FRAGMENTS.

UTAH County needs a new county jail.

The mineral output for the United States for the year 1886 was $37,000,000 more than for the year 1885.

JOHN ECKERT and R. L. Taylor were arrested to-day for petit larceny. They are in the city jail.

On Saturday last a little black dog stole a horse nose-sack from the saddle shop situated on the corner of First East and Third South streets. The attention of the proprietor of the establishment having been called to the dog and the nose-sack, both of which had disappeared inside of the fence close to the livery stables across the street, a messenger was sent after the purloining canine, and the stolen property was recovered.

"PARKY'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE" for August is just out and is an exceptionally good number. The frontispiece is a finely executed portrait of Queen Victoria, accompanied with a short sketch of her life and the jubilee celebration. The second paper on the City of Mexico and its environs, illustrated, is an attractive feature of this number. The other chapters of interest are "Little What We Make It," "Bad Boys," "The Police Hidden Germ," "A Sheet of Paper," "The process of paper making," "Facing the World," "The Rejected Manuscript," two short stories with several shorter articles and poems, and the editor's "Summary of Current Events," etc. J. H. Parry & Co., publishers.

Points from the Park.

A grand total of 1,489,699 pounds of ore were shipped from Park City for the week ending July 27th.

The 24th of July, or "Pioneer Day," falling on Sunday this year, the celebration was held on Monday. The day was generally observed in the Park by all the stores and public buildings closing. All our citizens who desired to take part in any festivities, went to Heber, where quite an elaborate program and good music were given.

Monday last three drunken cowboys started in to round up the town of Alta. For a while they had things their own way and furnished their revolvers and shotguns and rode about the streets and public buildings. They were finally got tired and started in to round up the town of Alta. A shooting scene occurred, which resulted in one of the cowboys being shot through the shoulder and the whole gang striking their colors. None of the cowboys were injured. Mr. John Dicks had a narrow escape from being either killed or badly injured. It seems that he was at work on the top of the town of Alta, which carries away the dust from No. 1, to No. 2, furnace, and in some manner his clothes got caught in the shaft of the wheel, and he was nearly stripped of his body. He received some bad bruises and sprained his leg badly. He was taken to his home, where he is now recovering. Mr. Dicks says that he has no desire to repeat the performance. All this occurred Tuesday morning. —Galt, July 28.

Does Stock Raising Pay?

Under this heading the Casaca County (Idaho) Times has the following:

"Does stock raising pay in Utah?" Is a question which Dr. Francis E. R. one can knowingly answer in the affirmative. In the investment of a small sum in cattle, which have increased wonderfully, his investment in a line, so to speak, is worth $10,000, and the increase in number and value brings it up to forty four times that amount. His stock is most admirably adapted to raising cattle. It lies on the line of the Bear River, on the west side, extends north, beyond Little Mountain northwest of Corral, and in all aggregates 4,000 acres. Part of the property is leased from the government and part from the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. He has 1,000 cattle on the ranch, besides 200 head of horses ready for market. He also has about 100 horses. Regarding the ranch, he says that the land produces astonishingly wherever water can be secured for irrigating. This he gets by means of two miles of water pipe, water out of Bear River, and he is going to put up large tanks and a steam engine to increase his water supply. He has erected a number of fine buildings, among which are a fine residence, barn and other needed buildings. Of 4,000 trees set out, not one per cent. died, the others all well and growing rapidly. Last year he sold 120 head of cattle, and put up 3,000 tons of hay for winter use. The winter range was so good that he only fed eighty tons of hay, and only lost five head of cattle out of the 1,400 on the range. He took care of 200 calves and 100 head of horses. The winter for J. W. McNutt, and they wintered so well that only two died. These results are exceptional and yet it is the result of the management of Dr. Roche, who had no experience in this class of business prior to his quitting his profession in California, four years ago, and coming here to make it a life occupation.

"Held by the Enemy."

