EASTERN EVENTS TO HAND.

The Republicans Jubilant at the Decision of the Court.

NEW YORK, 5.—The Tribune says of events in Maine: If it be seen that these answers have no legal excuse whatever for the exclusion of a single one of the representatives to whom certificates have been refused, it remains to be seen, first, whether the Governor and Council will have the decency to reverse their unlawful action, or second, whether high handed violation of law can prevail.

The Sun says: The decision of the Supreme Court will impress the whole country as sound and eminently just. We concur entirely in the view taken by the learned judges. We ask not who loses or who gains by the decision. It is a matter of infinitely small moment whether one party or another shall be temporarily in power, when compared with the importance of preserving absolutely the integrity and principles of real popular governments. Those democrats in Maine who have received certificates of their election to the legislature, but who, knowing that they did not receive a majority or a plurality of votes, and that certificates are based on technical defects in returns, have declined to qualify or act, have done themselves lasting honor.

The World says: Governor Garcelon never should have been in doubt, and it may be fairly inferred from the questions submitted by Garcelon to the court that upon careful examination of his course, he satisfied himself that greenback counselors and his cipher alley advisers had led him into a false position. May we not now begin to hope certain democratic leaders and democratic editors who have been over tenderly disposed toward the cipher alley methods of the greenback members of Garcelon's council, will eventually see the utter folly of such methods, even from the lowest partisan point of view, and join with the World in insisting that the democratic party shall hereafter cease to curry favor with demagogues and communists in every part of the country.

Augusta, 5.—The Governor and Council held no session for business to-day, but have been in consultation in regard to the course to be pursued. A guard is still maintained at the State House with some 200 men. In the room opposite the agricultural room there are 60 stand of arms stacked ready for immediate use. An eye guard is constantly kept on all entering, passing through or leaving the building. Although every train is bearing crowds into the city there has been perfect order. The mayor has 200 extra policemen on duty. Neither side has absolutely determined on a course which is not subject to radical amendment. This much may be said, however, that the fusionists deem it all important that they should have a quorum and are resorting to all possible means to bring about that result. This afternoon a deputy was dispatched across the country to Farmington to endeavor to persuade Mr. Vater, who has publicly refused to accept a certificate, to attend the session to-morrow. Mr. Sproat, of Portland, in his own behalf and that of his colleague, will ask of the Governor and Council certificates as members of the Legislature, under the decision of the judges. Dr. Goss, of Bath, and the republican members elect from five disfranchised cities, will ask for the same right. They claim that whatever may be done with the towns and cities, one thing is clear and unmistakable: every republican deprived of his seat is either here or will be here, and at the present moment none but fusionists can be counted on who will stay away.

Chicago, 5.—The Journal's Washington special says: The Post to-day gives up the contest in Maine in behalf of the democratic party, and advises a complete submission. In speaking of the answer given by the Supreme Court to the question propounded by Gov. Garcelon, the Post says: The Governor would not have asked for this advice with a purpose to reject it. He can accept it, not only without any reproach to his cause hitherto, but in consistent pursuance of that course, and that "he will obey the law in its changed interpretation. It is doubtful, however, whether it will be competent for the governor and council to resume the caucus and count in persons who were counted out, but public opinion will demand that the legislature shall perform the work of revision and make the composition of each house conform to the requirements of the principles or theories enumerated by the judges at Bangor."

Augusta, 5.—The decision of the court has been discussed freely by crowds upon the streets and at the hotels, and elsewhere to-day. The republicans are greatly elated and jubilant and regard it as a complete triumph for their cause. The opinion is freely expressed in the best informed circles that the opposition cannot stand up and defy the courts. It is the opinion of leading republicans that the governor can do no less than cancel the certificates issued to persons not elected according to the decision of the court. The fusionists have no definite plan matured.

Hon. James C. Talbot, of Washington, and Isaac T. Hobson, of Lincoln, the counted-in senators, have already said they would not accept seats should the decision of the court be against them.

Lawyers say if this opinion is disregarded, it will be the first instance of the kind in the history of Maine.

Pillsbury is out in the Standard denouncing the opinion of the Court as partisan, and urging the counted in members to stand on their rights and not be bulldozed.

About one-half of the members have arrived. The republicans assert they will have possession of both branches of the legislature by Thursday night.

Portland, Me., 5.—An Augusta dispatch says: The quorum question has been settled by precedents that 76 is a quorum. The Senate in 1847 organized with 11; in 1851 with 15, and in 1854 with 13. In the latter years, Chief Justice Shepley, and Appleton, his associate, sustained that point. They also held that each House could compel the attendance of persons who had received the Governor's certificate before as well as after being sworn in.

WORK OF THE FLAMES.

Horrible Details of a Great Blaze.

