OPTION ON THE DALTON & LARK

Dalton & Lark Was Very Active at | Bingham Company Secures 60-Day Refusal for $1,250,000.

MINE WILL BE PUMPED OUT.

Mr. Packard Speaks of the Star Con-Option - Centennial-Eureka Smelter-Mercur Consolidation.

Willard F. Snyder, the well known mining operator, returned this morning from an extended trip to the East. Since Mr. Snyder's departure a few weeks ago the closing of a big deal was recorded by which Mr. P. L. Kimberley of Sharon, Penn., bought Philo T. Farnsworth's interest in the Dalton & Lark deal, Now Mr. Snyder announces an option on the famous group for $1,250,000. The report in a morning paper that the property has been sold for about $1,000,000 is not correct, though if the examination proves satisfactory the property will be brought within the next 60 days. The option has been secured by the Bingham Copper and Gold company and has 60 days to run from April 17th when the terms were agreed to. It requires the payment of $250,000 cash and $1,000,000 in Bingham county's stock. The deal was made by Mr. Kimberley, who now holds the balance of power in the Dalton & Lark. Mr. Snyder has already been notified to turn the property over to the representatives of the Bingham company and the creative of titles will hearin at the examination of titles will begin at once. The company is also preparing to start up the pumps at the mine in order to allow examination to be made. The mine is now practically full of water. The water covers every level from the 1050 up to the 700 and several weeks' work will be necessary to empty The activity in the stock at 11 cents a share on the exchange today is due to a misunderstanding of the option, which requires the payment of less than 11 cents a share on July 9. Mr. Snyder says this is all the chareholders can hope to receive for the stock, as the share-holders, owning four-fifths of the stock voted last year to sell the property at a certain price. Two claims are all that were kept out of the group. All the others are practically sold for $281,000. The minority shareholders have the option therefore of accepting about 101/2 their stock, which will only represent an interest in two claims and part of a

1-10 interest in the property of the Bingham Placer company. It would appear from the above option that the Bingham company is working out some deep laid and far reaching plans. The present smelter has been so successful that the com-pany is reaching out to obtain new areas of similar ore bodies in the Dal-ton & Lark. It is also reaching out to secure the fluxing ores of the Grand Central and Mammoth of Tintic, and by combining them make one of the strongest and richest mining companies

STAR CON. OPTION.

Mr. Packard Discusses it Today and Talks of the 300 Level.

President Milan Packard of the Star Con, came up from the south today and in response to inquiries regarding the Star Con. option, he said that he will know this week whether his verbal offer to part with his holdings at $1.00 a share will be taken up. This offer was made some time ago and since that time the mine has been examined by Mr. McVichie of this city. Mr. Packard says he has been offered a nice little sum from other parties for the chance of getting an option on the property, but he will not do anything until this week is over. Mr. Puckard will sell for a fair price as, owing to his failing health, he is not able to give the big group much attention. He is as con-fident as ever that a big mine will be opened up in the property whether he lives to see it or not,

Mr. Packard reports the north and south chutes of ore encountered on their downward course on the 300 level, from which some very good ore is being extracted.

Plans of a new smelter to be erected by the Centennial-Eureka Mining com-pany have been prepared by Mr. Geo. K. Fischer. They were forwarded East last night. As at present outlined the Centennial-Eureka company will erect one of the largest stacks in the West When seen today Managing director A. Holden said the smelter will be pushed to completion as soon as pos-sible. The site lies west of Eureka about half a mile. It was surveyed last

The air is so full of smelter talk that people have some doubts as to the cor-rectness of some of the rumors. It is pretty sure that the above smelter will built, however, and that the company will secure its sulphide ores from Bingham. None of these ores occur in Tintic, and the smelter cannot be oper-ated without them. It is therefore surmised that Mr. Holden, with characteristic farsightedness, has secured a rate for the ores of the United States property in their conveyance to Bingham Owing to the heavy ore shipments from Tintic the railroad company has to run numberless empty cars into the camp. Rather than do this it is probable that the company has offered to haul United States ores for the proposed smeller at a minimum rate. It will be much cheaper than hauling Tintic ores to this val-

Geyser Marion Consolidation. Regarding the consolidation of the Geyser Marion, Gold Dust, Silver Lode and Rover properties, Mr. Moon says he knows of nothing definite as far as the Geyser Marion is concerned. Nothing will be done until May 8th when the redemption period of the Geyser Marion sale expires. Mr. McCornick, who bought in the property for $13,288, has been paid $10,500 through the subscriptions of some of the stockholders and Mr. Moon says the balance of $2,-788 will be paid before the end of the time. The title to the property will then be clear and a consolidation will probably be effected.

