Fort Douglas known as the United States magazine rifle, is five inches shorter and lighter than the Krag-Jorgensen, and will carry $00 to 1,000 yards further.

Special Services—Special religious services were held last evening, at Fort Douglas in the chapel where Evangelist McIlveen made an address on the "Christian Soldier." There was a good attendance.

Miss Robinson Won-Last evening's oratorical contest at the Westminster Presbyterian church was won by Miss Gladys Robinson aged 9, who recited "On Which Side." a debate between a liquor license advocate and a pro-

By Electricity-C. B. Durst, formerly a well known grocer in this city, and now engaged in mining at Bing-ham, has devised a plan for locating water by electricity which has been submitted to the state university faculty and approved by them.

Annual Meeting—At last evening's annual meeting of St. Paul's Episcopal parish the wardens and entire vestry were re-elected, as follows: Senior warden, F. A. Druehl; junior warden John A. Hougton; vestrymen, L. S. Besley, J. A. Reeves, A. M. Howard, Dr. D. Moore Lindsay, Prof. George M. Marshall, James T. Beless, James L. Yundt, S. M. McSpadden and Geo. Marlow.

John M'Cleary's Funeral — John McCleary, the aged and respected citi-zen of Murray who died Saturday in his 84th year, was buried yesterday at the South Cottonwood cemetery. The services were held in the Murray First ward meetinghouse, under the direction of the Bishopric of the Sec-ond ward. Mr. McCleary left eight children, 32 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Little Patsy Recovering—Patsy Sul-livan, the little 4-year-old who, on Saturday evening, wandered over the hills from City Creek canyon into Bountiful canyon, and who was not found until Sunday afternoon, is re-ported to be fast on the road to re-covery from a cold contracted from the exposure. The lad slept soundly Sunday night, and yesterday morning Sunday night, and yesterday morning awoke apparently as bright and vigor.

Vestrymen Chosen-At last night's annual meeting of St. Mark's parish Col. E. A. Wall and E. W. Packard were elected vestrymen. The treas-urer's report for the year ending March 3 showed: Receipts, $5,649.09; disbursements, $$,567.34; balance on hand, $$1.75. Report of the Ladies' guild: Receipts, $958.43; disburse-ments, $$26,87; balance, $161.56. East-er offerings, $684.16. The sum of $42 was added to the bishops' missionary fund.

AMUSEMENTS. Theater-Every lover of the drama everyone who clings to the old tradi-tion that the theater has a mission tion that the theater has a mission, and everyone who loves to applaud a perfect specimen of stage handicraft, should unite in making the deepest sort of obeisance to the Australian star. Nellie Stewart. Performances like that given at the Theater last night revive one's hope that high class deematic presentations have not value dramatic presentations have not van-ished from the face of the stage, and cause one to rejoice that there are still to be found on earth, even if we have to travel to such a remote corner as Australla to find them, managers, com-panies, and actors who cling to the good old ideals, who know how to produce, how to act, and how to cast a play from top to bottom. At odd times in the course of its long and varied history, the Salt Lake Theater had harbored such birds of passage as Julia Dean Hayne, Adelaide Nielsen, Julia Marlowe, Nance O'Neil, and oth-ers who could be named. Miss Stew-art is reminiscent of the best of them, with a reminder of Ada Rehan thrown in, while her supporting company brings back memories of the perfect days of Union Square and Augustin Daly ensembles. "Sweet Nell of Old Drury" is a rare piece of dramatic work. Our English friends take their own leisure in setting the stage it is true, and the length of the play forms its one draw back, but the stage pictures, scenery, and costumes which they present when they roll up their curtain, would repay even a much longer sitting. Miss Stewart is charming in face and figure. with a rich, melodious voice, and with the instincts of the artist to her finger tips. She must in the first place have been endowed with rare histrionic ability, and in the second place she must have had her schooling in the best of the London schools or under the hands of the 'best London stage manager. She literally swept everything before her last night her last night.

her last night. Most admirable is her supporting company. Mr. Alfred Gran in the des-ploable part of Lord Jefferys, a great charcter which is fittingly made the villain of the play, pictured all the traits of character which history tells us he possessed. Mr. Lindsay was the manly and upright Sir Roger to per-fection. Mr. Beatty played the role of Chas. II, and gave us the all too rare picture of a monarch who can be both regal, yet gentle, dignified, yet playful. Mr. Sterling and Mr. Lawrence gave admirable sketches of two beaux of the period, while the four supporting laperiod, while the four supporting la-dies, the two Miss Rignolds, Miss Jennings and Miss Willard lent excellent

The incidental music, the costuming, the scenery and the atmosphere en-tire, were all such as can only come from perfection in stage management. Miss Stewart, in the historical Nell Gwynn costume, with a stupendous hat weighted down with feathers, was a vision of loveliness that almost made the house catch its breach.

the house catch its breath. This evening and tomorrow aftertations of this rare dramatic treat, and it will be a mater of astonishment if the house does not prove too small to accommodate the crowds.

