

PAT MORAN HAS CLEAR SAILING

When He Wants Anything, He Generally Has it Brought to Him on a Platter.

TOO LATE FOR THE POLICE

When Martin's "Purity" Resolution Came Up, "Reformer" Confessed Sheriff Removed Necessity.

Although his prices were exorbitant, P. J. Moran, the official contractor, was handed the contract for three street paving extensions by the city council last night, silencing all opposition in a caucus of the "American" members of the council held yesterday afternoon in Mayor Bransford's office. In these contracts Moran charges $2.55 for laying asphaltum where he formerly charged $2.05 and 50 cents for excavation instead of 80 cents. The contracts amount to $104,263.57, of this amount the city portion is approximately $25,000. These extensions include Eighth South street between Main and State streets; Third West street between South Temple and Third South streets; and State street from Seventh to Ninth South streets. In raising his price on excavating, Moran's clever manipulation of his affairs is shown. Before he even received contracts this year he began advertising for teams at $6 a day for 10 hours' work. When teamsters reported for work he told them that he would need them later. But as the summer came rolling in Moran kept putting on his own teams and still advertising for more teams. Recently he raised the price of teams to $8.25 a day for 10 hours' work but still he is not working a single team that is not his own.

CALL ON THE CARPET.
When opposition was raised to the prices he placed in his bids he refused to count them. He was compelled to increase his price on account of the advance made in the wages of teamsters. So far he has neglected to explain to the opposition why he had raised the price on laying asphaltum 50 cents per square yard while the prices of the materials have not raised.
Moran called a meeting of the members of the "American" party yesterday when he heard of the opposition made by Mayor Bransford and Councilman J. J. Stewart. Moran presided at this meeting in his shirt sleeves and Chairman Black championed him in his cause. The opposition was whipped into line and the three contracts were approved without a dissenting vote. His bids on these three contracts were approximately $100,000 above the estimate of the city engineer.
When Moran's contract for the paving of west Third South street came up a portion was presented which was signed by all the property owners asking that the street be widened to 90 feet instead of 80 feet as called for in the contract. The residents believe that Third South street will in a year or two be a business street and they want it the same width as the other business streets. It was laid over for one week and in the meantime the property owners will meet with Moran and sign a contract with him for a wider street, so that the improvement will not have to be readjusted again.

PAT GETS THE CONTRACT.

Moran was awarded the construction of the city's portion of a concrete conduit at Eleventh South where the street car tracks cross the Salt Lake & Jordan canal. When Mayor Bransford went out to Eleventh South to see if the work was necessary he found that Moran had already completed the city's portion of the work at amounts to $500 and the city will pay it.
The street car company gave Moran the contract for building a conduit under its tracks so Moran extended it to the property line on each side of the street and then asked the city engineer to draw up a contract and present it so that he could get his money.
Andrew D. Burt was awarded the construction of cross walks for this year. His price for putting in 40 cents a cubic yard where Moran's is 90 cents. He will receive 60 cents for laying a square yard of blocks and charge 15 extra for hauls over a mile.
In a resolution presented by Councilman Fernstrom, Davis & Heuser, contractors of the North Temple aqueduct were ordered to commence work immediately on the improvement. Unless they begin in two weeks, the time required by law, the contract will be taken out of their hands.

TOO LATE FOR POLICE.

When Councilman Louis D. Martin's motion of reconsideration of the resolution ordering the chief of police to close the stockade was called up, he refused to make the motion. "I think that the sheriff has settled the stockade business. It is too late to order the police to do it." The matter was dropped without further comment and the resolution filed.

JUST IN TIME.

Some Salt Lake City People May Wait Till It's Too Late,

Don't wait until too late. Be sure and be in time. Just in time with kidney pills. Means curing the back. Before backache becomes chronic. Before serious urinary troubles set in. Doan's Kidney Pills will do this. Here is Salt Lake City testimony to prove it.

O. E. Moody, living at 30 south Sixth West St., Salt Lake City, Utah, says: "I do not think there is another remedy on the market today which will cure backache as quickly as Doan's Kidney Pills. My back had given me trouble for six months. If I stooped over I would feel lame, and it was with difficulty that I could arise. Sharp pains would start at my kidneys and radiate throughout my body, causing me much suffering. Deciding to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial I procured a box of the P. J. Hill Drug Co. They gave me relief at once, so I continued taking them and was absolutely and permanently cured of the trouble. It is a year since I used Doan's Kidney Pills and I have not had a return of the complaint since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

George Hancock, who resigned as deputy city treasurer, has been appointed a police officer by the chief of police and confirmed by the council. They will serve as watchmen in the yards of the Rio Grande Western railroad company. E. A. Block was appointed an extra clerk in the office of Rudolph Alf, city auditor.

Bids were opened last night for the sale of the hay in Parker's canyon. Ben Harries's tender of $750 for the entire crop was accepted.

The council appropriated $100 toward the children's celebration of the Fourth of July at Liberty park. The park keeper was ordered to erect a flag pole and hold the band will give two concerts.

