OGDEN BAR HONORS JUDGE MALONEY

Encomiums Upon the Life, Work And Character of Learned Jurist.

WAS FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE.

The Poor and the Friendless, the Widow and the Orphan Could Enlist His Aid Unrequited.

Ogden, Utah, March 25 .- The Bar association of Ogden met at the district court room Saturday and unanimously passed the resolutions of respect to the memory of their late fellow attorney Thomas Maloney, as they were published in the "News."

After the adoption of the resolutions Abbott R. Heywood, feelingly spoke of the life of Judge Maloney recounting some of his excellent services as an at-

Mr. A. J. Webber spoke of his patriotic service in the union army in the war for the preservation of the Union.

As a lawyer, continued Mr. Weber,
Judge Maloney was ever ready to listen to the humble; the poor and the friendless, the widow and the orphan could always, without money and without price, enlist his sympathy and secure his assistance. He had the highest regard for the ethics of his profession and believed integrity of character to be more essential to the true lawyer than all the wisdom that could be acquired by either experience or study. His all the wisdom that could be acquired by either experience or study. His manney was unostentatious and often seemed diffident; his language was simple Saxon, clear and direct; his knowledge of the law excellent, and he phrased "learned in the law" is one that could be truthfully applied to him. During all his useful life, well could it be said of our departed friend:

"He hath a tear for pity and a hand, Open as the day, for melting charity; and the elements So mixed in him, that Nature might stand up.

And say to all the world, This is a man."

RETIRING BISHOPRIC HONORED.

At noon Friday the former bishopric of Kaysville ward, Peter Barton, John R. Barnes and Heber J. Sheffield, who were released from their labors on Feb. 34, were tendered a grand reception by the people of the ward. All pusiness was suspended and the people gathered at the meeting-house, where tables were spread with an abundance of everything desirable. Married people to the number of 300 were seated at 2 p. m. This was followed by a children's dinner, and later several hundred young people were banqueted. In all the committee served about 350 meals during the afternoon and evening.

Bishop Barton was presented with a beautiful gold watch and chain as a mark of the affection of the people for him. Counselors John R. Barnes and Heber J. Sheffield were each presented with a handsome Morris chair. The new bishop. Henry H. Blood, made a felicitous presentation address and the three recipients responded to the presentation speech with appropriate words of appreciation, referring feelingly to their long association with the people of the ward and the mutual love that had made the work pleasant. Other speakers were, J. H. Grant and Jesse M. Smith of the stake presidency. Throughout the afternoon and evening theyoung people enjoyed a dance in the woung to the men who had served so long in the bishopric.

Have You Visited Our New Drapery and Carpet Department?

Situated in a new building adjoining our regular store, and furnished with all new fixtures and stocked almost entirely with new goods of this season's purchase. Our extensive regular trade, coupled with many successful large contracts for furnishing hotels, cleaned out practically all winter lines, making clear way for the new season's selections. This is especially the case with Carpets, which we were fortunate in placing orders for before the advance in prices, saving the advance to our patrons-a very important factor to Carpet buyers. We also have an entirely new line of Rugs, including the celebrated Astoria Smyrna and French Savuk styles, indis-

Kaysyille, Davis Co., March 25.—William Hackin was found in an unconscious condition in the hay loft on the premises of George Webster, about 5 o'clock this morning. He was taken into Mr. Webster's residence and partially revived after heroic efforts. Hackin is the victim of foul play, and is in a precarious condition through being beaten on the head wilth a beer bottle, and he may die at any moment, his injuries were so serious that his back and hips have been paralyzed and he is unable either to sit up or to walk. He has an ugly wound behind his ears.

Marin Pearit is accused by Hackin of the murderous assault, and Marshal Marshi is after the culprit. Pearlt and Hackin, it is learned, were returning about midolight Friday from a dance in the Kaysville music hall, and on their way became involved in a quarret, and Pearit struck Hackin over the head with an empty beer bottle, which he drewfrom his pocket. Hackin was rendered unconscious and was left living in this state by the roadside, but was afterwards taken to the Webster barn and left to die. tiring Bishopric Honored.
