SUGAR LAND IN CUBA PURCHASED

M. S. Browning and Other Local Capitalists Make a Beginning Toward Sugar Plantation.

FURTHER PURCHASES IN VIEW.

Local Sugar People Purpose Building A Large Sugar Factory in Pearl

Ogden, April 16 .- The purchase by M. S. Browning, Adam Patterson and others interested in the sugar industry of 7,000 acres of land in Cuba, is the first foothold obtained by the Utah sugar magnates in that far-off country. Vice President Browning of the Amalgamated Sugar company returned home yesterday from a trip to Cuba with Adam Patterson and David C. Eccles, and it was he who gave the first information of the immense purchase, but mation of the immense purchase, but the price paid per acre was not given out. The land will be cultivated for the growing of sugar cane, which is grown in that country instead of sugar beets. The gentlemen expect to make further extensive purchases of land in Cuba and to erect a large sugar factory there. The hiring of help in that coun-try is not a hard task. The Cubans are not so industrious as the Ameri-cove but they earn very small wages. but they earn very small wages and are quite good workers when they do work, hence the production of cane sugar in Cuba is very cheap, and market for the output is unlimited. and the platinum. In the Malden Lane jewelry district the cheaper platinum comes as a great relier. S. Cohn, of Belais & Cohn, when asked the reason for the drep in the price of platinum, said that financial condi-tions in Europe were responsible, he be-lieved. He said that European holders of the metal who were keeping it in stock had pledged it as collaterial security on loans and these loans were recently called. This obligated some men who had a jon of plathum on hand to put it on the market and the lower price followed.
