A Colored Avenger. CHIGAGO, S.—The following inter-e-ting Washington news is received: Robert, the President's colored driv-er, who drove to the depot yester-day with the President's sons, was terribly excited over the affair. He says: "Somebody came out of the depot and said the President is dead. I felt that sick I almost fainted away: I said to Mr. Secretary Brown, "What will they do with the man t at shot him?" Owing to the recent death of Thomas Garfield, the Fresident's uncle, the news of the Pre-sident's assassination was not brok-eu to the old lady until Sanday morning. A telegram was received by a member of the family stating that when the sad news was imparted to her, the old lady very calmly remarked "God help me!" This was all she said at the time. Since This then, however, more encouraging news has been received by her. The New York Tribune says: The Times and Ballimore American Ide take four horses out of the stadisgraced American journalism yesble, hitch 'em one to each arm and erday by words of anger and strife, leg, and then, O Lordy, wouldn't I love to drive those teams until there wasn't a shred left of dat devil to f the President's great courage will pull him through, and if he can live the nation will rejoke, and the aw-ful glimpse we have had of the abyss will teach us all to bear and

An Assassin's Legal Doinge. NEW YORK, 4.—A lawyer in this city, who has had some indirect legal dealings with the Chicago law-yer Charles Guitteau, says: Some four years ago he was practising in this city and was in the habit of taking claims to collect on shares, namely, to receive for his services half the proceeds. Guitteau used to make sufficient collections to secure his half, but the client never obtained anything. The Herald ex-posed the whole proceeding, and the result was that Guitteau found New York too hot to nold him and went west, finally settling down in Chicago.
