SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS GAIN OF NINE HUNDRED

All But One District Have Been Reported to the Board of Education for This Year.

The school census shows a gain of approximately 900 children of school age since the census of last year. The figures will probably be complete this afternoon, as all but one district have reported. The gain, it is believed, will be greater than the figures given above, as during the time the census was taken many families were absent from the city in the canyons and the census takers have reported that in many cases where they found homes closed with no one at home they were unable Merger With Inter-Mountain Republican Now Scheduled for Monday.

Providing a certain mysterious individual arrives in Salt Lake tomorrow or Saturday the consolidation of the Inter-Mountain Republican and the Salt Lake Herald will take place Monday, Lake Heraid will take place Monday, after which date but one paper will be issued. While no formal notice has been serv-ed on the reportorial staff of either pap-er the breaking up of the Heraid staff is now under way and the various re-porters and department men are taking steps to secure positions in other cities. Two of the best men on the paper have already been offered good positions on Los Angeles papers, which they have wired to close while the balance of the staff is getting ready to move. The printers and employes in the mechanical departments have been noti-fied that their services will not be re-quired after Sunday.

Board of Equalization is Still Wrestling With Livestock Tax Problem.

WILL DECIDE MONDAY.

The state board of equalization heard this morning Kane, Beaver, Uintah and Washington county protestants in argument against the proposed additional ment against the proposed additional tax of 40 per cent on sheep and cattle; and this afternoon the hearing is cho-cluded with Tooele county, leaving Rich and Morgan counties unheard from. The arguments advanced by the speak-ers today, are the same as those pre-sented yesterday, varying in detail ac-cording to variations in local environ-ment, but all with the same end in view. The general claim was advanced that 75 to 90 per cent of the sheep and cat-tle were taxed, and the tendencies to avoid taxation, of which so much has been said, were minimized. The board will occupy tomorrow and next day in going over the arguments advanced going over the arguments advanced during the week, and arrive at a deci-sion by Monday. In advance of this, members of the board decline to make any statement, as to the merits or de-merits of the situation.

Mrs. Barbara Wilson of Logan Be lieved to be Drowned.

(Special to the "News.") Logan, Aug. 5 .- There is considerable excitement in Logan today over the disappearance of Mrs. Barbara Wilson, aged appearance of Mrs. Barbara Wilson, aged 47 years, who left her home in the Fifth ward last night. Mrs. Wilson has suffered from mental trouble for some time and was adjudged insane yesterday and committed to the state mental hospital. She was permit-ted to go to her home and last night disappeared, since which time no traco of her has been found. Sherlift N. W. Crookston and deputies were immediately notified after the wo-man's absence was discovered and al-though they have scoured the country no trace of her has been found. It is feared she has downed herself and the Logan river is being dragged. She had threatened to kill herself. Mr. Wilson is the wife of Thomas Wilson, a member of the Mormon Bat-talion, who is 94 years of age and very feeble.

into the markets with long withhold goods. The unreasonable attitude of those cornering the produce markets in this immediate part of the country was sized up some time ago by the com-mission men and wholesalers who, it is understood, agreed not to buy from the producers any more than was abso-lutely imperative, and not to buy al-faifa anyhow-for which such a high price was demanded. The result of this "gentlemen's agree-ment" has been healthful. Alfaifa is now selling loose at $9 and $10 per ton, with the baled article at $14, where the market corner artists had toward the close of winter forced the price up to $23 and $24. The millers, who, it seems, have had a surplus on hand, are now disposing of it with all possible speed, and flour can now be had at much more humane prices. When the tremendous rush of produce from the new crops be-gins, prices will go down further. Oranges are scarce, it being between seasons. One large commission house found itself this morning without an orange on the premises. However, wa-termelons and lemons are plentiful, the former being particularly firm and sweet. LAX METHODS.

The laxity of the police department was again monotonously brought un this morning when four prisoners were left on the Bench after the docket had been called. Of the four, two have been in jail for three days and two for two days, and since their arrest have been brought into court daily, only to find that no charge had been preferred against them. So far as is known the charges are drunkenness and vagramy, but the arresting of-ficers, after getting their men in jail seemed satisfied with the arrest and forgot all about it. One of the pris-oners, who after spending three days in jail without being charged, was discharged at the intercession of a friend. Asst. City Atty. Rogers' sug-gestion that a complaint should be made against the officers who arrested men and failed to issue complaints, may perhaps be acted upcz. The laxity of the police departmen may perhaps be acted upon. WULFF CASE DISMISSED.

Common courtesy finds little room in police court justice and the venera-tion for gray hairs of the aged is marked mainly by its absence. Mrs. G. Cereghino, an elderly matron show-ing the marks of the years in her bent form, dressed in the black garb of mourning and who despite the gruff J. A. Wulff was accused of having embezzled a check for $77.08. Asst. County Atty. Bowman in making his motion stated that he had ben informed that he mat-ter had been largely a misunderstand-ing following the dissolution of the partnership of the Clark Rose people. Mr. Clark, a former member of the company, and who is now in Los An-geles, it is said had given Mr. Wulff permission to use the proceeds of the check. This Mr. Rose had objected to with the resulting arrest of Wulff. Latbent form, dressed in the black garb of mourning, and who despite the gruff refusal of the court to permit her to make any explanation managed to say that she is alone in the world, was the pathetic figure of the courtroom this morning when she was called to an-swer the what-seemed-to-be-consider-ed being of forse of having falled to swor the what-seemed-to-be-consider-ed heinious offense of having falled to remove garbage form her premises at 752 south Third West street. The others had all seen Mr. Rogers by telephone with the result that as the cases were called a motion for dismissal was made by the prosecutor. Mrs. Cereghino, motherly and gentle looking, and hardly grasping what it all meant except that she was before the court attempted to explain that she had left the garbage on her lot for a day or two when she was check. When the Pan-American Decorating ompany, through its agent, H. H. Gov. Spry, for the first time, threw open today the portals of his private office and bade his visitors enter. Upon entering a revelation of beauty, the product of the decorator and the furnisher, greeted the guest.

For many years the need of a private office for the chief executive of the state has been felt. Now it is provided. Early in Gov. Spry's administra. tion and while the state legislature was in session, Secy. of State C. S. Tingey took the matter in hand and after figto the governor's office, called in Sena-tor Benner X. Gov. Spry gave his consent to the re-quest and the resolution was unanl-mously passed by the legislature. With $1,250 of the appropriation. Secy.

of State Tingey has provided a most handsomely appointed reception room. The walls are covered with a soft green paper of silken texture, the lower por-tion of the walls being finished with an olive leather embossed in appropriate esign and finished with a neat moulding in ebony finish. The woodwork is all in mahogany finish to harmonize with the furnishings of the room, which and in manogany music to meridian with the furnishings of the room, which consist of a magnificent directors' table of satin mahogany finish and rounded corners with twin pedestal support. About this table are arranged eight swivel chairs in a handsome design Scattered about the room are large leather rockers and leather davenports. The floor is covered with a thick Wilton rug in a soft green color. This room opens from the governer's business office, which has also been re-furnished and renovated. Hang-ing on the walls and illuminated by well distributed and diffused lights are several of H. L. A. Culmer's charac-teristic paintings of Utah scenes. ing waited last evening, on the Carpenter's union to ask aid in the way of a sympathetic strike on two school buildings and on the McIntyre building where the more prominent plumbing firms are at work, as the hope was that if three or four of the largest plumbing to time, it would be only the question of a brief period before the other houses would capitulate. Scant satis-faction was obtained beyond expres-

neys with orders to begin proceedings against you at once."
