

BREVITIES.

A "Ku-Klux-Klan" has been started in Ireland.

There are more than 30,000 strangers in Rome, the daily expenditure of whom is estimated at nearly 1,000,000 francs.

A Japanese letter-writer says that the Grecian bend has been fashionable in that country for four centuries.

Two young ladies, on an average, commit suicide in Paris, every day for love, and one man, in consequence of pecuniary embarrassments.

There is a doctor for every 1,000 inhabitants in Paris and the number of apothecaries—a very well-to-do class—is 17. There are also 295 offices of health.

At a recent naval court martial, the following dialogue is said to have taken place between one of the witnesses and the Court: "Are you a Catholic?" "No, sir." "Are you a Protestant?" "No, sir." "What are you, then?" "Captain of the foretop."

Lord Chancellor Nottingham suffered much from the gout, and once, after some painful waddling between the woolsack and the bar in the House of Lords, he was heard to mutter, "If I had known that these legs were one day to carry a Chancellor, I'd have taken care of them when I was a lad."

Commodore Vanderbilt has just had a narrow escape from an accidental death. Going to a closet, he seized a bottle and drank a portion of its contents, without examining it. The fluid burned his mouth, and he spat it out. It turned out to be a deadly bed-bug poison. The Commodore's face was severely burned, but beyond this no injury was received.

In his lecture on Co-operation, last night, Mr. Greeley alluded to the large number of co-operative tailoring establishments in successful operation in London, and stated that the clothing which he had on (as he did so the speaker carefully stroked his old white coat) was purchased in one of the above mentioned establishments, during a visit to that city twenty years ago, some the 24th of the present month. That coat is almost of age.

The command of Lieutenant General Sheridan embraces the Territory of Utah, on the west, and the State of Illinois on the east, and the country between the British Provinces and Mexico. This is divided into three departments—the Platte, commanded by Brevet Major General Augur, with headquarters at Omaha; the Dakota, Brevet Major General Terry, headquarters at St. Paul; and the Missouri, headquarters at Fort Leavenworth, commanded by Brevet Major General Schofield.

The breaking away of the great reservoir in Northern New York could have been prevented at an expense not to exceed ten dollars, had the superintendent, who for a number of years has had charge of the reservoir, been removed lately to give the place to a Democrat, and this new man not understanding his business, or not attending to his duty, failed, on the appearance of the freshet, to open the discharge gates, and the reservoir burst its banks, and the loss to the State, by reason of failure of water in the Black River and the Erie canal, will be incalculable.

Earl Chatham was a martyr to gout in his feet. To protect them they were swathed in flannel and in socks made expressly to cover the flannel. He wore shoes large enough to cover this mass of wrapping. One day his residence at Hayes was broken into, and among other things stolen were these shoes. In the morning the valet, in announcing the robbery, said: "He has taken your shoes, my lord." "What! my gouty shoes?" "Yes, my lord." "D—n the rascal, I hope they will fit him!"

While Judge Archer, of Marshall, Ind., was removing some boxes from a shelf, recently, a mouse jumped out of one of them and into the mouth of the Judge, and started directly down his throat. The Judge, unlike John Chinaman, did not relish the taste, and, after several hawks, succeeded, despite the efforts of the mouse, in getting him out of his throat into his mouth, but was rather slow in getting hold of him, and although he made another attempt to get down the Judge's throat, he was unsuccessful.

Three cases of horrible crime have recently occurred in London. A woman, after being horribly abused, was found dead the next morning on a ground, cut open, and her body filled with stones and coal and pieces of brick. A woman, taking advantage of her husband's helplessness, deliberately mutilated him in the most shocking manner, and then dug out both his eyes. Another woman, angered at her husband, emptied a can of paraffin oil over him, and then set fire to him.

The newest theory out concerning the origin of the American Indians is that suggested by a Philadelphia author. He thinks the Israelites in their forty years journeying on their way from Egypt to Palestine passed through America and left some stragglers behind. Eden was an island in the Pacific Ocean, submerged in these days. Plato had it in his mind when he told of the mythical Atlantis. The Ark grounded on Cuba, Sodom and Gomorrah, being situated somewhere near Trinidad, perished in the convulsion attested by geologists, which formed the Indian archipelago. The Red Sea was the Gulf of California, the golden calf was a tapir. The Israelites, driving flocks of llamas, vicuñas, and alpacas, proceeded to Palestine via Behning's Straits and the great desert of Tartary, which satisfactorily accounts for their having spent forty years on the journey.
