

CHILDREN COME TO THE FAIR.

Thousands Enjoy the Great Exhibit—They Crowd in When the Sunshine Follows the Early Morning Shower.

Children's day at the State Fair opened inauspiciously enough to discomfit most people connected with the enterprise, and to make the little tots feel blue at the prospect of not being able to see the exposition. There was a drizzling rain in the morning, following a night of wind, but shortly after 8 o'clock there came a rift in the clouds. A little rain fell occasionally during the forenoon, but the clouds raised, and the day developed most beautifully.

To say the children wanted to come to the fair is putting it mildly. Parents say they wouldn't stay away—that many of them came without breakfast. Certainly there were lots of little fellows around before 8 o'clock, and by 10 a. m. they came in by hundreds. Later the number was augmented to thousands.

It would be difficult to say which particular exhibit drew the most notice from the youthful visitors. They were "struck" on the candy shows when they entered the building. Then the electric train tickled them immensely. They were pleased at the flowers, and when it came to the fruit, their sparkling eyes told what an appetite there was for "just a bite" of the big peaches, pears, or apples. The butter, cheese, squash and carrots had no particular fascination after the fruit show, but when the poultry and rabbit show was visited, the boys especially were delighted. The big horses and cattle received a goodly share of attention, as did also the sheep and swine—the latter being in the way of a grant. One look at a pig is enough for a boy, especially if his father keeps them, and requires him to feed them, while a distant sniff was plenty for the girls. The stone show was well noticed, and the bear in the fur exhibit was a taking card. The women's work received special attention from the girls particularly, and the hand was a notable feature. As for the musical selections, large crowds. All day the children had a good time, and the State Fair is a splendid achievement if only for the measurable benefit it brought to Utah's best crop during the day.

HE LOST HIS WATCH.

C. U. Bransford of Spanish Fork Has Experience on Commercial Street.

C. U. Bransford came in from Spanish Fork Wednesday and in the evening up in a saloon on Commercial street in a pretty drunken condition. He dropped off to sleep and a couple of the denizens of the street came in and in a few seconds relieved him of a valuable gold watch and chain and some cash.

Bransford awoke up some yesterday and called at the police station and reported the matter and furnished the officers with a description of the watch.

Bransford and his ticker are not likely to meet again.

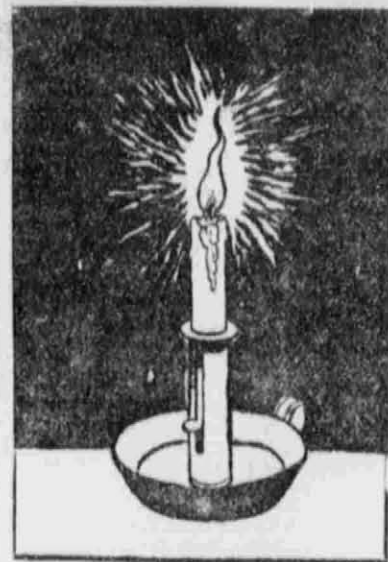

TWO BIG SALES OF SHEEP.

E. H. Thornton Disposes of Six Thousand Head.

Two large sales of sheep have been made in Albany county, Wyoming, during the past week. The first of these was made by E. H. Thornton at Rock river several days ago to a Nebraska party, whose name was not learned. Mr. Thornton disposed of 6,000 head of ewes and lambs out of his flock, retaining two large bands of 5,000 head. He has been looking for a buyer for some time past, in order to reduce his herds.

The purchaser will ship the sheep to Nebraska, where they will be fattened for market during the winter. The price paid was $3.50 for ewes and $2 for lambs, which nets Mr. Thornton a handsome sum.

The other sale which has just been made transfers 8,000 head belonging to A. G. Dunn at Lookout to Bunker & Adams, large sheep owners of Well county, Colorado. These gentlemen had four men in the city today who will go to Lookout to superintend the loading of the sheep for shipment. They will be shipped to Horse creek over the Cheyenne and Northern, where they will be fed this winter. Messrs. Bunker & Adams have immense feeding pens in Well county and cut 15,000 tons of alfalfa yearly on their ranches. They

SHOT AT THE LANDLADY.

