LIEUT. CLARK HONORED.

Comrades Present Him with a Gold Watch Prior to His Departure.

Captain Adna G. Clarke, H. company, Twentieth Kansas volunteers, and now first lieutenant with the Twenty-second Light battery at Fort Douglas, was presented last evening, by his artillery command, with a gold watch, on which is engraved the monogram of his name with the masonic emblem of the Thirty-second degree. Sergt. Black made the presentation speech, and the lieutenant responded as well as he could under the circumstances. The following letter accompanied the gift, the members of the battery having all signed it: "Twenty-second Battery Field Artillery, Fort Douglas, Utah, Sept. 19, 1904.—First Lieutenant Adna G. Clarke, Artillery Corps, United States Army. Sir: The undersigned soldiers of the Twenty-second battery field artillery deeply regretting your departure from among us, desire your acceptance of the accompanying memorial, in testimony of our affection and respect for you as an officer and gentleman, and as a faint expression of our appreciation of your kindly efforts to render our connection with the battery most pleasant and agreeable as also profitable to ourselves.

"Deeply regretting that our connection should be severed, we shall gratefully remember our association in the past, and hope also to be held in pleasurable remembrance by you, hoping that every success will attend you in your chosen career, and that you will eventually reach that pinnacle in the army that many desire and very few attain. Knowing your undoubted ability and energy, it is the hope of the men of this battery to see this object. We remain, very respectfully,

"MEMBERS OF THE TWENTY-SECOND BATTERY."

Lieut. Clarke was honorably mustered out of the volunteer service in October, 1899, after distinguishing himself by meritorious service and gallantry before the enemy in the Philippines and was commissioned first lieutenant of artillery in August, 1901. He is marked ninety-fifth on the first lieutenant list in the last army register. He is a graduate in arts and law of the University of Kansas, and as an officer and a man he stands in high esteem in army circles. Lieut. Clarke has been transferred from the light to the heavy artillery service, and is ordered to Fort Flagler, Wash., for service with the One Hundred and Sixth battery of coast artillery. He leaves with the best wishes of many friends in this city, as well as with those of the entire Fort Douglas garrison.

SPLENDID FRUIT.

Wayne County Produces Some of the Finest Grown in the State.

That Wayne county is capable of producing some of the finest fruit grown in the state, is evident from samples brought here by Elder Joseph W. McMurrin, who has just completed a tour of that section. The samples referred to are apples of the Wolf River variety, grown in the orchard of E. P. Pector of Calmesville. The fruit is absolutely free from worms and some of the apples measure 1 1/2 inches in circumference and weigh as high as 24 ounces. Elder McMurrin says there is an abundance of such fruit in that locality and that peaches are grown there that measure 1 1/2 inches in circumference and are of most excellent quality. Elder McMurrin did what he could to induce fruit growers there to place some of it on exhibition at the state fair, and this will very likely be done.

Speaking of conditions in Wayne generally, Elder McMurrin says they have a splendid country down there, but it has been kept back by the unrest of the people, who come in, remain for a time and then seek pastures new, only to find that the life there is much more desirable than the country they went into. This year the crops in Wayne county have been excellent and the prospects for continued prosperity were never better. What the county needs is a class of citizens who would be willing to remain there, and that the country could be developed and built up. With such people Elder McMurrin feels that it would be but a matter of a few years until Wayne would be one of the banner counties of the state. For those in search of good homes that section offers many excellent opportunities.

TRIBUTES TO THE DEAD.

Remains of Mrs. Irvine and Miss Anderson Laid to Rest.

Funeral services over the remains of Clara Irvine were held in the Twentieth ward meetinghouse yesterday afternoon. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. Counselor George F. Gibbs conducted the meeting. The ward choir, under the direction of D. J. Watts, sang, "I Need Thee Every Hour," "Sister, Thou Wilt Mild and Lovely," and "O, My Father," while Mrs. Mary Romney Ross sang "O, Grave, Where Is Thy Victory?" Remarks eulogistic of the deceased were made by Elders J. F. Bennett, H. W. Naisbitt, Andrew Burt, Jos. E. Taylor, Geo. F. Gibbs, Bishop James Watson, and Elder J. M. Wheeler of Silver City, where Mrs. Irvine resided for a time. The opening prayer was offered by Elder L. W. Kichler, and Counselor Joseph F. Simmons pronounced the benediction. The remains were followed to the cemetery by a large number of relatives and friends. Interment was in the city cemetery.

