

Wilson, Miss Mildred Clark and Miss Johnson.

Decorative committee, Mrs. J. E. Osborne, chairman, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Truitt.

The reception will take place from 2 until 6. Music will be rendered and the affair promises to be the greatest event of the season.

A very enjoyable party was given to Miss Jennie Hatten, who leaves shortly for California for her health.

The Rebecca's gave a very grand reception at their hall on Friday evening.

The Women's Woodcraft gave a successful entertainment on Wednesday evening. Every one was enthusiastic over the affair and pronounced it a great success.

Mrs. Phil Speckart spent Thursday in Salt Lake.

One of the grandest balls of the season will be given by the Elks on Thursday evening next.

A number of quite prominent weddings are scheduled for December.

Hon. Wm. Roylance is out again, feeling well after his slight illness.

Miss Pond has been confined to her room for several days, but is now much improved.

EUREKA.

The wife, son and daughter of Rev. Dr. Bain have arrived here from Washington, D. C., and will spend the winter with the gentlemen.

The ladies of Tintic Hive No. 6, L. O. T. M., entertained the ladies of Mammoth and Silver City Hives Thursday evening with a banquet. A very enjoyable evening was spent by the fair sex.

The Juvenile orchestra gave a well attended dance at the L. D. S. church Friday evening.

The Knights of the Macabees, Tintic Tent No. 12, brotherhood, at the L. D. S. church for their Thanksgiving ball and Darton's complete orchestra will furnish the music. The ladies will serve a supper in the basement of the building.

A pretty wedding took place at St. Patrick's church Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, when Jane Driscoll and Miss Mary Hayes, two well known young people of this camp, were united for life by the Rev. Father O'Donohue. The happy couple took the R. G. W. morning train for a short honeymoon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Martin, and is an accomplished musician. She has been employed as a teacher in the Eureka public school. The groom is one of the most popular young men of Eureka being at present employed as assistant cashier of the McCormick bank here. For several years he was assistant postmaster to his brother, James P. Driscoll. The young people start on their journey through life with the best wishes of a host of Tintic friends.

The members of Eureka Camp No. 451, Woodmen of the World, and the Ladies of 20th Century Circle, Women of Woodcraft, gave a reception at their hall last Tuesday evening in honor of Mayor-elect J. D. Stock, City Treasurer-elect John Morley and Councilmen-elect John A. Burrows, and Herbert Hopes, all members of Camp 451. After an impromptu program had been rendered, card playing was indulged in. The new officials made short addresses, which pleased the entertainers. During the evening the ladies served a light luncheon, which was heartily enjoyed by all present.

The singers of Tintic are busily engaged in rehearsing the opera "Pauline, the Belle of Saragossa," which will soon be produced at Eureka, Mammoth and Silver City, under the direction of Miss Alta Erchenbrack, the popular young vocalist.

Mr. J. H. Holliman of Robinson is making preparations to go to Salina, Utah, where he will lead a fair daughter of that city to the altar.

Miss Lilly Brown has returned to her home at Robinson after several weeks' visit with Salt Lake friends.

Miss Rosa Tiddle of Silver City is visiting friends at Payson.

George H. Berryman was united in marriage to Miss Eleanor Maxwell at the home of his parents on Saturday evening last, by the Rev. Dr. Bain. A large number of friends of the young couple were present to witness the taking of the vows. The bride is a well known young man of Eureka, and the bride is a fair daughter of Great Britain, her parents residing at Cleburne, England. Mr. and Mrs. Berryman will make their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Haynes have returned from their wedding tour and are at home to their friends at their residence of Leadville Row.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Clarke of Lost River, Idaho, are the guests of their daughter, Mrs. H. F. Pulleride.

The Blue Rock Club, a new social organization, will give their initial dance at the L. D. S. church on Monday evening and Tuesday. The club are composed of young men employed at the Centennial-Eureka mine, and they propose to take the lead among the different social clubs of the city.

The Foresters celebrated their first anniversary Wednesday evening at their hall in an appropriate manner. Their wives and sweethearts were present and the exercises were very interesting. A dainty supper was served during the evening.

Mrs. J. B. Darton and mother are the guests of Silver City friends this week.

CLUB CHAT.

