The general chairman of the students' rt committee is Joseph B. Harris. president of the Students' society. The hairmen of the sub-committees are as follows: Robert Butler, preparatory; Inez Rhead, first year; H. J. Richards, second year; Maud Neeley, third year; Maud Baxter, fourth year; C. H. Sprague, commercial.

The committee on athletics and anusements has decided to purchase a set of band instruments. They will cost about $700. Mr. Sweeten will be the leader of the band and the prospects are that we shall have a good organization. There will also be an orchestra. It has already been remarked in public that the music of our band excels in sweetness that of any similar organization that we have heard here.

Under the guidance of Presiding Bishop Wm. B. Preston, the work of improving the grounds in front of the main buildings is progressing rapidly. The stone footings and gate columns and all the debris has, been removed from the grounds. Lawn grass is to be sown and trees and shrubs will be planted. The old cottages on the corner will shortly be removed.

The committee on students' art collection reported on Friday morning that Professor Clark had consented to select the first fifty dollars' worth of pictures In Chicago early in April. After that, he said, the students should do all the and make their own selections. J. B. Harris, chairman of the collection committee, announced the members from each department who have the matter in hand.

The '05 class held an interesting meeting on Thursday. The class president, Lorenzo Snow, presided. The follow-ing program was rendered: A song by Miss Alice Butler, entitled "Face to Face;" a recitation by Miss Florence Aveson, entitled, "Specially Jim;" a recitation, "Old Folks at Home," Mr Joseph Cornwall; a song by Miss Edwardina Parry, "Sail On, Little Chil-dren;" a recitation by Miss Zina Mc-Rac, entitled, "Killing a Chicken." SALT LAKE CITY SCHOOLS.

Sait Lake.-The last number of the High school's paper, the Red and Black, contains some very good reading mat. ter. Of especial interest are the letters from former graduates who are now prospering in colleges in the east and West.

The French play, presented by mem-bers of the French department, of the High school was reported a success.

The past two weeks have been strenuous ones for the city teachers. The amount of mental activity demanded for a full appreciation of the admir-able presentations by Prof. Clarke has taxed the great throngs of pedagogues. who have been attracted to the lec-tures, to a great extent. The condition of the average teacher can be duly ap preciated when the fact is considered that the day spent in the schoolroom draws heavily upon the teacher's strength, and leaves her in no perfect condition to expend much further men. tal energy. In spite of this unfavora-ble condition, interest in the lectures and interpretations has not abated-a high tribute to Prof. Clark's ability.

No principals' meeting was held this week.

Miss Pollock cancelled all meetings with grade teachers for the past week

Miss Ferron of the Fremont was ill last week. Mrs. Johnson did substitute work during her absence.

Supervisor Wetzell's meetings with grade teachers will be resumed the coming week.

Principals are soon to send in their recommendations for teachers for the ensuing year.

Mail matter galore is being received by the teachers, offering inducements to attend some of the many summer schools throughout the Union.

It has now been definitely determined that Utah shall have no sducational exhibit at the St. Louis fair.

The High school and its many friends are fondly anticipating the German evening at Unity hall, on Friday evening, April 8. A comedy, fine singing and a jolly dance with excellent music has been prepared for the occasion The proceeds of the entertainment-the admission price is 25 cents-shall serve as a nucleus for a gynnasium fund for the High school,

The midwinter semester came to ose yesterday, and in view of the fact that a large number of students will thus be leaving for their homes, the preparatory school class gave a party last night in the gymnasium hall in honor of the departing class.

The Iroquois theater disaster seems to be working results as far away even as Provo. The city council has ordered changes made whereby the doors of all public buildings swing outward. Two of the doors in the High school building and one in the College building had to be changed.

Three of the missionary students, viz., Elder Alonzo Read of Oakley, Ida., El-der William Snyder of Cedar Fort, and Elder John Cluff of Park City, have received calls to missions next June. The ast two have discontinued their studies with a view to making the necessary financial preparation.

The Speech Improvement club is to, isten, at its next session to a debate on this proposition, "Resolved that the Personal Influence of Woman is Greatr than that of Man." Contrary what one might expect from the gal-lantry of these days, each sex is to hampion its own cause. There will be three speakers on a side.

President Brimhall has just received a very interesting letter from Prof. Wolfe, who is at present in the office of the Millennial Star at Liverpool. Elder Welfe is in good health and full of the spirit of his mission. From President cant and Elder John O. Mellor come high praise for the literary quality of work of the Star under Prof. Wolfe's management. Elder Ernest Wright of Salt Lake City, who has until lately been engag-ed as machinist in the R. G. W. shops, has been called on a mission to Great Britain. Before leaving he took occasion to call on a number of his friends in the academy who were missionary companions with him in Samoa. He was a guest of Prof. Court and visited the school one day this week

The grading necessary to fit Temple hill for campus purposes has been go. ing on for nearly two weeks and will probably be finished today. The level-ing will be done next week. In conse-quence of this delay, caused by the un-usually rainy weather, it has been decided to postpone the interclass ath-letic contests. They will take place on April 16, instead of March 26, as prevously arranged for.

