LIVELY BATTLE WITH THIEVES

Oscar and J. G. Read Capture Two Crooks and Police Gather In Others.

BURNS TERMINATE FATALITY.

Mrs. Anna Johnson Succumbs to Injuries Resulting from Gasoline Explosion—Fined for Cruelty.

Ogden, July 26.—Two thieves, David Collins and John Privy, were arrested yesterday afternoon after a hard struggle, and landed in the city jail.

Privy entered Read's harness shop on the pretext that he wanted to buy a pair of fine driving gloves. A box containing a quantity of fine gloves was placed before him on the counter. He was just trying on a pair when Collins came in and asked the clerk to get him a piece of harness strap in a hurry. Privy told him to go and wait on the fellow if he was in a hurry. The clerk did so. While the clerk's back was turned, Privy put a half dozen pairs of the gloves beneath his coat and started out. The actions of the two were observed by J. G. Read and Oscar Read, who ran after the men, one going east and the other west on Twenty-fourth street. When they came together a fight ensued. Privy struck Oscar Read a heavy blow in the mouth and another on the cheek. Oscar then he was handed one on the mouth. As there were a large number of people on the street, several came to Read's assistance. Privy tried to open his knife but C. A. Nelson, the liver man, took it from him and he was put on the sidewalk and held. George Bliton came to the assistance of J. G. Read and felled Collins and choked him down before he could get himself. The patrol wagon with officers Layne and Critchlow and Deputy Sheriff Shaw was soon on the scene and took them to the police station, but they had to put them in the jail by main force.

Quiet Pioneer Day—Miss Meyers Goes To Europe to Study Music.

Special Correspondence. Logan, Cache Co., July 24.—Pioneer day was quietly spent here today. Everybody that could get a conveyance went to the canyon or some of the groves out of town to spend the day away from the heat. Mrs. Anna B. Phillips and daughter, Miss Meyers, left this morning for Switzerland, where Miss Meyers will continue her course in music during the next two years. Mrs. Phillips expects to get her conveyance.

The Thatcher band boys returned last evening from their trip through the mountains to Montpelier. They report having had a delightful time. The boys say they could not have been so well treated as they were received "all along the line."

NEPHL

GOV. TALKS TO VETERANS.

Principal Feature of Program on Closing Day of Grand Encampment.

Nephel, Juab Co., July 25.—Governor Cutler and staff were here today to join with the Indian War veterans in their festivities, the governor being the chief speaker at the afternoon program, and attended the concert in the tabernacle in the evening. The Commercial club also tendered him a reception. In his speech before the veterans and the large crowd assembled in the park, Governor Cutler referred to the general policy of the various departments of the government, which is, he said, to protect the people and their interests; not to attack or destroy. Special reference was made to the war department, as represented by the army and navy, and the state militia. The work of this department is to defend the people and their rights and property; and to assist them to independence and development. To show that "war" for war's sake, or for unjust oppression of conquest, is foreign to the genius of the United States government, the governor took up a brief discussion of the wars engaged in by the United States, from the Revolution to the war with Spain, showing the object for which each of them was waged and the unselfish aim and beneficial outcome of each.

The governor made complimentary mention, also, of the war with the Indians, in commemoration of which this reunion is held. It was pre-eminently a reunion of protection; the lives and property of the settlers, and the advancement of the inter-mountain country in civilization being the matters at issue. The governor spoke in terms of high praise of the bravery and humanity of the veterans who took part in this war; and said that too high honor could not be shown them. Their deeds, he said, should act as a stimulus to the young men in their devotion to their country's cause in times of need. He expressed the hope that before long some substantial recognition would be given to the veterans for their splendid service.

The other numbers on the program were more than usually interesting and included recitations by Clara Breinholt of Ephraim, Lydia Jolley of Moroni; songs by John Malenon of Moroni and S. P. Anderson of Nephi; a humorous address by William Davis of Wales, and historical sketches of the Indian War Veterans' association by Etta Sidwell of Nephi.

MAPLETON.

PIONEER LAID TO REST.

