OLD, TRIED, AND TRUE.

People are getting acquainted—and those who are not ought to be—with the wonderful merits of that great American Remedy, the

MEXICAN

Mustang Liniment,

FOR MAN AND BEAST

This liniment very naturally originated in America, where Nature provides in her labyrinthine mazes surprising antidotes for the maladies of her children. Its fame has been widespread for 35 years, until now it encircles the habitable globe.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is a sovereign remedy for all external ailments of man and beast.

To stock owners and farmers it is invaluable.

A single bottle often saves a human life or restores the usefulness of an excellent horse, ox, cow, or sheep.

It cures foot-rot, hoof-all, hollow horn, grub, screw-worm, shoulder-rot, mange, the bites and stings of poisonous reptiles and insects, and every such drawback to stock breeding and bush life.

It cures every external trouble of horses, such as lameness, scratches, swinny, sprains, founder, wind-gall, ring-bone, etc., etc.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is the quickest cure in the world for accidents occurring in the family, in the absence of a physician, such as burns, scalds, sprains, cuts, etc., and for rheumatism, and stiffness engendered by exposure. Particularly valuable to Miners.

It is the cheapest remedy in the world, for it penetrates the muscle to the bone, and a single application is generally sufficient to cure.

Mexican Mustang Liniment is put up in three sizes of bottles, the larger ones being proportionately much the cheapest. Sold everywhere.

EASTERN.

The Potter Investigating Committee

WASHINGTON, 25.—The examination of Pitkin was continued:

By Cox—Calling your attention to the conversations you had pending the time of the presidential election or thereabouts, please state to the committee what conversation, if any, you recall as having with Judge Levissee, one of the electors, in regard to any supposed offers made to bribe him, and state fully what occurred.

A.—About three or four days prior to the assemblage of the electoral committee, Levissee entered my office under considerable excitement, and said he wished to have a private interview; said he expected some overtures were to be made to him by somebody in the democratic interests. I do not recall whether I asked him who they were or not; at all events he said to me this: "I am running a great deal of hazard. I am liable to serious misconception as to my motives, and I want some one in whom I can confide, and who will stand sponsor for me in case any misrepresentation should ensue." I advised him to go ahead, and appear to listen to these overtures, and I think I impressed upon him the importance of going behind to the principals of the agents who might offer any bribes. I think it was at the last interview on this subject that he told me that he had a meeting with one of these gentlemen, and that he met with his companion, a third gentleman, and that a distinct proffer had been made, as I now recollect, of $100,000. This was at the last interview. He said he had made an appointment at such an hour, which had almost approached then, and he wanted to stay with me in my office. I went outside and told the usher to allow no one in the office, and to report me out. The door was locked and he remained there until shortly before the assembling of the electoral college. I telegraphed by my private wire to the State House that Judge Levissee was here and would be there in a short time. I think I sent him down in my own cab. I am not sure about that; furthermore, I know nothing.

Q.—Do you know of the borrowing of a certain $20,000 by the people in New Orleans, which finally was paid by a note on the Union National Bank of Chicago. A.—No, sir, all the funds I know about were $2,000 or $3,000 sent down there by Z. Chandler in the latter part of January, and the greater part was spent in sustaining the metropolitan police force at the state house.

Q.—At the time you had the conversation with Anderson, here in Jail, and he showed you certain papers, did you advise him to put those papers in the custody of Gen. Butler? A.—I may possibly have said that.

Q.—What was your object in advising him? A.—Well, I have conferred with General Butler regarding political matters for many years and he has been a warm friend of mine, and I thought it was a matter he ought to know about. I had no personal object in doing so.

Q.—Did you have any interviews with any members of the returning board during the count? A.—Yes, sir; I met Governor Wells on the street and inquired about the condition of affairs, and he said something like this: "It is all right;" and the same day I addressed a telegram to Senator West, communicating what Wells had said. I think that was the only time I had conversation with a member of the returning board.

Q.—Do you know whether the members of the returning board required any assurances of a reward to enable them to go on with the count? A.—Nothing to my knowledge.

Q.—Do you know what papers were brought here in the spring of 1877 in relation to the proceedings of the returning board? A.—There were papers brought here by Emile Honore, candidate for secretary of state on the Packard ticket.