Henry Tuttle, in a Drunken Rage, Nearly Commits Murder.

Henry W. Tuttle, who has been rooming at 33½ South West Temple street, took a shot at his landlady last evening as the result of a drunken spree. Fortunately the ball missed its mark. Tuttle, it seems is very ugly when under the influence of liquor. In that condition he came home last evening and flew into a passion because Miss Bowley would not accompany him to the fair. Mrs. Bowley tried to pacify him with the above result. Tuttle is a traveling man for the Anderson-Taylor Produce company.

He was placed under arrest by Officer Hilton and was booked for assault with a deadly weapon. When arrested he denied doing any shooting but was too drunk to talk rationally and was locked in the drunk house to sober up.

NO GOOD REASON FOR CATTLE KICK

Board of Directors Throw Out the Protest Against Mr. White.

SUPERVISOR WAS RIGHT.

Cattlemen All Knew Months Before That He Was There, and an Exhibition—They Were Justly Treated.

There was a better feeling among the cattlemen at the fair today, as these realized the eminent fairness of the board of directors in averting the protest made by some of the exhibitors. Even the protesters felt better as the matter was talked over, and concluded that they had made a mistake in their action. This being the case, all is smooth sailing now, and the erstwhile opposing sides speak as they pass by, like sensible men.

The board of directors took the matter up at last evening's meeting, and heard the case fully. Indeed, there was no little to hear that it did not take much time. The facts, briefly stated, are these: Mr. White, against whom the protest was made, was known to the protesters for months as one of the department supervisors. It was also known that he would be an exhibitor, as he is each year of the fair. Not a word of objection was heard, till Mr. White came in with his magnificent animals, and then there was a fury. He had been beaten in some contests at the last fair, and this season went to work to retrieve his luck. He did so, by hard work and good judgment, and there isn't a question but that he earned every prize he got. The judges selected were among the best qualified men for the place in the West, including John Sparks, the big Nevada cattlemen.

There the matter rests. The protesters received all the premiums honestly won, and are taking defeat in some quarters in a more graceful manner than in the first flush of disappointment. If they want to get ahead again, they know how to do it—by securing and exhibiting better cattle, if they can. All the other stockmen express themselves as well satisfied.

The Huddart company's protest was admitted to have merit in it, though the judges were sustained in giving to Mr. Williams the premium for the best display of foliage plants. The board of directors, however, virtually decided that the Huddart company's was quite as good, and while the judges' decision was permitted to stand the matter was made even by awarding to the Huddart company a special gold medal for excellence of exhibit in plants and flowers.

There were a few minor objections in other departments, but on investigation these were found to be without real occasion, and now everything is plain sailing.

NEW FIVE MILE MOTOR RECORD.

Charlie Turville and Oscar Julius Ride the Distance in 7:51.

HODGERT BEATS FREEMAN.

Erstwhile Salt Lake Amateur Develops Wonderful Speed and Captures the Professional Handicap.

The two events at the saucer last evening went off without a hitch and furnished a splendid entertainment for the crowd present. A new Western five mile motor record was established by Charlie Turville and Oscar Julius, and Roy Hodgert won the one-mile handicap, professional, leaving Freeman and the others far in the rear.

The motor race was run in heats, best two out of three in five-mile heats, and the machines worked to perfection. The judges were sustained in giving to Mr. Williams the premium for the best display of foliage plants. The board of directors, however, virtually decided that the Huddart company's was quite as good, and while the judges' decision was permitted to stand the matter was made even by awarding to the Huddart company a special gold medal for excellence of exhibit in plants and flowers.

There were a few minor objections in other departments, but on investigation these were found to be without real occasion, and now everything is plain sailing.

GAMES IN THE EAST.
Brooklyn Wins Three Straights from Boston—St. Louis Wins One.

Boston seems unable to make any showing against the Brooklynites, who, by winning yesterday's game, made it three straight from the Beaneaters. New York met its usual fate, at the hands of the Quakers but, St. Louis broke the spell of ill luck hovering over it, and defeated Cincinnati in a very interesting game.