Funeral Services Over Remains of Mrs. Lavina E. Ashcroft.

Special Correspondence. Mapleton, Utah Co., July 23.—The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Lavina E. Ashcroft, who died at the Mapleton ward house, presided over by Bishop William T. Tew, Mrs. Ashcroft died July 21, at her son Don's, 228 Cannon street, Salt Lake City, after an illness of about three months, from diabetes. The deceased was born at Nashville, Tenn., March 5, 1838, and was the daughter of John S. Fullmer and Mary Rice. She accepted the gospel in an early day and came to Utah in 1847 and was honored as one of the pioneers. Mrs. Ashcroft was the wife of Eli Ashcroft, a veteran of the Civil war, who preceded her death 16 months. They were among the first settlers of Mapleton, having lived here 31 years. She was the mother of 12 children, nine of whom survive her, six sons and three daughters. The speakers at the funeral, Elders James E. Hall, J. S. Boyer, and Bishop J. F. Brigham, spoke in the highest terms of her life and work.

HIT BY LIGHTNING.

Bugy Horse Killed But Occupants Are Unharmed.

Special Correspondence. Manti, Sanpete Co., July 23.—What might have been a serious accident to a number of boys of this city occurred yesterday between the city and the Glendale reservoir, where the boys went for amusement in the afternoon. Upon their return home a heavy rain and thunder storm came upon them, which became so fierce that the boys made preparations to get away as quickly as possible. They were not far from the reservoir when a bolt of lightning came down, striking the horse dead, but fortunately not one of the boys. The boy was in any way hurt. The only effect it had on any of them was that portions of their bodies felt numb for a short time. The vehicle occupied by the boys to which the horse was attached was in no way damaged.

STATE NEWS BRIEFS.

Runaway at Bingham—John Davis' day team ran away July 25, resulting in the severe injury of Seth Ely, the little 7-year-old son of Mrs. Lafayette Ely. He was thrown from the spring seat of the day, his collar bone and knees were dislocated, and one of his ankles sprained.

Funeral at Fremont—Funeral services were held July 19 in the Fremont meetinghouse over the remains of Henry Maxfield. The speakers, William A. Taylor, Hiet E. Maxfield and Patriarch Elias H. Blackburn, eulogized the life and labors of the deceased. The grave was dedicated by Priest Joseph Eckersley.

Death at Lehi—Mrs. Emily Thomas, wife of George Thomas of Eureka, died at the home of Mrs. Emma Briggs while visiting Lehi, Tuesday evening of heart failure. She was 54 years of age and leaves beside her husband, four girls and three boys. Funeral arrangements are waiting on the arrival of her daughter from Idaho.

Pioneer Killed at Franklin—On the evening of the 24th, James Haworth, a pioneer of Cache valley, 73 years of age, met his death in a peculiar manner near his home at Franklin. He was found by his sons in the roadway, unconscious, and died soon after his discovery. Mr. Haworth and family came to Franklin to celebrate Pioneer day. At about 7 o'clock in the evening he started toward his home about two miles northeast of town, on horseback. It appears that he had alighted to open a gate near his place, but when he went to get on again, the horse shied or jumped, throwing the rider on his head.

PIONEER DAY CELEBRATION.

Richfield celebrated pioneer day in a quiet but impressive manner. The band serenaded the town after which the people assembled at the tabernacle where an appropriate program was rendered. At 2 p. m. the children were given a free dance and while this was in progress there were races at the track of the Driving association. There was a light sprinkling of rain after dinner which made the afternoon and evening very pleasant. While driving to the races a team became frightened by Thomas Brown's automobile and ran away, dashing into another conveyance. Both vehicles were demolished but no one was seriously hurt.

