

PORT ARTHUR LITTLE DAMAGED.

Notwithstanding Many Bombardments in External Appearance It Remains the Same.

PEOPLE NOT FRIGHTENED NOW.

Getting Used to Attacks—Their Gaiety and Good Spirits Are Surprising.

St. Petersburg, March 18.—A correspondent of the Associated Press who has just visited Port Arthur telegraphs from Mukden today as follows: "Despite the external aspect of the city remains unchanged, although the enemy fired an enormous number of projectiles. The battleships and cruisers bear marks of fighting. The black clouds of smoke from their stacks overhang the town. The cruiser Phoca stands almost repaired in the dry dock.

"Near the entrance of the harbor can be seen the charred wrecks of the Japanese freshets. Aboard one of the Japanese ships was found the body of a Japanese officer who had shot himself. He had a chart showing the positions of the ships and the spot where they sank.

"Six hours of firing by the heaviest guns during the last bombardment did not demolish a single building, but cost the Japanese a single ship and a few lives. The husband and child of a Japanese woman, who was decapitated by fragments of shells flying through a window, were unhurt.

"The enemy is endeavoring to stand as far as possible outside the range of the Russian batteries rendered their own fire ineffective. The people are being used to bombardments, and the coming used to bombardments, and the Japanese are little alarmed. Occupations are resuming their normal course, and many stores have reopened.

"Not a few women heroically refuse to leave Port Arthur, regardless of the danger. One of these is a woman with a husband who was killed by a shell fragment, and she is now nursing her wounded husband.

"A branch of the Russo-Chinese bank is doing business, and many wives of officers and soldiers are returning as victims of mercy. The land defenses are strengthened every day, and the troops are eager to fight. The gaiety and good spirits of the people are surprising.

"During the engagement between the Russian and Japanese torpedo boat destroyers the boats came into close quarters, being within a few fathoms of each other. A torpedo from the Russian destroyer Viatnik tore off the arm of one of the enemy's destroyers, her captain standing on the bridge as she sank amid wild cries.

"The Japanese squadron is now reported to consist of the battleships Mikasa, Matsushima, Misaka, and Fuji.

"Port Arthur is exceedingly gloomy at night, all lights being out. Pickets patrol the streets, stopping all pedestrians.

"Three Chinese bandits a few days ago attacked a house in the center of town. The matter of the house killed two of the bandits and a third was killed by officers.

"The understanding at Port Arthur is that the Japanese are proposing to effect a landing west of the Lia river."

TRUCKEE DAM.

One That Holds Back Tahoe's Waters in Danger.

Truckee, Cal., March 18.—The big dam at the source of the Truckee river, which confines the waters of Lake Tahoe, is in great danger of giving way. The lake is higher than at any time in its history, and the dam, built 30 years ago by the Donner Boom & Lumber company, is said to be in a dangerous condition. If the lake rises eight inches more it will run over the top.