Ancient the production of "Held by the Enemy," William Gillette's successful American play, for a season of three nights and a matinee at the Theatre, commencing Tuesday evening next. We reiterate that the same care and management that were given to it when introduced to the Theatre at London, New York, Boston and San Francisco, will be seen in its handling here. In each of the cities named, the place met with a warm reception, continued in solid favor, for a long run, and the same result is expected during its engagement here. It is claimed that "Held by the Enemy" has never known a doubtful situation since it was produced and England has taken to it as kindly as this country. It is strong on the comedy side as well as emotional, and it is thoroughly and exclusively American in tone, as anyone who have seen it. The leading characters are soldiers drawn from both armies, and the scene is laid in Virginia. The tender subject is said to be handled skillfully and gently, with patriotic feeling, but without obtrusive partisanship, and instead of stirring up old animosities it is calculated to soften them. The company is said to be one of the best in the country and contains the following people, all of whom are well known in this city: Henry Miller, Wm. Gillette, Leslie Allen, Cusa, Stokes James Neil, Melbourne McDowell, Scott Cooper, W. J. Doyle, G. W. Fawcett, I. A. Howe, Harry Rose, J. Farrell, J. H. Williams, Ed. Sibley, Hugo Fuller, W. H. Pope, Mrs. Kate Douville Wilson, Vio. A. Allen and Louise Dillon. Seats of seats will commence at the Theatre on Wednesday.

Arrested.

To-day Deputy Marshals arrested Olat Johnson at Uta, Salt Lake County, on the charge of unlawful cohabitation. He will be brought to this city this afternoon.

Notice to District School Trustees. Between the 1st and 8th of August the county superintendent will receive the trustees' annual reports and audit their accounts, at his office, 34 Fourth East Street, Salt Lake City.

KNOCKED OUT.

Lawyer Rawlins Punched Pat. Lannan's Head.

It has been known for a long time that there has been a blood feud between the Tribune and J. L. Rawlins, Esq., of the law firm of Sheeks & Rawlins. The origin of the ill-feeling, as far as can be ascertained, was in the fact that Mr. Rawlins was one of the attorneys for E. A. Austin in his libel suit against the above-named paper. The idea that any attorney would dare to press a suit against it was a novel one, but Mr. Rawlins did it, and the result was that he was placed under the lash of the vile sheet. Time and again he was viciously attacked in its columns, these assaults continuing up to a recent date.

This morning, about 9:30, he was going along East Temple Street, near the Wasatch corner, Second South Street, when he met Mr. Lannan at the street crossing. The accounts of what occurred are very conflicting. The two men soon became engaged in, to say the least, an animated conversation with reference to the abuse aimed at Mr. Rawlins. Mr. Lannan said he would back up anything his paper had said against the attorney, whom he called "Q-d-a-b." This was more than Mr. Rawlins could stand. He is a man of medium height and slight build and has generally been looked on as an inoffensive man, while his antagonist, though several years his senior, is very heavy set and has enjoyed the reputation of being quite a boxer.

No sooner had the disgusting epithet been uttered, than Mr. Rawlins, without further delay, dealt him a blow in the face. The other returned it, inflicting a small scratch on the side of Mr. R.'s nose and smashing a hole in his hat. Some lively sparring followed, as John L. Sullivan and Paddy Ryan, when Mr. Rawlins let out with a left-hander, which landed on the captain's chin, and a right, which while the right hand came down on a well-directed blow on the other side of Mr. Lannan's usual organ. The result of this broadside was that Mr. L. careened backward, and his 200 pounds came down with a dull, sickening thud on to the pavement.

Jeff, Clark, a colored man, seeing Mr. Lannan prostrate on his back, could not longer disregard his cries for help, and rushed forward just in time to catch Mr. Rawlins and prevent him from executing a war dance on the extensive digestive apparatus of his fallen adversary.

When Mr. Rawlins was pinioned, Mr. Lannan arose and began to pour out a volley of epithets, which was quickly checked by the darkey exclaiming, "Now, yer'se shut up dar, or I'll turn him loose on yer again!" The combatants then separated, each wending his way to his place of business. A few minutes after Mr. Rawlins left his office and went home. All attempts to interview Mr. Lannan failed. He was keeping safely out of the way, and would not be seen, probably owing to the fact that he could not appear as if nothing had happened in view of the blows he had received.

It is not probable the affair has ended yet. Those engaged in it were permitted to go unmolested, but it is very probable that they will be called to account for violating the law. The feeling on the street is decidedly in sympathy with Mr. Rawlins, especially among the Gentiles, a prominent banker of that class exclaiming, when he heard of the affair, "Servant Pat, right; he's getting too fresh."

The occurrence has increased the existing bitterness between the Democratic and Republican wings of the "Liberal" party.

