DINNER FOR THE POOR.

Separate from these, and represent-ing the Christian spirit that would fur-nish food in the terms of potato pecks, chickens plucked, and apples polished to a shining red for those who see them only under the wire topping of the grocer's barrel, was the Salvation Army basket party.

This unique service began at $:30 a. in. and at 11 a. m. when the last basket was handed to a husky little boy roughly dressed, the staff captain in charge at headquarters had handed out 125 baskets of food.

"All of these were contributed to the Army, and assembled by the Salvation Army lassles who were seen yesterday and the day before standing beside the Main street kettles, soliciting funds for the day's feast.

"How many people do you think will be fed from the line of baskets that went out?" was asked by the reporter who had watched the boys and girls, und sometimes the shawl wrapped mother in the basket line.

"Each one contains a peck of pota-toes," was the answer, "a can of to-matoes, a can of corn, a can of baked beans, a large chicken, a bunch of celery, coffee, butter, sugar, berries and apples with enough of each for eight

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

Special music and a sermon by the rector, Rev. Charles E. Perkins, marked the Thanksglying service at St. Paul's church, corner of Fourth South and Main. The offertory "O Lord, How Manifest are Thy Works" was ren-dered by the choir in an inspiring man-her and other suitable selections were sung.

Mr. Perkins took as his text the last verse of the last Psalm, "Let everything that hath breath praise the Lord." This day, said the speaker, is the one na-tional and religious holiday of the year. It has fittingly been set apart as a day of thanksgiving for the returns of seed time and harvest and all the benefits of God's mercy and providence." Gratitude is shown in two ways, observed Mr. Perkins, by word and by deed. In the service of prayer and praise men render thanks with their ips, and in the service of doing good to his fellowmen he expresses gratitude to his Creator in a manner most acceptable to the Giver of all good.

ST. MARK'S CATHEDRAL.

The Very Rev. Dean Brewster at St. Mark's cathedral preached from the text, "Be ye doers of the word, not hearers only;" as found in the third chapter of the epistle of James. The speaker asked his hearers to think of this topic, as a most suitable one for a Thanksgiving theme for serious thought. It is in the nature of prau-lical religion, to not be listeners to the teach the series of the seri teachings of the Scriptures merely, but to practise them in our daily walk and were attendants. The city board of health provided some of the good things that went to the isolation hospital for dinner, but the patients and attendants were not forgotten by relatives and friends in the city, and for several days parcels have been pouring into the institution to gladden the hearts and fill the stomachs of those who are temporarily shut out from the world because they are suffering from a contagious disease. AT DAY NURSERY.

Special provision was made by the board of directors of the Orphan's Home and Day Nursery for a characteristic Thanksgiving dinner for the boys and girls who find a home at that institution. Many anonymous packages vere received during the week, conin all there was much more than suf-ficient to feed the 49 youngsters all day

CARNEGIE'S BIRTHDAY.

His Seventy-First Passed Quietly Happily and Uneventfully.

New York, Nov. 26 .- Andrew Carnegle's seventy-first birthday passed quietly, happily and uneventfully. He crowned the anniversary with a quiet little dinner to a number of intimate friends last night at his residence in East Ninety-first street. Only 14 ruests were present. Many telegrams and messages of congratulation were received by the iron master during the day.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Yesterday's wind and rainstorm was halled as an ante-Thanksglving day blessing by one cou-ple, John J. Foley and Miss Josephine Barker of Ohio. Through a collision on the sidewalk, while hurrying along with bent heads, each recognized in the other a childhood sweetheart, whose parents had prevented a marriage. Each had been looking for the other for four years without success, "Why, Josephine." exclaimed Foley, "is that really you?" Foley accompanied Miss Barker to the

The gun wasfred with a charge reduced, but at the dis-tance, only 100 feet, the torpedo going through at an estimated speed of All knots, passed not only through the net which is designed to protect bat-tleships, but through a steel hulk in-side the net. Tests at a greater range are to be made later. Lieut. Davis is the inventor of the gun.

FREIGHT AND PASSENGER

Seattel, Wash., Nov. 26.-A freight and passenger service between Puget Sound, British Columbia, California, Mexico and Central America, will be inaugurated shortly after the first of the year by Jebsen and Os-trander. This firm has received substantial concessions from the Mexican stantial concessions from the Mexican government and it is proposed to maintain the present one sailing every month. The German steamers Erna and Ella will be used by the new ser-vice. They carry 4,000 tons dead weight and have accommodations for 88 first and second class passengers. The same tariffs will be maintained as are now tariffs will be maintained as are now in force by the Pacific Main and Kosmos lines.

Traffic arrangements have been made with the Mexican Central railroad for handling cargo to the City of Mexico, and other interior points via Manzan-illo. Arrangements have also been made with the Tehuantepec National railroad for handling through cargo bound for Europe.

CAPT. AMUNDSEN ORDERS HIS SLOOP GJOA SOLD

San Francisco, Nov. 26.—Capt. Henry Lund, Norwelgian consul at this port, yesterday received instruc-tions from Capt. Roald Amundsen, the explorer, to sell at auction the sloop Gjoa in which Amundsen made his famous voyage of discovery through the Northwest passage. The sloop has been lying at anchor at Mare Island navy yard ever since it entered this port after that eventful trip. Consul Lund, who is an intimate friend of the explorer, is also informed that the latter proposes to undertake a voyage in search of the geographical north pole at some not distant date, making the trip in the steamer Fram, Capt. Nansen's ship, now the prope-rty of the government of Norway. Amundsen states that he will outfit SERVICE ON THE PACIFIC for the voyage at this port, cruising the Siberian islands and thence into the unknown waters of the north in search of the top of the world. Capt. Amundsen is now in Norway writing a book telling of his travels and discoveries

HILL BUYS A RESIDENCE.

New York, Nov. 26 .- James J. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern railroad, has bought the four-story dwelling adjoinhis residence here in east 56th ing street. The consideration, it is said, was about $500,000. Mr. Hill made the purchase in order to forestal the election of any structure near his sidence which might cut off the sun. light.

REDUCED LUMBER RATES.

Chicago, Nov. 26.-Important reduc-tions in the freight rates on lumber and articles manufactured therefrom. notuding building materials, between points on the Pacific coast and Chica-go and the east, are to be put into efect by the Southern Pacific and its connections as soon as the necessary tariffs can be prepared and filed with the interstate commerce commission. The reductions are the direct result of the enforcement of the orders of the interstate commerce commission in the North Pacific coast lumber rate cases, wherein the rates from Oregor and Washington to the east were re-duced. The Southern Pacific contested the cases without success.

The new rates will provide for a re-duction of from 5 to 15 cents per 100 pounds: for example, the rate on lumper, lath, and timber and articles tak. ing the same rate to Chicago is 70 cents. To New York the old rate is 90 cents.

the new rate 75 cents. The rates on sash, doors and blinds and other building material to New York will be reduced from 80 to 75 rents, and similar reductions will be made to all points and destinations named in the tariff.
