BOER POSITION AT MODDER

Too Strong for the British to Attempt to Take by Assault—Danger of Rebellion.

London, Dec. 22.—Related South African dispatches throw no light on the present situation at the seat of war. There is no confirmation of the report that Ladysmith could hold out several weeks longer, and it is feared that the news is circulated by the Boers for their own purposes.

It is hoped that Mr. Winston Churchill, having arrived safely at Delagoa bay, will soon be heard from regarding conditions in the Transvaal, as he must have obtained important information.

A Cape Town dispatch dated Sunday, December 17th, reports that Commandant Dicks of the Boer forces was killed in a reconnaissance engagement, but no details are given. Advice from a Cape Town correspondent is that the Boers are in a quiet state and the only fresh news from Arundel concerns the weather, which is excessively hot.

The Daily Telegraph has a special from the Cape dated December 16th, which tells how Lieut. Roberts, son of Lord Roberts, fell at Tugela river. It says:

"The horses of the fourteenth and sixteenth regiments were killed, and Lieut. Roberts, Capt. Schofield and Capt. Congreve of the rifles, attempted, with gun volunteers, to drag out the guns. Capt. Schofield succeeded, helped by a corporal and some men. Lieut. Roberts was hit by a shell. Capt. Congreve was struck and wounded slightly. After a while, Capt. Congreve, Capt. Foster and Maj. Bapine, together with Lieut. Roberts, were taken into a little ravine, where they lay hidden from the enemy's terrible fire.

"Fourteen gunners and sixteen men of the Devonshire regiment were with Col. Bullcock. When the retirement was ordered these men, with isolated parties of Devonshires and Scots fusiliers, together with some of the Queen's were cut off and captured. Many fought until the afternoon, a part of the men running the gauntlet of the Boer snipers from hiding places along the river bank.

"At 5 p.m. forty Boers approached the abandoned guns. On seeing Col. Bullcock, Capt. Congreve and the others in the ravine, they called upon the British to surrender. Col. Bullcock, determined and threatened to shoot, although his party had only four rifles. The Boers retired from the guns and a party ensued. Then a hundred Boers rode up within a few yards of the party, but Col. Bullcock swore he would be made a prisoner, whereupon the Boer knocked him down with his rifle butt.

"Afterward the enemy gave our wounded water and cordials. Then, having abandoned all their arms, ammunition and field flags, they let them return to our ambulances. Col. Bullcock, Col. Hunt, Maj. Water and Capt. Goodwin were taken prisoners. The Boers lost nearly two companies captured."

A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Chieveley, dated December 17th, estimated the casualties in Gen. Buller's repulse as 1,150, including 32 missing. It announces that "a portion of the British troops have returned to Frere."

A correspondent of the Associated Press at Modder river, under date of December 17th, describing the changes in the art of warfare, says: "It would be impossible to take such a position as Magerfontein by assault. The Boer battle, owing to the length of the range, will last six days, where formerly it would only have lasted a few hours."

The Boer trenches, which are rather like underground dwellings, are well constructed, always promise safe means of retreat. They are wide and deep and are excavated at intervals, allowing the concentration of defenders at any point without danger to themselves.

The British here are anxious that the Boers should attack them, and the result is prevalent that treachery is being resorted to by the Boers, who are placed on the Boer forces by cavalry scouts."

The Chieveley correspondent of the Standard, who attributes the whole disaster to the mistake of Col. Long in taking the artillery too close to the river, says: "Col. Long fired for ninety minutes and simply exhausted his ammunition."

The war office has issued an official warning against British subjects or foreigners in British territory trading with or supplying the Boer republic, either directly or indirectly, with any kind of merchandise whatsoever. This is regarded as showing that the government has good evidence of such trade, and that the English language has been supplying the enemy, perhaps unintentionally, through foreign consignees.

It is announced that two battalions of the guards will be included in the eighth division.

