DIVISION OF WEBER STAKE

To be Effected at Conference Sunday—Twelve Wards For Ogden.

NARROW ESCAPE OF PLUMBER

Sam Dannah Buried in a Trench—City Schools Insured—Internban Commences Business Aug. 1.

Ogden, July 18.—At the quarterly conference of the Weber stake, which will be held in Ogden tomorrow, a number of matters will come before the meeting which will make it one of the most notable held in this stake. Owing to the fact that the attendance will be unusually large, arrangements have been made to hold two meetings simultaneously, one in the tabernacle and the other in the stake academy auditorium.

The two meetings will be held at the same time, the first in the tabernacle and the second in the stake academy auditorium. The division of the stake into twelve wards will be discussed, and the plan of the stake is to have the largest in the Latter-day Saints church, up into three stakes and the dividing of the city up into twelve wards instead of seven. The main division line for the stakes, it is said, will be Washington avenue, but what districts, east and west of the street, will be included in each district, is not known.

The growth of the Weber stake in the past few years has been phenomenal, and there is hardly a record of the growth in the history of the church in the last fifteen years. So rapid has been the growth that the stake buildings are inadequate to house the people whenever a general assembly or quarterly conference is called. The division of the stake has been sanctioned by the general authorities of the church at Salt Lake, some of whom will be present.

The crowded conditions in the stake are reflected in the wards of the city. All the meetinghouses are entirely too small to accommodate the congregations. At Sunday's meeting the names of those who will be at the head of the stakes and the wards will be announced.

NARROW ESCAPE OF PLUMBER

Ogden, July 18.—Sam Dannah, a plumber in the employ of the A. W. Mead company, had a narrow escape from death yesterday afternoon by being buried by a cave-in in a trench in which he was working. The prompt work of a number of fellow workmen who were nearby when the accident occurred, saved the man from an awful fate.

BOY ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Roy Gardner Wanders from Home and Shoots Himself—Injunction Suit.

Special Correspondence.
Provo, July 18.—Because his father reproved him for staying out late at a party the night before, Roy Gardner, the 15-year-old son of Robert Gardner of the Provo bank, shot himself through the head yesterday morning with a .22 caliber gun, and it is hardly probable that he will recover. The boy came home from a party early yesterday morning, and after his father's reproof, he went to his own room, supposedly to go to bed, but instead he got his gun and went out of the house. When the family arose later in the morning, the boy was missing and a search was immediately instituted. He was found some time later, after a mile from his home, in an unconscious condition, suffering from a bullet wound in the head.

Upon examination it was found that he had evidently placed the muzzle of the weapon in his mouth and fired, the bullet being lodged in the top of his skull. He was taken to the Provo general hospital.

Dannah was working in a trench, in front of the residence of R. E. Robbins, 681 Twenty-seventh street, making a connection with a pipe. He was in a stooping position and without a word of warning the unfortunate man was buried beneath about four feet of earth.

A number of men who were working near Dannah at the time missed him and went in search, and discovered the accident. With shovels they worked with zeal until they had moved Dannah, in an unconscious condition, from the trench and carried him to the residence of Chief of Police Browning, where stimulants were applied until the arrival of medical aid. The man was removed to his home on Thirty-second street. Other than the shock and a number of small bruises the man is in no danger and will be able to be out in a few days.

ANSWER FILED.

Florence O. Stanford, city auditor, and E. P. Brown, city recorder, through City Attorney Devine, have filed an answer in the case brought against them by J. P. O'Neill Construction company to compel the payment of a city warrant in the sum of $4,427.75. The defendants contend that as the work which was performed by the construction company was not sanctioned by the mayor and the city council, and that as the company did it without any responsibility, the claim is not substantial.

OGDEN CITY SCHOOL BOARD.

Ogden, July 18.—At the meeting of the board of education last night, the insurance of $95,000 worth of school property was let to local agencies representing the Pacific board of fire underwriters. The bid was considered the lowest, and the property will be insured by the same agencies. The bids of the non-members of the board were even lower, but the contract was let to the representatives of the Pacific board for various reasons. The bid was $5.50 per $1,000, for three years.

A committee was appointed to advertise for the sale of the $75,000 worth of bonds which were recently voted for high school purposes, which will be disposed of by Sept. 1.

Other routine business completed the session.

POLICE CARE FOR LOST BOY.

A little yellow negro boy strolling around the streets with a bag full of stolen goods, was picked up by the police last night, long after the curfew whistle had blown. The lad was carried to the police station and between moments of his checker told his questioners that he was five years old; that he left his home on Franklin avenue in Salt Lake City, Friday morning, and was wandering in Ogden. The boy says the woman left him alone at the Union depot. After waiting until he got sleepy for her return, he

WATERWORKS PROPOSITION.

School Election and Report—Pioneer Day Program—Tax Levy 10 Mills.

Special Correspondence.
Lehi, Utah Co., July 16.—At a meeting of the city council Tuesday evening it was decided to hold a mass meeting of the citizens of Lehi on Sunday, July 19, in the Opera house to consider waterworks for Lehi. The city council of Alpine has made Lehi a proposition that it would accept $8,000 for the sixth of the water from the school house springs north of Alpine, provided Lehi would pipe the other sixth from the springs to the Joseph Moyle hill. In addition to paying the above, Lehi would have to pipe the water a distance of over eight miles. This would insure a permanent supply of water for Lehi for years to come, and of the finest quality.

The trustees made a report showing receipts and disbursements of over $20,000 for the past year. There is a floating indebtedness of $5,725 and a bonded indebtedness of $18,000. The report shows five male teachers and 19 female; 767 children enrolled and 89 high school students; a school population of 1,061, with 43 graduates from the grades, and 21 from the high school. The smallpox and measles epidemics during the winter interfered very much with the attendance.

Seasonable Ailments

HAY FEVER.

In the beginning of an attack of Hay Fever the patient experiences a sense of uneasiness about the nasal passages, with a slight disposition to sneeze. Gradually these symptoms increase, and often there is an intense itching of the nasal passages, with a profuse watery discharge, which necessitates the constant use of the handkerchief. In aggravated cases the discharge drips continually from the nose. Later the mucous membrane becomes so congested that the secretions present a grayish color. The inflamed mucous membrane naturally causes more or less stenosis, or narrowing or closing of the nasal passages, which adds greatly to the discomfort of the sufferer; often times the nasal passages are entirely closed up.

If the patient lies on the side, the nasal passage which is uppermost becomes open, while the fluid collects in the parts below; or if the patient lies on the back the flow passes to the rear portion causing a complete stoppage of the nasal passages. The fluids which escape from the nose are often irritating, and very frequently give rise to irritation around the opening of the nose and lip, and sometimes even result in eczema. The eyes become congested and the lips red and itching. If the disease is allowed to run an attack of asthma often sets in. The asthmatic symptoms are usually confined to the night time, and tend to make the hours of sleep characterized by shortness of breathing, which the patient describes as wheezing.

Hay Fever is a treacherous disease, almost every case yields to proper cure and treatment. Every sufferer from this insidious and deceptive disease should consult Drs. Shores & Shores at once, and be quickly cured at little cost.