Lehi was loyal to the memory of the pioneer of early life in Utah. After the serenading of the town by the silver and brass bands and the choir, and salutes of the guns, the people assembled in the new tabernacle, which was beautifully decorated, at 10 a. m., and listened to the best program that has been given in many years. Bishop H. C. Iverson of Salt Lake City as master of the trials and achievements of the pioneers that his remarks will long be remembered. Mrs. Wm. Ball, who crossed the plains in the first handcart company, told of her experiences, and Jacob Cox, one of the first settlers of Lehi, portrayed the settlement of Lehi and the hardships the pioneers endured. The speaking was interspersed with spicy readings, resolutions, toasts and sentiments, and the musical numbers were excellent. The afternoon was devoted to children's sports in the city park. At 3:30 Lehi crossed the teams of Salt Lake crossed the teams on the ball grounds; scores, 12 to 2 in favor of Lehi. Foot races, horse races, and a grand ball in the pavilion closed the day's festivities. The experience of that band while on the day was that Robert Ball of Lehi ball team got hit in the side with a ball early in the game which completely knocked him out and he is confined to his bed this morning from the effects of the hit.

Payson commemorated pioneer day in a fitting way. Pianos representing places of early life in Utah, the pioneers, Sunday schools, art, etc., made a nice procession, which paraded the streets and then to the park, where a good program was listened to by a large audience of boys and girls on horseback; float beehive, handcart company, Indian wickiup and Indians on wagon, farm machinery, pioneer lady's spinning wheel, float, Utah's best crop, ball teams in uniform, Heber and Park City clubs, Heber silver band, bicycle riders, goat teams, citizens in carriages. An appropriate program was given in the state house at 2:30, before a large audience of people present from all parts of the country. The afternoon was devoted to sports. Heber and Park City ball teams played a game at 3 p. m., the latter winning in a score of 8 to 4.

Heber was not behind her sister cities in honoring the founders of the commonwealth. Following the salutes of cannon and the serenading by the martial band, a grand parade was the order of the day. The procession, Columbia and Uncle Sam on white horses, float, Utah, martial band and veterans, float, sego lily, 13 original states represented by boys and girls on horseback; float beehive, handcart company, Indian wickiup and Indians on wagon, farm machinery, pioneer lady's spinning wheel, float, Utah's best crop, ball teams in uniform, Heber and Park City clubs, Heber silver band, bicycle riders, goat teams, citizens in carriages. An appropriate program was given in the state house at 2:30, before a large audience of people present from all parts of the country. The afternoon was devoted to sports. Heber and Park City ball teams played a game at 3 p. m., the latter winning in a score of 8 to 4.

BELIEVE WHAT THEY SEE.

Great throngs still visit the offices of the Boy Phenomenal every day, in the Windsor hotel, No. 255 Main street. They are there to be healed. They are there because they believe not only what they hear, but what they see each night at the southeast corner of Second West and Second South streets. Before their very eyes they behold the wonderful results of the marvelous methods of the Boy Phenomenal.

But five days more remain for the sick and afflicted of Salt Lake City and vicinity in which to receive treatment from the Boy Phenomenal, under the liberal offer of the great Fer-Don treatment for just the price of medicines prescribed.

ONE OF SIMILAR CASES.

But Five Days Remain in Which to Receive Treatment for Just the Price of Medicines Prescribed.

When a young woman, cultivated, refined and modest, overcomes her natural reluctance toward publicity, gives her photograph and testimonial concerning benefit afforded her by the Boy Phenomenal and the great Fer-Don, there surely must be some great motive actuating her.

That is the case of Miss Rose Adams, of N. 574 Cully avenue, this city. For a long time Miss Adams suffered humiliation and great pain from a tapeworm. She tried many local physicians and various remedies, but did not secure the desired result.

MISS ADAMS CONSULTS BOY PHENOMENAL.

After much persuasion and still doubting, Miss Adams finally consulted the Boy Phenomenal. She took one treatment. After that, she was a comparatively well woman. One treatment by the Boy Phenomenal, and Miss Adams returned to her home. In a short time, a monster tapeworm, 40 feet in length, passed from her, and since then she has suffered not one whit.

Not alone is Miss Adams in the good done by the Boy Phenomenal and the great Fer-Don. There are many other cases bearing out the claims of both. The names and addresses of these patients have been published time and again, and prove that the Boy Phenomenal and the great Fer-Don make good their claims.
