

MORE TROUBLE WITH GATUN DAM

Owing to Heavy Rainfall of Last Few Weeks, Earth on Crest Has Settled in Places.

COMMISSION NOT ALARMED.

Actual Work Not Begun—Sinking Naturally Expected, and Is Not Of Material Consequence.

Colon, Nov. 24.—Owing to the exceptionally heavy rainfall of the last three weeks, the earth on the crest of the Gatun dam has settled in certain places.

The Gatun dam, which is designed to hold in check the waters of the Chagres river, was in the beginning 50 feet wide; it has now been extended to a length of 200 feet. In view of the existing conditions, the settlement of the dam was expected. The reason is the heavy weight of the embankment. There is nothing to do to prevent this falling in, and it will have to continue.

There have been other settlements in the vicinity of the dam at Gatun, and the rains have resulted, furthermore, in several landslides in the Culebra cut. The railroad track is inundated on both sides for a distance of several miles, but transit has not been impeded.

COMMISSION NOT ALARMED.

Washington, Nov. 24.—If there has been any accident resulting in the sinking and destruction of the work of the proposed Gatun dam on the isthmus caused by the recent heavy rains, as published by a panama newspaper, no more work will be made by Col. Goethals, chairman of the canal commission and the engineer-in-chief in charge of the construction, in his duty report to the office here. It was pointed out at the commission's offices today that the work of constructing the dam at Gatun has not actually begun, but the engineers have been at work on the retaining walls for the dredged material which will form the dam. Between these two landings, in a distance of 1,700 feet, the hydraulic fill will be made, or in other words, the dam proper will be located. The soil underneath the rocks from which the toes are made was not removed, as will be the case with the bottom of the dam proper, and it may be these rocks have sunk. This sinking naturally would be expected and at the commission's office it is said it has taken place it is not of material consequence.

SITUATION IN NANKING

Is Serious—Has Been Fighting in the Streets—Foreign Residents Take Refuge on British Gunboat.

Pekin, Nov. 24.—The situation at Nanking, where a mutiny on the part of Chinese troops broke out Nov. 19, is serious. There has been fighting in the streets of the city, and a portion of the foreign residents have taken refuge on board a British gunboat. Others of the foreigners elected to remain on shore.

This information was conveyed to Pekin today in official telegrams to the legations here. There is also a German gunboat off the city.

The American residents asked for a gunboat for their protection, but in view of the assurances given here yesterday by Yuan Shi Kai, one of the grand councilors, that the situation was quiet and the incident of the mutiny closed, this request was not forwarded. The information coming from this city contradicts the representations being made by the foreign board and the legations have requested the board to supply them with the further news.

The war began yesterday today that it had 1,000 troops at Nanking pending the conclusion of the maneuvers.

The new government at Nanking is firmly established and foreigners there do not entertain fears of an insurrection. The troops, however, are being closely watched, for it is said that they may follow the example of the battery of artillery and the squadron of cavalry that hung out the banner of revolt last Thursday.

The native press intimates that the trouble in Nanking can be traced to opposition to the missionaries, but this charge is without substantiation.

"The government of the United States and the government of his imperial majesty, the emperor of Japan, in order to augment the existing friendship relations between the two governments and in the hope that possible future misunderstandings may be avoided, enter into this agreement.

"The high contracting parties agree in their desire for the independence of the Chinese empire, and believe in the preservation of the territorial integrity of that empire, and believe that equal opportunities for commerce should be enjoyed by all foreign nations, and that equality of treatment should be accorded all such foreign nations, agree with each other to protect the rights of Chinese independence and by peaceful means to guard the existing situation in the Chinese empire.

"The high contracting parties agree that neither government shall allow the emigration of the laborers among their population to the country of the other until further understanding in the matter be reached, hereby agreeing that the employment in one country of the laborers of the other country tends to impair the existing friendly relations between the two governments.

CROKER ON BETTING.

Surprised That New York Papers Support Governor Hughes.

New York, Nov. 24.—Richard Croker is of the opinion that racing in New York state will suffer because of the betting prohibition. He says that Governor Hughes' persistent fight which resulted in the passage of laws making book making a felony.

Mr. Croker said that he was puzzled at the attitude of New York papers on the betting question, remarking on the fact that a majority of them had supported the governor. "Still," he continued, "I suppose the papers follow what they think their readers want, but it seems to me that sporting news is of as much interest as any other news. However, this is a Democratic country and the voters make up the big jury which determines things."

Mr. Croker said that he would not buy any new stock for breeding purposes in Ireland. "I have as fine a string of brooding horses as you can find in any part of the world," he said.

Among the refugees is said to be Gen. Favorelli, the military commander of the district.

BEFORE JUDGE DIEHL.

James Shait, who on Saturday night forced entry into Mrs. Shait's home, to town and threatened to kill her within three days because she had started a suit for divorce, and who was arrested on the charge of burglary after Shait tried to escape, appeared before Judge C. B. Diehl in the criminal division of the city court this morning to answer to a charge of threatening to murder and to show cause why he should not give a bond to keep the peace. The man pleaded not guilty and the case was set for December 2 and bail was fixed in the sum of $200.

C. E. Lott, the man who broke into a Rio Grande caboose and stole a large quantity of clothing belonging to the crew, Sunday night, pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary in the second degree, waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the district court. He went to the county jail in default of bonds in the sum of $300.

The case of Ben Nielsen, accused of battery upon Mrs. Nielsen, Salt Lake ladies with a load of hay, was set for hearing this morning but owing to the illness of one of the witnesses the case was continued until next morning. E. P. Marshall, charged with forging a check for $5 and passing the same on the landlord of the place where he was stopping, denied the charge and was set for hearing on Dec. 3. He was unable to furnish $500 bail and was escorted to the county jail by a deputy sheriff.

