EVENING NEWS.

Saturday, April 9, 1887.

HEALTH HINTS, ETC.

The temperature of living rooms
should be from sixty-five to seventy degrees.

Hot water is the best thing that can be used to heat a sprain or a bruise.

The rooms of a house need ventilation
in the day-time as well as at night.
The best time to ventilate is in the day-time, when the sun is shining,
and the air is fresh.

Nothing is better for a sore throat
than a gargle of salt and water. It may be used as often as desired, and it is little else than common sense.
A complete stock of Burial Robes and Ushers. Goods of every description kept constantly on hand.

Black or White Heures.
Bodies preserved without ice for any length of time.

Particular attention given to embalming,
shipping and care of bodies.