Lord Kitchener will join Lord Roberts at Gibraltair. The earl of Ebro, British high constable of Scotland, will accompany the earl of Ebro in his special service. The earl of Derby is raising a corps of volunteers in Lancashire. Mr. Victor Christian, a member of Parliament for West Derbyshire, and half-brother of the duke of Devonshire, has volunteered to go to the front.

The Cape Town correspondent of the Times, under date of December 17th, says: "The Boer fighting line is very thin and a single British success might completely break it. The real danger, however, is not the military situation, but the likelihood of a Dutch rebellion, which would make the area of war so vast that an additional 50,000 men would be easily swallowed up in maintaining the enormous length of British communication."

Referring to the tardy acceptance of assistance from local forces, the correspondent says: "Gen. Buller undoubtedly at the beginning displayed a certain self-sufficiency and unwillingness to accept local advice or assistance, which events quickly modified."

The Daily News gives immense significance in the fact that Lord Roberts has appointed on his staff Lieut.-Col. Henderson, author of a life of Gen. Dicks, and a man who has closely studied the history of the American Civil war, especially as he has not served under Lord Roberts before and is but newly known to him personally. The appointment is regarded by the Daily News as proving Lord Roberts' belief that what is wanted in the war in South Africa is a strict application of the principles of the American Civil war. It also connects the appointment with the rumor that Gen. Joubert served under Gen. Stonewall Jackson.

First Disaster in Italy Causes Great Loss of Life—Second at Freginella, Forty Children Drown.

New York, Dec. 22.—The Board of Aldermen today adopted a resolution praying the God of battles to make the Boers successful in the war against England. The resolution will go to the Council, and if that body concurs, will come before Mayor Van Wyck for his approval.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 22.—A Southern Pacific switch engine jumped the track while passing just south of the passenger depot this afternoon and plunged headlong into the baggage room, utterly demolishing it.

Dozens of persons were standing in the immediate vicinity. One man was instantly killed and two injured. The dead man has not been identified. His head was crushed by the heavy timber which he wore the clothing of a laborer. Switchman J. D. Gifford was standing on the running-board. He was injured about the head and legs. James Cooney of Marshalltown, Ia., was caught by the falling timbers and sustained injuries to both hips. Defective flanges were the cause of the accident. The switch engine had jumped the track several times recently.

PROVOST MARSHAL DID IT.

Suppressed a Paper for Alleged Trifling Criticism.

Manila, Dec. 22.—The newspaper, Democracia, the organ of a coterie of Filipinos, including the supreme court judges, favoring American control in the Philippines, tonight announces that it has been decided to suspend publication. The paper was started at the suggestion and under the patronage of the Philippine advisory commission, headed by Gen. J. C. Schurman. The Democracia prints a single page, in big type. In the statement accompanying the announcement of its suspension, the editor says he has been ordered by the provost marshal to retract certain criticisms of the clerical methods adopted in regard to the management of school, and adds:

"Recognizing the authority of the provost marshal, we have no recourse except to comply, and have decided to suspend publication until the present extraordinary conditions regarding press matters disappear. When we know what laws rule us, by what mode we are judged and to whose jurisdiction press matters are amenable, the Democracia will reappear."

The paper has originally been a warm supporter of the administration. The provost marshal recently threatened to suppress it for publishing an editorial asserting that Manila streets were in a wretched condition under an American than under Spanish administration.

The Manila Times was also recently warned, with an intimation of imprisonment and field flags, they let them return to our ambulances. Col. Bullcock, Col. Hunt, Maj. Water and Capt. Goodwin were taken prisoners. The Boers lost nearly two companies captured."