Two proposed water mains in the Second ward brought forth a debate when it was proposed to take the money out of the water bond fund. Councilman Fernstrom charged that the Second ward councilmen with getting more than their share of the bond fund. It was finally decided to take the money from the water bond fund.

CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.
This is the variety of rheumatism that usually attacks the larger joints, knees, hips and shoulders. It is aggravated by cold and damp weather, and for this reason a patient afflicted with it can do little or nothing until the weather changes. Chamberlain's Liniment applied freely and often will relieve the pain and make sleep and rest possible. It will also effect a cure, but will not prevent the recurrence of the disease. MR. AND MRS. CUMMINGS BACK.

Both Released After Efficient Work in Independence, Mo.

Elder B. F. Cummings, who has been laboring in Independence, Mo., as editor of the Liahona, the Elders' Journal, returned to his home in this city Saturday evening, after having filled a mission of about a year and a half in that state. Cummings was called to that time to publish in that city, under the auspices of the presidents of missions in the United States. After some time had been spent in preparing to begin the publication of the paper there it was decided to publish it at Independence, Mo., instead, and Elder Cummings began his labors there in March, 1907, and the first number of the Liahona, the name chosen for the new missionary organ, was dated April 6, 1907. In June following the Elders' Journal, a missionary paper which had been published at Chattanooga, Tenn., for about four years, by President Ben E. Rich of the Southern States mission, was consolidated with the Liahona under the name Liahona, the Elders' Journal. Elder Cummings was editor of the magazine until the close of the volume, the last number of which was dated the 15th inst.

It had been determined to reduce the magazine in size and discontinue with some of its departments, including the pages devoted to advertisements, and Elder Cummings was honorably released to return home.

In August, 1907, his wife, Emily W. Cummings, joined him in Independence under appointment as a missionary, and she was immediately chosen as president of the Relief society there, which numbered about 30 members. She labored in this capacity, and aided in missionary work in various ways, until the release of her husband, when she was released. Their youngest son, James, went to Independence with his mother, and returned with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings declare their life in Independence to have been very pleasant, and that they derived much pleasure from their labors there. They formed strong friendships with many persons not members of the Church, while to the saints and missionaries there they became so attached that leave-taking was very painful. They will take possession of their residence in the Nineteenth ward at once.

Vickery, secretary-treasurer, and A. B. Nielsen and Parley P. Preece, one share each.

BOARD OF WORKS IS TORN ASUNDER

McMillan's Excessive Assumption of Authority Causes a Big Pow Wow.

MAYOR IS WITH ENGINEER

Specifications for Sidewalk Repairs Causes Several Sorts of Characteristic Discussion Among "Americans."

As a result of a petty squabble about the repairs of sidewalks on Main street between Chairman H. G. McMillan and C. D. Rookledge, members of the board of public works, and Mayor John S. Bransford and City Engineer L. C. Kelsey, the entire "American" party is again on the shoals of internal discord. Unless McMillan, who always wears a chip on his shoulder, and Rookledge refuse from their position, Mayor Bransford will ask for their resignations. McMillan and Rookledge, on the other hand, declare that if the board of public works is not recognized on the work within its province, that they intend to resign. The strained condition has existed since Saturday when the two factions clashed. With in that time several meetings have been held on the situation, but neither side has abandoned its position. The split of this, P. J. Moran, the official contractor, is repairing the sidewalk in accordance with the plans and specifications.

Chairman McMillan started the trouble last Saturday when he ordered that the sidewalk on Main street which is being prepared, was being laid flush up against the curbings. McMillan ordered the contractor to leave a space of half inch between the sidewalk and curbings for expansion.

ENGINEER SEES THE MAYOR.

When City Engineer Kelsey heard of this order, he went to Mayor Bransford. They rushed to the scene in an automobile and converted the order of McMillan, telling the contractor to lay the sidewalk flush up against the curbings as required in the specifications. McMillan, accompanied by Rookledge, came along a little later and found that the contractor was paying no attention to his orders. Frank Gowan, Moran's superintendent, was ordered to change the work and he objected. He informed McMillan that Mayor Bransford had told him to pay no attention to McMillan or any of his orders. This so enraged McMillan that he and Rookledge immediately called on Mayor Bransford and they would resign. Mayor Bransford offered to accept their resignations.

After bunting up C. P. Brooks, another member of the board, they held a meeting to see if they could get the order of the inspector to see that a space was left for expansion between the curbings and the sidewalk, but the inspector refused to go against the mayor's orders. He was threatened with dismissal.
Mike Fitzpatrick, chief inspector, was called in and a written order from the board was handed him to present to Frank Gowan, who was superintending the job. He said that he would not hand him the order from the board.
"No use to give that to me, I can't read," he said, and then Fitzpatrick read it to him. Gowan refused to obey the order and Fitzpatrick reported back to the board. In post haste he was fired back to arrest everybody on the job and stop the work. In the meantime, Frank P. Christensen, secretary of the board, was kept busy writing out resignations.