The advance sale for the engagement of "A Message from Mars," beginning Thursday evening, started this morn-ing at the box office and the demand was very large. "A Message from Mars" is considered to be a comedy of streets on Thursday and Friday even-ings, April 19 and 20. "The Spinster's Return" is the title of the piece to be presented on both evenings, and all who attend are promised a merry American playwright, Richard Gan-thony, who spent several years of his life in the western states, and a year or more in Utah. He was originally a newsmap writer newspaper writer.

Grand-The Grand is doing better this week, in point of advance sales, than it has for some time, and already the matinees of Georgia Harper's "Zaza" are fairly well sold out. For

If You Ride on Sidewalks You Will

Be Arrested.

Now that the mud has dried up and the streets are again in good condition, Chief Sheets is of the opinion that there is no longer an excuse for wheelmen to ride upon the sidewalks. Leniency has been exercised by the city authorities relative to this matter, and authorities relative to this matter, and some bicycle riders have taken undue advantage of the consideration shown them and have abused the privilege. Children have frequently been knocked down and injured by careless scorch-ers, and pedestrians in general have been much inconvenienced by the use of the sidewalks by bicycle people. Chief of Police George Sheets tasmed

Chief of Police George Sheets issued orders today that the bicycle ordinance is to be enforced, and beginning to is to be choreed, and beginning to-morrow George Harris, whose duty it is to look after those who break that or-dinance, will begin arresting every per-son found violating the law mention-ed. The restricted districts are well known by those who ride wheels, warning is given that there is to b no more riding on the sidewalks within those certain limits.

GRIP QUICKLY KNOCKED OUT. GRIP QUICKLY KNOCKED OUT. "Some weeks ago during the severe win-ter weather both my wife and myself con-tracted severe colds which speedily de-veloped into the worst kind of la grippe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. S. Egleston of Mapie Landing, lowa. "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eyes and nose run-ning, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, alding the same with a double dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and by its liberal uss soon completely knocked out the grip." Sold by all druggists.

Humors

Come to the surface in the spring as in no other season. It's a pity they don't run themselves all off that way; but in spite of pimples and other erup-tions, they mostly remain in the sys-tem. That's bad.

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes them and cures all the painful and disfigur-ing troubles they cause. Nothing else cleanses the system and clears the complexion like Hood's.

Miss Harper to come to a Pelton Smutzer house with a play which has been made so familiar here by John Cort's leading star, Florence Roberts, Cort's leading star, Florence Roberts, suggests that the clash of the two managers for supremacy, is possibly grow-"Zaza" has been seen before by most of those who are now seeing it at the Grand, and it must be said that Miss Harper's version hardly stands the test of comparison, despite the fact that her audiences are not especially critical. The tense, emotional effect given to the character by Miss Roberts is lacking, and now and then there is a shade of almost burlesque in what Salt Lake audiences have come to regard as the strongest lines of the play. Not much can be said for Miss Harper's support. As on her previous visit, it seemed per-As on her previous visit, it seemed per-fectly able to be as animated as a wood-en post in one play, and to do fairly well in the next, and this is one in which it isn't at its best. The play runs throughout the week, and the sales indicate that it will continue to draw good houses.

Orpheum - Extensive advertising the use of the name of a former candidate for the presidency of the United States, with the announcement that his daughter, Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt, had written a play "on a dare," which was to receive its first production on any stage, in Salt Lake, brought out an audience last night that packed the Orpheum in every part. The curiosity of the public had been worked to an altitudinal pitch, and it was variously gratified. Personal friends and one or two critics say "the theme of the play-let is new and the support excellent." The theme is originally and quite daughter, Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt, had The theme is originally and quite strongly handled, but as to the support, that is altogether a different matter. It is not excellent for a single moment during the performance of the support. during the performance. She is also possessed of a pretty face, charming presence and fine voice. It may be that the two male members of the cast have been selected with a view to permitting her lustre to shine the more brightly. If that is true, the management could hardly have done better, for certainly the contrast is most marked, and that the contrast is most marked; and that, too, in spite of the fact that the possi-Chamberlain in the part of James the butler, and Morton as the love-lorn English lord.
