STOCKHOLDERS GOT ONLY 8.

Demanded to See the Books But Company Denics Jurisdiction of Court In the Controversy,

Answering the demand of stockholders that they should have the right to Inspect the books of the Wells-Fargo Express company, counsel for that corporation admitted in legal papers filed with Justice White In the supreme court, Brooklya, yesterday, says the New York Times, that the property had earned "about" 49 per cent, for the year ending June 30, 1906, and had carned 32 per cent upon its capital stock for the three years preceding. The Wells-Fargo company has been paying dividends at the rate of 8 per cent per annum for some time, and it was this difference between the dividend rate and what they believed to be the real carnings of the com-pany that led the stockholders to start the fight upon the management of E. H, Harriman that started the present proceeding. The stockholders have applied for a writ of mandamus directing the sec-retary of the Wells-Fargo company to allow them access to the books. Rob-ert W, Pomeroy of Buffalo, the hold-er of 1,000 shares of the stock, is the principal petitioner, but he is joined by the stockholders' committee, repreby the stockholders' committee, repre-sented by the brokerage firm of W. D. Stokes & Co., which has united 56 per cent of the 1,900 stockholders of the Wells-Fargo company. The stock-holders are represented by Samuel Untermyer and P. J. Ress of this city and L. L. Babcock of Buffalo, who is Mr. Pomeroy's personal counsel. Sul-livan & Cromwell appear for the Wells-Fargo company and William Wells-Fargo company and William Nelson Cromwell and William J. Cur-tis were in court yesterday. Mr. Undermyer argued for the stockholders, and Justice White reserved decision. Mr. Curtis denied the jurisdiction of New York courts on the ground that the Wells-Fargo company is a Colorado corporation. Justice White over-ruled the objections as preliminary to the argument, however, and Mr. Un-termyer opened for the stockholders. He recited the fact that the $$,000,-000 of Wells-Fargo stock was dis-tributed among 1,900 stockholders. and then went on:

'Although the stock is so distributed, the company has been under the control of one man, Mr. Harriman, and the stockholders have been unable to find out for five years what the earnings of the property have been and what the profits." He stated that the stockholders' the stated that the stockholders committee was formed primraily for the purpose of getting some informa-tion about Wells-Fargo affairs, and that it had desired the declaration of a dividend of at least 16 per cent, instead of the 8 per cent which was at first declared and subsequently increased to 10 per cent, after the com-mittee had protested. Each house is surrounded by its own private park and grounds, standing well away from and above the smooth, evenly graded drive, and only partially glimpsed through dense green bowers of aspen, maple, birch and pine. On the cool spacious veran-das and flowery terraces are hammocks and rustic rockers, from whose comfortable depths one may content-edly read, or jest with pleasant friends the happy hours away; or one may dreamily watch the ever-changing play of sunshine and shade in and out of the canyons opposite, or on the blue hills of Parley's, Red Butte and

City Creek, far away. From the deeply hidden or spark-ling brook wells up the laughing splash of falling water, while shy, wild birds in the werdant foliage overhead sing sweetly the woodland songs that cities never hear.

The social life is comparable only with the open house and generous in-formal hospitality of the old country mes of the south before the These delightful places usually have their own-or mutual-piped water systems, and stables, bathrooms, venient kitchens, cool, open, screened diningrooms, and wide verandas, are considered most certainly essential. "The fact," said Mr. Untermyer, "that since this petition has been filed the stock has increased more than $100 a share in price shows that these gen-tlemen in control, unable to obtain proxies otherwise, have been actually buying the stock in the market."

He held that the stockholders had a right to believe that by this appraisement and other similar moves the Har-riman management of the company had concealed millions of surplus earnings, and that if the truth were known the real surplus of the Wells-Farge com-pany would be nearer $20,000.000 than $12,000,000, as admitted

"This committee." Mr. Curlis declared. "was organized for a contest in the coming election, and I doubt the wis-dom of the courts of this state becoming parties to any such financial dis-pute. It is not a judicial question; it is a financial one, one of corporate or-been an open book," he continued, "and there are no allegations here of misimanagement nor that any one has profited personally by his conenction with it. It is foolish to say that the managers have depressed the stock." Mr. Curtis rested on his contention that the New York courts could not issue a writ against a foreign corporation and intimated that if it were granted from the Second department in Brooklyn the company might not hold itself liable to contempt proceedings in disobeying it. "If the Harriman side were sincere said Mr. Untermyer in closing, "it would offer to give us the information we seek instead of denying the jurisdiction of the court.

Later advices from New York state that the court held with the Harriman side of the controversy, ruling that the Wells-Fargo & Co., being a Colerado corporation, the New York courts could not interfere.