Q.—Do you know where those papers are now? A.—No, sir. After Mr. Honore's return to Louisiana, he reported to me what he had done and then I asked Howe to get French, the sergeant-at-arms of the Senate, to take charge of the papers to keep the Knott committee from getting them, and afterwards I understood they were deposited in the Senate committee room on patents.

Q.—What objection had you to allowing these papers to be brought before the House committee? A.—Well, it was rather a partisan battle and I preferred to have the papers before my political friends.

Q.—What became of the original paper drawn up by Anderson and sworn to by him before Woolly? A.—Last November, when I got home I looked through a large accumulation of papers I had, and finally found it and sent it by mail, enclosed in a note, to Senator Conkling.

Witness was here shown several letters signed by D. A. Weber, and identified them as being in his hand-writing.

Q.—Have you called on Senator Conkling for that document since you have been here this time? A.—Yes, sir, the next morning after I got here I called on him and we went together to the committee room, but search was made, but it could not be found.

Q.—Did you take a copy of that paper? A.—No, sir.

Q.—Do you recollect it well enough to recall what it was? A.—No, sir. I recollect it stated there was intimidation in the parish, but I do not remember whether it stated it was by democrats or republicans.

Albert G. Hale was next called and said he resided in Washington, living within a few doors of the house where Mrs. Jenks stopped when Deweese was in Washington last winter, and had a conversation with her about the so-called Sherman letter.

Q.—Please state what she said about it.

The question was objected to by Hiscock, claiming there was no legal evidence showing that Secretary Sherman ever wrote the so-called Sherman letter, and McMahon stated that he believed he did write the letter from the testimony of Sidney Green. Butler did not think there was the slightest indictable that could be legally or logically drawn that Sherman wrote the so-called Sherman letter. The chairman said he differed from the republican members of the committee in so far as they deemed it an important point in the investigation as to whether Secretary Sherman wrote the letter or not, for it was proposed to be shown that Secretary Sherman had used certain influences to bring about certain results, and this letter was only one of a series of actions tending to that end. After further discussion the witness was excused, and the committee adjourned until Wednesday.

Cabinet Meeting.

At a cabinet meeting, to-day, the omission in the enrollment of the sundry appropriation bill of an important part of what related to Hot Springs, was a prominent subject of discussion. The Secretary of the Interior, at the request of the President, sends a communication to the late commissioner of Hot Springs, asking them to complete, as far as may be, the work commenced, and report what measures may appear necessary to protect the rights of all parties upon said reservation, as well as the interests of the United States, and trusting that Congress, at its next session, will adopt such legislation as may be necessary to confirm the acts done by them.

The Missing Heir.

NEW YORK, 25.—The Brooklyn Eagle prints a story, where of the following is a digest: William Kinnilly died here in 1858 leaving property valued at $100,000 to the children of his brother, having none himself. No heirs being found, the property went to the State. A few days ago the State Hall, Albany, was visited by Judge Cooney, of San Francisco, who informed the state treasurer and attorney general that he represented a son of the long lost brother, and that in his behalf he laid claim to the fund. As is well known, the State always yields possession when a veritable heir appears, and if the relationship of the Californian to the deceased is established, he will undoubtedly be awarded the property. The matter is now in the hands of a law firm, who are industriously engaged in preparing the necessary proofs. Since this heir turned up another heir has put in a claim. Mary Kinnilly, of Brooklyn, claims to be the only child of the missing brother.

Accidental Drowning.

OSWEGO, N. Y., 25.—John Finn, James Shea, Hattie Rands and Mary Welch, of Oswego, were drowned, to-day, at Pleasant Point, Lake Ontario. They belonged to St. John's Church excursion party, which left here this morning.

$75,000 Fire.

SPRINGFIELD, Vt., 25.—The Vermont Novelty Company Manufactory for children's carriages and toys, was burned to-night. Loss $75,000; insurance $30,000. One hundred and twenty-five men are thrown out of employment.

The Acklin Scandal Case.

NEW ORLEANS, 25.—Congressman Acklin left for Washington this evening, to investigate the source of the recent slanders which have been refuted by the lady's brother for her, by Acklin and his friends, and by telegram from Gen. Roser.

