

for the Cour d'Alene today with warrants for eighty of the rioters, charging them with contempt of the Federal court, in having violated the injunction restraining them from interfering with the operations of the mines. The policy of the Federal officials has, however, been changed, and a new procedure will be inaugurated. Judge Beatty has no authority to call a special term of the circuit court, and the cases would have to be delayed until a term could be authorized by Justice Field. The men, after having been brought to Boise, would have to be taken to Moscow for a hearing, making a tedious and expensive proceeding. For this reason it has been decided to proceed against the offenders in the district court charging them with the crime of conspiracy in having conspired to interfere with the administration of justice. Judge Beatty can call a special term of this court when and where he will and he will be asked to call such term at Cour d'Alene City. District Attorney Wood will leave for the north tomorrow in furtherance of this plan.

WORK RESUMED.

WALLACE, Ida., July 20.—Work has been resumed at all of the mines in Cour d'Alene. Wages have been paid at $3.50 for skilled miners and $3 for shovelers with the right to board and lodge where they please. The presence of troops is a guarantee that the men can work for whom they please without becoming members of any organization. The action of the Homestead strikers was commented upon in violent language by such men as Breen, Dallas, Poynton and others. Breen, Dallas, Poynton, who were trusted leaders under O'Brien have escaped to the mountain regions. Papers will be forwarded to the Governor, and their arrest will probably follow. All of the other prominent leaders are in custody.

Indications point to a general exodus to Montana for such union miners as have not been arrested. Although the miners' union in Cour d'Alene is completely broken up and mine owners free of its halter it will require the presence of federal troops for six months or more to insure workmen here immunity from attack. One hundred and eleven men have been arrested at Wardner and there are 180 confined at Wallace. Marshal Pinkham has been looking over the prisoners and is busy getting out indictments against the principal ones. The prisoners will be taken to Boise in a few days to answer to the charge of contempt of court and will be returned here to stand trial on several indictments. Something will have to be done with them soon, as the prison pens are terribly crowded and sickness will result from the unsanitary condition existing at the prison. Provisions shipped on here for the miners' union are turned over to a committee of women appointed by the miners' wives and by them distributed to the needy.

WALLACE, Ida., July 22.—Thirty prisoners were discharged from the military prison here today on parole. Many of them were business men. Governor Wilkey has received so many requests from members of the Idaho State troops in the field for furlough, etc., that all of the Idaho guard were ordered home. Later the order was revoked, much to the disgust of the strikers. The retention of a certain number of federal troops in this district is believed to be a foregone conclusion, and already Wardner and Wallace are fighting for the location of the post.

The mine owners of Wardner publishes the following today:

"We, the undersigned mine managers of Wardner, Idaho, hereby agree hereafter that all employees of the different companies we represent may board where they please. We will receive no orders, and shall pay all employees in full in honest money for honest labor.

GEORGE MCMAULAY,
CHARLES SWEENEY,
V. M. CLEMENT."

General Curtis today issued an order modifying the martial law so that courts can be held for civil and criminal cases, but criminal cases must not conflict with the proper enforcement of military law. An attorney applied to the authorities this afternoon for the release of David Schultz on the ground of his being a British subject. The first application was denied. The attorney then proceeded to telegraph the British consul, when the matter was brought to the attention of General Curtis, commanding. A hearing will be granted in the morning. The man claims to have been arrested without any cause whatever.

SUNDAY SCHOOL REUNION.

The Pleasant View, Harrisville and North Ogden Sunday schools held their reunion at North Ogden on the 22nd inst. Shortly before 10 a. m. the schools of the three wards named began to arrive, headed by the brass bands of the respective places and assembled in the James Montgomery Grove, on Washington Avenue. The assemblage, which numbered thousands was called to order by Superintendent Thomas Budge, of Pleasant View. Seated on the Stand were George Goddard, Gen Superintendent, John M. Whitaker, General Secretary of the Deseret Sunday School Union, R. Balantyne, State Superintendent, C. F. Middleton, of the Presidency of the Stake, Joseph Stanford of the High Council besides Bishops and their counselors, Sunday school superintendents, and their assistants of the different wards of the Stake.

The opening song "Cause of Truth," was sung by the three Sunday schools in concert.

Prayer by Bishop Thos. Wallace of North Ogden. Song, "Awake My Bark," by the North Ogden Sunday school. Leaflet No. 30, "Christ's last charge and ascension," by the Pleasant View Sunday school. "Thy Will be Done," was recited by Miss Lucy Brown of the Harrisville Sunday school. The Articles of Faith was recited by the three Sunday schools in concert. Music by the Harrisville brass band. Questions and answers—"Daniel in the Lions' Den," by the North Ogden primary department, was conducted by Sister Annie Deamer. "A Plea for the Slighted One," was recited by Miss Eliza Parrot of the Pleasant View Sunday school. "There's Sweet Wild Rose," was sung by Miss Ada Taylor and Miss Louise P. Harris of Harrisville.

Bro. George Goddard made a brief but pointed address, closing with one of his favorite songs, "Girls and Boys."

Recitation, "Poor House Nan," by Miss Amy Barker of Pleasant View Sunday school.

The forenoon exercises closed with singing "Home of our Youth" by the Harrisville Sunday school and benediction by Counselor John Seamen of Pleasant View. The different Sunday schools then repaired to spots assigned them in the pleasant shade and partook of a sumptuous repast.

The assemblage was called together again at 2 o'clock. Incarnation was sung by the Sunday schools in concert. Prayer by Bishop P. G. Taylor of Harrisville. Song, "Light of Truth" by the Harrisville Sunday school. Class exercise on leaflet No. 12, "Jesus Sends Forth His Apostles," was rendered by a class of young ladies from the North Ogden Sunday school, conducted by N. Montgomery. Word of Wisdom by the three Sunday schools in concert. Elder John M. Whitaker made some timely remarks. "The Vow of Washington" was recited by Miss Rose Brown of North Ogden Sunday school. President C. F. Middleton of the Weber Stake, spoke of the great progress the Sunday schools of the county were making under their present management. One feature of the occasion deserves special mention—the singing of the "Anvil Chorus" by the North Ogden Primary Sunday school, numbering over two hundred and waving one hundred national banners. A selection was rendered by the North Ogden brass band. Another pleasing feature of the day's proceedings was the rendition of the song "God Pity the Men on the Sea Tonight" by a select company from the Pleasant View Sunday School. Leroy Cowles of Harrisville brought down a round of applause at the close of his recitation—"The Captive." County Supt. Richard Balantyne made a few interesting remarks as also did Bishop Thomas Wallace.

Brother Goddard was again called for, made a few remarks and sang his song "Who's on the Lord's Side."

Song, "Let Love Abound," Pleasant View Sunday School in concert. "Songs of the Heart," the Sunday schools in concert.

Prayer by Bishop E. W. Wade of Pleasant View.

TEMPERANCE MASS MEETING.

There was a large and interesting temperance meeting at the Theatre on Sunday night at which Miss H. E. Turner, of the W. C. T. U., presided. The vocal music was furnished by the Union Glee Club under the direction of Professor C. J. Thomas.

Rev. Dr. Mabry was the first speaker. His subject was the liquor traffic and the labor unions. He was not there to say whether he favored labor unions, lock-outs, boycotts or strikes. But if an organization existed in Salt Lake that was antagonistic to the saloon he would work in the streets in order to become eligible to join such a union.

If the workingmen should strike