The funeral of Miss Emma Anderson was held yesterday afternoon from the undertaking parlors of Joseph William Taylor on West Temple street. Beautiful music was furnished by a select quartet, who rendered, among other numbers, the inspiring selection, "Some Day We'll Understand," from which Bishop Orson F. Whitney, the principal speaker, took his text, delivering a forceful and impressive sermon. The speakers paid high tribute to the young lady's many excellent qualities and offered words of comfort and consolation to the bereaved ones. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends and an abundance of beautiful floral emblems, all testifying to the esteem in which the deceased was held. Interment was in the city cemetery.

BADLY SHAKEN UP.

Fravola, the Girl Loop-the-Loop Artist, Hurt Last Night.

When Fravola, the female loop-the-loop artist with the Collins and Blackburn shows at the Salt Palace, performed her remarkable act last night, there was a great deal of excitement among the large crowd of spectators that swarmed into the place. There was a slight accident as the ball, in which the woman makes her dangerous ride, struck the net at the foot of the loop. Some of the things with which the ball is closed, burst as the net was reached, and Fravola received a severe shaking up and her head was cut by coming in contact with the ropes. But the statement that she was seriously injured is an error. After she was taken from the ball she was quite dizzy, but soon composed herself and was seen walking around the grounds later. The act was performed in the presence of a large crowd, and many thought the woman was badly hurt until she stopped smilingly out of the ball. It was quite late when the feat was attempted, as the loop had just been completed. The heavy ball was rolled to the top of the incline, and Fravola was placed inside and the ball closed and fastened though it seems not so. At a signal the great ball was started on its dizzy ride. Before half the distance had been covered it was going at a terrific rate of speed. There was a cry from the spectators as the huge ball made the platform into a long net. It was then that the things which held the ball together broke and the woman received a bad shaking up and received a slight cut on the head. She was quickly removed from the net and made her way to her dressing room. Mr. Blackburn and Manager Heath stated today that the woman was not at all seriously hurt; that she had not been removed to a hospital as reported, and that the accident would be repeated, but next time more care will be taken that the ball is securely bound so there will be much less chance of an accident.

ANOTHER ATTRACTION.

Edwards Will Loop the Loop and Leap the Gap This Week.

The management of the carnival at the Salt Palace stated last evening that arrangements had been completed for one of the most daring and thrilling acts ever attempted, and that it will be something entirely new, they say, to Salt Lake. Edwards, known as Dare Devil Edwards, proposes to ride from the dome of the Salt Palace down a steep incline, loop a loop and then leap a gap of several feet, going through the dangerous journey on a bicycle. Edwards stated that he had performed the feat several times, and that it was something that made Davalo's loop the loop seem insignificant.

The work of erecting the platform will be commenced today, and it is expected that it will be completed by the end of the week, or in time for a performance of the occasion of the Democratic gathering at the resort. Manager Blackburn said efforts would be made to have it finished by Friday night. On that evening the last race meet of the season will be given. There will be match races and motor races, and the track management says the program will be the biggest of the season. The free performances will be given on after the race meet, and the carnival people are anxious to have Edwards ready for his act by Friday night, so that it can be added to the outside shows.

HAYSTACKS BURNED.

Those of Edward Wilson of Payson Destroyed by Fire.

(Special to the "News.") Payson, Sept. 21.—The haystacks of Edward Wilson were partially destroyed by fire early this morning. The blaze was discovered about 2 o'clock and vigorous work brought it under control before the stacks were entirely consumed. Mr. Wilson had a similar experience this time last year, which leads to the belief that it is the work of incendiaries. There is no clue, however, to the party or parties responsible.

