

ENDING OF CAMP LAWTON.

National Guard Will "Fold Their Tents" Tomorrow Afternoon.

MILITARY BALL TONIGHT.

A Most Profitable Encampment Coming to a Close—Quiet Sunday Except the Baseball Game.

The encampment is practically over. When the boys go out on the parade ground this evening it will be their last drill in the camp. The most important event of the encampment occurs this afternoon, viz.: the paying of the officers and men. The boys are not mercenary though. They only accept money when it is thrust upon them, for courtesy will not permit them to refuse it. However, the satisfactory thing about the whole business is that the boys have earned whatever they will get. Several thousand dollars will pass into their hands for safe keeping and there is no doubt that if occasion required it they would return to the state a hundred fold the value received. During the past week Camp Lawton has been one of the most pleasant resorts of the city, for those outside of the guard. Many haven't missed a day in visiting the camp and the soldiers have expressed in many ways their appreciation of the calls from their friends. The life of the camp has been distinctly military and the boys have accepted whatever was required of them without a murmur. The friendliest relations exist between the officers and the men and new friendships have been born in the camp which will endure. No time has gone to waste so far as the boys are concerned. A more profitable encampment than the present one the guard has never enjoyed. Well nigh every movement in the army tactics has been familiarized by nearly every officer and man until now it is really an imposing spectacle to see the entire brigade going through the army evolutions with the precision that can only be exercised by one who knows what he is doing.

The brigade general and his staff are to be congratulated for the sensible way in which they have governed the camp. Means of recreation was provided for the boys, but everything was indulged in, in moderation. So far as anyone knows no unseemly thing has occurred at Camp Lawton, and while that is a good record it is only what was expected.

Tonight, the last night in camp, will be celebrated with a military ball, to which the Governor and his staff have been invited. A 10:30 train will be run tonight for the benefit of the Salt Lake visitors. Everything will go on as usual until after dinner tomorrow, when the boys will "fold their tents like the Arabs and as silently steal away." Yesterday was a typical Sabbath day in a military camp. A drowsy spirit hovered over Camp Lawton until well along in the afternoon, when a light game was pulled off between a team from Fort Douglas and the guard team. The latter did it easily in a score of 12 to 6. The episode was watched by a liberal number of people in the grand stand and all the soldiers in camp.

During the afternoon Prof. Held and his band regaled the camp on the following popular pieces:

March, "Union Forever"; "Georgia Rose," medley; "Hearts and Flowers," intermezzo; "Dances La Mexicana," "Cotton Hollow Capers."

After brigade review the following program was rendered:

"Hungarian Lullaby," "My Old Kentucky Home," medley; "Maiden's Dream," caprice; "War Songs of the Boys in Blue," medley; "Off and On," "Star Spangled Banner."

ABOUT THE CAMP.

The battery went out to the foot hills this morning and did some splendid shooting. They demonstrated they could make it hot for an army of soldiers even if it were one mile away.

Some of the battery-boys waded out about five miles into the lake yesterday and recovered six of the balls they fired during their practice on Thursday.

There is no one on the sick list. The hospital tent can be removed any time. Colonel Park and Lieut. Col. Nyström are the champion fishermen.

The officers have had a hard day of it today. It being muster day every man in camp had to be checked and inspected.

A large crowd is expected at the camp tonight to enjoy the last evening with the boys.

main in daily touch with the people and be liable to greater dangers of assassination. The results hardly lie within the range of the socialist's propaganda.

The pulpits of the Wesleyan churches were occupied mainly by American delegates to the ecumenical conference, and the President was reverently remembered. Bishop Vincent preached from Wesley's pulpit at the City Road chapel. The Rev. Dr. Charles Little of Illinois was in High Price-Hughes place at St. James' hall, and Bishop Tye at Wesleyan chapel in Great Queen street. There was also a large open air service in Hyde Park. fervent prayers were offered for the wounded President at all these services.

THERE WAS A CONSPIRACY.

Theory is that Emma Goldman Was Chief Mover and Conspirator.

New York, Sept. 9.—A special to the Herald from Buffalo says:

That there was a conspiracy in which many leading socialists were concerned, and which had the destruction of President McKinley as its purpose, is the firm conviction of all the members of the cabinet, and of the Buffalo police. An agent of the United States secret service said that the theory is held that Emma Goldman, the anarchist, was the prime mover in this plot which may have contemplated a series of crimes of which the murder of the president was only the beginning.

Emma Goldman was in Buffalo last Monday. That has been known to the police for 24 hours. She was here under an assumed name. What the object of her visit was has not been learned, but presumably it was in connection with the crime that followed four days later. The police also over the United States are now searching for Emma Goldman, who seems to have disappeared utterly.

Her arrest has been ordered. It can be stated on absolute authority that this woman teacher of anarchy will be expelled if excuse of law can be found for such an act. Moreover, she will not go alone. Holding to the theory that the anarchist considered himself a member of the cabinet and government of the United States, planned the assassination of President McKinley, the members of the cabinet will urge that the effort be made to capture her.

Secretary Root is particularly earnest in urging this.

