LONDON, 7.-A St. Petersburg correspondent has reason to believe that questions of the very highest importance will be practically de cided in the course of next week; meanwhile the public desire for peaceful solution is increasing.

A Vienna correspondent says Although it is thought that Count Schouvaloff's visit to St. Peters burg is merely for a short time, it is believed to be in connection with important negotiations. Should he succeed in bringing about a solution, he will likely be looked upon as having qualified himself as a successor to Prince Gortschakoff. It is believed the Czar will avoid appointing Prince Gortschakoff's successor as long as possible.

It is stated that a national convention will be called in London ernment take further measures likely to lead to war. The state ment of Lord Northcote in the House of Commons, last evening, is regarded as reassuring. It Schouvaloff, the Russian ambassdor at London, to St. Petersburg cannot be otherwise than helpful to the cause of peace, as he can erplain the views of the English gov. ernment and people more effect ively than could be done in conrespondence. The change in the public opinion of Russia, in peaceful direction is said to be very marked, and to be the result of the recognition of serious consequences that would inevitably result from new war. The Czar's predilection are in favor of peace.
