Remains of Elders.

BEAVER CITY, Utah, Jan. 14, 1897.—Remains of the various quorums of the Priesthood throughout the State seem to be the order of the day, and in order to be up with the times the Elders' quorum of the Beaver Stake of Zion met in the assembly hall in this city yesterday and had one of the most enjoyable gatherings of the season.

Promptly at 1 p. m., First Counselor Deason called the large assembly to order, and delivered an address of welcome to all present, after which the congregation sang the hymn, "We thank Thee, O God, for a Prophet." Invocation was then offered by Bishop George Munford, followed by sweet strains of music by the Beaver Stake band, which was in attendance.

Recess was taken for one hour, during which time a magnificent repast of the good things of this life was partaken of by all present.

At 2 o'clock the congregation was again called to order, when an excellent program was carried out, consisting of speeches, songs, recitations, and music, by the band, and members of the quorum, followed by an interesting address to the younger members of the quorum, by Bishop Munford, who exhorted them to diligence in attending their quorum meetings and to take an interest in the duties devolving upon them as Elders.

First President C. D. White and Elder John R. Murdoch addressed the audience and gave some very timely counsel to all present. The band again played a tune and the meeting adjourned until 7 p. m., when all present were invited to again assemble at the Stake Academy hall and enjoy themselves in the dance.

President Angus M. Cannon presided over the services at the Tabernacle Sunday afternoon, Jan. 17, 1897. The choir sang the hymn, "We thank Thee, O God, for a Prophet."

Prayer was offered by Elder Elias Morris.

The choir further sang:

Give great the wisdom and the love That filled the hearts on high.

Elder William G. Sears was then laboring in the Tabernacle, and delivered an address of welcome to all present, after which the congregation sang the hymn, "We thank Thee, O God, for a Prophet."

Invocation was then offered by Bishop George Munford, followed by sweet strains of music by the Beaver Stake band, which was in attendance.

land conference in the town of Hildene, there Mormonism had many enemies, a prejudice having been stirred up among the people through the general of literature antagonistic to the faith. But through the blessing of the Lord, a great deal of the prejudice had been removed and the Elders were enabled to perform a good work. A lively branch of the Church had been organized, a Sunday school and a Mutual Improvement Association were operating and in good running order. The walls of prejudice which seemed almost insurmountable at first were fast crumbling to decay, and the people were becoming eager to hear the true Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Elder Livingston's desire was that the youth of Zion would prepare themselves for the ministry, that they might go abroad and preach the Gospel to those who knew it not.

President Lorenzo Snow was the closing speaker. He said he had been much delighted with the remarks of the Elders who had returned from the missionary field, and he had had similar experience to that which the preceding speakers had related having traveled a great deal in promulgating the principles of the Gospel.

The Gospel, said the speaker, was calculated to bless the people who would receive and practice it. He exhorted them to take the state above the nation, ordinary condition of affairs in the earth, and it would be a success in all the affairs of life, whether in a business capacity or otherwise. The Saints came here to build up Zion, and upon their arrival here, they asked God to sanctify to their good everything that they undertook to do. This state of affairs should continue, and the people should put their trust in the Lord and He would bless them. The youth must seek out no mission, but should be there as there was a God before going into the field. They should study things at home and should be in a position to know Him and His attributes, and to testify of the same before going to preach the Gospel. President Snow urged the Saints to greater diligence in the work of the Gospel, and assured them that blessings would follow if they sought to keep the commandments of the Lord and walk in His ways. The speaker closed by referring to the glorious work being done in the temple.

Under such an auspicious beginning we have no need.

Blessings were pronounced by Elder C. W. Penrose.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Auspicious Event in the Life of a Worth Couple.

WELLSVILLE, Cache Co., Utah, Jan. 15, 1897.—The fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Charles Wright Spence and Elizabeth Martin Spence was celebrated at their residence in Wellsville, January 11, 1897, where over 100 of their friends, including their only son and daughter, William and Maude, assembled to pay respect to the aged couple. A marriage feast was served by the family, which all enjoyed, and an enjoyable time was spent with song and dance, including the songs, "Old Dog Tray," by Father Spence, and "Dance the Horn," by Mother Spence.

Charles Wright Spence was born November 5, 1847, in the little town of Wellsville, near Kaysville, Fremont County, Idaho. He is the son of a farmer and hunter, and his father was a soldier under King George the Third of Great Britain, and afterwards held the rank of an officer in the United States army.

Young Charles was but four years old, and at that time the father never knew much of a father's love. His widowed mother was left in rather poor circumstances, with a family of six small children, and although Charles was the youngest child yet he was put to work when very young, in a spinning mill, earning six cents per day. He was then put to work in a sawing mill, and served one year at shipbuilding. He was then put to work in a coal mine, which business he followed for thirty years.

Kathleen Morrison Spence was born January 8, 1847, at Dyer, Kentucky.

"My daughter, when recovering from an attack of fever, was a great sufferer from pain in the back and legs. I tried many remedies, but failed to get her any relief. I then tried Chamberlain's Pain Remedy, and in a few minutes she was free from all pain. I am now a great believer in this medicine, and I can recommend it to all who are afflicted with rheumatism. Sold by druggists."

Recalled, she is the daughter of Mr. Angus Morrison and Mrs. Miller. Mr. Morrison had two married sons and one daughter, his second wife had by him two sons and one daughter. Mr. Morrison held the office of an elder in the United Presbyterian church of Seattle, and was a God fearing man, very much respected by all who knew him. He was born in the town of Wellsville, Idaho, and was married to Mrs. Miller in 1872. They had five children, three sons and two daughters. Mr. Morrison died in 1896, and was buried in the cemetery in Wellsville, Idaho.