Few believe that Czolgosz was alone in the crime, or that he has been anything more than a tool. He is under the control of the real conspirators. That other and important arrests are contemplated in the near future is known to be a fact.

PAVING WORK COMMENCED.

Alcatraz Company Begins Betterment of City Streets.

HAS A BIG WORKING FORCE

To Rush Work to Completion—Using Machinery With Which Paving Was Done for Pan-American Exposition.

The Alcatraz Paving company began work this morning on their contract with the city. A force of men under the direction of Foreman J. C. Tearing up Second South between State and Main and the entire paved district will be repaired within three weeks and the new paving work will be commenced within that time. It is expected that before winter Second South street between State and Fifth West will be entirely paved on one side of the car tracks.

The Alcatraz company has its portable plant already set up on Second South street near Fifth West and when once started the work of paving will go along rapidly. The plant much simplifies it. This plant consists of an asphalt mixer and a concrete mixer. The asphalt mixer consists of boilers, engines, air compressors, asphalt heating and sand heating bins and elevator apparatus. The asphalt is first heated in certain proportions and the mixture is then dumped into the paving wagons. This plant will handle 150 barrels, containing 500 pounds each, of asphalt, and the necessary amounts of other ingredients every 24 hours. The foreman of the plant, Mr. Bickley, intends to start it up this afternoon to see that everything is in order. This plant cost between $25,000 and $30,000 and did all the paving, 200,000 square yards, at the Pan-American exposition in Buffalo. The concrete plant will be up within a week.

Talmage Favors Lynching.

New York, Sept. 9.—In the course of his sermon at Ocean Grove, N. J., yesterday, Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage of Washington, said:

"I wish that policemen in Buffalo who seized the pistol of the scoundrel who shot our adored President, had taken the butt of the weapon and dashed the man's brains out on the spot."

The ten thousand people in the auditorium applauded the sentiment.

Buffalo Center of Interest.

London, Sept. 9.—Buffalo remains the supreme center of interest for England and Europe as the scene of a crime directed against all principles of government and the enlightened progress of humanity.

Anarchy demonstrates its own utter helplessness when the only effect of its irresponsible vagaries is to draw the governments of Christendom together for their own protection and to convert the victim of its murderous impulses into a world's hero and martyr.

America, envied for its unparalleled prosperity and menaced with anti-tariff leagues on the continent, is suddenly overwhelmed with a spontaneous outburst of European sympathy and good feeling, because a President identified with protection and the Monroe doctrine is shot down at a democratic function.

Ironical as this result may appear to ill-balanced anarchists it is matched by another strange sequence of the Buffalo outrage. Monarchy, instead of being weakened by the attack on the head of the great republic, is strengthened.

The number of assassinations of monarchs and presidents is reckoned and compared, and kings are congratulated by European journals upon being exposed to fewer risks than democratic rulers. The czar may safely meet the German emperor and Edward VII, but extraordinary precautions must be taken to protect him in France. This is the reason employed by the leader writers, and the conclusion may be inferred that monarchy is a safer form of government than a democratic republic, since kings and emperors are protected by etiquette and are not easily approached, whereas presidents must re-

SOUTHERN PACIFIC PUTS UP THE RATE

Union Pacific-Espee Interests Increase Fares on Coast.

BY STEAMER AND RAILROAD

Applies to All Points Between Portland and Los Angeles—Tickets Will Not Include Sleepers.

One of the first steps taken after the consolidation of the Harriman interests is the raising of the rate between Portland and San Francisco over the Southern Pacific. It is stated that this rate heretofore has been so low that profit on the passenger business over that road has never paid expenses in the passenger department, and one of the first steps is accordingly along the line of remedy by equalizing the rates via rail and boat.

The new tariff between Spokane and San Francisco goes into effect tomorrow and applies to all points in California reached by that route. The rates have been advanced from $3 to $5 according to class and the tickets heretofore will not include sleeping accommodations from Portland as have been customary in the past.

Under the new tariff the first class fare will be $36.20 with rebate of $7.50, sleeping accommodations at $1.00, included, thus making a difference to Pullman passengers of $5.00, but a difference of but 60 cents to those who travel in day coaches.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Engine on S. P. Limited Loses a Wheel and Topples Over.

Special Correspondence.

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 9.—A wreck occurred yesterday afternoon on the Southern Pacific, in the Ogden yards, which might have been a very disastrous affair if it had not happened just where it did, but as it was only the engine was slightly damaged and no one was hurt. The Southern Pacific limited coach train, en route from the coast had just crossed the S. P. bridge over the river, and was moving at a slow rate of speed not exceeding six miles an hour, when the front axle on the left side of the engine broke in two, as if cut through by a saw, and the wheel rolled off the track. Engineer Warner grasping the situation reversed the engine, and the fireman Morehead jumped, only receiving slight bruises. The engine left the track and ran only about four rail lengths and tipped over. None of the cars left the track, and the passengers escaped unhurt. It is thought that anything unusual had happened. The axle which broke had become so intensely hot that it took hours to cool off. Had the accident occurred only a few rods from where it did, no doubt the entire train would have been piled up in the river bed, or had it occurred a few miles out when the train was running at a good speed, the disaster would have been most terrible. A switch engine was soon on the scene and pulled the train into the depot grounds. Conductor A. J. Reeve had charge of the train.