Creedon Knocked Out.
Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 4—Jack Root, of Chicago, knocked out Dan Creedon, of Australia, in one round at Convention hall tonight in the presence of 5,000 spectators. The fight lasted two minutes and thirty-four seconds. Root landed a hard right swing on the jaw, flooring Creedon, and ending the fight. Creedon outweighed his opponent twenty pounds, but at no time was he able to land a damaging blow. Root was the aggressor from the start, hitting the Australian at will. Root escaped without a scratch. Creedon struggled to his feet after ten had been counted.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES ON.
United States Golf Association Tournament in Progress.

Club Golf Links, Wheaton, Ill., Oct. 4—With weather conditions which were conducive to good golf if the southerly wind was properly gauged, the United States Golf association opened the championship games on the Chicago golf club course today with sixty-six starters. When the champion of seventy-two holes is concluded tomorrow night, the winner will be world's champion, because of the presence in the competition of J. H. Taylor, champion of Great Britain, former British champion Harry Vardon and United States champion Willie Smith.

At the end of eighteen holes of play, one-quarter of the necessary route, no records had been broken, and nearly every contestant had been penalized by bad putting.

Champion J. H. Taylor, although he said he was sick, negotiated his round of eighteen holes in 41:36-78, a grand score considering his many missed putts. His partner, Tom Hutchinson of Shinnock Hills, was out in 40 and in 42, a poor 82 for him. Harry Vardon was not nervous, although he and his partner, Willie Smith of Midlothian, were followed by a great delivery, but the player himself said, "Vardon was out in 40 and in 42, a total of 79. David Bell of Midlothian made eighteen holes in 78, and is feared as a prominent factor in the remainder of the route. Willie Smith totaled 82.

MORBED BY SPECTATORS.
Eddie Burke an Old Player Gets Into Trouble.

Helena, Mont., Oct. 4—The last game of the baseball season on Helena grounds wound up by the spectators mobbing Eddie Burke, an old league player, who was umpire. He had been giving Helena the worst of it right along on balls and strikes, and in the third inning he ordered one of the Helena men out of the game for questioning a decision.

This precipitated the beginning of a fight, and in a few seconds Burke was at the bottom of a pile of a dozen men, and when he got up it was found that his face had been pushed in by contact with the bats into which he hid in an effort to get one for self defense. He was bloody but not hurt. Helena and Great Falls are tied, and the deciding game will be played in Butte tomorrow.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS.
Prof. Eaton Says the Team Must be Composed of Pupils.

At the High School yesterday afternoon there was a meeting of members of the foot ball team. Prof. Eaton was present and talked to the boys on athletics and study. He said that he favored athletics and hoped that the teams would be strong this year, but it must be remembered that their education should not be neglected in their desire for sport. Prof. Eaton also said that the team must be composed of High School students and those who were not regularly enrolled students would be excused. This action let out Doc Ritter and he has applied for a position on the Y. M. C. A. team. He was the High School quarter-back.

THE WONDERS OF ICEBERGS.

All the architecture of the world is represented in nature's iceberg designs. Sometimes a little berg will have the appearance of an Arab's white tent as it rides on a desert-looking sea; another, its sharp outlines softened in the vaporous atmosphere, will appear like a domed mosque in green marble. A cluster of Chinese pagodas comes drifting slowly down the current, followed by a stately Gothic cathedral, early style. Then comes a Colosseum, and beyond a huge man-of-war floats down the current, its stem submerged, with foam grandly breaking over its stern seventy feet high.

For every cubic foot of ice above water, there are seven cubic feet below, therefore, quite impossible to realize its full size; the mind can hardly conceive that an object which has all the appearance of actually riding on the surface should in reality only be raising one-eighth of its bulk above the water.

Even those who have studied icebergs at close quarters find it impossible to conceive their colossal bulk. A berg that stranded in Melville Bay, for instance, weighed 2,000,000,000 tons! It was aground in water half a mile deep. Another berg was found to measure two and a half miles in length and two miles in breadth.—September Pearson's.