Thousands of men and women in a like condition have found complete healing by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It purifies the blood. It carries off from the system all refuse and poisonous matter. It gives the infected organs the strength to throw off disease. It was taken sick and felt so much better. I had smothering cough. I went to the best physicians and they doctored me all one summer. I kept growing worse and so weak I could hardly go about. The doctor I had said I had a lung trouble. I had an awful cough, and one day my aunt told me of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I sent and got a bottle of Golden Medical Discovery. When I had taken that it helped me so much I sent and got more. I have taken it of both medicine and surgery. Now my lungs do not hurt me, and I don't have any cough. I am stout and well as well as ever. My life is saved. I am glad to tell you of it. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. AWFUL DISASTER IN EUROPE.

Rock on Which Hotel is Built Slides Into the Sea.

FATAL BREAK IN THE ICE.

First Disaster in Italy Causes Great Loss of Life—Second at Freginella, Forty Children Drown.

Rome, Dec. 22.—A terrible disaster took place this afternoon at Anagni, the popular tourist resort on the Gulf of Salerno. About 2 o'clock an enormous rock, upon which stood the Capuchin hotel, slid bodily into the sea with a deafening roar and without a moment's warning, carrying with it the hotel, the old Capuchin monastery below, the Hotel Santa Caterina and several villas.

Many people were buried in the debris, which crushed four vessels to the bottom of the sea, destroying their crews. The mass of rock which slipped was about 50,000 cubic yards. The population is in a state of terror, fearing fresh calamities. Troops have arrived upon the scene and have begun rescue work.

It is believed that the loss of life is heavy, including a number of monks and the occupants of the hotel. As yet it is impossible to ascertain the exact number.

Anagni is a small but lively town of 7,000 inhabitants, situated at the entrance of a deep ravine, surrounded by imposing mountains and rocks of the most picturesque forms.

The Capuchin monastery was founded in 1212 by Cardinal Pietro Capuano for the Cisterians, but came into possession of the Capuchins in 1583. The building, which stood in the hollow of the rock that rose abruptly from the sea to a height of 230 feet, contained five cloisters.

Brussels, Dec. 22.—Upward of forty school children were drowned today in an ice accident at Freginella, near the French frontier. The children of the district had been given a holiday with permission to play on the frozen river. When the mercurial was at full height, the ice broke suddenly and the children disappeared. A few were rescued, half dead, but the majority were drowned. Thirty-six bodies have been recovered, but others are still missing. The catastrophe spread consternation throughout the town, where nearly every family suffered loss.

GERMAN PRESS FALLS IN LINE.

Kaiser Sees to the Manufacture of Sentiment Favorable to England.

Berlin, Dec. 22.—A gradual veering of public opinion in Germany regarding the war in South Africa is becoming apparent. The change is led by the inspired section of the press. Today several articles appear pointing in the new direction.

The Cologne Gazette argues strongly against the "folly of deplorable Anglophobia." It says: "Germany's real interest is to maintain absolute neutrality in sentiment. It is wise to retain England's good will. Germany intends to develop colonialism."

The Berliner Post contains an obviously inspired article, in which the argument is made: "South African confederation is impossible without harbors and seashore. England as a great power is necessary for the maintenance of the world's political equilibrium; and Germany's policy will be to keep friendly with England."

The Kreuz Zeitung also contains today this paragraph: "There is no doubt the government is beginning to bring the weight of its influence on the press to bear in favor of England. The same is true regarding the army, navy and official world. Emperor William's influence is now strongly exerted in an Anglophile direction. It is said on reliable authority that he has repeatedly expressed himself during the week in the following vein: 'We must not repeat last year's mistake. Right or wrong, we must continue friends with England.'"

Foreign office officials admitted today to the correspondent of the Associated Press that Germany would, in all probability, sign the protocol of the peace conference before New Year's day.

The Berliner Tagblatt has begun the publication of a series of articles regarding Germany-American commercial relations, pointing out their importance and the necessity for maintaining and improving them.

Emperor William, who has been suffering from a cold for several days, is now much improved and will attend the unveiling in the Siegessallee of the monument to his ancestor, George William. His majesty will spend Christmas with the imperial family at New Palace, Potsdam, where the children have already arrived for the holidays.