Wool Market.

PHILADELPHIA, 25.—Wool is arriving freely and is in fair demand; prices are easy. Colorado fine and medium 19 @ 25; coarse, for carpets, 16 @ 17, extra and merino pulled 35 @ 37. No. 1 and super pulled 30 @ 35. Texas fine and medium 22 @ 25, coarse 15 @ 17. California fine and medium 22 @ 25, coarse 18 @ 21.

Crop Reports.

ST. PAUL, Minn., 25.—The Pioneer Press, to-day, publishes crop reports from some forty points in Minnesota and Wisconsin. The general tenor is that in this State wheat is in fine condition, with largely increased acreage and promised yield over last year.

$100,000 Fire.

A destructive fire in Fairbault, Minn., early this morning, burned the principle part of the city, comprising nearly all the buildings on Main and Elm Streets, between Second and Third Streets. The loss will probably exceed $100,000.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Proceedings of The Peace Congress.

LONDON, 25.—A dispatch from Berlin reports that in Monday's sitting of the congress it was decided the Russians should withdraw from Roumelia in six and from Bulgaria in nine months. After their withdrawal mixed European troops will temporarily occupy the provinces. Russia has ordered Montenegro and Servia to arrange a compromise with Austria relative to their claims.

The Bulgarian question may be regarded as solved. There only remain some points of detail, which, it is believed, will be settled in the sitting of Wednesday.

At Tuesday's sitting, the French plenipotentiaries, who have been entrusted with the remodelling of the Russian amendments which England is to accept, on Monday introduced them in a form acceptable to all parties. According to the French proposal, the Porte will have full right to occupy the line between Bulgaria and Roumelia with whatever number of troops it deems necessary, but the troops must be exclusively regulars, and must in no case be cantoned amongst the inhabitants or in the interior. The maintenance of order in Roumelia will be intrusted to a corps of Gendarmeria. It was likewise agreed, on the proposal of the French plenipotentiaries, that the inhabitants of Bulgaria and Roumelia shall enjoy complete civil and religious liberty. It was decided, on the proposal of England and Austria that no change be made in the existing commercial relations without the consent of the powers. The Russian occupation is to last nine months, after which three months will be allowed for the withdrawal of troops.

The opinion is gaining ground that the labors of the principal plenipotentiaries can be concluded by the 10th of July.

It is said the Greeks have secured the support of France for a frontier line from Olympus to Avilona. As the Turks, themselves, will not cede Batoum, they are still less inclined to make such concessions.

At to-day's sitting of the congress Gortschakoff was not present, but received reports every quarter of an hour and sent written remarks to Russian plenipotentiaries. Bismarck will immediately communicate with the Greek plenipotentiary concerning participations in congress. Greece will be admitted to represent the Greek element in Bulgaria when the organization of Bulgaria is discussed. In private conversation, the Turks strenuously oppose granting autonomy to Epirus.

A London News Berlin dispatch says: The Turkish delegates at Tuesday's sitting of the congress consented to the evacuation of Varna.

A Berlin dispatch reports that France, Italy and Germany warmly support the Greek claims for an extension of territory.

A Vienna dispatch says: Russia gave her consent that the boundaries of Roumelia shall be the Ægan Sea or the approach to Salonica, dependent on the cession of Varna and the rest of the quadrilateral to Bulgaria. It seems that this will be ultimately agreed to.

Purchasing Steamers.

A Berlin correspondent hears, on good authority, that the Russians, within the last few days have bought of Hamburg three steamers belonging to the Hamburg-American line.

GERMANY.

An Englishman Sentenced.

BERLIN, 25.—The Englishman, Bishop, charged with bribing officials to obtain the plans of the fortresses in Germany, has been convicted and sentenced to two years and a half imprisonment.

The Socialists.

The North German Gazette announces that all the measures to be adopted against the socialists are now undergoing preliminary examination by the ministers of justice and interior. The Gazette remarks. Notwithstanding the favorable progress already made, some weeks must elapse before the Emperor can be removed to the country.

BRITISH AMERICA.

Capsized by a Squall.

HALIFAX, 25.—A boat, containing eight young men, was capsized by a sudden squall, in Chester Basin, on Monday evening, and four were drowned.
