

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

Bishop Miller died to-day.
Monday will be Pioneer Day.
Judge A. C. Piper is reported as improving.
Coele Tom's Cabin at the Theatre on Monday night.
There was a sharp shower of rain and hail yesterday evening.
It is reported that the Fort Hall, Idaho, troops will be removed to Fort Douglas.
The 15th Ward New Chapel will open for meeting for the first time to-morrow evening, at 8:30.
Coele Tom's Cabin by J. Rial's great company on Monday at the Salt Lake Theatre. A great treat.
We have received the last number of the Woman's Exponent. It is a useful full of information that every body should want to read. It is a good journal.
Yesterday Sisters E. R. Snow, Martha and Zina D. Young, went to Farmington to attend the Davis County Ladies Conference. Three excellent meetings were held.
Yesterday Prof. Carl Linn and Mr. J. Sprout, on the seat of their wagon, took refuge from the sudden fall of hail under the wings of the wing at the Eagle Cafe.
LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.
Death of Bishop R. Miller.—We learned with regret, to-day, that Bishop Reuben Miller, of Mill Creek, whose illness we have noted in the News, died at 9:15 a.m. to-day, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J. Rial, in the State of Pennsylvania. Funeral from Mill Creek-Ward House, on Monday at 10 a.m. Friends are invited.
Denver and Rio Grande.—The Denver and Rio Grande Railway Company announce, for the benefit of passengers, that on and after Monday, July 24th, trains will leave the temporary station in this city, under Second South and Fifth West streets daily, for all points between here and Pleasant Valley, at 7 a.m., and for Bingham and Alta branches at 7:30 a.m. Trains will arrive at Salt Lake from Pleasant Valley at 6:15 p.m., from Bingham and Alta branches at 6:15 p.m. See advt.
A generous offer.—A well known merchant of this city hands us the following:
I was pleased to see your report last night to helping the producers of the Great Western match factory to start again. The machine shop would probably help them by rebuilding or repairing their machinery and others in other lines might also help when a surplus of cash is not available. I do not know my shop, and would rather decline like the present help my industry to make a fresh start than continually contribute to the support of foreign insurance companies. Humanity has too few industries to support their own good, and cannot afford to have any crushed out. I therefore sympathize with them in their machine work and material.
Who comes next? Don't all speak at once.
On Business and Pleasure.—This morning we received a visit from J. Jones, Esq., of Hartford, Conn., who is here on introduction from Dr. Senator Eaton and other prominent gentlemen of that State. Mr. Jones is an attorney by profession, and is widely known as a successful counsel for the defense in the celebrated Malley murder case, in which the Malley and Blanche Douglas were charged with conspiracy in producing the death of Jennie Cramer by poison, the defendants being discharged after half an hour's consultation by the jury. The case created a great sensation throughout the country, being considered one of the most intricate on trial for a long time.
Mr. Jones has come to Utah on business and pleasure combined, and his visit will prove agreeable to all.
The Water Meeting.—The call for a meeting of the residents of the "dry bench" land, to be held at the school house square of the 15th Ward, last evening, was responded to by a large number of the interested parties. J. Nicholson was called to the chair, and H. J. Wagner appointed secretary. The object of the meeting was to present a petition to the city council on the subject of providing a water supply for the whole of the inhabited portion of the bench land to the north of the 15th wards—15th, 20th and 21st—considered, but it was explained by the chairman that Mayor Jennings, in connection with the water main had, since the meeting was called, taken steps toward affording temporary relief for the portion of the thirty section of the city. A ditch had been surveyed and was in progress of construction between Emery Creek and the "dry bench" land, and the connection would be made and water from the creek would flow through in a few days.
This statement gave great satisfaction, the audible signs of approval being numerous. It was also explained that the present Mayor and City Council, were, as a body, very anxious of affording the citizens of the bench land the relief they needed and should have, and it was with the large majority of the City Fathers, but a question of the best means of attaining a solution of the question.
This being the understood status of the matter, so far as the corporation law matters are concerned, it was decided to appoint a committee to represent the people on the subject, and take all needed steps toward the attainment of the desired object. The committee, who were nominated from the body of the meeting, are as follows: John Nicholson, George Hayward, H. J. Fowler, W. H. Howe, and W. L. Culmer.
At the meeting manifested a determination not to let the question under consideration rest until a satisfactory solution was reached, it was a respectful, temperate and orderly assembly.

THE EIGHTEENTH WARD CHAPEL.

A HANDSOME AND CREDITABLE STRUCTURE NEARLY COMPLETED.