The small Thuringian governments are systematically expelling Czechs from their territories. There have been forty expulsions during the present month, and the matter will form the subject of discussion in the Austrian parliament.

Official reports received by the government regarding the crime of Prince Arenberg, who was recently court-martialed in German Southwest Africa for killing of subordinate without provocation, and who is being brought here for sentence, show that the offense was much worse than the first reports indicated.

Prince Arenberg, who is a nephew of the Centrist leader in the reichstag of the same name, not only murdered, but brutally tortured his victim while dying. There were thirty-three eye witnesses of the atrocity. The murdered man was a half-breed named Willie Keen, the son of an Englishman and a freed woman. "The Berlin press expresses considerable curiosity as to what punishment will be meted out to the offender."

Herr Fritzsche, the famous Beyrout Wagnerian singer, fell thirty feet in the royal theater at Carlsruhe, sustaining fatal injuries.

COAL PRODUCTION.

Arkansas has Less and West Virginia More than for Years.

Chicago, Dec. 22.—A special to the Record from Little Rock, Ark., says: State Mine Inspector Robert Boyd of Huntington submitted to Governor Jones his annual report, showing the total coal output of the State for the year to have been 918,748 tons. The output for the year 1898 was 918,748 tons. The difference being 260,061 tons. This shortage in production has been largely due to the miners' strike which has prevailed since February 28, 1899.

Wheeling, W. V., Dec. 22.—Chief Mine Inspector J. W. Paul, who was here yesterday, makes public his report for the year ending June 30, 1899, of which the following is a part:

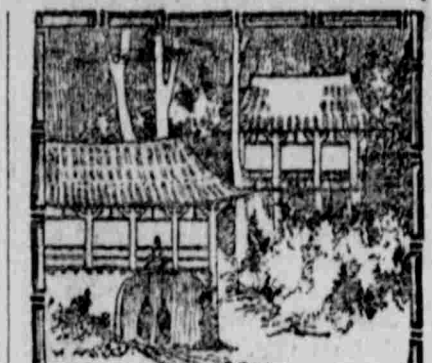

In point of production of coal and coke, men employed, days worked and general activity of the mining industry of the State during the year 1899, the past periods of the same length. The year's production was over 1,000,000 tons.

Sugar War Coming.

Chicago, Dec. 22.—Formal announcement of the end of "factor" plan of selling sugar, which means that the sugar war will be on again harder than ever after January 1st, is contained in the current number of the Modern Grocer, published in Chicago today. The news is that the "equality" plan will be abolished on January 1, and that thereafter all sugar will be sold on a competitive basis and on its "merits."

The abandonment of the card agreement comes after a year's futile attempt on the part of the sugar trust to get the aid of the wholesale grocers in driving the individual refiners out of existence. A month ago a committee from the wholesale grocers went to New York at the invitation of the Havemeyers to make a final effort at an understanding. The wholesalers were to get their sugar with an additional rebate if they signed an agreement to buy only trust sugar. One conference, like former ones, came to nothing, and it is supposed the sugar trust officials gave up in disgust.

In spite of the fact that it will not be a go-as-you-please race between the independent refiners and the trust for the sugar trade, Chicago wholesalers are not looking for any great cut in prices on the part of the refiners.

DAYNES MUSIC CO.

THE LEADING MUSIC DEALERS,
CHICKERING PIANOS
There are some things that one purchases that call for the greatest caution and consideration, and on which it will pay to give a high price to get the highest quality. That is true of a Piano. It is a thing that you buy but once in a lifetime, and around it will probably cling many of your most pleasant recollections.

That is the reason we strongly recommend the Chickering, for, tho' the price is somewhat high, it is well worth what it costs. You can probably be satisfied with a less expensive Piano, but, if you can afford it, don't hesitate, but buy a Chickering, for it is the best you can purchase. There is no other quite as good.
