LOGAN, UTAH, - MARCH 13, 1891.

Peddlers in Cache.

The cave peddlers mentioned editorially in Tuesday's NEWS are working Cache valley with four wagons. It is reported they are making some sales on the time plan. Other peddlers seem to be finding a rich harvest here. They are handling watches and other alleged gold jewelry and are very accommodating as to terms. They sell an Elgin watch with one of the above class of gold-filled cases for from $25 up, that can be bought of our local jewelers, of exactly the same grade, for $18. They have some high grade watches at proportionate prices. It is said on the word of a reputable citizen of Hyrum, that they have taken $1,500 to cash and notes out of that town. A few of those watches, gold as the subscription price of a reliable newspaper, might have sold a month before soon to some of those now being gulled.