When court convened again at 11 Leah and her father, Moses Rabinovitz were called up to the bench to explain why they had not come at the hour ordered by the court. The father made the mistake of saying that he was present, which was a very palpable untruth, but his daughter made a worse break when she told the court that she was too busy and had other things to attend to. The court imposed a fine for contempt of $10 on the father and $5 on the daughter. At the close of the proceedings Clerk Hines in a business-like manner demanded the fines, but the old man said that he would not be able to pay them until May 13th. It was finally settled that they should go out in charge of Bailiff John Arnup to try and raise the money. Whether they will succeed or not is a doubtful question, and the duration of their stay out of the county jail will be in direct ratio Mr. Loofbourow stated to the court that he had had Tittlebaum bound over the amount of Arnup's patience. Ducks breed there in such quantities that their eggs can be gathered by the hundred. Geese and swan invade this region every year. Myriads of migratory birds find the huge swamp an enticing place in which to rest during their over and flights in the spring and fall. water is shallow and nearly every acre is a feeding ground.

A little world in itself, is this Western duck district, and the birds, if disturbed at one point, seek refuge in another without leaving the marsh. Their flights become huge clouds on sunny days. Millions inhabit the wild region. The sound of flying wings is as inevitable as the dashing of waves at the sea-

There is a restful brown about the great swamp, which delights the lover of nature. In luxuriant profusion the bullrushes and cattails rise on all sides. The air is unsullied, and from the near-Hogs—Receipts, 12,100. Steady; heavy, 5.80@5.90; mixed, 5.77½@5.80; light, 5.70@5.80; pigs, 5.00@5.70; bulk of sales, 5.77½@5.82½. Sheep—Receipts, 2,300. Such is the place selected by the Bear river duck preserve.

The club includes in its membership list the m most prominent sportsmen in A luxurious club house, with every convenience desirable, will soon be erected upon a commanding spot near the lakes. Money will be spent freely Sportsmanilke is the manner in which this greatest duck club will be managed. Care is being exercised in the admission of members and the number is limited. The rules are to be few and simple Common sense will prevail. Those interested desire to make the club the most enjoyable one ever organized. Careful attention is being given to every detail. A shapely tower will rise above the club house roof to a height of one hundred feet. In its glass summit at night will gleam an electric light of everal hundred candle power to guide the laggard sportsman home after the close of day.

A large drying room, where wet gar. ments can be quickly dried, will be an innovation to most sportsmen. A bil-liard room, library, bar, baths, and a lounging room will contribute to the comfort of members.

A first class electric lighting plant will be erected close to the club house. All buildings will be heated by steam. Five hundred tons of ice will be stored for the first season in a large ice house. A fine farm, owned by the club, will pro-vide vegetables, milk, butter, chickens, eggs and other eatables in abundance. A comfortable steam launch will carry the club men from Corinne, on the rail. road, to the lake, a twelve-mile trip, Corinne is twenty-five miles west of Ogden.

The club is being organized on na tional lines. Men from all parts of America will be members. Only memtrade today 200 tubs of buttre sold at 20 cents. The "official market" was quoted steady at 20 cents, or ½ cent bers will enjoy the unusual privileges of the club, but a member may own two memberships and invite a friend.

A telephone will connect the club with Corinne and the Southern Pacific rail-road. Well trained servants will serve the members. One corps will devote it-self almost exclusively to the picking of ducks during the shooting season, Competent men will take care of the club grounds the year round.

Comfortable, well built, flat-bottomed

The Denver Post of Sunday devotes | skiffs will be used for shooting. Guides will accompany sportsmen who wish to go far from the club house.

Vinson F. Davis, the well known hun-ter, who for years past owned a large tract of land at the mouth of Bear riv-er, sold his entire interest to the club, which, having secured all adjacent land, now controls the district. Sportsmen from all quarters of the globe have visited the Bear river marshes of late years, and say that it marshes of late years, and say that it is the greatest duck region in North America. The few natives have always thought so. All species of duck are found on the immense swamp.