Amusements

Too many primaries, too many Mutuals, too much heat, or too much Wizard of Oz, or a combination of all these causes, hurt the attendance at the Theater last night, that is, in the parquette regions. Up stairs there was a good attendance and any amount of enthusiasm. An occupant of one of the stalls was Mr. Marchmont, accompanied by his wife. He is the well known author of the novel "By Right of Sword," and he seemed to find as much pleasure in the attitude of the audience towards his story, as the audience itself showed to the players.

After we have pardoned the big improbability with which the story opens, viz. the resemblance of the traveling American to a Russian officer, a resemblance so keen that even the officer's sister was deceived, one can follow the play with genuine enjoyment. While it is on the order of the most lurid of melodramas, it belongs in the popular class of such plays. It is full of novelty, well staged, handsomely costumed, and in the main the characters were very well played. Mr. Ralph Stuart, as the dashing American, has high class comedy talents, something after the fashion of Robert Edson, and in all the thrilling situations in which he was thrown he never failed to score with the audience. The part of the leading lady was charmingly portrayed by Miss Wright, and the villain's role was filled in good fashion by Mr. La Rue. Mr. Armstrong did the part of the American consul in a many way, and Mr. Helton in the role of Bennett gave an excellent comedy sketch. Some of the other male characters need strengthening, and Miss Mayo in the part of the Countess was scarcely convincing. There was a theatrical presentation, full of throbs and interest from start to finish, mingled with natural and fetching comedy, will find their tastes well suited in "By Right of Sword." The last performance will be given this evening.

Mr. George Bowles, accompanied by his wife, was at the Theater last evening. Mr. Bowles is advance manager of Frank Daniels. He and his wife are close friends of Miss Sallie Fisher, leading lady of the Dilept company. Mr. Bowles says that Miss Fisher and her mother are looking forward with eagerness to meeting their Salt Lake friends.

At the Grand tonight that very successful play "York State Polka" is its engagement, and will be followed tomorrow night by the Russian drama "For Her Sake."

Many Persons Have Catarrh of Kidneys, Or Catarrh of Bladder and Don't Know It.

President Newhof and War Correspondent Richards Were Promptly Cured By Pe-ru-na.

Mr. C. B. Newhof, 10 Delamare street, Albany, N. Y., President Montefiore Club, writes:

"Since my advanced age I find that I have been frequently troubled with urinary ailments. The bladder seemed irritated, and my physician said that it was catarrh caused by a protracted cold which would be difficult to overcome on account of my advanced years. I took Peruna, hardly daring to believe that I would be helped, but I found to my relief that I soon began to mend. The irritation gradually subsided and the urinary difficulties passed away. I have enjoyed excellent health now for the past seven months. I enjoy my meals, sleep soundly, and am as well as I was twenty years ago. I give all praise to Peruna."—C. B. Newhof.

Suffered From Catarrh of Kidneys, Threatened With Nervous Collapse, Cured by Pe-ru-na.

Mr. F. B. Richards, 609 E. Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., War Correspondent, writes: "Exactly six years ago I was ordered to Cuba as staff correspondent of the New York Sun. I was in charge of a Sun Dispatch boat through the Spanish American War. The effect of the tropical climate and the nervous strain showed plainly on my return to the states. Lassitude, depression to the verge of melancholia, and incessant kidney trouble made me practically an invalid. This undesirable condition continued, despite the best of treatment. Finally a brother newspaper man, who like myself had served in the war, induced me to give a faithful trial to Peruna. I did so. In a short time the lassitude left me, my kidneys resumed a healthy condition, and a complete cure was effected. I cannot too strongly recommend Peruna to those suffering with kidney trouble. Today I am able to work as hard as at any time in my life, and the examiner for a leading insurance company pronounced me "A" risk. Peruna cures catarrh of the kidneys, of the bladder, liver and other pelvic organs, simply because it cures catarrh wherever located. No other systemic catarrh remedy has as yet been devised. Insist upon having Peruna. There are no medicines that can be substituted.

PROF. C. B. NEWHOF, Suffered From Catarrh of Bladder.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh. There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used of and on for twenty years. Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.
