

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Harry B. Cox, an ingenious young electrician, living at Ferubank, ten miles from Cincinnati, has invented a telephonic trumpet with which the ordinary voice may be heard over four miles at sea.

The Dayton, Florida, Messenger, states that a man is roaming about the streets of that place proclaiming himself to be John the Baptist. He has long hair and whiskers, and an uninviting appearance generally.

"The Myths and Moths of the Hawaiian Islands" is the title of a volume of legends and folklore to be published in the autumn by King Kalakaua. In the compilation of this interesting royal volume the King has been assisted by ex-U. S. Minister R. M. Daggett.

The Chicago papers are making lively comments upon the situation of the "Boodler" convicts of Cook County jail as compared with that of the other prisoners. The latter are allowed to see visitors twice a week while the upper seven hold a reception daily. They have all the delicacies of the season and have an immense ice box taken into the institution in which to keep the good things cool and fresh.

The troubles in the Hawaiian islands are by no means over. The new organic law virtually disfranchises the Kanakas or natives, and keeps them out of the legislature by fixing a property qualification for voters and members of the house of nobles, while the pay of members of the lower house is reduced to a starvation rate. There will probably be a home rule revolution at Honolulu, which will end by the worsening of the natives and confirming the foreign grip which is largely American.

William De Long, while traveling on a passenger train, a few days ago, on his way from St. Paul to Dakota, had a very unpleasant experience as a somnambulist. Soon after midnight he got a seat to himself and fell asleep. In his sleep he imagined that there was about to be a collision, and he arose, rushed to the platform and leaped from the train, which was running at full speed. His injuries are: Collar bone broken, two ribs broken, face and head badly cut. There are fears of serious internal injuries.

A romantic story is told about a good looking Nebraska widow. Recently she secured the affections of quite a number of respectable farmers living near a place called Wyman. She was lately ordered to leave the country by a band of "regulators," under the penalty of a coat of tar and feathers. Nothing daunted by the threat, the widow bought a double barrel shotgun and awaited developments. When the "regulators" approached the house to carry out the threat, the sight of a loaded gun pointed from one of the windows deterred them, and one of the number, in admiration of the woman's pluck, advanced under a flag of truce, proposed marriage and was accepted on the spot. Then a parson was called in, the marriage was celebrated, and the night wound up with a round of festivities.

A startling tragedy occurred a few days ago near Point Pleasant, West Virginia. For several months Amos and Bradley Townsend, cousins, had both been paying attentions to Miss Eunice Laidly, all living near the above named place. Each lover had begged her to accept him and to discard the other. On the evening of the horrible occurrence both were at Miss Laidly's home, and finally she declared that they should "draw straws" to decide who should become her husband. This was agreed to, and Bradley Townsend won the lady's hand. Amos at once withdrew and started for home, leaving his successful rival sitting with the girl on the porch. A few minutes after Amos' departure the report of a gun rang out, and Bradley Townsend was horror-stricken to find that his sweetheart had fallen dead with a bullet through her heart. Amos, who was undoubtedly the assassin, immediately disappeared from that part of the country and had not, at last accounts, been seen.

Hopt's demeanor and conduct during the last days and hours of his life, up to the moment when he received the bullets of the executioners in his heart, constituted one of the most striking exhibitions of stoicism on record. A stubborn will and the love of approbation were two of his most prominent characteristics. He remarked to an acquaintance about a couple of days before he was shot: "You shall see that I will not flinch. No one will ever be able to say that Fred Hopt faltered in the face of death." One can understand how a man with a clean record, unstained by crime, can face death in a good cause with undisturbed equanimity. But calmness and nerves unshaken on the part of the criminal who receives the just reward of his deeds is much more remarkable. In the one case the subject is sustained by a moral consciousness of right, which robs death of its terror inspiring aspect, while the criminal who goes to his doom as the just penalty of his misdeeds has no such support.

Uncle Sam owns $75,000,000 worth of buildings and not a cent of insurance on any of them. They are, practically, fireproof. The Astors and some of the other large real estate owners act on the same policy.

AMONG THE MAORIES.

Latter day Saint Schools Established Among Them.

Elder Nelson S. Bishop, writing from Hastings, Hawks Bay, New Zealand, July 4th, 1887, says:

"I have been here among the Maori people nine months. The first six months I was teaching school at Mauhaka, Mahia District. Since then I have been laboring as a traveling Elder in the Hawks Bay District.

We have three schools now in running order, in the mission; and there will be two more started immediately, which causes the Saluts to rejoice to see the interest that is being taken for their welfare.

Our worthy president, William Paxman, and his co-laborers are alive to their calling, and with the aid of the Spirit of God there is being a great change made with quite a number of this people. They are leaving off their bad habits, such as drunkenness, blasphemy, tea, coffee, tobacco, stealing, lying, and backbiting, and turning their attention to the study of the Scriptures. They try to put into practice the things they learn. They surely are in the Gospel, for they can quote more verses from the Bible and give chapter and verse, than any people I ever saw. Those on the outside have learned that we have the Bible on our side, and in this district we meet with but little opposition.

Lately I witnessed the healing of one of our Saints, Arapata Meha. He was attacked with rheumatism. The Elders were not present, so he sent for the doctor, and when we arrived he still wished the doctor, as he had more faith in him than in the Elders. But after suffering for six weeks, as a man will with that disease, and getting no better, he thought he would try the Elders. We fasted and prayed for him, and in six days he was walking around, the pain leaving him the first day. He then exposed himself, took cold, and was as bad as ever. But he was again restored through the power of God and the laying on of hands by the Elders.