The case of Eli Mitchell against the United States Smelting company, in which plaintiff seeks to recover $10,000 for personal injuries alleged to have been received while in the employ of defendant company July 18, 1907, was continued until tomorrow in the federal court this morning.

The case was originally filed in the Third district court in Salt Lake county, but on Oct. 23, 1907, it was transferred to the United States court on petition of the defendant corporation. At the time of the accident Mitchell was employed by the company as fireman-helper, and on the date named the boiler of one of the engines exploded, burning the face, eyes, ears and body of the helper, and according to his complaint, permanently injuring his left eye and causing him much agony and distress.

The company's answer to the complaint set forth that any injuries received by plaintiff were due to his own carelessness and negligence, and that he, while knowing the risk he was taking, continued in the employ as such fireman-helper without protest.

UNIQUE ACTION FILED.

Mrs. H. W. Hammond filed suit in the district court yesterday afternoon directed against the Pullman Palace car company, in which she seeks damages of the sum of $10,000. Plaintiff avers that on Oct. 30 of this year she bought a first-class ticket from Salt Lake City to Elko, Nev., to ride in a first-class Pullman sleeping car. That the said car was attached to a second-class train, rather than first class, and that while enroute she was requested to leave the sleeping car and sit in an ordinary coach. A number of foreigners were in this car, she alleges, and many of the men smoked in her presence, and when requested to stop smoking, they drew up a petition asking that she be ejected from the car. Plaintiff claims to have suffered humiliation as well as having had effects from the tobacco smoke inhaled.

BOND ISSUE IN COURT

Action of Utah Savings and Trust Company Is Argued and Submitted.

The supreme court has under advisement the protest of the Utah Savings & Trust company against the recent municipal bond issue. The case came up for hearing yesterday and was argued, Attorney Franklin D. Richards appearing for the protesters, while H. J. Dinwiny and P. J. Daly, city attorney and assistant city attorney, respectively, represented the city. Briefs had been submitted by counsel on both sides.

The contention of plaintiff was to the effect that the bond issue was invalid for two reasons, the first being that sufficient notice of the special election had not been given, and the polling places had not been designated. Secondly, that there was a discrepancy between the purposes of the bond issue as stated in the published intention and the ordinance governing the proposition, the advertisement, stating that the net revenues of the water system should constitute a sinking fund for the payment of bonds and interest, while the ordinance sets forth that a tax shall be levied each year to pay the interest on the bonds and to provide a sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds.

The city attorneys contended that sufficient notice had been given by publication in daily papers and that the ordinance was not after time and manner of the election.

He expressed the belief that there was no conflict in the minds of voters as to how the bonds should be redeemed.

ARRESTED IN CHICAGO.

A telegram was received last evening at the office of the Salt Lake Hardware company from the chief of detectives at Chicago announcing the arrest there Friday, on the charge of embezzlement, of William Beadle, alias George B. Slater. A search has been going on for more than a year for the man, and it is expected he will be brought back and then taken to St. Anthony for trial, where his alleged acts were committed.

The man came here in September, 1906, and, having good recommendation, secured a position with the hardware company as traveling salesman. He worked hard at the start and was regarded as a capable man. It is alleged he went into Fremont county, Ida., and by increasing the orders for goods, sold part and pocketed the money, robbing his employers and also some customers. It is said that he secured nearly $2,500 in this way and then he dropped out of sight. Nothing was heard of the man until word came last evening of his arrest.

INSTALLING NEW SYSTEM.

Watch Inspection on Oregon Short Line in Hands of Webb C. Ball.

The watch inspection service of the Oregon Short Line has recently been placed under the supervision of Webb C. Ball, an expert watch inspector from Cleveland, Ohio, who has been engaged in the business 18 years. The system of watch inspection which Mr. Ball brings to the Short Line is a new one, and has been adopted by a great many of the large eastern roads. Under its rules only standard watches are to be used by any railroad employee required to wear their watches. Pieces inspected, and when the watches are undergoing repairs only watches approved by the inspector will be accepted in lieu of the regular watch.

New standard clocks are being installed at terminal points, and all operations are required to check up with these clocks every day. The clocks themselves are corrected every hour from Washington, D. C., and carry absolutely correct railroad time. J. W. Dutton, assistant inspector in charge of the line now installing the system, and Harry Mowatt of the clock company are putting in clocks at the terminal points. A number of additional clocks will be installed at different towns along the road. For instance, the Southern Pacific watches west of Ogden, only one standard clock has been maintained at Ogden, but hereafter at least five standard clocks will be maintained on that division.

NON-PARTISAN BOARD IS BEING DEMANDED

School Election Conventions Held Last Night Renominate Present Members.

The non-partisan movement in the city schools has now resulted in the putting up of a ticket which, if elected, will return to office all the present members of the school board. The "American" party has called for conventions in each municipal ward to elect a full ticket, but sentiment has so completely failed to back up this plan to save the party's "face" that by no means certain enough enthusiasm will exist to make any kind of an actual contest.

The men selected last night to complete the non-partisan ticket are Mathonah Thomas and Joseph Orbenborfer, in the Fourth and Fifth wards respectively. Thomas was once before elected a non-partisan candidate. Orbenborfer has been an "American" candidate, but was last night selected at a non-partisan convention.

The convention in the Fourth ward was presided over by Maj. Richard W. Young with H. A. McMillan as secretary. Its only business was the selection of the candidate, and its only speech was that nominating Mr. Thomas, made by Marlow Cummings.

J. M. Hayes, president of the Young Men's Republican club, presided at the convention in the Fifth ward, held in Judge Diehl's courtroom. The selection of Mr. Orbenborfer as a candidate in this ward will probably be followed by his endorsement by the "Americans."