The newly appointed board of directors of the U. F. W. clubs met this week, and among the business transacted was the election of Mrs. C. H. McMahon to take the place of Mrs. F. D. Bickford, the retiring secretary. The reports of various officers were heard, and the funds of the federation were turned over to the new treasurer, Mrs. L. A. Ostien of Logan. A committee was appointed to consider the feasibility of establishing a club par.

The Women's club met this week with Mrs. Howard S. Stow and Mrs. P. A. Cook gave an interesting paper entitled "Some Recent Advancements Along the Line of Philanthropy." The club decided to give an entertainment on next Thursday night for the benefit of the club building fund. The affair will be given at Unity hall and Mrs. Armstrong will give readings, while some of the best musical talent will assist in the program.

The Council of Jewish Women held its regular meeting at the B. B. rooms on Tuesday, and Miss Reynolds gave a talk on "The Jewish Renaissance." Miss Somers read a paper on Grace Aguilar, and Miss Nellie Pinkerton furnished delightful music.

Mrs. Emma McVicker delivered an able address at the Cleburne this week on the subject of "School Hygiene." A discussion by club members followed.

At the Ladies' Literary club yesterday L. E. gave a paper on "Non-sense Verse," and Mr. Iglehart gave an interesting talk on "Caricature in Art," illustrated by Allan L. Lovey. Music was furnished by the Misses Leimar.

The D. A. R. held an interesting meeting this week at the home of Mrs. La Motte.

The Nebraska State Federation convention, recently closed, had an unusually interesting educational report. The federation has been educating a young colored woman as a kindergarten director among her own people in the south, and there is a strong sentiment among the members to contribute to the education of a second young woman for the same work. The president's address included the recommendations that the women continue to agitate for a juvenile court law, and that they inform themselves regarding the state property laws for women. They were cautioned against too frequently knocking at the legislative door, and were advised to conserve their efforts until the demand might be profitably made. This is a wise recommendation for all clubs and federations. It was urged that the age limit of child labor in Nebraska be raised to 15 years, to agree with the compulsory education law.

The executive board, as well as the president, Mrs. W. E. Page, were re-elected.

A circular letter from Mrs. Mary Wood Smith, president of the National Council of Women, addressed to local councils, concerning the quinquennial to be held in Germany next June, says in part: "As president of the American council it becomes my duty to send a list of women capable of making reports and participating in discussions of subjects falling under the following heads:

- 1-The education of girls and women.
  - 2-The industrial position and progress of women.
  - 3-The civil rights of women.
  - 4-The political position of women.
  - 5-Women in letters, science and art.
- In making nominations I beg you to bear in mind the condition strictly stipulated by the German committee. No one will be invited to speak whose voice cannot be trusted to carry easily and intelligibly, and who has not a subject that must be borne in mind, and however able intellectually a woman may be, she must not be nominated unless her voice is clear and strong. This stipulation should be made at all state and national meetings of women's clubs. Nothing is more depressing than to sit through a long address or a paper read by a woman, doubtless well versed in the subject, who is unable to listen to, whose small voice prevents her audience from hearing one word in ten. Most women speakers pitch their voice at the very highest point, imagining that the contrary is true. A low voice, that is, a low pitched voice, is an excellent thing in club women.

The program for the congress of the National Union of Women Workers of Great Britain and Ireland, to be held in Cheltenham, early in November, reads very much like one of an American federation meeting. The new Education act, concerning which there has been so much agitation in Great Britain, comes in for more discussion at the congress. Miss Powell the English never announced the given name of a woman who was to be the training college for women teachers, is to lead a debate on some phases of education in secondary schools. "Secondary Education Under the New Act" and "Evening Continuation Schools" will be discussed. "Gambling and Speculation Among Women" has a peculiar sound. The Duchess of Beaufort is to give the opening address, and the list of speakers is included in the list of speakers. Miss Dorothea Beale, principal of the Cheltenham Ladies' college, one of the best women's colleges in England, is also among the speakers.

Rochester, N. Y., has a Council of Women composed of two representatives from each women's club in the city. Five members of the council have just been appointed a committee on woman suffrage in the city schools of New York state. For some time the council has been actively interested in securing for New York state women living in cities the right to vote on school matters, a right which countrywomen have secured for a number of years. For various reasons the matter has received small attention lately, but the committee just appointed will take it up again in earnest.