Frank Randolph Killed.
 On Sunday afternoon last, the section foreman at Le Roy station, Wyoming, on the U. P. R. railway, Frank Randolph by name, was run over and killed while riding on a hand car. He had been in the employ of the U. P. R. for many years, and was a well-known man in the community. He was about 40 years of age, and was a native of Iowa. He was married and had a family. He was a very capable man, and was well liked by all who knew him. He was killed by a train of the U. P. R. while he was riding on a hand car. The train was moving at a high rate of speed, and he was unable to get out of the way in time. He was killed instantly. His body was found by the train crew, and was taken to the nearest hospital. He died there a few hours later.

THE ELECTION.

Both Parties are Polling their Full Strength.

To-day's election has aroused more interest among the people than any that has been held in this Territory. In one county and five districts for the Legislature the relative strength of the parties is nearly equal, while in all the others the People's Party are largely in the majority. In the close contest to-day a very heavy vote is being polled, up to 3 p. m., the proportion of registered voters that have cast their ballots being far ahead of any previous election.

In the five precincts of this city, both parties are developing their full strength. There are three tickets in the field, the "People's," the "Liberal," and the "American." The two latter belong to the same party, and are identical, the only difference being in the word noted. In Salt Lake County the "Liberals" are running Michael Gibbons for selectman, Hugh D. Ripetto for treasurer, John W. Greenman for collector, and J. F. Waggoner for superintendent of schools. With the exception of Capt. Greenman, the candidates are comparatively unknown.

In the various precincts of this city both parties have committees who are working hard for the success of their respective tickets. The system of working seems to be pretty thorough, though in the fifth precinct the People's Party men do not appear to be as well up in their business as their opponents. There is very little, if any, scratching being done on either side, both parties voting solid and "straight." The lines are very close, drawn, the "Mormons" voting for the People's candidates, while all others without exception support their opponents.

At the first precinct, at 1 p. m., 316 votes in all had been polled. The ballots on the Constitution will be counted by the judges there. Everything is proceeding quietly.

At 1:45, in the first precinct, 337 votes had been cast. The number registered is 337. At the polling place in the Second Precinct, the County Court House, the scene was one of life, interest and animation all day. Both parties were working hard. Each had from twenty to twenty-five men with or without conveyances, hunting up voters and bringing them to the polls. The "Liberal" men among the workers for the "Liberal" ticket were A. H. Kelly, the book binder, and C. H. Parsons, the book seller.

At two o'clock Mr. Varian asked the election judges if they would be governed by a statement from the signal officer as to the hour of sunset, when the law requires the polls to be closed. He stated that almanacs differed. The judges answered in the affirmative. In the Third precinct the People's Party had an easy walk-over. Up to half past one o'clock the voting was as heavy as when the ladies exercised the right of franchise, which fact shows how earnest the voters of the People's Party in this precinct are in the effort to prolong good government. Up to the hour named 823 votes had been cast, and of these less than ten per cent, and a number who had watched the polls thought not more than five or six per cent, were "Liberal." Everything had been quiet about the polling places, the Sixteenth Ward school-house, and only a few persons could be seen in the vicinity when a News reporter visited it. The vote of the precinct, however, will be very full.

At the Twentieth Ward school-house, where the fourth precinct election is being held, there is considerable activity and all is peaceful. The People largely predominate in that district and are out in force. They have made sure the success of their candidates from that section. The fifth precinct voters cast their ballots at the City Hall. During the day both tickets have been going lively. The only trickery indulged in up to 2 p. m. was on the part of a well-known "Liberal," who took a number of People's tickets and inserted the name of Thomas Marshall in place of John W. Rider, for Councilor, and distributed them about. How many were cast before the election was noticed is unknown. There were several instances during the day where discussion grew pretty warm over challenges to soldiers who had registered. One of these was in the case of a man named Handy, who had enlisted in about 20 days after his discharge. He returned to be sworn in and answer the questions of the judges, so his vote was refused. Some of the soldiers who were challenged were permitted to vote. At 3 p. m. the number of votes in this precinct had reached 500.

Notice.

The officers of the Primary Association will meet as usual, next Saturday, the 6th of August, at the residence of Mrs. E. C. Clawson, No. 75 First Street, at 2 o'clock p. m. A good attendance is desired.

Wounded by an Explosion.

David Edwards, of Samaria, on the morning of the 28th of July, while at work in the coal mine, was badly wounded in the head by the premature explosion of the avilla while he was pouring in a charge of powder. A small boy was injured, but not badly. Mr. Price, who came after Doctors Sherman and Drake, said Edwards' hand will have to be amputated at the wrist, probably. —Idaho Enterprise.

