NAVAL FIGHT IN PANAMA HARBOR.

Fleets of Colombian Government and Revolutionists in Deadly Conflict—Philadelphia is There.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The state department has received the following cablegram from Consul General Guder, dated Panama today: "Fighting in bay. Governor killed. Excitement great."

Colon, Colombia, Jan. 20.—Via Galveston.—A naval battle, which began at six o'clock this morning, is in progress in the harbor of Panama. The revolutionary fleet consists of the steamers Padilla, Darden and Gatten. They are trying to force a landing off Soana. The government ships are the Chilean line steamer Lautaro; the Pacific Steam Navigation company's steamer Boyaca. The first named steamer was seized by General Alban and the other two have been chartered by the Colombian government.

As this dispatch is being sent three shots have just passed over the Chitico and she has answered with several shots. They fell close to the Padilla, which is being set on fire. The guns at Los Bovedas are also firing at the rebel ships. The government forces are throwing up entrenchments. The United States cruiser Philadelphia is close to the scene of the fighting."

Washington, Jan. 20.—The secretary of the navy has received the following cablegram from Commander Meade of the battleship Philadelphia, dated at Panama today: "The insurgent steamer attacked the Lautaro yesterday morning at close quarters. The crew has deserted her. She is now on fire and sinking."

ENGINEER'S OFFICE GOES TO DENVER

Another Department of Rio Grande Western to be Closed on February 1—E. J. Yard to Get Good Position—Train-Master Miller Resigns—Rumors Are Rife.

It will be vividly recalled that on the occasion of the visit of George J. Gould to this city some months ago he stated that he would do all in his power to help out Salt Lake. To date Mr. Gould's love for Salt Lake has been manifested in a peculiar manner. Looking back over the changes that have taken place anybody with a piece of paper and a pencil can figure that under the Gould regime on the Rio Grande Western that Salt Lake merchants and householders are some $100,000 a year poorer, with indications that the end is not yet in sight.

The latest thunderbolt from the railroad sky is the rumor which began to be circulated on Saturday night and which developed into a positive fact on Sunday morning. Five men in the office of Engineer E. J. Yard were to be transferred to Denver where it will be consolidated with the Denver & Rio Grande engineering department. Some of the men, it is understood, will go to Denver, while others will "resign." As for Chief Engineer Yard, who is now out on the Missouri Pacific on a twenty days' trip of inspection, he will be taken care of and will be given an important position on the Gould system. It is understood that a resident engineer may possibly be appointed to look into local affairs, but everything will be decided on or about February 1. The D. & R. G. local agency has been closed.

Under the Gould management the auditor's, baggage, special service and other departments all have been hit with the loss of about $100,000 a year to the population of Salt Lake. The D. & R. G. local agency has been closed.

Ogden's Executive Will Probably be Arrested This Evening—His Children Excluded From the Public Schools.

[Special to the "News."] Ogden, Jan. 20.—At a late hour this afternoon steps were being taken for the arrest of Mayor Glasmann of this city. During the entire forenoon the question of having him arrested under the provisions of the city ordinance, was under consideration, by Dr. Condon, the city physician, on the one side, and the county attorney's office on the other. It was finally concluded that he could not be effectively proceeded against under the city ordinance and that it would be necessary to have him arrested under the State statutes. A complaint and warrant for arrest will be issued late this afternoon.

BELL WILL BE VIGOROUS.

American Commander Finds That Patience Has Ceased to be a Virtue.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Having failed, after two years of strife, in subduing the insurrection in Batangas province, which lies just south of Manila, and having satisfied himself that lenient treatment of the insurgents is productive of no good results, Gen. J. Franklin Bell, the military commander in that province, has determined upon the enforcement of the war in the most vigorous and determined fashion, involving reconcentration in a modified form, the application of martial law in all directions and the unsparring pursuit and punishment of the natives who act as spies and traitors to the United States. All this appears from a long report to the war department just published. The reconcentration order is dated at Batangas, December 8 last. In substance it provides for the establishment of a zone around the garrisons, into which the friendly inhabitants are to be required to come under penalty of confiscation and destruction of their property. This is said to be necessary to prevent the collection of forced contributions from the inhabitants by the insurgents. The military officers are allowed to fix the price of necessities of life and it is promised that the people may return as soon as peaceful conditions are established. This order is followed by a long circular by Gen. Bell to his station commanders, commenting on the execution of the order and the necessity for its enforcement. It begins with the statement that he shares in the general conviction that the insurrection continues because the greater part of the population is under the influence of the insurgents, and that the only way to suppress it is by the enforcement of martial law. He says it is regrettable that the innocent must suffer with the guilty, but the greatest good to the greatest number must be the basis of the policy. He says that the reconcentration order is a prompt and to the insurrection. Therefore he directs the application of general order No. 100, in force during the civil war in the United States, to the reconcentration of the natives. DESPERATE MEN MAKE AN ESCAPE.

State of Washington Has One of the Most Daring and Successful Jail Deliveries on Record.

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 19.—Eleven of the most desperate prisoners in the United States penitentiary on McNeil's Island made their escape between 1 and 2 o'clock Sunday and up to a late hour tonight were still at liberty. It was the most daring and successful jail break ever attempted in this state and the character of the men implicated makes it doubtful whether they will be retaken without the loss of life.

WHO THEY ARE.

The men at large are W. D. Snyder, sent up from Idaho for robbery; James Campbell, Noma, pick pocket; Thomas Morton, Noma, burglary; Frank Alinsworth, Noma, larceny; Mike Williams, Spokane, counterfeiter; Harry Davis, Noma, Alaska; Frank Moran, true name Ed. O'Neil, Spokane, counterfeiter; James Moriarty, Spokane, counterfeiter; J. P. Stewart, Idaho, counterfeiter; Bruce Kenwright, Noma, manslaughter; James Carroll, Alaska, murder.

PARTICULARS.

A Ledger reporter who visited the Island tonight brings the following particulars of the escape:

A hole in the brick wall of cell No. 19, occupied by Convicts Snyder and Davis, reveals a method of escape. The wall is about a foot in thickness and the floor of the cell is of equal thickness covered with concrete. The tunnel was dug at the junction of the wall and the floor sloping outwardly until it formed a connection with the air chamber about two feet below and a foot outwardly from the concrete wall of the cell. Through this air chamber the prisoners crawled about forty feet to where it opened into the boiler room, the opening being covered with an iron grate. This grate was removed by the use of saws and the prisoners had then only to walk out of the back door of the boiler room across the yard and the escape was complete. A few yards from the boiler room the hole was covered with a board fence. A few yards from the boiler room the hole was covered with a board fence.