REFUSED TO STOP WORK.

Fitzpatrick returned shortly, declaring that Gowan had refused to stop work and asked for further instructions.
"With their resignations in their hands, the members of the board consulted with H. J. Dinwiddie, city attorney, on what could be done. Dinwiddie advised McMillan that unless the matter was specifically stated in the specifications, he was right and the mayor was wrong. But the specifications showed that McMillan was wrong and he and his captives left the office.
So far they have kept their resignations in their pockets, but it is probable that they will be called for by Mayor Bransford. Halloran and T. G. Armstrong, the other two members of the board, are with the mayor on the proposition. The majority of the councilmen feel that McMillan has exceeded his authority in this matter as well as in many other matters.

KNIFE AND NEGRO MEET.

A Nose and a Lip Are Badly Disfigured as a Result.

Ill-feeling existing between Harry Weaver and E. Josephs, both colored, culminated last night in a cutting affair at the Angelus roominghouse, in which Weaver was badly cut about the nose and lips with a knife in the hands of Josephs. A. Harris, who was a witness to the trouble and fight, said that Josephs had followed Weaver about through the house, while the latter attempted to get away from him. With special Wednesday morning upon Weaver and, drawing a pocket-knife, began slashing at his victim, cutting him across the nose and lips. Weaver was taken to the emergency hospital, where his wounds were dressed, and Josephs, together with Weaver, who is wanted as a witness, were taken into custody. The cause of the trouble between the two men was given as a quarrel over the Pullman company, running between Salt Lake and San Francisco.

BROTHER GETS IN TROUBLE.

Mrs. Miller's Husband Shipped Her to Average Her Cruel Words.

Because he had taken a brother's part, to the extent it is alleged of having struck his own wife, J. A. Miller was arrested yesterday on a complaint sworn to by Mrs. Miller. The Millers conduct a coffeehouse at 130 west First South street, and according to Mrs. Miller, the brother-in-law has been living there for some time without the formality of paying for his boarding. When she remonstrated against this manner of the brother's living, and ordered him out of the place, her husband, she says, became angry and struck her violently. Miller was released under $200 bonds shortly after his arrest.

The company includes a score or more names notable in the original cast of the play. The sale of seats and boxes will open on Friday.

Willard Mack at the Grand—Mr. Willard Mack's recuperative powers are something amazing and his ability to rally his fellow actors around him is not less surprising. Yesterday arrangements were made by which Miss Blanch Douglas and several members of the company, late playing at the Colonial, engaged to support Mr. Mack all next week at the Grand theater in a production of Thomas' play "In Mizoura." The members of the company do not at all approve of the assaults made on Mr. Mack by Mr. Herford, and they say that if all the circumstances were known, Mr. Mack would be found "more than ready to sign." The members also say that Mr. Mack has also made satisfactory settlements with them, and they intend to him loyal support in his new production.

ELKS BY THOUSANDS COMING TO SALT LAKE

Antlered Herd Will Tarry Here on the Way to Grand Lodge Convention.

It is by no means far-fetched to say that at least 25,000 Elks will pass through this city during the early part of next month en route to Los Angeles to attend the annual meeting of the Grand lodge, and most of the antlered herd will spend from 12 to 48 hours in Salt Lake City and, consequently, the local lodge, No. 85, has this slogan: "Now is the time for all good Elks to get busy, entertain visitors and boost Salt Lake City and the State of Utah." And they are going to do it.

The Commercial club will be affiliated with the Elks to entertain the strangers, make them happy and give them something to talk about concerning this city for many years to come. Every member of No. 85 is a committee on entertainment and will have the Elks to entertain. The Commercial club has appointed three committees of 50 members each on reception and entertainment.

"There will be automobile rides gal-lore and the club houses will be open to the visitors. A citizens' committee of 1,000 will help out. Members will wear white badges bearing this inscription:

"I am a citizen of Salt Lake. My job is to help visiting Elks. Ask me!" Elks will wear purple ribbon badges bearing these words: "I belong to Salt Lake lodge. Stray Elks report to me."

It is expected that on July 8, Garry Hermann, president of the Cincinnati baseball club in the National league, a big Elk and a candidate for Grand Exalted ruler, will be here. He will spend at least one day here and probably longer. The first delegation will arrive July 5. On that date Grand Exalted Ruler Holland will be here with his party, and from then on they will come by the thousands.

Special organ recitals have been planned, also trips to Saltair and other resorts; banquets and trips about the city.

The Salt Lake lodge will have at least 100 representatives at the Los Angeles meeting. A special train of six standard Pullmans will leave here on July 9. There will also be a diner and a buffet car.

The following committees have been appointed by the Salt Lake lodge: Executive, C. L. Applegate, chairman; C. H. Reed, W. P. Cooper, H. A. Leipsiger, V. A. Bettlyon; reception, Thomas Homer, chairman, and 500 members of Salt Lake lodge No. 85; publicity, A. G. Mackenzie, chairman, P. V. Fitzgerald, E. C. Penrose, M. L.