Attractive to Settlers.

We extract the following from a letter written by A. B. C., dated Salt River Valley, Wyoming, July 26th: "Our valley can only boast of 37 miles at present, but we look forward to having our valley filled up with good future-day salinity in the near future. The country is rich in the very richest of soil, and plenty of water that can easily be taken on the land. The timber is inexhaustible. We have as fine wheat, oats, peas, potatoes, beets, onions and cucumbers as ever grew in any country, and we have every reason to believe that this will be one of the finest agricultural districts in the mountains."

Blooded Stock.

A youth who signs himself "W. A. L." writes as follows: "Of late, I have noticed many letters in your valuable paper bearing on the question of 'blooded stock,' and in some of our most prominent cattle-men. As a general rule they all say that the best stock is the one that is 'bred stock,' and also to buy 'bred stock,' and improve our scrubs. I certainly agree with them on this point, but let me consider the case a little further. We all know our farmers are not millionaires, but on the contrary they are poor. An 'improved' price asked by our importers for their 'blooded stock' is I think if our stockmen, instead of talking so much about the people being asleep, would import a large number of 'bred stock' animals, turn them out on a good range, and let them multiply, they (the stockmen) in the long run would be able to sell the 'bred stock' much cheaper than now, and by so doing they would put money in their own pockets, and also benefit the farmer."

Fine Instrument.

It is quite a commentary upon the musical taste and general culture existing in our midst, the fact that so many musical instruments of high grade and so much musical merchandise of all kinds are brought to this place by the musical instrument dealer, D. O. Calder, for some time past conducted by the sons of that champion and patron of the divine art, makes a specialty of instruments of the finest quality, their importations being a sort of guarantee that the goods sold are the best of their class. They keep the famous Stelway piano, now so improved, spreading the strings in the form of a fan upon the elongated soundboard bridge, culminating in the uninterrupted ring form of the latter, and the perfection of the metal structure, with numerous other patented details, combine to make this truly the king of mechanical musical instruments.

Calder Brothers also inform us that they can't get organs as fast as they dispose of them, all of which speaks loudly in more ways than one. The organ men who cater to the religious class, and decided aptness for their calling, and their assistants are like unto them. Their advertisement appears in to-day's News.

A Sad Bereavement.

Miss Marie Salina Brown, of the 9th Ward of this city, whose sickness from diphtheria has already been mentioned in the News, died at 2:15 this morning after a few days' extreme suffering. She manifested the first symptoms of the disease on Tuesday last, upon which occasion she complained of a feeling of soreness in her throat while visiting at a relative's, and although the terrible malady developed rapidly in her system, being a girl of unusual strength and vigor, and having a strong desire to live, she withstood its effects long after the attending physician gave her up to die.

Deceased was the daughter of Brother John Brown, Bishop's Counselor in the Ninth Ward, and his wife Sarah, who died some years since. She was born in the Seventh Ward of this city, October 4, 1870, and was a most promising young lady, beloved by all who knew her and the pride of the family who are now sorrow stricken and almost inconsolable at her death. We sincerely condole with them in their bereavement.

The funeral was set for 4 o'clock this afternoon, it being decided to hold no services except at the grave in consequence of the serious character of the malady from which she died.

Star Valley.

W. H. Cazier writes from Alford, Star Valley, Uintah County, July 29th, as follows:

Our valley is located on the west line of Wyoming Territory, and its general direction is northwest. It is about 25 miles in length and 3 miles wide. It is bounded on the east by a steep and rugged range of mountains, which form a water shed between Green and Snake rivers. The general altitude is about 6,000 feet above the level of the sea. This valley is abundantly supplied with water, which flows in large streams from both sides, emptying into what is called Salt River, and furnishing abundant water for irrigating and any other purpose to which water is usually applied. The land has a gentle slope towards the middle of the valley and consists, near the mountains, of rich, gravelly loam, which has been adapted for growing purposes, while the bottom land consists of a red and black clay loam and is reserved for grazing and meadow land.

Our valley is abundantly supplied with salt, which flows from pure salt springs and can be obtained by the process of boiling. Timber is abundant everywhere and grazing facilities are of the best. Game of all kinds abound, especially in the fall and winter. The distance from Montpelier to this valley is about fifty miles, and the road is fairly good. The inhabitants number at this time about four hundred, and are increasing daily. Our valley offers inducements superior to those of most other sections in this region. Garden and grain crops are looking well.