NEW YORK, 5.—A fire broke out this morning in Turner Hall, and its progress was so great that it was barely five minutes after the first engine company arrived before the entire inside of the premises seemed to be alive with flames, long tongues of which ran up the wood work with a speed which put to naught the first efforts of the firemen. One man, while crying frantically for aid to the firemen beneath, was all the while pushing a woman, who seemed to be resisting, from the fourth story window. She finally leaped and struck the ground on her feet with a sickening crash, breaking both legs and arms and almost crushing her to death. Of the 12 or 15 persons sleeping in No. 64, four were burned to death and five injured. A little boy was burned to a crisp. Others were either dead when taken from the burning building, or died before they reached the station house. The actual cause of the fire is unknown.

There were no fire escapes attached to the building. It was not until the thumping of the fireman's axes on the boards and tin over their heads re-echoed through the house, that the men and women underneath were roused to learn their danger. Streams of water were now directed into the building, and the firemen's work began to tell, but their attention was demanded in another quarter. From elevated portions of the central part of the building cries of agony and shouts for help were heard, and the firemen cut through the roof and sides till they gained an entrance to the garret. Here, in rooms on the east side, had slept six waiters; in the west side bed rooms were three servant girls. The floor was a sea of flames, in which the terrified men and women ran wildly about, gasping for air and shouting for help. George Muller, Ernest and Herman Ruhl made their way toward the front and reached the roof more than half suffocated and burned here and there. Louis Meyer sprang from a window into the yard below, a distance of sixty feet or more, and was picked up nearly dead. Louis Schmidt was found, after the firemen ventured in, crouching in a corner where he had been unable to escape, dead and burned to a crisp. Henry Gerweihler, unable to follow his more fortunate comrades, jumped from a window into the yard and died from the effects of his leap, every bone in his body being broken. Teresa Erhardt never left her room. She was found burned to death, her features blackened almost beyond recognition. Anna Bauer sprang from the window rather than die in the fire, and was found in the yard on the west side of the building. She was horribly burned and with the injuries caused by her fall, cannot live. Rose, the last of the servants, sprang out also, and striking an arbor in the yard, in her descent, broke both legs, both arms and received internal injuries. The dead—Louis Schmidt, 39 years old, a waiter, was burned to crisp in a sleeping room; Henry Gerweihler, 25 years, waiter, jumped from a fourth story rear window and died; Wm. Geib, 10 years old, taken out on the roof of the adjoining building, died before he could be placed in the ambulance; Teresa Erhardt, 25 years, servant, burned to death in her room. Injured—Wm. Winckel, 40 years, lessee of the hall, severely burned about the hands, face and arms; Josephine Winckel, 40 years, wife of lessee, face terribly disfigured by burns; and the body badly blistered; little chance of recovery; Annie Bauer, 30 years, servant, jumped from window and internally injured badly burned, probably die; Rose, servant, about 28 years, jumped from the window, both legs and arms broken, and internally injured; Margaret Geib, aged 30, sister to Mrs. Winckel, face and feet severely burned.

A Woman's Temperance Talk.

Mrs. Peckham spoke an hour yesterday at Haverly's Theatre on temperance, during which time she said the people of California love its wines, but love to have them stay at home. They dislike wines in America for the reason thousands upon thousands of our men are becoming debauched by opium, a habit which Chinese have introduced. Californians object to the myriad of Chinese sweeping over the land and demoralizing our youth. Our nation can scarcely be led by the right hand of the right-eous, or the scenes that were witnessed about the police stations last Friday morning could never have happened. Many have contracted the habit of drinking ardent spirits from absurd society customs observed on New Year's day.

The French Floods.

A cable to the Herald from Paris says: An inspector of navigation of the Seine has just furnished the Herald's correspondent with some facts about the flood which has been threatening. No immediate danger is now expected. Several large laundry boats between the Pont de la Tournelle and Pont St. Louis have been crushed and sunk. Many other boats coming down the stream from Nejully have also been crushed against the bridges. A litter of spars is seen floating down the Seine as far as Pont St. Michael. Many similar disasters are feared in spite of all the precautions that are being taken. The inspector is hourly receiving reports that navigation has recommenced on the Upper Seine.

Kearney in New York.

Dennis Kearney arrived in New York early yesterday morning accompanied by his brother, and went to French's Hotel. He is a delegate from the workingman's party to the greenback convention to be held in Washington on the 8th inst. But one portion of Kearney's object in coming east is to see Parnell and exchange views with the Irish agitator. He said to a reporter, "We are all of course averse to Grant's re-election, but we are nearly as much opposed to the election of any man nominated by the republican party. The fact is, this country and every other country belongs to the men who till it and make it productive. Without them it would be worthless, and who, I ask, should govern a country but the men who own it? We want no generals, no lawyers, no editors for our president. We want honest, working men. I have not yet seen Parnell," said Kearney, "but I hope to do so to-night or to-morrow morning." With regard to the shooting of Kalloch in San Francisco, Kearney declined to say much. It was a delicate subject to talk about he said. Kalloch was a good, honorable, whole souled man, and the best Mayor that San Francisco has ever had.

After the greenback convention in Washington, Kearney will return to this city for a short time, but he has made no arrangements to deliver public addresses, nor does he anticipate doing so.

For the Distressed.