Indeed, an effort is always made, on whatever subject, to keep the home town upmost. If a child can be taught to appreciate that which is worthiest and best in his own town, he will be more likely to appreciate that which is worthiest in his surroundings, he will quickly develop active interest in affairs that is apt to be permanent."

Pittsburg is to have a George Junior Republic, as a result of efforts of the women composing the juvenile court department of the permanent civic committee. Plans for the establishment of the republic were discussed at the meeting of the department this week. The first step, raising funds with which to carry on the new nature of juvenile court work, has already been arranged for. All women's clubs, philanthropic and benevolent societies and organizations interested in children's welfare are all being asked to cooperate. According to the plans of the women who are working for the children reached through the juvenile court, the republic in Pittsburg will be established on the lines followed by Mr. George and others who have founded similar institutions in New York and elsewhere. The scheme is to take children from the court room to the little community, unless their cases are otherwise disposed of by the judge.

The last number of the Chautauquan contained an interesting account of the town improvement work of the women of Carlisle, Pa. The author says of one branch of the work: "But perhaps the most practical benefit to our community life that we have been able to offer is the successful development of the savings fund. We followed the scheme of the Penny Provident Savings system of New York City and the McCort system of Harrisburg, giving in exchange for deposits stamps which indicate in each case the amount deposited. We have an office centrally located, where, on Saturday mornings, from 9 until 12 o'clock, two members of the club committee having in charge the savings funds are on duty. Substitutions for receiving deposits are carried in four stores in different quarters of the city."

A TEST EXPERIMENT.

Peculiar Power Possessed by a New Medicine.

Of new discoveries there is no end, but one of the most recent, most remarkable and one which will prove invaluable to thousands of people, is a discovery which it is believed will take the place of all other remedies for the cure of those common and obstinate diseases, dyspepsia and stomach troubles. This discovery is not a loudly advertised, secret patent medicine, but is a scientific combination of wholesome, perfectly harmless vegetable essences, fruit salts, pure pepsin and bismuth.

These remedies are combined in a unique form, pleasant to take, and will preserve their good qualities indefinitely, whereas all liquid medicines rapidly lose whatever good qualities they may have as soon as uncorked and exposed to air.

This preparation is called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and it is claimed that one of these Tablets or lozenges will digest from 200 to 300 times its own weight of meat, eggs and other wholesome food. And this claim has been proven by actual experiments in the following manner: A hard boiled egg, cut into small pieces was placed in a bottle containing warm water heated to ninety-eight degrees (or blood heat); one of these Tablets was then placed in the bottle and the proper temperature maintained for three hours and a half, at the end of which time the egg was completely digested as it would have been in a healthy stomach. This experiment was undertaken to demonstrate that what it would do in the stomach it would also do in the stomach, hence its unquestionable value in the cure of dyspepsia and weak digestion. Very few people are free from some form of indigestion but scarcely two will have the same symptoms. Some will suffer most from distress after eating, bloating from gas in the stomach and bowels, others have acid dyspepsia or heartburn, others indigestion or loss of sleep, others pains in the chest and under shoulder blades, extreme nervousness as in nervous dyspepsia, but they all have the same cause, failure to properly digest food, and the stomach must have rest and assistance, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give it both, by digesting the food for it and in a short time it is restored to its normal condition and vigor. At the same time the Tablets are so harmless. This new preparation has already cured many astonishing cures, as for instance, the following:

After using only one package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets I have received such great and lasting relief that I wish to express my sincere gratitude. In fact, it has been six months since I took the package and I have not had one particle of distress or difficulty since. And all this in the face of the fact that the best doctors consulted told me my case was Chronic Dyspepsia and absolutely incurable as I had suffered twenty-five years. I distributed half a dozen packages among my friends here who are very anxious to try this remedy.

Mrs. Sarah A. Skol, Lynnville, Jasper Co., Mo.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents for full sized packages and 25 cents for the smaller size. The Training School on Stomach Diseases mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

town, where deposits are received at any time and are handed over once a month to the civic club. The whole plan has worked beautifully."