And now the kindergarten teachers have become ambitious to have the best quarters in the state. As the preparatory school will be taken from the training school building next year, three comfortable rooms on the ground floor will be alloted to the kindergarten. These will be made to communicate with each other by arched doorways with curtains. The rooms are to be painted parented and described to

Ogden .- Prof. Lund last Friday at devotional, addressed the students on the habits formed in their school life. If the student will note just a few things he said, it will prove an everlasting benefit to them. March weather has a tendency to keep the students at their studies. Very few are discontinuing, yet the faculty does not anticipate that very many will drop out before the close of school. The lecture committee has a movement on foot, which, if it develops, will offer some advantage to the students, especially the normals. Principal McKay met with the night

The committee having the work in charge, have shipped the exhibits to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. The work consisted of examination papers from the various college classes, and many boxes of work from the various laboratories and manual training departments. Among these are complete sets of the exercises in carpentry and forging and specimens of machine work in wood and iron. From the sew-ing rooms were sent cabinets containng hand and machine models, draftings and waist linings showing the method of finishing on the inside, portfolios of textiles and draftings, many pieces of underwear, a shirt walst and walking skirt, an evening gown, an empire gown and a tailor-made suit. This work was all done by the students of the college and is certainly very creditable. A piece of work from the machine shop worthy of special mention is a complete watch-maker's lathe,

AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY

So Thinks at Least One Traveling Man.

I would as soon think of starting out vithout my mileage books and grip as to start out on a trip without a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in my valise, said a traveling man who repre-sents a St. Louis hardware house, Why? Because I have to put up at all kinds of hotels and boarding houses, I have to eat good, bad and indifferent food at all hours of the day and night and I don't believe any man's stomach will stand that sort of thing without protest, anyway I know mine won't. It has to have something to break the fall and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the crutch I fall back on. My friends often "josh" me about it, tell me I'm an easy mark for patent medicine fakers, that advertised medicines are humbugs, etc., but I notice that they are nearly always complain-ing of their aches and pains and poor digestion, while I can stand most any old kind of fare and feel good and ready for my work when it needs me, and I believe I owe my good digestion and sound health to the daily, regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, year in and year out and all the "tackbase" in and year out, and all the "joshing" in the world will never convince me to the contrary.

I used to have heartburn about three times a day and a headache about three for this for four or five years I began to look around for a crutch and found it when my doctor told me the best in-vestment I could make would be a fifty cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I have invested about 50 cents a month for them ever since and when I stop to think that that is what I spend every day for cigars, I feel like shaking hands with myself for I can keep my stomach and digestion in first class or. der for fifty cents a month. I don't care for any better life insurance.

My druggist tells me they are the most popular of all stomach medicines and that they have maintained their popularity and success because they do as advertised. They bring results, and results are what count in patent med.

an announce and a second and a second and a second second

ERTAINLY one of the educational events of the season is the series of lectures and dramatic recitals given during the last two weeks by Professor S.

H. Clark. And now that sthese are over, we naturally cast in our minds for the results that have come to us through these readings.

So far as Mr. Clark personally is concerned, we may easily sum up our conclusions. In the first place, most of us are likely to think that he is a reader rather than a lecturer. Every-thing he said we enjoyed because he said it, notwithstanding we had heard much of it before. But it is what most of us need to hear year of an Waver of us need to hear very often. Never-theless, like the characters in the great Greek tragedy, which he gave us such a insight into, he likes to preach. He possesses a fine voice, one that has a wonderful range, and one that we never the of listening to. The audience had no trouble in knowing which character of the particular play he was reading, was speaking at any given time. Then, too, Prof. Clark stands

One of the strongest evidences of his power to give instruction and entertainment is the fact that for 18 recitais he drew large audiences; and this, too, during the busiest of the seasons, for most people, and also during the stormlest month of the year. has made in these parts. One of the effects of this series of recitals certainly is that the general public has received much entertain-ment with much information that would serve to point the way toward a higher standard of appreciation. His luminous remarks upon the tragic ideal above are sufficient to give even those who have been accustomed to more or less literary inclinations a better in-sight into the great purposes of tragic art. Surely, those who heard him would be less inclined to shun the tragic in literature, merely because it does not apparently furnish the diversion we all seek in our moments of ennui. The best