The proceeds of last night's meeting in Madison Square Garden are $2,550, and will be given for the relief of the distressed in Ireland. Parnell to-day received a telegram from the secretary of the relief committee in Virginia City, Nevada, stating that $1,500 for the suffering poor of Ireland had been forwarded him, and giving the agitatator a pressing invitation to visit that city.

The Cental System.

As it has been found inexpedient to inaugurate the cental system at the Produce Exchange, the board of managers this morning resolved and recommended the postponement of the adoption of the system until such time as necessary national and state legislation can be obtained to put it into force and for the principal commercial exchanges to agree upon a time for its simultaneous adoption.

Kearney Likes Parnell.

Kearney visited Parnell last night, and subsequently told a reporter: I'm with him heart and soul and body and blood. I believe he is an honest young man and an earnest one, and I want to see the likes of him here and in Ireland get out and declare themselves against every devilish kind of tyranny and every blackhearted pretense of doing right.

Sherman Club.

CINCINNATI, 5.—A Sherman club was organized last night with 56 members.

New Army Bill.

WASHINGTON, 5.—During the recess a bill has been agreed upon by a sub-committee of the House committee on military affairs, which contemplates the organization of the army upon the basis of 25,000 enlisted men, as recommended by Gen. Sherman. It is understood the bill proposes to do away with the regimental organization of the five regiments of artillery and makes the artillery corps have a chief with the rank of brigadier general. It provides for the reduction of several staff corps.

Indian Outrages.

CHICAGO, 5.—A Tribune's Washington special says: Ex-Governor Hunt, of Colorado, last night received a dispatch, confirmatory of the story already darkly hinted at, that the females captured by the Utes were outraged by their Indian captors. The Pueblo, Colorado Chieftain, of New Year's day, contained a card signed by Mrs. Meeker in which this crime is charged upon the Utes. Gov. Hunt said the reception of the dispatch made him sick at heart. He did not make it public last night, because he did not want to antagonize the policy of Mr. Schurz. He said the publication of a story of that kind here would at once arouse a sentiment as hostile to the savages as that which exists in the State of Colorado. "I do not believe it will be safe even to bring these wretches to Washington," said he. "If a relative of mine had suffered this unnamable indignity at the hands of one of these Indians, I would shoot him down in the streets of this city."

A Horrible Suspicion.

A St. Louis dispatch says: That near the relay depot at East St. Louis, where ditches are almost without number, the police think they have discovered evidence which establishes the existence of a gang of murderers, and to a certain extent solved the mystery of numerous disappearances of several well known men. Judge May, of Olney, was last seen at this place on board of an outgoing train, and since that time no less than a dozen other passengers have vanished in like manner in this vicinity. The theory of the detectives is that passengers are lured from night trains to the platform, knocked senseless, or killed outright, robbed and buried in the swamp. A thorough investigation will be made.

Frightful Celluloid Explosion.

NEWARK, N. J., 5.—A fearful explosion took place this morning in the converting room of the Celluloid Manufacturing Company, by which three men were instantly killed and two others so badly burned that they cannot survive. The workmen were in their accustomed places when, from an unknown cause, a mass of celluloid, which is a highly inflammable material, suddenly exploded, destroying a one story brick building with all its contents. William Fenter, aged 15, was killed. His body was found in the ruins, a ghastly spectacle. Under his body were the disfigured remains of Frederick Stiles, of Roselle, so charred that they were scarcely recognizable. John Yates, residence unknown, was also killed. Spencer Atwood died in 10 minutes from concussion of the brain. Elmer Bogart and Frederick Pearce were fearfully burned, and taken to the hospital. No hope of their recovery is entertained. Stephen W. Wade was severely, but not dangerously injured. The loss on the building and contents is estimated at $10,000; insured. The manager of the celluloid works says the explosion probably occurred from gas in the machinery room, under the care of Fred Stiles, who was killed. The machine was used for mixing and grinding materials.

Fall in Beer.

SYRACUSE, 5.—The fifth floor of one section of the Greenway Brewing Company's immense building gave way this morning and in its fall carried down all the other floors. A man on the upper floor and another on the lower floor were injured, but not seriously. Seven hundred bushels of corn and wheat, 175 bales of hops, about 5,000 bushels of Canada malt and 2,000 bushels of malt dust were precipitated into the Onondaga Creek and much of it washed away; loss, about $20,000. The upper floor theretofore carried double the weight which broke it down.

A Shooting Scrape.

DEADWOOD, 5.—A man named Joe Coburn, aged 25, lately employed in constructing a military telegraph line, entered the restaurant of Wm. Woolsey, at Fountain City, a few miles from Deadwood, this afternoon, and renewed an old quarrel by refusing to pay a bill. Coburn drew his revolver first, but Woolsey firing, the ball entered Coburn's breast. He lies in a dying condition. It is believed his home is in Michigan. Woolsey is under arrest.

Indians Going East.

DENVER, 5.—Dispatches from Del Norte state that 12 Utes and an escort, on their way east, arrived at that point this afternoon, and will to-morrow reach Alamosa, the terminus of the railroad. They are objects of much curiosity, especially Ouray and Jack. All preserve a dogged silence and receive the homage of public curiosity with stolid indifference.
