Elder Wilford Woodruff followed, delivering an interesting address upon the fulfillment of ancient and modern prophecy, relating to the work of the latter-days, in which the Latter-day Saints are engaged.

> A Sell.-A fellow has been lately visiting the towns along the Union Pacific Railroad line, giving a kind of conjuring entertainments, for which he charges 25 cents admission, the person paying it receiving also an envelope, entitling the holder to a chance to draw a prize of some sort. While the entertainment, if such it can be called, is in progress, other envelopes of a similar kind are sold among the audience, giving additional chances for prizes. Should this individual come this way the ordinances of the city will be a bar to his entering upon this species of gambling. The dodges resorted to to make money now-a-days are apparently endless, and there is always a class to be found that are ever ready to bite at the flimsiest kind of bait.
