LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Thermometer 51° in the shade at one o'clock today.

MEETINGS AT THE TABERNACLE tomorrow at ten and two o'clock and at the various Ward meeting houses in the evening.

HOME MISSIONARY APPOINTMENTS, Sunday, Oct. 20th:
2nd Ward, S. A. Woolley; 7th Ward, J. P. Foster; 9th Ward, R. P. Nealen; 20th Ward, M. B. Shipp. L. D. Young.

THEATRE—Last night, at the Theatre, there was a very good performance of the "Sons of New York," the "Sam Badger" of Mr. Bates was a most finished and clever piece of acting and perhaps the best rendition of this role that has been seen here. Miss "Alida Bloodgood" being a very truthful, like picture of the spoiled child of luxury, and the most perfect of the world. Mr. Marden was very good as "Paul Fairweather." Messrs. Wilson, Dudley, Jones and others rendered good support. Jones and others rendered good support.

MATINEE ON MONDAY AFTERNOON—There will be a grand "Aladdin" matinee at the Theatre Monday afternoon, given especially to the children of the schools of Salt Lake City, and American Fork. The children of the city will also be given a special treat, as far as the number of children is concerned, and "Aladdin" is a splendid story piece, full of magic and adventures, with wonderful and dramatic things to delight the youngsters.

RECEIVED—Carl Pretzel's Magazine, No. 3, published by C. H. Harris, Washburn Avenue, Chicago, is full of humor in Dutch-English.

UNIVERSALISM—Rev. Mr. Parker (Universalist) will preach tomorrow (Sunday) evening, in the Institute, at 7 o'clock. Subject: Justice and Mercy.

"Two Children's Songs"—"God Bless Papa," and "Loving Hearts Around You, Mother," by Mrs. S. Booth, and music by G. T. Evans. Simple songs suited to children. Published at Gray's Music Store, Clay Street, San Francisco.

OCTOBER is passing away as a very pleasant Indian summer month. The "Sons of New York" and the "Aladdin" are full of dust to the air, but not very agreeable to either, nor very healthy.

ODDEN IRMS—From the Junction of yesterday—
"Now that the excitement occasioned by the trial of the boys Parley and Neilson, is over, and people have an opportunity of expressing their views in relation to the case, we naturally look for comments and opinions pro and con. But all with whom we have conversed agree with us that the trial was fair and full, the verdict satisfactory, and the sentence just and merciful."

IN THE CITY COUNCIL—The committee on improvements to when we were examined examination of Ogden Bridge and the banks of Ogden river, reported through its chairman, Alderman Brown, in favor of putting the bridge in repair, and that the Supervisor be instructed to take such measures as shall keep the river in its channel; the work on the river to be done previous to next spring, and on motion of Alderman Burton, the report was accepted.

T. Schuck, J. Allen, and F. Williams were charged, before Alderman Thompson, with assault and battery on the person of T. H. Thomas, Allen and Schuck were each fined $30 and costs.

The same three defendants were also charged with wilfully and unlawfully threatening personal violence to C. W. Parsons, editor of the Junction. The court summed up the case and said that the complainant had done nothing to provoke defendants to the course they had pursued. There had been too much violence exhibited on the public streets of late, so much that people's lives were in danger; he did not say that defendants were indicted in the case, but they must be stopped; and a case had now come up of threatened violence and he must discharge his duty in relation to it. The defendant Allen he would discharge, as the evidence was not clear in his case; but Schuck and Williams he would fine $30 each and costs, and they must give bonds with approved securities in the sum of $300 to keep the peace for six months.

DR. MURPHY reports all the Centerville smallpox cases convalescent.

FURNITURE—A good deal has been said at various times about the changes wrought in the price of commodities in the Utah market since the transcontinental railway made access to the markets of the east and west easy and quick. Many branches of trade in this change more striking, perhaps, than in that of furniture, as a visit to the extensive premises owned by Mr. H. Dinwoody, the pioneer and one of the largest furniture manufacturers of this city, will demonstrate. For years before the railway was built, this gentleman persevered under all the difficulties of the situation, until he created the largest business in the territory in home manufactured furniture, a circumstance which, in and of itself, was proof that the quality of his goods and prices were such as to command the market. But the opening of the great railroad wrought a revolution in this as well as many other branches of business; by the introduction into the Utah market, of better material and at rates much below those at which the home manufacturer could produce them. This compelled them to combine, with their home trade, the importation of goods from the east, and to sell at a lower price than they had been able to do before. This has been the case in the furniture trade, and Mr. Dinwoody imports very largely from Wisconsin, New York, Massachusetts and various other portions of the east, such articles as he can not compete with if made at home. He is constantly receiving large consignments of goods by railway, of a character to suit all purposes and the improved circumstances of the market. He is now importing, he keeps constantly employed at his factory in the Seventh Ward lands, with a ten-horse power steam engine.

At his warehouse on First South Street he keeps four upholsterers, and twenty-six others employed in painting and repairing furniture to the different parts of this city and territory, as he supplies most of the furniture dealers, and in all probability does a much more extensive business than any other man in Utah in the same line. A visit to his show rooms on East Temple Street will well repay those desirous of purchasing furniture. The upstairs room is filled with choice upholstery goods—sofas, lounges, chairs, spring beds, and all the latest styles in furniture, besides, and everything in that line, in sets or otherwise, of various styles and qualities, all of the best material, and of one thing in home manufacture he makes a specialty, and that is safes for provisions, which are offered at a price as good as quality as the imported article. The same is true of everything else manufactured here, and the principle is maintained in fancy articles of every kind in the line of timber—the skill is here, but the labor is lacking.

A visitor, going through the establishment and pricing the articles, will find that the cost now, whether home-made or imported goods, is just about one-third what it was formerly, and in his line in the industry, he has built up a large and prosperous business, and he is now devoting his whole energies to the work that merits all the success he secures.
