How the French Spend Sunday at the Expedition - The Day that the President of the French Resublic attends a Horse Racebe Expecition not yet Ready for Visitars or Description-Exerbi-tent Charges and Hyperbolical Expectations of Parislans-The nehwardness of the United States Agricultural Exhibit. The American Exhibit that Attracts Most Attention. WASHINGTON, D. C.,

Jane 6, 1878. Editors Descret News: Americans will remember the agitation of the runday Exhibition agitation of the Funday Exhibition question during our Centennial in Fulladelphia. Here the question has never been discussed. It is not likely, when President MacMahon, and government officials attend a horse race, as they did last Sunday, at the Bols de Bullegue, that the municipal authorities will attempt municipal authorities will attempt to interfere with the more innocent recreations of the populace. It is doubtful if any class of visitors or exhibitors here, those from England and the United States perhaps excepted, are at all surprised or shocked at this Sabbath breaking. But though the shop-keeper keeps open his shop, and masons and carpen-ters are at work on buildings; though an American has to look at the simanac to re-assure himself that it is the first day of the week, there seems still to remain a tradi-tion in the French heart that this day is not like the others of the seven. It is the favorite day for holiday. On Hunday, at a very early hour, thousands of holiday makers flock towards the exhibition from all parts of Paris. Every railway, omnibus, steamboat; every "tramway" (the name given to street cars here) is taken by storm, and at all the stations a dense crowd is constantly forming. Hun-dreds of cabe, loaded with whole families, may be seen, all going in the same direction. At the gates long files gather and slowly pass through, those behind waiting for their turn, with the philosophic patience of a French mob, except when it is charged with revolution.

The Sunday vi-itors make the most use of their time, as soon as they are past the barrier, they they are past the barrier, they spread in all directions, not a nook being left unexplored. They examine every detail of the show with searching interest, enter every building, and station themselves before every exhibit. They have evidently come to see all that can be seen in eight or nine hours, and they do not "fritter" away their time after the manner of the idle languid. blass, week-day visitor. languid, blass, week-day visitor. Towards tweive a general need of refreshments is feit, for French-men have had nothing but a roll and cup of coffee since the day before. The cheap restaurants, (most of the restaurants inside the grounds are very exorbitant in their charges) are soon filled to overflow-without the branches and sylvar surroundings which made the improvised pic-nics in Fairmont Park such an agreeable feature of the continental exhibition.

Every week the details of the Exposition furnish greater interest, and though at first glance, the improvements of the grounds and buildings are almost imperceptible, on closer examination one sees an approach towards completion at a hundred different points. Certain parts of the ground which were, iast week, in a very disagreeable condition, have since been rolled; parterred and lawns which were being laid out are now completed, and it is probable that, by the middle of June, the entire Exhibition will be in a condition to receive its will be in a condition to receive its guests. But, before the guests come in very large numbers, the prices will have to be very much reduced. The houses in Paris that have upon them the sign, "chambre aluer, (rooms to let) are almost innumera is run up for a toom with single bed. Where there are two beds, the room may perhaps be had for ten or twelve francs. This does not, of dourse, include board, which will ble, but when one inquires the price he will find that, for a very small room on the fourth or fifth story, a dollar per day is asked, and with charges for service and other extras, a bill of reven or eight france cost, according to a man's taste and appelle, from ten to twenty france per day. Living may doubtless be had for less, before the Exhibition is over. The high prices asked now represent the hyperbolical expectations of the Parisian housekeeper. tations of the Parisian housekeeper. They look for all the world this summer, but all the world will not come. England and America, which furnish a large proportion of the battalions of tourists, have heard of the exorbitant prices, and they have gumption enough to shun Paris, or to remain but a few days, before they visit other parts of the continent. 'After having kept their rooms empty for a few kept their rooms empty for a few

These Records are well printed and ruled on good ledger paper, sub-tantially bound. We can furnish them of any size, from one to five quires, or larger, but probably five quires is as large as will seeks, the lantitords will be tanght, by the only school in which fools will learn, that to rent a room for a long time, at a reasonable price, is more profitable than to have it yacant, with an exorbitant price posted on the dect.

I must defer a description of those specialties of the Exposition, in which Americans are particular ly interested, until they have been arranged in better abape for examination. The American agriculatural exhibit is much behind hand; the gentleman who has charge of this department has had much to contend with, many specimens having arrived late, and some without a label or other means of identification.

The American exhibit that attracts most attention, and perhaps more attention than any display of its size in the Exposition, is the type writer of E. Remington & Sons, Illon, N. Y. Two young women are writing with the miniature plates the machines, constantily surrounded by a dense crowd of Frenchmen, trying to look over look one anothers aboutiers, which the book one anothers shoulders, which the average small stature of a French-man makes it difficult for him to speaks only French, the outer only American.

Bear Sire—The work on the woolen factory is progressing steadilly. A very large amount of wool is rolling in, to be on hand for use. The water power has been in motion for some days, which proves to be well constructed, and the machinery, so far as tried, does steady work. Bome weaving and carding has already been done to try the looms and the carding machines.

This morning, at 8 o'clock, a sad accident befell Bro. Heistrom, who works on this building. A sharp hatchet fell down from the usef and cut his nose fearfully. It is not yet decided if carelessness in some young person created responsibility.

Supt. Wixom's Sanday School celebrated its lith anniversary here last Sunday, in having a sort of jubilee. About 500 persons were present. Short speeches, interpresent of the speeches, interpresent of the embip of Miss Minnie Snow, have lately rendered two variety performances for the benefit of the Sabbath School; which were much appreciated for the systematic, interesting, and becoming manner in which they were given. The last evening drew a larger house than the first, and it was a common talk, "what ladies undertake they can't be heat in." the County Court is in session daily as an equalization hoard, etc.,

The business of the Utah and Northern Ballcoad has greatly indreased since the extension commenced this spring, and it appears that before long it will be classed among the leading highways of the world in point of travel and traffic.