This has strengthened the Saints in the neighborhood, and those on the outside are investigating the principles. Many have acknowledged that we are right, and are going to soon. Their works lead one to believe that they mean what they say. The Saints had a large gathering there last week (at Waipana), and the outsiders opened their large hall to them, both to eat and hold meeting in. This hall was refused not long ago. Everything bids fair for that branch to be strengthened in the near future.

I, like all others who have come among this people, have had to contend with; but with a few months hard study and being aided by the Spirit of God, we not only surprise ourselves with the rapidity with which we get this language, but the Europeans also are surprised. One had the courage to tell me he didn't believe me, when I told him I preached to the natives in their own language, after having been here only eight months, and could understand the most of what they said.

BRIGHAM YOUNG ACADEMY.

Early Opening and Good Attendance—Resignation of Prof. Talmage Withdrawn.

Professor Karl G. Maeser, principal of the Brigham Young Academy at Provo, writes as follows under date of the 12th inst:

In order to close the first semester at Christmas, and to enable the new students after New Year's to commence with the beginning of another semester, we have been under the necessity to open the academic year at a comparatively early date, (Aug. 8), calculating that it would be of greater advantage to some students, if the have to miss a portion of the school year at all, to miss it at the beginning, when some of their lost lessons can be made up in part afterwards, than to miss a portion of the course before examination, when such opportunities can not be offered to them.

But notwithstanding the early date of opening, we find already at the end of the first week the higher classes to a very encouraging degree.

As you have noticed in the circular for the twelfth academic year, the name of Professor James E. Talmage does not appear among the members of the Faculty. This efficient co-laborer of ours has resigned in order to pursue his scientific studies still further at some eastern university. The loss of this instructor in our scientific department has ever since been a matter of serious reflection on the part of the board and myself, we being aware that his place could only be partially supplied for the time being, and that the academy could at present ill afford a weakening in its force of teachers, as it is just struggling to disengage itself from the consequences of the fire a few years ago. Brother Talmage being made aware of the situation of affairs concluded at a meeting of the board of trustees, held to-day to and to re-enter this Academy as our Professor of the Scientific Department, commencing his labors again next Monday morning.

I have no doubt that the many friends of our Academy, our students throughout the Territory, and our patrons from far and near, will join us in the satisfaction felt at this resolution of Prof. Talmage, to sacrifice his personal plans to the cause of the true education of the youth of Zion.

IN KENTUCKY.

Two Missionaries in the Land of Blue Grass.

A communication from Elders "N. G. S." and "J. F. L.," dated Blaine, Lawrence County, Ky., Aug. 11th, contains the following:

"During the last two months we have been pursued by two mobs. On the night of June 16th, at about 11 o'clock, in Morgan County, near of Big Paint, we were informed by a friend that there were thirty men coming down the road, swearing that they were going to 'kill them Mormon Elders.' We jumped out of bed and dressed ourselves just in time to escape. There were five guns fired, but no serious injury was done. We were tired to the thick woods where we whiled the rest of the night away combating the winged mob (mosquitoes). A few days previous we had baptized four persons, which caused the adversary to rage more than ever.

We left next day, and went about two miles, stayed over night with a Baptist, and next day plodded out to Hood's Fork, where we were kindly entertained by our many friends, some of whom anticipate coming forward in the near future and obeying the principles of the everlasting Gospel.

On the 17th of July we again returned to head of Paint, to fill an appointment which we had previously made, and on arriving at the place of meeting we of Methodists, who said we should not preach our heresies, as they termed them. A pistol was fired but no one hurt. Finding we could not reason with them, we left them to quarrel and jangle among themselves, as they were drinking. We made our way through the scorching sun to Bro. Vernon's, on Brushy, in Lawrence Co., where we found rest for our weary and worn bodies.

We baptized another person into the fold this week and from the present prospects expect more to come forward in the near future.

Union Pacific Items.

The following circular has been issued from the Union Pacific headquarters at Omaha:

"Mr. Thomas L. Kimball is appointed assistant and the first vice president, with headquarters at Omaha. The office of general traffic manager is hereby abolished. This circular will take effect on September 1, 1887."

This finally disposes of the office of assistant traffic manager, which was held in this city by P. F. Shelby, Esq. What position will be given to Mr. Shelby has not yet been ascertained. A dispatch from Omaha says:

"It is understood on good authority that the Pullman Car company has been granted the privilege of running buffet cars between Omaha and San Francisco and Portland, the arrangement to take effect September 1. This is considered a direct slap at the Pacific Hotel Company, which has had control of the majority of the eating houses on the lines named. The said company made its contract with the Union Pacific in Boston five years ago. It is about to expire and it is said that President Adams desires to concentrate expenses. Mr. Skinner, head of the Pullman Car company in Omaha, on being interrogated in the premises, replied: 'Well, that may be so, but it is a little premature to talk of it now.'"

"The offices of assistant freight claim agents in Kansas City, Denver and Salt Lake will be abolished and the general freight agents at those points will handle the claim business and report all such business to the freight claim agent at Omaha."

The officials of the traffic departments of the Union Pacific, Northern Pacific and Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, held a meeting in Denver on Friday. Thos. L. Kimball and General Freight Agent Monroe appeared for the Union Pacific. The question of rates was discussed, and it was decided that the Pacific coast business should remain the same. In the consideration of local rates for Oregon, Montana and Utah, new rates were established, but the sheet card is not ready for publication.

Arrested.

Yesterday Enoch Farr, of this city, was arrested on a charge of unlawful oblation. Mr. Farr was placed under $2,000 bonds and his examination was set for Wednesday. The arrest of Mr. Farr will undoubtedly be a surprise to many, as it was generally supposed he was absent from the city. —Ogden Herald, Aug. 16.