With the exception of a few trifling details, the interior of the Eighteenth Ward Chapel is ready for the public. The first religious services will be held in it to-morrow evening, beginning at half-past six. President Joseph F. Smith will preach the discourse on the occasion.
The body of the building is brick, and the foundation granite, and is semi-gothic in style, after a design by the late Obed Taylor. It has sixteen stumps and the height of the tower, from the ground to the summit of the spire is 76 feet. The site is "beautiful for situation," rendering it an attractive point for the eye to rest upon from any part of the city.
The body of the interior is 50 x 30 feet, and 18 feet 6 inches high to the square, with the ceiling rising till it reaches the middle, where it is 22 feet 6 inches from the floor. The ceiling is thrown into squares by beams, which are neatly finished in imitation oak, while the interiors of the squares are elegantly paneled in delicate, subdued water-color tints, the walls being plain, and of a tint which has an appropriate blending with those of the ceiling.
In the east end of the building the gallery is situated, in the rear part of which is a recess formed by the interior of the tower, at the opening of which is an elliptic arch, nicely grained in imitation of elena marble, as are also the two pillars supporting the gallery.
The stand is large, occupying the whole width of the hall, and is ornamented with a handsome brass-work, with banister extensions on each side. The top is tastefully upholstered with deep crimson plush, and the floor of the platform appropriately carpeted. Besides seats of the usual style, half a dozen large chairs occupy the space. The north end of the stand is arranged for occupation by the organ and choir, of which Brother H. G. Whitney is the capable conductor.
The chapel is lighted by twelve large windows. The whole of the woodwork, including the wainscoting, which protects the lower part of the walls, is grained in imitation of oak, of a deep rich tint. The seats, which are set off with ornamental arms at the ends, are in plain paint for the present, but it is the intention to have them grained at some future time, and the aisle running up the center of the hall is covered with matting.
Besides the main body of the interior there is a vestibule, 8 x 7 ft., being the interior square of the tower.
There are a number of conveniences about the building that would take too much space to name. The surroundings are not completed, such as fencing and other details.
The brickwork was done by W. Tuddenham, the foundation by John Worthen, the woodwork by Acting Bishop R. Patrick; the plastering, by James Coult; the painting, by W. C. Morris, and the calculating, by R. Simpson. All of the work has been well and faithfully done, and the construction as a whole has been under the direct superintendency of Brother Patrick from its beginning, to whose untiring exertions its existence is more due than to anybody else's.
The Saints of the Ward have contributed liberally toward the erection of the building, and now they have a house not surpassed in beauty or solidity by any in Utah of similar size. Besides the general contributions, the Sisters of the Relief Society were at the expense of the upholstery adornment of the stand.
When completed, the entire structure will cost in the neighborhood of $8,500.
Ground was broken for the building on the 13th of June, 1880. The building committee appointed were: Robert Patrick, W. B. Barton, Thomas Lattimer (deceased), Fernandos Young (deceased), E. R. Snow, Smith, Thomas W. Jennings, N. Twiss Young.
The Parish of Knowledge.—This morning we were pleased to meet Dr. Mattie Paul Hughes, who returned home on Thursday from the East, where she has been pursuing a course of studies for the last four years in two of the leading medical institutions of the country. This accomplished lady spent two years at Anna Arbor, where she graduated in 1880, and took her first degree of M.D.
Dr. Hughes then entered the University of Pennsylvania, the leading institution of the kind in the United States. There she pursued a course of general studies, obtaining a thorough theoretical understanding of every branch of the profession of her choice, and succeeded in obtaining the degree of Bachelor of Science.
While in Philadelphia, Miss Paul, in addition to her studies in the University, attended the National School of Eloquence, and Oratory, graduated and attained the degree of Bachelor of Oratory. Her perseverance and attention to study in the pursuit of efficiency has been truly remarkable. Instead of passing the summer vacations in pleasure-seeking she engaged in the practice of her profession on the St. Clair River, in the course of which she performed some delicate and intricate operations, and was assisted in them by a number of Doctors of the same sex.
Dr. Hughes will, after a brief rest, open an office and begin the practice of her profession in this city, being prepared to operate in every branch of medicine or surgery, with a special tendency to diseases of women and children. (She is one of the most thoroughly educated ladies in Utah, and we predict for her a long career of almost unlimited usefulness. With pleasure we bid her welcome home.)
Services.—The funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. D. J. Mackintosh will be held at 10 a.m. to-morrow, at her late residence. Friends of the family are invited to attend.

A Big Day at Calder's.—Among the multiplicity of attractions which will draw the citizens of Salt Lake City out from the hot and dusty thoroughfares on Pioneer day, none offers more attractions than the beautiful suburban retreat at Calder's Farm. In addition to the usual attractions, which are as familiar to the public, including the fair, the flower, spring, or crystal water, the grove and shady bowers, the beautiful scenery, the cool and placid waters of the beautiful lake, the various games, etc., there will be plenty of music and refreshments, and also the third race of the Salt Lake Bicycle Club for the gold and silver medals, besides a ten mile bicycle race between Messrs. Margotte and Jennings. The races will begin about 2 p.m., and conclude in the afternoon. The price of admission to allow parties to catch the bathing train or visit the Theatre in the evening. The price of admission to the grounds has been reduced to 25 cents. In selecting your site for recreation on the 24th don't forget the bright waters, the boats and the bicycle.

FROM "THE TIMES."
Editors Times.—Seeing an article in your paper last week from Arnold Barker, I was impressed with the earnestness with which he appeals to you to continue to enlighten the world in regard to the means by which he was so miraculously cured of rheumatism and hip-joint lameness by using Kendall's Spavin Cure. The article to which he alludes by Dr. Bates, impressed me so favorably with the real merits of the remedy that I tried it also for several blennorrhies on my horses and found it the most perfect cure I ever tried for sprains and other blennorrhies, as it completely removed the enlargement in every instance by continuing its use for several days after the abscess had subsided. The perfect success I have always had with Kendall's Spavin Cure led me to use it on my own person, and for all the family with the very best results as a family liniment. While several of the cures made with it have been almost miraculous, none have been more satisfactory than several cures which I made with it of foot-rot and also sore teats as well as warts on teats of cows. I consider it a sure cure for sore teats or foot-rot in either cows or sheep. With the satisfaction this remedy has always given in every instance, I cannot refrain asking with my friend Parker that you continue to make known to the world this, the grandest discovery of the nineteenth century.
Yours truly,
JAMES A. CAMPBELL.
Herkimer, N. Y., Sept. 10th, 1881.
The above letter, with one published last week, encourages us in our efforts to make our paper one of the most valuable journals in the country and to all our patrons, and we now ask others of our readers who have been benefited by the letter published one year ago from Dr. Bates that they send us for publication, statements which they will wish to make for the benefit of others.—[Ed.] d&w
