

SOCIETY

SOCIAL CHAT

HOLLY and mistletoe are regnant again, and their vivid scarlets and greens which have dominated decorative ideas for the past two weeks will reign yet another fortnight in social schemes. The mistletoe especially is prominent in the several affairs given as distinct leaping year functions. A few of these have taken place, among them the university dance last night given by the girls of the institution, where everything was carried out in the leaping year suggestion. Next week a number of various events are planned, and the days promise to be full of festivity up to the dawn of the new year.

Mrs. Margaret Zane Withers, was guest of honor yesterday afternoon at a large tea given by Mrs. W. H. Jones, the guests comprising the members of the Woman's Republican club and a few others. The rooms were effectively decorated, the parlors in pink chrysanthemums and palms, and the dining room in red chrysanthemums, red-shaded lights and Christmas bells. A musical program was given by Mrs. G. Plummer, Mrs. George Wagoner, the Misses Osbourne, and the hostess was assisted by Mrs. D. C. Elchorn, J. L. Bowman, Mrs. W. D. Gaby and Mrs. D. L. Moore.

Mrs. George W. Lambourne was one of yesterday's hostesses, her affair being a bridge tea and about six tables played. The parlors were decorated in pink carnations and hearts, the dining room in white chrysanthemums and red-shaded lights, and the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Simon Black, Mrs. John C. Cutler, Jr., Mrs. W. H. Weyer, Mrs. W. H. Tobias, Miss Vera Edwards, Miss Kate Adams and Miss Ruby Lambourne.

This afternoon Mrs. Lambourne entertained at a second bridge party, the decorations being the same and seven tables played.

The current events and current literature section of the Ladies' Literary club met yesterday afternoon for the last meeting of the year, when the subject of Christmas was taken up. Mrs. Thomas Weir told of Christmas in foreign lands, and some Christmas music was given by Mrs. A. S. Peters.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Oberndorfer entertained at a dinner on Wednesday evening followed by bridge.

Mrs. L. B. Hills entertained the members of her sewing club and their husbands at cards last night, the amusement being 500.

Miss Jane Howat entertained her bridge club on Thursday night, four tables being played.

The high school seniors gave a dancing party last night in the Eaton gymnasium, the decorations being in the red and black.

Mrs. John L. Halloran was hostess at a luncheon on Wednesday given in honor of her sewing club.

Miss Eudora Daly entertained her sewing club Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Ada Murphy entertained her bridge club Wednesday.

Mrs. Louis B. McCormick entertained at a luncheon Wednesday for Mrs. Hoyt Sherman, the decorations being in white carnations and covers laid for Mrs. George J. Gibson, Mrs. Thomas Weir, Mrs. Harkness, Mrs. Mary Judge, Mrs. George P. Holman, Mrs. William McCaskey, Mrs. George C. Wallace, Mrs. David Keith and Miss Keogh.

On Tuesday Miss Julia Cullen and Garraff B. Wilkin were married, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Cullen, with Father Kleiy of the Catholic church officiating. The rooms were decorated in blue, red, palms and ferns, the parlor in red carnations and the dining room in pink and white. The bridal party stood in a bower of greens, the bride being attended by Miss Kate George, and the groom by Nelson Maynard. Prof. Skelton and a string quartet rendered beautiful music during the ceremony. The bride wore a handsome gown of blue broad, and carried white roses, and the bridesmaid wore a blue cloth suit with hat to match, and carried red roses. Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Emma Thompson, Mrs. Fred U. Leonard, and Mrs. S. B. Stanley, and about 40 friends were present. The ceremony was performed at 1 o'clock p. m., and at 2:30 the bridal couple left for a trip to Los Angeles. They will later make their home in Bingham.

The Red Cross stamps introduced by the Woman's league to aid in raising out tuberculosis, are on sale at all the book and drug stores, and as they are both useful and ornamental for Christmas packages, and the cause of their sale so important, a one, they should be in large demand.

Mrs. John C. Cutler was at home Wednesday afternoon to her friends as usual.

The marriage of Miss Beatrice Jones of Oakley, formerly of Kaysville, and Norman Lloyd of Logan took place in the Salt Lake temple Wednesday.

The marriage of Charlotte Esterblom and Hans M. Nordt took place Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents.

EGYPTIAN NECKLACE OF DULL GOLD.

A recent French play, having a great vogue in Paris, started the fad for Egyptian jewelry of all kinds. Makers have been informing themselves in regard to the ancient symbols and hieroglyphics, and some of the ornaments that are turned out for quite reasonable prices would not have disgraced discriminating Cleopatra herself. The scrub—on Egyptian beetle—with outspread wings, forms the center of this unique necklace. The links represent ancient symbols, each of which has its particular significance.

trity. It is of national interest.

My gift to the country would be an endowment as large as is necessary to establish and conduct the national university for the welfare of the child with branches everywhere. The National Congress of Mothers has the work already under way. The help is eagerly sought. It needs to be placed on a permanent basis, with means to do the work in education for which, as yet no adequate provision has been made.

In one home where there are several half-grown children, last year's Christmas breakfast will always be remembered. The plain baked apple which was at each plate when the family sat down over a holiday look simply because a top of each was a tiny dab of thick cream in which was set a large red candied cherry. It was unusual and everybody noticed it.

That was what the mother of the family wanted, and she was as most mothers want—quite rapid for the thought. With the cereal ways passed.

Instead of the sugar of every day, a low glass dish filled with curly shavings of maple sugar. These had simply been cut from a cake of rather soft maple sugar with a sharp knife. It was the first time it had ever been served in the family, and the little folks especially were delighted. Though nothing but boiled eggs formed the principal dish, these came to the table coddled down in a nest made of Christmas greens—in reality, little sprays left from the trimming of the house. It was arranged on a medium-sized meat platter, the green sprays being piled sufficiently high at the edges to make the nest quite realistic. You can imagine how it delighted the children.

The Delineator.

Make a stuffing for turkey of a large cupful of crumbs, seasoning with parsley, sweet marjoram and thyme, and moisten with melted butter. Chop twenty small oysters fine and mix with the dressing. If you prefer, you may leave the oysters whole. With this stuffing fill the breast of the turkey.