Of the interest taken in the work by the children themselves the author speaks enthusiastically. She says in part: "Of course, every one who is interested in municipal progress knows how important it is to attract children in the cause to attract their attention to practical duties of life. They are sensitive to appeals, see quickly local needs, and are soon actively helpful. We have a large and interesting 'Children's League of Good Citizenship' that our club established in the public schools five years ago and which numbers about 1,500 members. The organization of this branch of club work was one of our early efforts. We were encouraged in it from the beginning by a broad-minded school board and superintendent of public schools and by a manifestation of courteous interest on part of the teachers. A half-hour once a month is allowed us, and at that time each school is visited by a member of the educational committee. The subjects discussed with the pupils are the same in all the schools, but in their handling they are adapted to the several grades of the city. Civic, patriotic, local, historical, and biographical topics, trees, flowers, birds and cruelty to animals, have all been used repeatedly. Local history and local needs and opportunities to disapprove of that which is in our intercourse with the school pupils."

The political side of club life, for the most part merely an endowment, just before the meeting of state federations assumes importance. This fall the federation meetings will be attended with the additional interest of electing delegates to the St. Louis biennial, which convenes in May. The matter of the election there of a new set of officers for the national federation is naturally regarded as important. Two prominent candidates for the presidency, should Mrs. Denison retire after her first term, are Mrs. Philip Moore of St. Louis, who, as head of the woman's board of directors of the exposition, is very much in evidence just now, and Mrs. Robert J. Burdette of California, who is first vice president of the national federation at the present time.

IN WOMAN'S WORLD.

The value of asbestos pads to protect the polished surface of dining tables is now fully appreciated. When a cloth is used the entire table is covered with an asbestos pad, covered with double-faced cotton flannel to make it comfortable. A convenient pad of this description is offered in house and furnishing stores. It is to be had in various shapes and sizes, and is so prepared that it folds in convenient lines to lay away in a drawer when not in use. Doylies in which asbestos mats may be slipped are also convenient and useful.

Kerosene oil and whitening mixed will remove iron rust. This combination will also clean tins perfectly, and will remove stains from porcelain baking dishes.

Quinces are available about this time and a variety of preserves may be made from them. Quince is rather easier to make than jelly, and is very good. Grate the quince, to each cupful of fruit add two of water and a half and half of sugar. Boil for at least an hour, and put into jelly glasses or small jars.

Quince marmalade is delicious. Wash and core the quinces and put them in the oven with a little water. Let them bake until soft. Prepare a syrup with one quart of water and two pounds of sugar. When this has boiled, put in the quinces and stir. The marmalade should be done almost at once.

For oyster salad scald a quart of oysters in their own liquor, drain them, and set aside while the following dressing is prepared. Take four well-beaten eggs, and add to them a half of cream, a little mustard, salt, and cayenne, two tablespoons of butter, and a gill of vinegar. Place in double boiler and cook for about five minutes, stirring all the time. It should be like a soft custard. Mix with the oysters crisp celery cut

PLAN FOR WOMAN'S FUTURE.

The above group shows the prominent members of the Federation of Women's Clubs, from whose meeting at the Hotel Majestic, New York, many suggestions for promoting the welfare of women throughout the United States will emanate. Philanthropic work generally was discussed on very broad lines, but politics were rigorously excluded.

One of the up-to-date theaters which has undergone a complete refitting during the summer has two very novel features, one of which will appeal to all women, and another that will be grateful to a number. The first is a little nickel arrangement fastened to the back of every seat in the house and is designed to hold the hats of patrons.

Every woman knows how difficult it is to fasten her hat to the theater chair back, and the danger of thrusting the pin through, to the undoing of the individual in front. The new arrangement is merely a small nickel knob, with a hole in the center through which the hat pin may be thrust, holding the hat securely. The other improvement is a number of extra-wide seats for stout people. Those who have suffered through evenings squeezed into twin-ty-eight-inch seats will appreciate the privilege of these wide seats, which are all of thirty-two inches wide.

Liberty satin is to be much used for ball gowns, according to Harper's Bazar. These gowns are made so that the joining of the skirt and waist does not show. The waists are rather shorter in the back, and in front are more often round than pointed. Some hand-made gowns, however, are made with old-fashioned light-fitting, pointed bodices with the fullness across the bust in drapings of the material or in folds of lace.
