wandamere one of the prettiest spots imaginable. And when the shades of night fall, the beauty of the scene is not lost, for the myriads of lights at nearly every point where a lamp can be fastened, and reflected by the water, even adds to the picture of loveliness seen by day.

An interesting program, arranged by special committees, was carried out by the "News" employees and their friends. A game of baseball was played between a nine picked from the mechanical departments, and a similar number from the business office and press room. The first named team won, on a score of 8 to 6. The winners, S. Reed, catcher; Jos. Anderson, pitcher; E. Paul, first base; L. C. Duncan, second base; W.

Cardwell, captain, third base; F. Anderson, 8, stop; C. Rose, F. field; A. Blunt, c. field; F. Graham, l. field. Charles Gardner proved to be the champion sprinter, he winning the race for all the boys under 18. His portion of the prize consisted of a pocket knife and a half year's subscription to the "News." The potato race was won by Joseph Anderson, prize, a go-cart. Miss Anna Tuckfield took home a handsome volume of Whittier's poems, for coming in first on the race for girls under 18. L. C. Duncan made a broad jump of 18 feet four inches, and Burns' poem was his trophy. Angus Lambert got a year's subscription to the "News" for winning the boat race. Larson Pratt is a half ton of coal to the good, from the fact that he has worked for the "News" longer than any other person—since 1884. Miss Ada Marsh proved to be the champion roller skater, receiving a book for a prize; while Mr. and Mrs. Steve G. Reed got a beautiful picture and a copy of "Nicholas Nickleby." As prizes for the most graceful waiters, four holders of lucky coupons drew $2.50 each, namely Edwin P. Parry, Hugh T. Dunbar, Ethel Hepworth and John McFarlin, the respective numbers being 24, 207, 240 and 308.

A most enjoyable time was spent by all present. Friendships were renewed, new acquaintances formed, and at the close of a well spent day, all returned to their homes, refreshed in body, happy in mind and feeling well repaid for the visit to Wandamere.

"NEWS" JOIN CELEBRATION.

A prominent feature of the celebration was the presence of something like half a hundred news boys under the leadership of J. E. Bernstein, who has been dubbed the "Emperor" of Salt Lake news boys. The "emperor" lead the boys in a parade up and down Main street hurling for the Desert News, whose guests they were for the afternoon. At Wandamere they were taken in hand by Manager Ed McClelland who turned the place over to them, allowing them free use of the roller skates to their heart's content, to "shoot the shoots" all they desired, and to take in all the other attractions the ground afforded.

"Emperor" Bernstein and his army are doing irish-like work these days for the Desert News, and the thousands of papers they circulate from Monday to Saturday night and the way they cover the city for the Saturday "News," especially, is something that the establishment and the boys themselves may well feel proud of.

BEST LINTMENT ON EARTH.
