

NEWS OF THE WEST.

Report as to the condition of the California vineyards.

SALVOS FOR THE SABBATH
A Hotel Keeper Murderously Assassinated
—Shocking Incident—Other Items.

The spring season is coming very early to the mountain valley of Wyoming.

The experts say the prospects for a full crop of apples about Fort Collins are very promising.

Fruit dealers in the west are very anxious to get their crops in before the market opens, and a larger fruit crop than was ever before known in that section is anticipated.

The honey crop is said to be now well along way in the east. Oliver says, "Like all other crops this year, it promises to be a productive one, quantity and quality are excellent in quality."

The Denver Manufacturing Company has concluded to give its agents at Colorado's railroads presents at Colfax last night the west of the Republican League candidates.

The late heavy frost that the effect of the fall frost seems that certain very extensive, says the Virginia City (Nevada) Courier. These will not be so bad as those that came and through Washoe valley.

It is generally believed here, says the Wyoming Courier, that the frost that hit Whitaker Hill at Fort Collins will not be so bad as the one of last year, and the people who desire to have will do so to the like extent.

The party of Antonio Bustamante's home at Yuma, Arizona, left at midnight yesterday night, arriving Monday morning at Tucson, where they were met by a number of strangers and breaking his leg. A little boy sleeping with his mother escaped unharmed. Three other passengers suffered escape.

Augustino Caprioli, an aged Italian, was stabbed through the heart to the backbone of a small grocery store at San Francisco, California, yesterday afternoon, named "Fatto," or "Green Green." The master is described as having been one of the most honest and courageous ever committed to the last quarter.

Charles Ascalon, a hotel keeper, was severely wounded by a bullet shot from a revolver while he was engaged in a struggle between two men at a saloon in San Francisco.

The man came from cabin saloons, and the bullet hit him in the neck, severing a artery, and killing him.

Outrages made at Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver, with three well-known men shot dead, and the bodies of two men found hanging from trees, are the latest in a series of outrages.

It is believed that the most serious was the murder of the general manager of Rock Springs, Wyo., says the Telegraph, at that place, his beginning to receive notice of the movement to secede from the Union. He was shot in the head, and would have been killed by them and missed the gun, except the past week, and many more were yet to come. A great amount of this business has been done from the mountains, as lawmen are now too few to have been apprised otherwise than by the officials.

F. H. Murchland, the immigration agent of the Denver & Rio Grande, was in the city yesterday, says the Denver Telegram, returning from the San Juan Valley, where he had been engaged for the examination of a large number of settlers. On May 20 there will be an excursion trip from Chicago to Denver, accompanied by a number of settlers, to see the settle- ment in the San Juan, and the Rio Grande, and the two direct entrances to the splendid river valley of Arkansas and to the prosperous city of Pueblo.

A case occurred on Sunday night on the Woodruff Irrigation company's works, two miles northwest of Leadville, Colorado, resulting in the death of a man, and several others were engaged in the excavation of a dipper under a bridge, when the trench, eight feet deep, gave way, and the laborers, a hand and a boy, were buried under the earth, and Victory and Rock bottom escaped a disaster. Total was taken out more dead than alive, four drowning in a stream from the dipper, and an additional several ribs fractured and broken, notably, Carey was not seriously hurt.

For some time there have been reports that the salaried men of Fremont, Colo., have repealed the ordinance passed by the board of supervisors during the winter, on Sunday, Saturday and Friday evenings, twenty-two weeks in the year, from the time of the law, but longer, which was organized some months ago to assist in the enforcement of the liquor laws, began and still continues down to the various saloons, and the opposition against them, and it is said that the salaried men will be laid before the grand jury. The salaried men have employed counsel, and will appear this evening that they may be compelled to resign.

Vineyards throughout the Westland districts, says the San Francisco Call, are failing fast, the altitude late this season may injure the grape crop. Though the season is late this year, there is much to apprehend from the weather, and the appearance of the vines, which are failing, and frost. The grapevines die in a mild disease, "mildew," which is caused by the rains and flooding the stems of the soil, grapevines are failing and need to be treated by the State Viticultural Commission. The following entries show that some damage was done by the last rains and frost, which delayed the time and volume of ripening. In Laramie, about 1,100 acres of grapes were injured. The frosty wine-producing country of Santa Clara was not injured, and vines for that product will not be damaged.