SAVED BY BEDBUGS.

Close Calls in the Recent Great Northern Wreck at Nyack.

The peculiar workings of fate are particularly exemplified in the recent Great Northern disaster at Nyack, N. Y., when the train was wrecked. As the train was passing over the bridge, the engine was struck by a bedbug, which caused it to tip over. The train was carrying a large number of passengers, but no one was hurt.

TWO BATTALIONS, FIRST INFANTRY, PREPARING FOR PARADE AND REVIEW.

A CONTINENT'S COMING OF AGE.

English Comments on the Future of the United States.

EXPOSING THE PRESIDENT.

Hope Expressed That He Will Not be Compelled to Come in Contact With Miscellaneous Mob.

London, Sept. 9.—The Daily Telegraph takes the opportunity to print a column dissertation on "America of Today," describing a continent's coming of age and dealing with the political and commercial future of the United States.

All the papers again print editorials rejoicing at the President's satisfactory progress and discussing his character and influence in the United States, and what can possibly be done to prevent anarchist outrages both in Great Britain and on the continent, especially on the continent. The newspapers exhibit some bitterness over the fact that the United States has hitherto declined to be a party to any international action against anarchists, and they anticipate that there will now be a reversal of that policy.

HOPES FOR MODIFICATION.

The Morning Post expresses a hope that there will now be some modification of the old system of exposing the President to contact with a miscellaneous mob. The Post says:

"It is absurd that the ordinary risks of public life should be increased by maintaining this affectation of primitive simplicity in a society so highly organized and wealthy as that of the United States."

ROOSEVELT'S TEMPERAMENT.

The Daily Chronicle expresses fervent hope for President McKinley's recovery on the ground of the "uncertain temperament of Roosevelt," whom it compares to the Kaiser of a dozen years ago.

ANTI-ANARCHIST MEASURES.

The Times this morning, referring editorially to the continental demands for the adoption of anti-anarchist measures, says:

"If such measures can be devised and enforced without doing more harm than good, both the British and American peoples will gladly adopt them, but neither nation is likely to be hurried at the bidding of foreign powers into any action which might involve danger to the common principles they most dearly cherish."

RUSSIAN COMMENTS.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 9.—The Journal de St. Petersburg says:

"It is earnestly to be hoped that civilized communities will realize that all that has been done so far has hitherto missed the mark and that redoubled energy is needed in the struggle against anarchy."

The Novoye Vremya, the Vedomosti, the Rossiya and other journals express hope for the speedy recovery of the President and dilate upon the friendship which exists between the United States and Russia.

The entire Russian press is extremely sympathetic with President McKinley and the American people and all condemn the anarchists and demand the adoption of more efficient means for their repression and suppression.

PROFOUND INDIGNATION.

The Journal de St. Petersburg, which is edited by the foreign office, says: "Everywhere will be felt profound indignation in presence of the odious act, whose author is affiliated with the redoubtable international band called anarchists. In Russia, where are contained very lively sympathies for the American nation, the sentiment inspiring the United States as a population is shared sincerely. Mr. McKinley, before he was chosen President, was already one of the most considerable men of this country. He was re-elected by a large majority, and has recently announced grand new projects to which he intended to devote his energies, and was preparing to play a mediatory role with pacific intentions."

UNDERSIRABLE IMMIGRANTS.

The Journal praises the energy of the American people, attributing anarchism solely to undesirable immigrants, who abuse the national hospitality.

The Boers Gazette, with perhaps the largest circulation in Russia, brands anarchism as social insanity and demands more energetic action against the ruthless bands which victimize the great God's elect and chosen rulers, since ordinary police precautions and international supervision are insufficient.

HIGH PRAISE FOR PRESIDENT.

The paper adds: "Esteemed universally, faithful in service, ever true to duty, simple, modest and sympathetic toward the needy and suffering, Mr. McKinley enjoyed extensive popularity as a private citizen, and his qualities were not changed by his high station. He is an example of manliness, uprightness and noble mindedness, of which the great republic is justly proud."

The news of his attempted assassination elicits from the whole civilized world, and especially from Russia, deep sympathy with the victim and with the nation.

"Beginning with the civil war, our sympathies were always with the United States. The hearty and ever cordial relations of the two countries are attested by many facts during the century. Throughout the Chinese crisis one notes the unbroken series of indications of closer rapprochement. Russia never regarded the Monroe doctrine as a threat, and has sympathetically observed the widening of the national life during the five years of McKinley's administration so rich in events, the qualities were not changed by his high station. He is an example of manliness, uprightness and noble mindedness, of which the great republic is justly proud."

INSANE EVIL-DOER.

The Rossiya brand the murderer as one of those insane evil-doers who are capable of any cruelty that would shock humanity and who are solved by a burst of general indignation.

REDMOND TO ROOSEVELT.

London, Sept. 9.—John Redmond, the Irish leader, cabled to Vice President Roosevelt today as follows:

"In the name of the nationalist party I send an expression of deepest sym-
